New Bedford Scrap-Book Vol. 14.

1925

COOK'S

NEWSPAPER

SCRAP BOOK

HEAVY CANVAS BACK AND CORNERS, PAPER SIDES.

No. 12	10x12	240 pages
" 012	10x12	240 "	Index in front and paged
" 14	10x14	240 "
" 014	10x14	240 "	" " " " "
" 18	12x18	240 "
" 24	18x24	240 "

HEAVY CANVAS BACK AND CORNERS, BLACK CLOTH SIDES.

" 13	10x12	240 pages
" 013	10x12	240 "	Index in front and paged
" 15	10x14	240 "
" 015	10x14	240 "	" " " " "

MANUFACTURED BY

JOSEPH F. COOK,

244-246 MILK STREET,

BOSTON MASS.

—Photo by Oki Seizo.
BENJAMIN ANTHONY SAMUEL APPLETON and ABBOTT M., JR., (left to right) children of Mr. and Mrs. Abbott M. Smith, 122 Clinton street.

—Photo by Oki Se
PETER GRINN son of Mr. and Lawrence Gri
379 County st

WHAT TALES ITS WALLS COULD TELL.—The Court House at East Greenwich, R. I., built in 1802, is a splendid example of colonial architecture.
June 14, 1925.

Sunday Standard, July 5, 1925.
—Photo by Oki Seizo
MISS SYLVIA GRINNELL, daughter of Mr. and M — Channing Wilde, foreman of The Standard composing room.
Lawrence Grinnell.

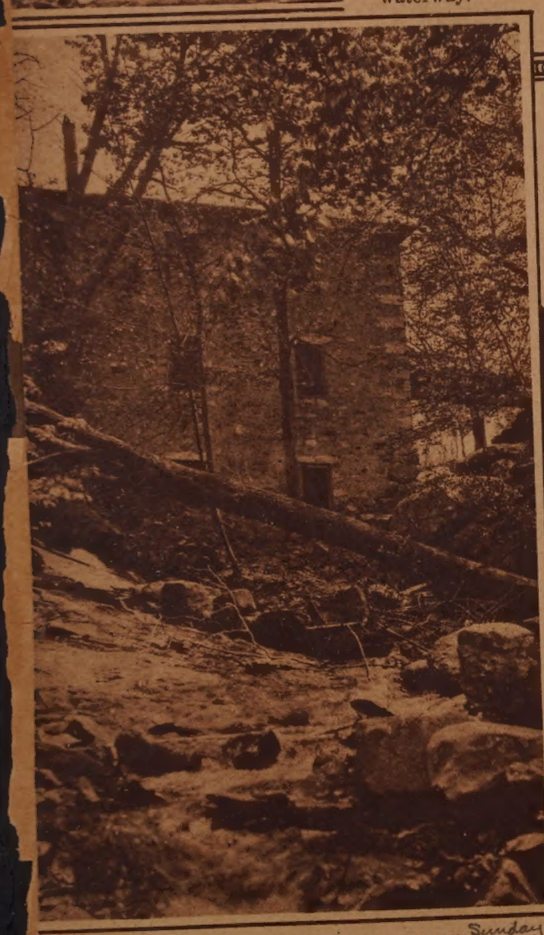
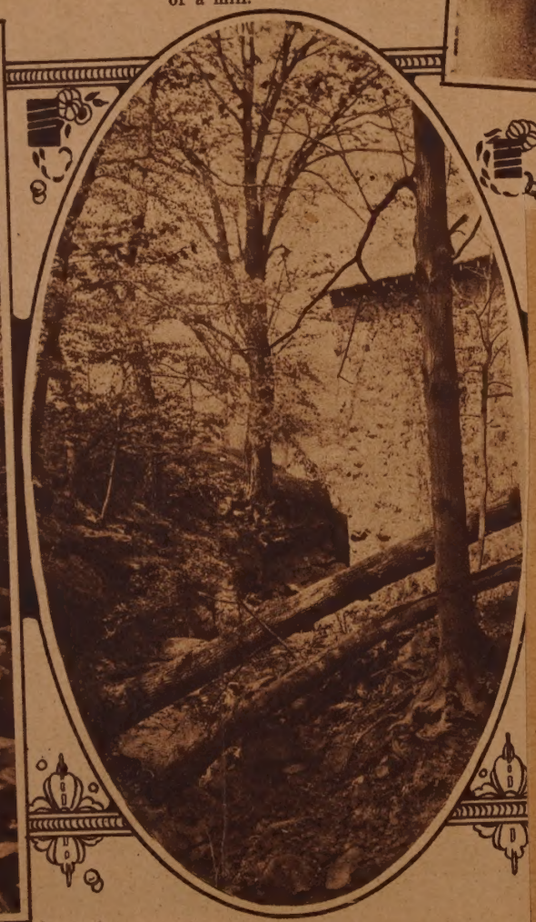
Sept. 20, 1925.
John L. Weeks H

NAMES A TOWN — Steep Brook is called after small waterway.

SUPPLIES A MILL — This water aids in the operation of a mill.

JUST ABOVE THE MILL — Another water supply.





OF ANCIENT LINEAGE—Shaw's Mill. Sunday Standard June 21, 1925. WINDING COURSE—Thus runs the brook.

PROVIDENCE 'Y' Aug 9-25

Will Become Service Secretary There—Was Connected with New Bedford Branch for Several Years

Arthur O. Dewey.

Arthur O. Dewey, who has been connected with the New Bedford Y. M. C. A., first in the industrial work of the Association, and later in charge of the Americanization work, will become service secretary with the Providence Y. M. C. A., leaving here some time this month to take up his new post. Mr. Dewey's duties in Providence will be Americanization work and direction of the religious work within the Association building.

Mr. Dewey was first here for two and a half years as secretary in the Industrial work of the New Bedford Association, leaving here to go to Pittsburgh, where he remained a short time, returning east on account of ill health in the family. For the past two and a half years Mr. Dewey has conducted the American-on work of the New Bedford ...ation. Lack of funds pledged ...

PROMINENT IN SANDWICH EXHIBIT Glass June 25

This Coming Month

Chairman of Committee Frank W. Chipman, above at left, and President William L. Nye of the Sandwich Historical Society, above at right. Below, old house, erected in 1813 as a "spite barn," which the historical society has purchased. It probably will be ... the exhibition.

PICTURESQUE AND EVER FOAMING — Lower factory pond at Westport Factory.

Sunday Standard June 21'25

June 14. WHERE COUNTLESS FEET HAVE TROD—Plowing up a sidewalk on Cottage ...

Sunday Standard June 21, 1925.

—Photo by Edmund D. Ashley

A VETERAN OF THE SEVEN SEAS—Whaling bark Josephine on the New Bedford waterfront.

DIRECTS SCHOOL NURSES

1925 June 7-2

—Photo by Kozo

Miss Florence Ricketson

PILGRIM MEMORIAL FOUNTAIN

1925, June 28

Just Dedicated

Pilgrim Memorial fountain, dedicated last Wednesday near Plymouth Rock, Plymouth, by the National Society of the D. A. R. in honor of the Pilgrim women.

WILL BE DEDICATED BY BISHOP FEEHAN TOMORROW

May 9-1925

In Fairhaven

The interior of the new St. Joseph's Church in Fairhaven which is to be dedicated by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Daniel F. Feehan at solemn high mass tomorrow morning. The Rev. Stanislaus Bernard, pastor of St. Joseph's, is shown in the insert. Father Bernard has extended invitations to the pastors of many churches in Fall River and New Bedford to be present at the dedicatory service.

COLONEL GREEN ARRIVES FOR SEASON

July 5-1925

In New Bedford

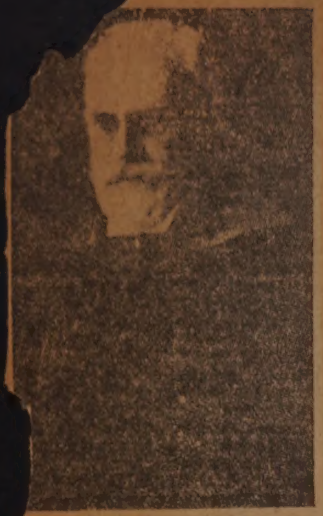
Colonel Edward H. R. Green, left; Mrs. Green, center, and the Colonel's ward, Miss Mary Fr... mack, right. The party posed upon arrival at Pearl street station this morning.

SCOUT DIRECTOR

Oct 11-25

MRS. LAURA A. LEWIS is a director of the New Bedford Girl Scouts. Mrs. Lewis headed Camp Hall this Summer.

POTSDAM



Prof. Henry Wood.

aug 21-25

EDUCATOR WAS BORN IN CITY

Authority on Germanic Literature Was Brother of George R. and Edmund Wood---Was Decorated

A cablegram received in this city last evening by Edmund Wood announced the death in Potsdam, Germany, of Prof. Henry Wood, formerly of this city.

Dr. Wood was for 35 years professor of Germanic literature in Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore. He was the brother of George R. Wood and Edmund Wood of this city. He was 76 years of age.

Dr. Wood was a widely known scholar and an authority on Germanic literature and was an author of several books and addresses both in English and German. In 1902 he married Baroness Clothilde von Kreitschman, of Potsdam, and she with three sons survive him.

In 1910 Dr. Wood was awarded the Order of the Red Eagle, one of the highest in the gift of the former Kaiser, and was only bestowed for distinguished merit in furthering German interests.

Although born in New Bedford, Dr. Wood spent a great part of his life in Germany, where he had a wide acquaintance among the leading men at the universities and in social life. Dr. Wood received his [illegible] education in this city.

ON THE BANKS OF MILL RIVER—A corner of the land which Jow Poloez gave to the City of New Bedford on the stream which City Engineer Nye hopes some day to parallel with a boulevard.

Marching in Review. High School R. O. T. C. in dress parade at Sargent Field.

FINE RESIDENCE TO BE SOLD

July 19-25

John W. Knowles Property Is to Change Hands

The John W. Knowles property, located at 88 Orchard street, east side of the street, the middle house between Clinton and Madison streets, is to be sold. This is one of the finest of the West End residences, erected for the late Thomas M. Hart, after whose death the estate sold the property to Mr. Knowles. Mr. and Mrs. Knowles are planning to make their home in Providence.

The Orchard street property includes an area of 39.93 rods, with a street frontage of 77.29 feet and depth of 140 feet, the area containing 10,871 square feet. The property is taxed at the rate of 55 cents a square foot, the house and barn is assessed for $13,550 and the land for $6000, making the total assessed valuation $19,950.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Sept 18-25

Harvard Club Prize Goes to High School Valedictorian

Leonard Lundin, valedictorian of the June, 1925, class of the New Bedford High School, has been awarded the first year scholarship of $350 of the New Bedford Harvard Club. Mr. Lundin is the son of [illegible] and Mrs. Gustaf L. Lundin, 51 [illegible] ton street. He was graduated [illegible] an average of 95.

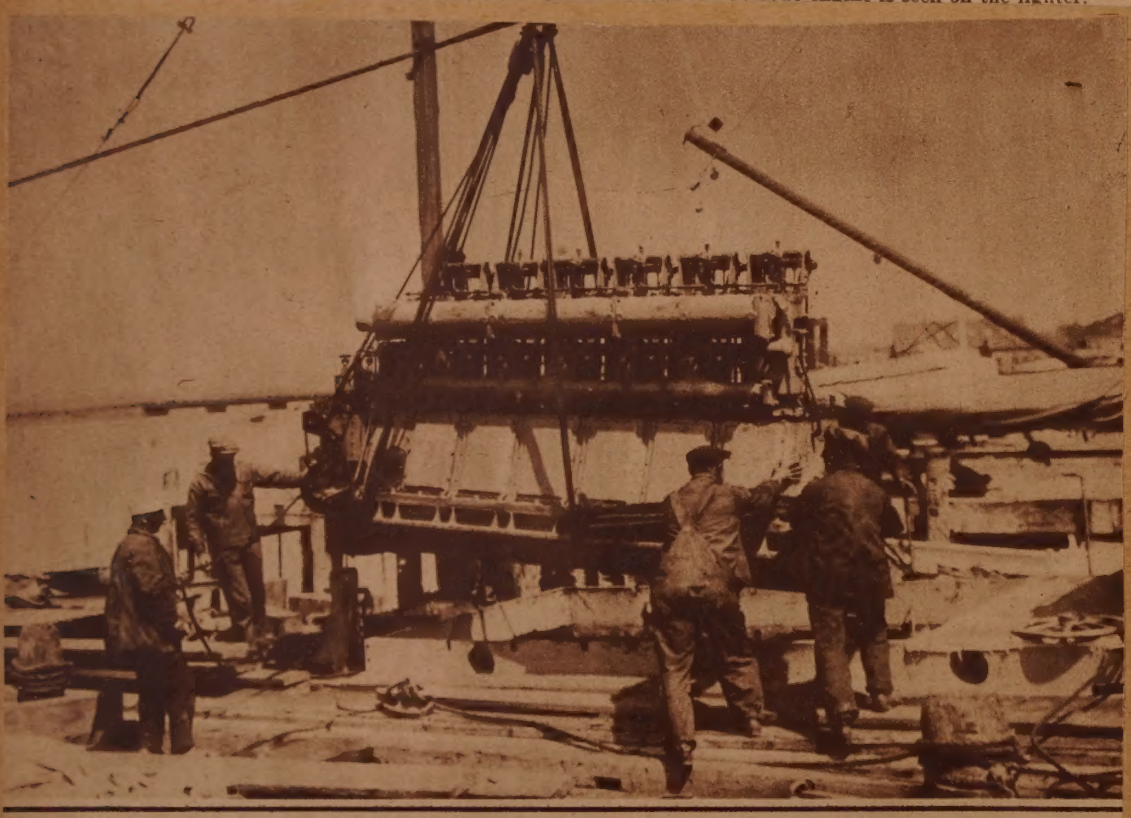
He had a high standing in literature and was active in school dramatics, debating and in the publication of Alpha. He was awarded the first prize of $25 for the best essay submitted in the Jonathan Bourne essay contest for seniors. He was also awarded the Washington and Franklin prize for excellence in history.

There were four candidates for the scholarship which is open to students from New Bedford, Fairhaven, Dartmouth and Acushnet, and including both public and parochial schools. It is given to a student who is contemplating entering Harvard. Scholarship and general school attainments are considered in the award.

FOUR KEEN-EYED ASSESSORS—Officers of the Bristol County Assessors' Association got to[gether] at their recent outing on Marthas Vineyard. They are, from left to right, Joseph H[enry] ford, vice president; Charles L. Johnson, president; Joseph P. McKenna, secretary; Ch[arles] Howland, treasurer.

Sun. Stand. Sept. 13, 1925.

ABOUT TO GET HER NEW ENGINE—The Albatross, former sub-chaser, in Fairhaven where, at Frank C. Taylor Construction Company was installed the largest and most powerful marine full Deisel type crude oil engine yet put into a craft in this vicinity. The engine is seen on the lighter. Sun-Standard, July 12, 1925.



SWINGING THE ENGINE OVER—This powerful marine full Deisel type crude oil engine weighs more than 24,000 pounds deadweight and measures 15 feet in length overall. It was installed in the Albatross in Fairhaven. Sun-Stand. July 12, 1925.

Wed. 6 1925
Miss Phyllis E. Harron.

DELIVERS FIRST SERMON HERE
9/12-25

The Rev. Mr. Greeley Assumes Pastorate of Pil-

TO BE EXPANDED BY AMORY TEXTILE GROUP

July 19-25

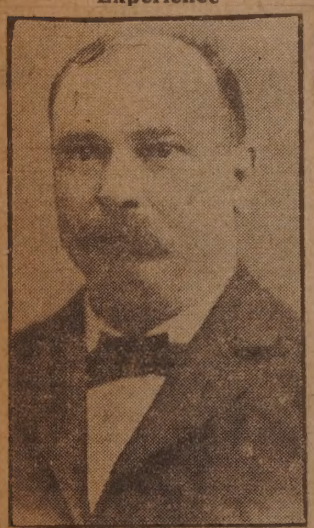
Recently Purchased Mill

Picture shows a view of part of the New Bedford Spinning Company plant that has just been bought by Robert Amory and his associates.

Oct 18-25

Joseph H. Fredette Dies Before Physician Could Come to Aid

Was Wing Company Salesman After Long Business Experience



Joseph H. Fredette.

PLEDGING THEIR ALLEGIANCE—James H. Mahoney, as Rotary Club "big brother," presenting flag to Thompson Street School. The youngsters, left to right, are Phyllis Ackerman, Edward Machado, and Leonard Stephenson. June 14, 1925.

grim Congregation

Comes to This Community from Noted Marblehead Church

The Rev. Leslie Campbell Greeley will preach his first sermon tomorrow as pastor of the Pilgrim Church, succeeding Dr. Edward D. Eaton for whom he supplied eight weeks last winter while Dr. Eaton was in Washington.

The Rev. Mr. Greeley is a native of New Hampshire and was ordained to the Congregational church after he was graduated from the Andover Theological Seminary, in 1898. He has held pastorates in Essex County for more than 25 years, serving in many capacities. For several years he was secretary of the Essex Congregational Club and for a time was its president.

For the past three years he has been chairman of the committee on moral and social welfare of the Massachusetts conference of Congregational Churches. During his pastorate in Newport, Mr. Greeley was a leading factor in the merger of several churches in that city.

He comes to this city from Marblehead where he was pastor of the historic church of that community. The church there has one of the largest summer congregations of any church on the North Shore.

The Rev. Mr. Greeley will speak tomorrow on "The Pilgrim Ship and Voyage," at the 11 o'clock service which will be held in the East Temple, Purchase street.

The Rev. Leslie C. Greeley.

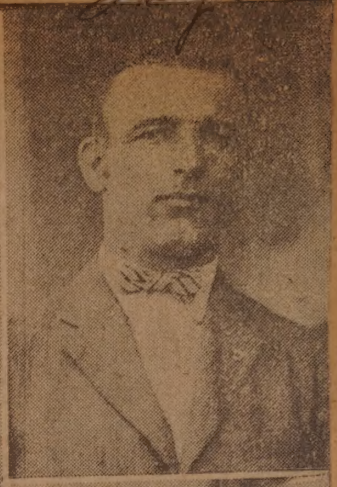
A LOFTY PERCH. Braced precariously against a racing wind atop the New Bedford Hotel, cameramen Harlan N. McEwen (cranking) and J. Arnold Wright are truly "on edge" as they film Jack Harper poised on "Next to nothing" just to supply a "movie thrill."—(Standard Building in middle-foreground of right-hand photograph). Photo by Cinegraph Productions.

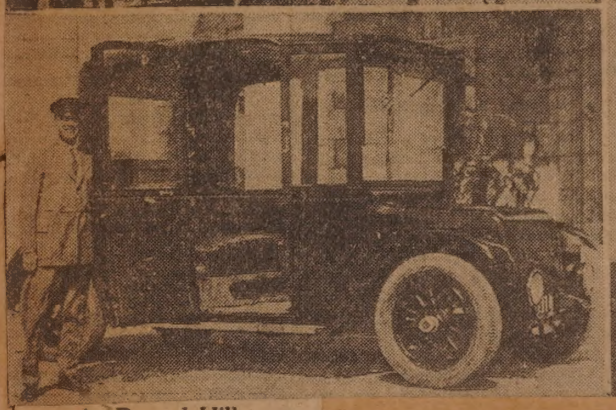
Aug 9. 1925.

A FLAVOR OF SALT WATER is ab[illegible] t of Lewis Bay street, Hyan[illegible]

ALL IN READINESS FOR A BUSY SUMMER

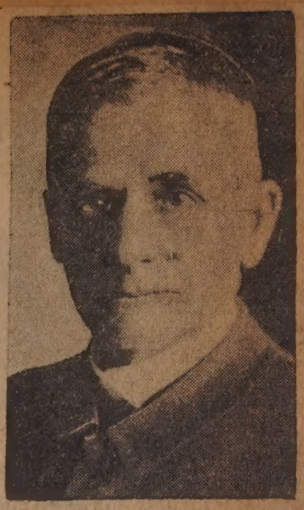
July 5 1925





At Round Hills

The Morgan in her basin; Colonel Green's new electric auto; George McElrath (upper right), new head of the radio station; and S. L. Davis, head electrician.



James A. Wixon.

aug 22-25

WAS POLICEMAN FOR 57 YEARS

James A. Wixon Dies at 84 After Record Service in Police Department

Was Member When Force Wore Beaver Hats and White Trousers

Harry M. Church.

July 15, 1925.

WAS 40 YEARS DRUGGIST HERE

Harry M. Church Dies in Fairhaven After Long Period of Ill Health

Was Born in This City 66 Years Ago

A DENTIST WHO PAINTS—Dr. George O. Irish, New Bedford dentist-artist is shown here with some of the fine work he has done, in the "Sail Loft", his Nantucket studio. His paintings were on exhibition at the Island. Sun Stand. Sept. 13, 1925.

THRONGS TURN OUT FOR INDEPENDENCE DAY OBSERVANCES

July 5 1925

The Police Division

Rotary on Parade

QUITE A YOUTHFUL CHOIR —At St. James Episcopal Church. They are, left to right: the Misses Doris Putnam, Mabel Davis, Alice Miller, Gertrude Seddon, Clara Skoldberg, Elizabeth Atherton, Lillian Woodacre, Fern Jennings, Millicent Isherwood, Ruth Houghton, Marion Hesketh, Doris Suffern, Phyllis Cooke, Dorothy Wilcox, and Ethel Geary. At left is Mrs. Estelle Sanderson, choir mother. At right, the Rev. Arthur C. Peabody, the then

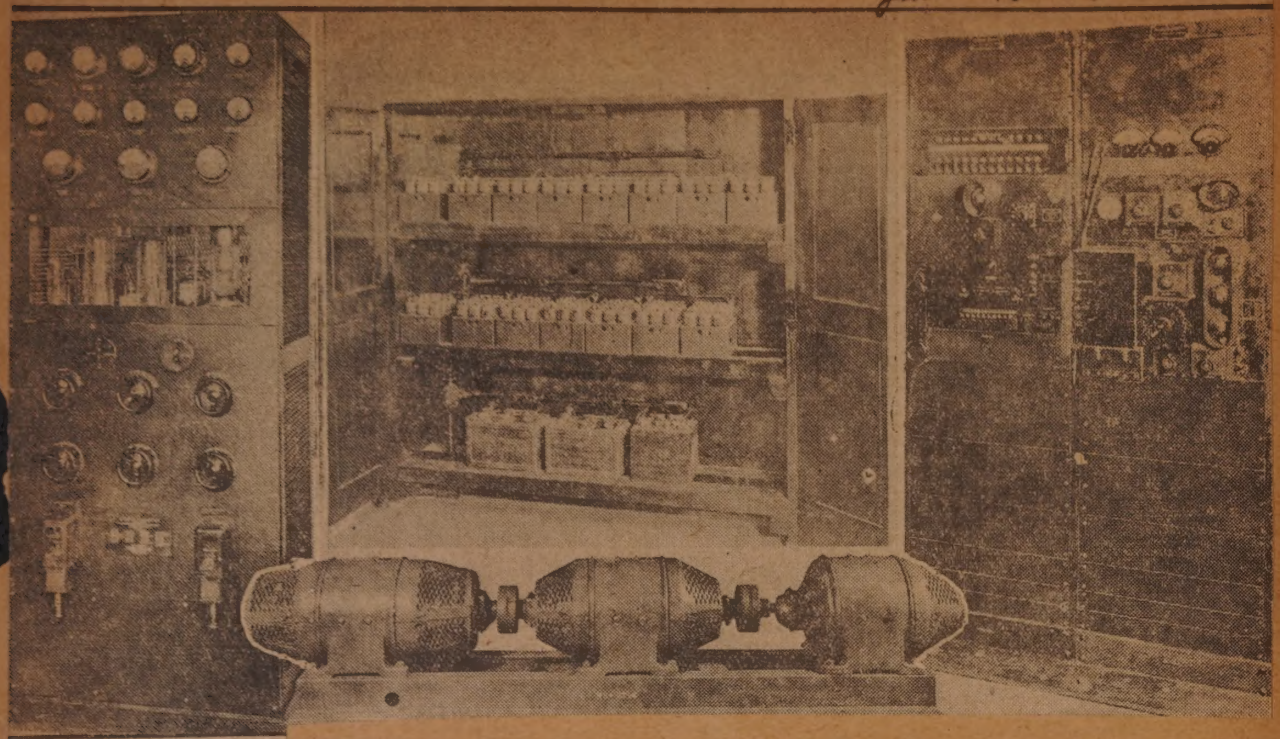
WILL SPEAK HERE Oct 19-25

THE REV. ELIJAH HUMPHRIES, of Billerica Center, former New Bedford pastor, will speak at the morning and evening services of the First F. M. Church tomorrow. The Rev. Mr. Humphries was pastor of the First Church from 1894 to 1904 and again in 1918. He was superannuated in 1921. He was pastor of the Fall River Second Church from 1904 to 1912.

COMMISSIONERS FORGET DUTIES—Bristol County Commissioners forgot their official tasks at an outing held recently. They are, left to right, John I. Bryant, Arthur M. Reed and Richard E. Warner. Sept 13, 1925.

NEW SUPER-POWER BROADCASTING UNIT FOR ROUND HILLS

June 16-25



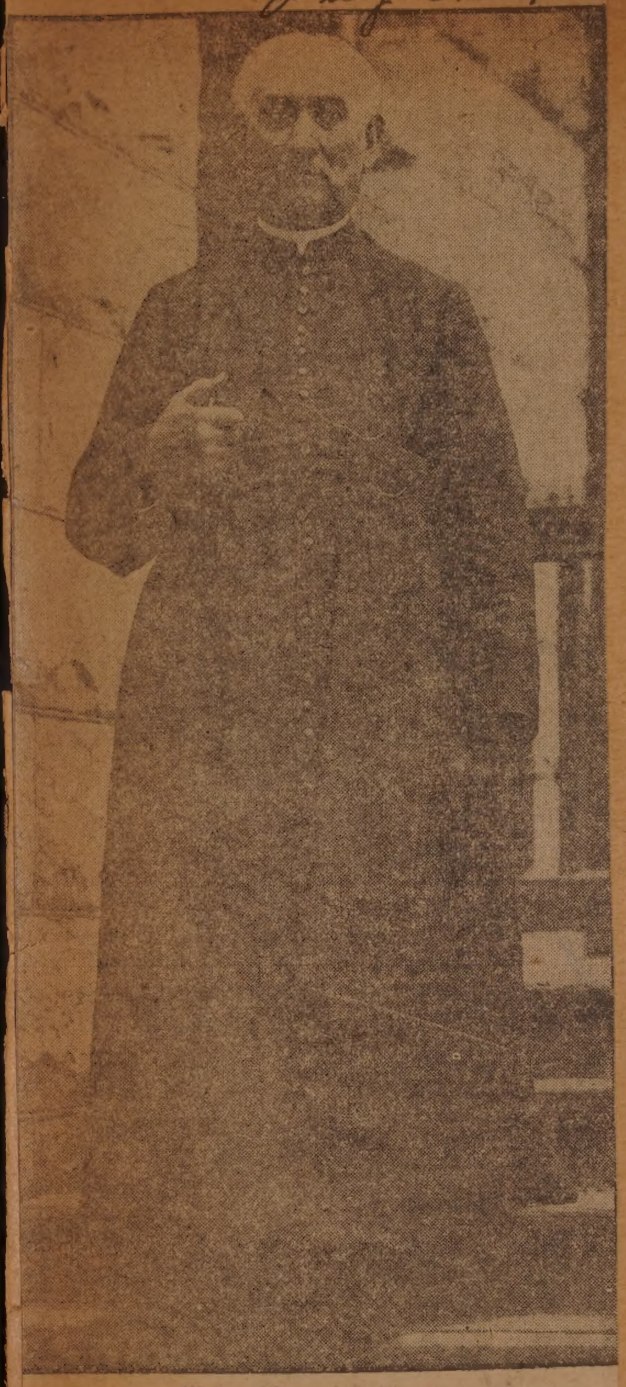
This Is Where the Music Will Come From

Left, Western Electric Type 1E Speech Input panels. Center, above, storage battery equipment. Center, below, 4000 D. C. generator unit. Right Western Electric Type 6A 1000 watt radio telephone transmitter.

COOL AND INVITING. The happy effect of leafy trees and shadowed lake on the Cape Cod road just outside of Marion.

TO DO MISSIONARY WORK

July 21 - 1925



Father Manuel C. Terra

FATHER TERRA CONVALESCING

Has Closed Parish Work and Will Enter Missionary Work

Travels in South America Failed to Bring Back Health

Father Manual C. Terra, at one time pastor of St. John's Church in this city and for many years of St. Peter's Parish in Provincetown, is convalescing at the Santo Cristo Church parish in Fall River following a serious operation for gall stones in St. Annne's Hospital.

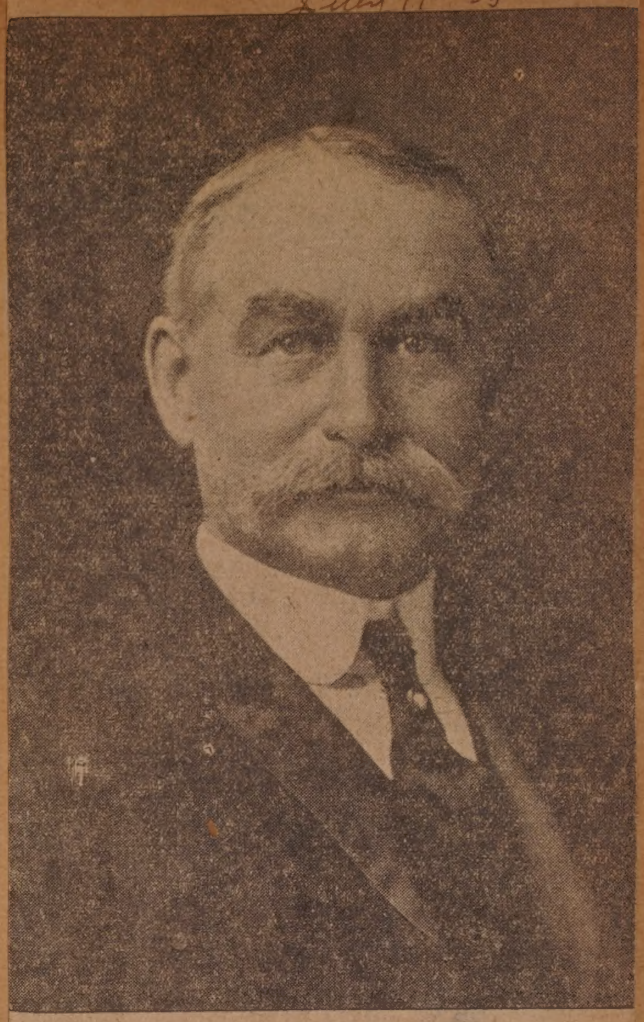
Father Terra has brought his long life of active parish work to a close and intends to devote his time after he has regained his health to missionary work.

Father Terra was the first boy born in America of Portuguese parents to be ordained a priest. Most of his work has been done around New England, although his mission work has taken him to Ohio, and to Alberta, Canada, and South American countries. Father Terra had just returned from South America when he was assigned to take charge of St. Antonio's parish in Fall River a few weeks ago. He was taken ill almost immediately and was confined to St. Anne's until last Monday.

Father Terra was a familiar figure around the Cape for many years and he can recall some of the difficulties which he had in making the rounds of widely scattered parishes when automobiles were unknown. He was a close friend of Father Thomas J. McGee, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of the Isle at Nantucket from 1903 to 1910 and of his brother Father Patrick E. McGee who was pastor of the Martha's Vineyard Parish.

DEATH ENDS LONG CAREER

July 11-25

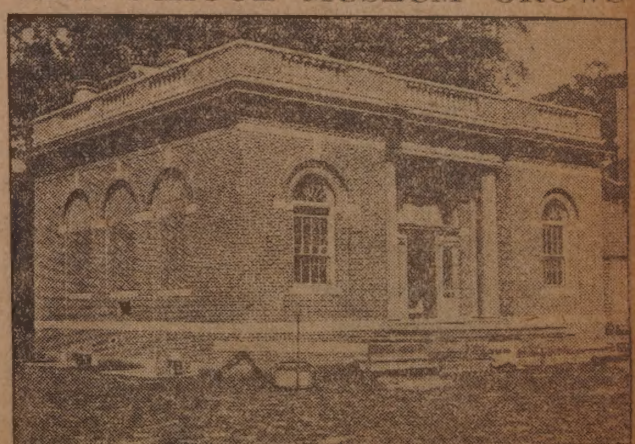


Charles O. Brightman

One of Best Known Citizens Here

Engaged in Contracting Business for Years---Long Prominent in Politics

ART SCHOOL MUSEUM GROWS



Nearly Ready Sept 9-25

Addition to the equipment of the Swain School which is now receiving its finishing touches.

Aug. 9, 1925.

BAYVIEW LADIES' ASSOCIATION holds annual fair.

COLORFUL SCENES MADE PAGEANT A SUCCESS

Aug. 5 1925

WAR MEMORIAL IN BARNSTABLE. Old Cape town recently unveiled boulder monument commemorating deeds of Barnstable men in all wars from the Revolution to the World War.

HEART ATTACK PROVES FATAL

Wilson Irving Wordell Dies After Illness of One Day

July 10 1925

Had Been at Work Up to Last Wednesday Night

Wilson Irving Wordell, 64, died at his home at 22 Arnold street last night following an illness of but one day. Heart trouble caused his death. He had spent the week end at Nantucket, and worked at his position in the Five Cent Savings Bank up to Wednesday night.

Wilson Irving Wordell.

Mr. Wordell was born in New Bedford in 1861, and attended the grammar and High schools in this city. Graduating from the New Bedford High school, he attended Eastman College, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a college which has now gone out of existence. After his schooling, he entered the employ of A. W. Holmes, Coal Company, and spent several years with that firm.

Employed By Bank.

Then Mr. Wordell was appointed superintendent of the Garfield and Procter plant in this city, later absorbed by the Pocanontas Fuel Company, with which he was connected for some time. After a short period of recuperation following illness, he entered the employ of the New Bedford Five Cent Savings Bank, with which he has been connected for more than seven years.

In 1886 Mr. Wordell married Miss Annie Howard, of this city. They had one son, Howard I. Wordell, a resident of New Bedford. His first wife died in 1920, and two years ago Mr. Wordell married Miss Emelia Selpha Berube, who had been a co-worker in the Five Cent Savings Bank.

Mr. Wordell was a former member of the old Dartmouth Club, at one time a director of the old Board of Trade, which preceded the present Board of Commerce, and a member of the Old Dartmouth Historical Society.

He is survived by his wife, and one son by his first wife, Howard I. Wordell, of this city.

Feature of the Pageant

Top—Mrs. Louise Cartier, as Joan of Arc, leads the French war veterans into place on the field. Center—The group at the Spanish Court. Camille Robert as the priest, Wilfred O. Dame as King Ferdinand, Miss Frances Sullivan as Queen Isabella.
Lower—Left, William J. Frawley as Christopher Columbus. Right, the Boys of '76, left to right, John A. W. Burgess, Fred A. Rounseville, J. Ackerman.
Insert—Mrs. Susan Milliken, who represented New Bedford's Gold Star mothers in the pageant.

BOY SCOUTS AT CAMP POTOMSKA

July 14th 19-25

New Bedford Scouts.

signaling, Luke Haran, Troop 23, New Bedford and Alfred Braley of the same troop.

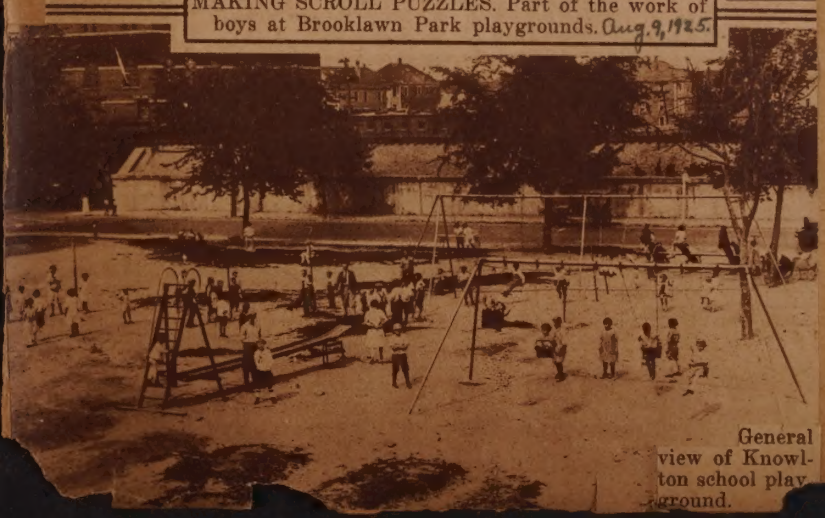
DR. J. UBALDE PAQUIN
Dec. 6, 1925

36 YEARS ON POLICE DUTY

June 17, 1925.
Lieutenant Charles L. McBay
Killed in automobile accident.

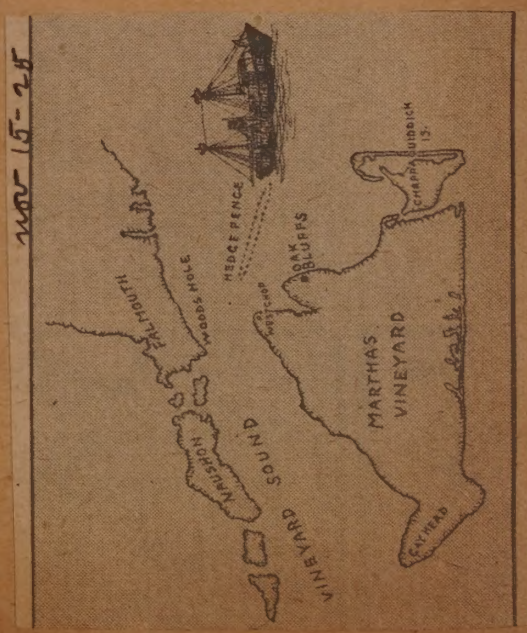
Aug. 9, 1925. The Brooklawn Park Playground

MAKING SCROLL PUZZLES. Part of the work of boys at Brooklawn Park playgrounds. Aug. 9, 1925.



General view of Knowlton school playground.

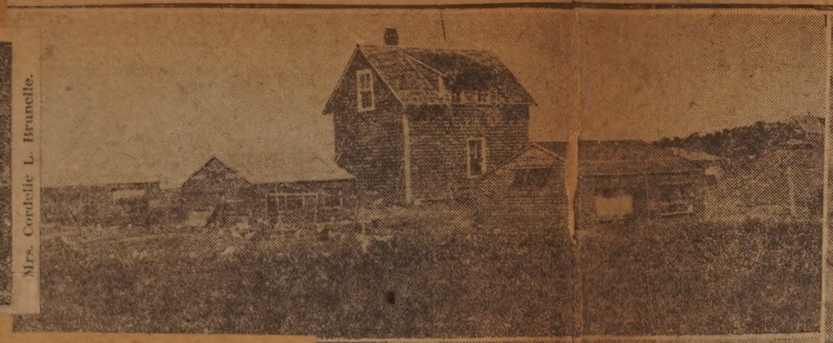
Nov 15-25



Where Hedge Fence Is

Hermit of Barnstable Has Seen Many Sides of Life

July 26-25



On Cape Cod

Upper left—He built the house for a studio and then built the chicken houses around it.

Right—The hermit of Barnstable, who wears his hair long because he "favors the colonial."

Lower left—He puts in some of his spare time on oil paintings.

MILLINER DROPS DEAD IN STREET

Mrs. Cordelie L. Brunelle Dies Suddenly of Heart Attack

Nov-6-25

Mrs. Cordelie L. Brunelle.

Sun. Stad. Sept. 13, 1925.

ALONG THE CAPE COD ROAD—Here is one of the many picturesque lakes that beautify the highway to the nation's beauty spot.

TEBUTT WINS STUDY HONORS

New Bedford Student at Brown University Will Be Publicly Complimented for High Marks

Sep. 29 '25

(Special to The Standard)

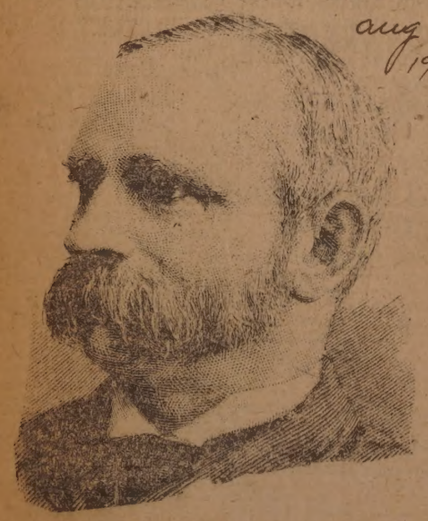
Providence, Sept. 29.—Arthur R. Tebbutt, New Bedford, has achieved high scholarship distinction at Brown University, a list of winners of preliminary highest honors in the class of 1927 showed today when it was issued by Professor William T.

Arthur R. Tebbutt.

Hastings, of the committee on prizes and academic honors.

STARTED STUDIES HERE

aug 26-1925



Rev. Charles Frederick Chandler

FAMED PIONEER CHEMIST DIES

Charles F. Chandler Was ...spired in New Bedford School

Father of Renowned Scientist Had Store on Purchase Street

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

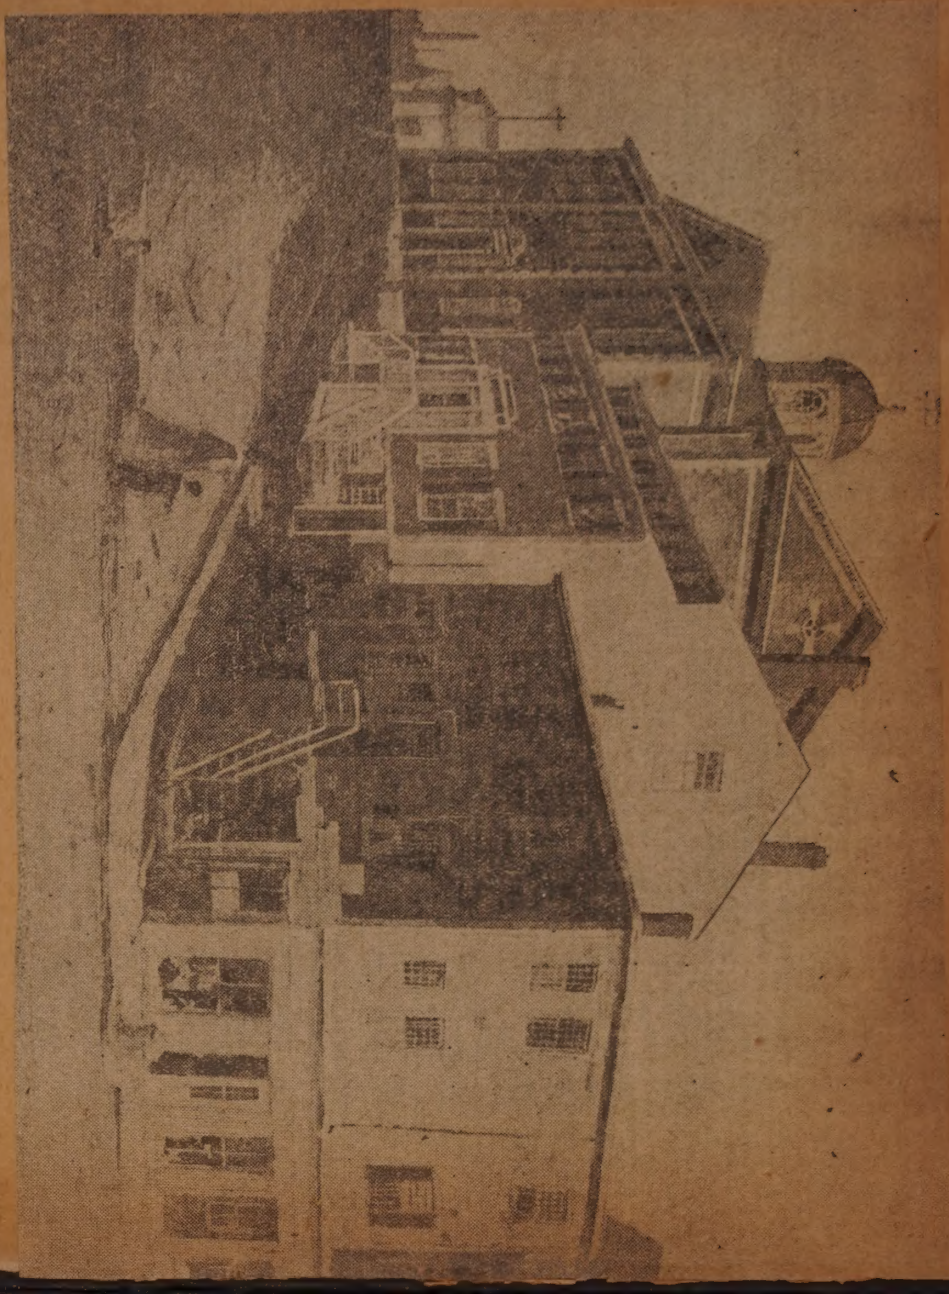
Oct 3- Oct-1925

Surprised by Friends

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Fish, Westport Point, reecently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. A surprise party was given for them by their children.

Some Examples of the Art of Clarence E. Braley

June 28-25



Mrs. John Mayhew Wood, 18 Lincoln street, for-Miss Louise Spare, 183 Orchard street.

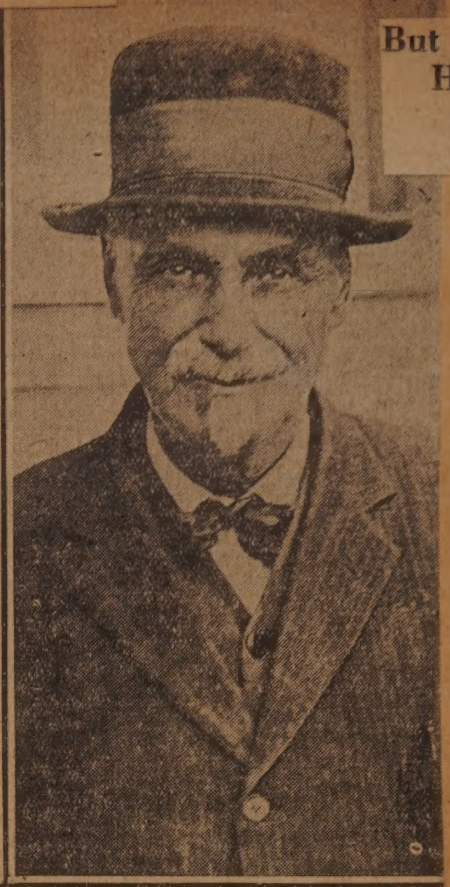
June 14, 1925.

June 14, 1925.

Mrs. Aubrey J. Pothier, 344 Summer street, who was Mary Elizabeth Sullivan, 83 Linden street.

OLKS CALL THEM GYPSIES—

June 21, 1925.



But Sam Stanley Neve Had Heard of the Gypsy Stanleys, He Avers

43 YEARS AT ADAMS HOUSE

Sept 25 1925

Anthony D. Hall Was Host to Coolidge During Governorship

Oldest Past Master of Star in East Lodge—In City Council Here

Boston, Sept. 25.—Anthony Dennis Hall, widely known hotel man, died suddenly yesterday at the Hotel Puritan, where he and his wife had made their home for some time. Mr. Hall had been in fairly good health, and only a few days ago had been at the Adams House, of which he had been the manager for years, having in association with him his two nephews, George and Frank Hall, sons of his brother, George G. Hall.

Mr. Hall was born in Fall River Jan. 13, 1845, but the place at that time was known as Tiverton, and Left to right, above—At Stanley camp on Fall River road, sleeping wagon in background, Mrs. Esther Corneau and Miss Marguerite Stanley making baskets. Samuel Stanley of South Somerset, brother of Levi Stanley. Middle row, Levi and Sam's house at South Somerset. Levi's camp on the Fall River road. Below—The Stanley camp has running water—from a spring. Ruthie and Morris, Stanley grandchildren, sometimes fetch it. The picture with a Stanley goat in the foreground shows the winter homes of the younger campers. Below, a group with grandmother, Mrs. Levi Stanley, the tallest grandson is Job Stanley, the children are Morris, Leonard and Ruthie.

WAS FORMER SERVICE MAN

aug 13-25

Edmund H. Magnant, 35, Dies in State Hospital of Hemorrhage—Was Drug Clerk Here

Edmund H. Magnant, 35, 118 Query street, died Tuesday night in the Taunton State Hospital, from a cerebral hemmorhage. Mr. Magnant was born in Little Falls, Minn., but has lived in New Bedford for the last 26 years.

Most of his early education he received in St. Anthony's Parochial School of this city. For quite a few years he was a drug clerk, working in Oliver Gigiere's pharmacy on Acushnet avenue and Tinkham street and in Hunt's drug store on Covill street and Acushnet avenue.

Soon after the war broke out, he enlisted in the U. S. Army, serving for two and a half years in the Medical Corps. He was stationed at Camp Mills for a time but was assigned to many medical details and had been in various army units in nearly every state in the Union. When discharged from the service he held the rank of sergeant. It was during his time in the service that he took a bad cold which later developed into an abcess in his ear causing a more serious illness.

Mr. Magnant was a member of the Nashawena Tribe of Red Men. He was also a member of St. Joseph's Church.

Besides his mother, Mrs. Lucy Magnant, he leaves two brothers and two sisters, Alfred and Tobel Magnant and Mrs. Helen Quintin all of New Bedford and Mrs Dora Magnant of Edmund H. Magnant.

Anthony D. Hall

was part of Rhode Island. The house in which Mr. Hall was born was on the state line and when the tract was later resurveyed the town came within the precincts of Fall River.

Following his education in the schools of his home city and later in New Bedford he accepted a position in a grocery store in New Bedford at the age of seventeen years. Later he was with Wood Brightman & Company of New Bedford, dealers in stoves where he remained until April 15, 1882.

Then Mr. Hall was invited to come to Boston to serve as clerk at Young's hotel, which was operated by George G. Hall, his brother, and J. R. Whipple. On Sept. 19, 1883, the Adams House was acquired by Messrs. Hall and Whipple and Anthony Hall was appointed manager, which position he held continuously for forty-three years.

While a resident of New Bedford, Mr. Hall took an active part in politics, serving for three terms as a member of the city council. In his early years he became a member of the Star of the East Lodge of Masons of which he was the oldest past master, and Sutton Commandery of New Bedford.

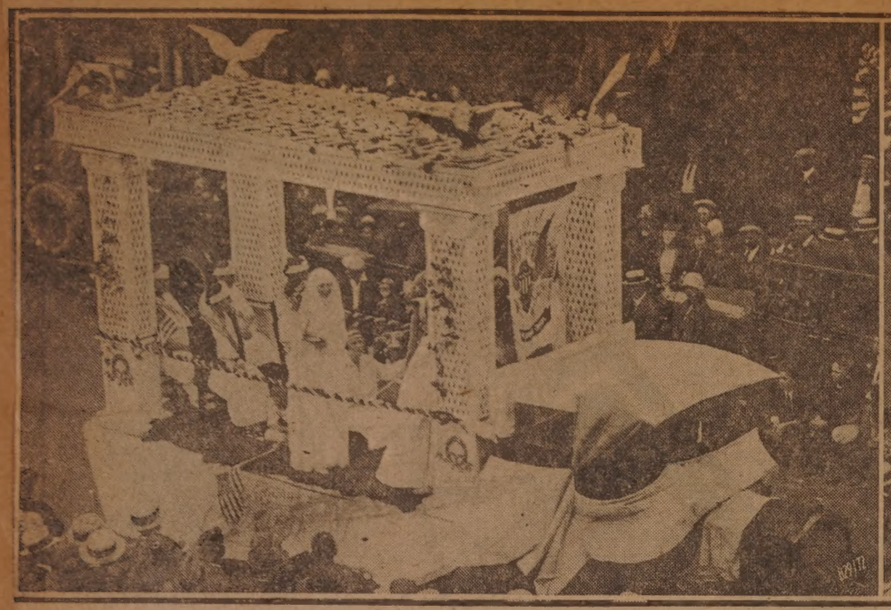
In May, 1872, Mr. Hall married Miss Mary E. Soule, daughter of Thomas and Margaret A. Soule of New Bedford. Mrs. Hall, who has long been active in the Daughters of the American Revolution survives him, as do two sons, William T. Hall, professor of chemistry at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; and George Anthony Hall, who is in the banking business. There are fourteen grandchildren and one great grand child. In January of this year Mr. Hall's eightieth anniversary was made much of by his many friends, who greeted him at the Hotel Puritan.

Rufus A. Soule, Jr., of this city is a nephew of Mr. Hall, and Mrs. Alexander T. Smith, formerly of this city, but now of Jackson Heights, Long Island, and Mrs. Garry deN. Hough of Vineyard Haven are nieces. Mr. Hall was also connected with the Clarence R. Sherman family of 248 County street, this city.

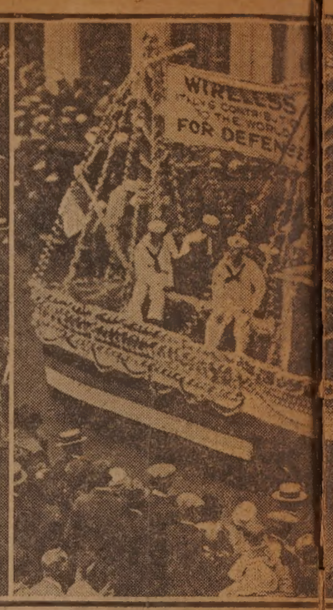
The funeral of Mr. Hall will be held Saturday at the home of his son, William T. Hall, in Jamaica Plain. The body will be brought to this city for burial.

ELABORATE FLOATS PROVE A FEATURE OF HOLIDAY PROCESSION

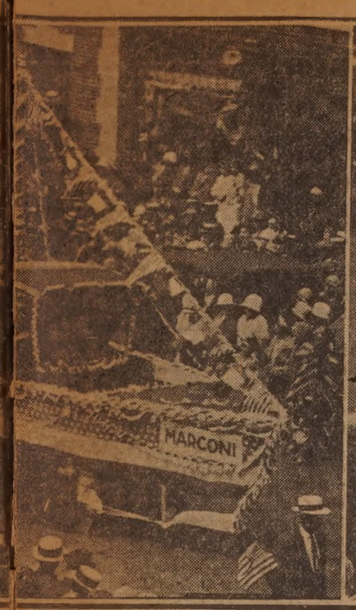
Fourth of July Parade, 1925.
July 5-1925



American Legion Float



Italian-American Float



Quota Club's Contribution

Guests at White Court Aug 28, 1925.

Mrs. Coolidge with Sta[illegible] winners at Swampscott.

FORMER PASTOR OF CITY DIES

Nov 10 -25

The Rev. Louis M. Flocken Was Minister at Allen Street Methodist Church 1899 to 1904

The Rev. Louis M. Flocken, former pastor of the Allen Street Church this city, who died at the New England Deaconess Hospital Sunday, was for many years one of the prominent Methodist clergymen of southern New England. Mr. Flocken was admitted to the Southern Illinois conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1885.

He transferred to the New England Southern conference in 1889 and his first pastorate in this section was at Whitman. He was later at South Somerset, Summerfield Church, Fall River; Washington Park Church, Providence; Willimantic, Pawtucket and Taunton. He was pastor of the Methodist Church at Plymouth when he retired in 1921.

The Rev. Louis M. Flocken.

ANOTHER NEW BEDFORD MOVIE OPENS HERE

aug 30 '25

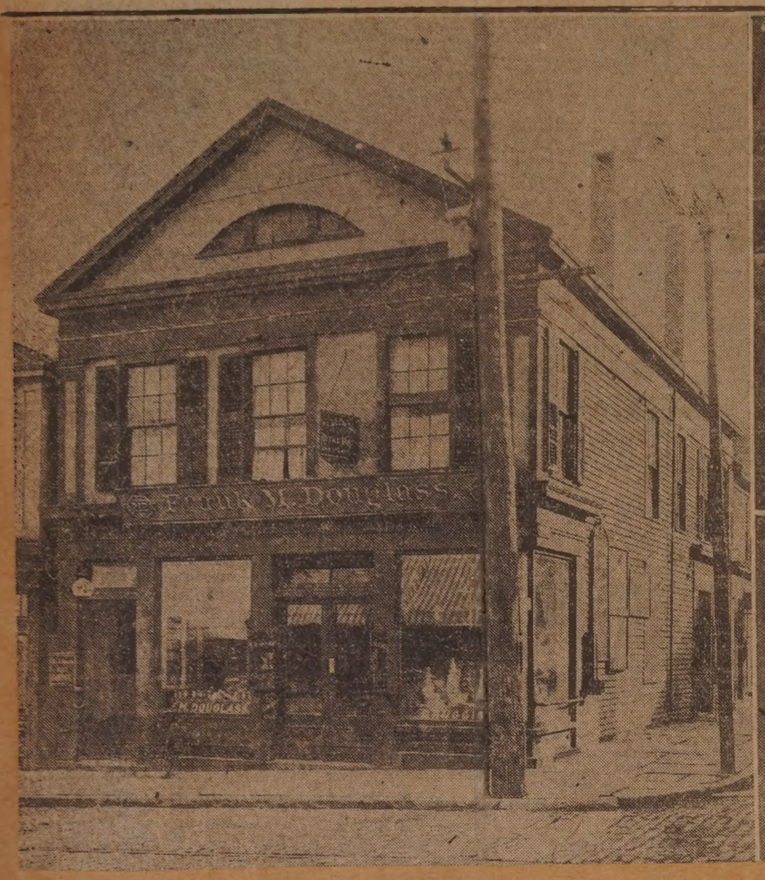
"Asleep in the Deep"

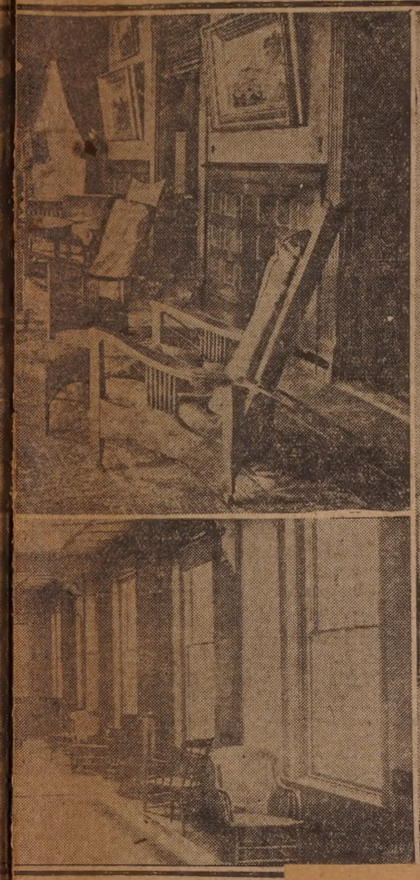
Stirring moments from the movie which has its premiere at the State today. Its outdoor scenes were taken around New Bedford. Jimmie Brewer, New Bedford comedian, holds the pig in the group picture. Walter Long has his fists doubled, while Ge[illegible] and Edna Murphy look on aghast.

DARTMOUTH CLUB

And Now After 45 Years of Existence It Passes -- Members Long Played Prominent Part in Social Life of New Bedford

Once Was Called Kennel Club Before Changing Name





As Dartmouth Club Passes

At left, old drugstore at Union and Pleasant streets, where Kennel Club, afterwards Dartmouth, was started. Center, above, lounge room in present quarters, old billiard room. At right, Emerson building at Sixth and Union streets, before latter was widened, which houses Dartmouth Club.

WILLIAM H. A. TOBEY, PIONEER OF CIRCUS DAYS, DIES AT 90

Charter Member No. 1 of New Bedford Elks and Professed Inventor of Pink Lemonade Began Career on Road with Show Playing Here in 1857

aug 13-35

William H. A. Tobey, veteran of cages of animals and a few snakes, old-time circus days, who hild claim which was showing here.

to immortality as the inventor of Toured Country 35 Years.

pink lemonade, and bore membership claim to the title of charter member No. 1 of New Bedford Lodge, No. 73 of Elks, is dead.

For 90 years Mr. Tobey found the world a vast circus in which it was good to live, and took upon himself the role of entertainer in it. When old age compelled him to withdraw from active circus work he did his part by keeping alive famous stories of the pioneer circus days, adventure, fraud and fun. The big top of life closed for him for good last evening at his home on River road. He left no children. His wife, who was the partner of his adventures for 43 years, died in 1919.

Mr. Tobey was a native of New Bedford, born here in 1835, but his

From that time on and for 35 years he toured the country with circuses and shows, some his own and more the property of owners well known in circus tradition. He returned to the drug business in his maturer years, as owner and manager, and then retired to private life, but the circus remained the chief interest of his life, even in his latter years. His great failing eyesight and the weakness of old age crippled his lively spirit, impelled him to celebrate every birthday by coming into New Bedford and recounting the adventures of his youth. That custom he adhered to even to March 1 of this year, when he arrived as The Standard office to tell proudly that he was 90 that day.

After his first year as advance man for the Wild Men of Borneo and the accompanying menagerie, Mr. Tobey reappeared in New Bedford as an independent exhibitor. He had a collection of wax figures which were taken around the country in a van similar to the wagons formerly in use by showmen, by coming into New Bedford and setting up in Purchase street. He found a corner of what was then the upside remaining there about three weeks and doing a good business. From New Bedford the show went to Fall River, and thence to Providence, coming to attend in the latter city.

William H. A. Tobey.

4th and early manhood were spent ewhere. Still, New Bedford atned significance in his life beyond ere accident of being his birthwas a show held on ore in 1857 that

His [illegible] had [illegible] to train him for the drug business, but Mr. Tobey abandoned it almost as he could [illegible] to run away to sea. He left [illegible] ches, and at fourth wandered back to New Bedford at the age of 22, just in time to land a job as advertising agent for Sears & Garett's show, comprising the Wild Man of Borneo and six

DIES AT ST. LUKE'S HOSPITAL

William Rotch aug 15-35

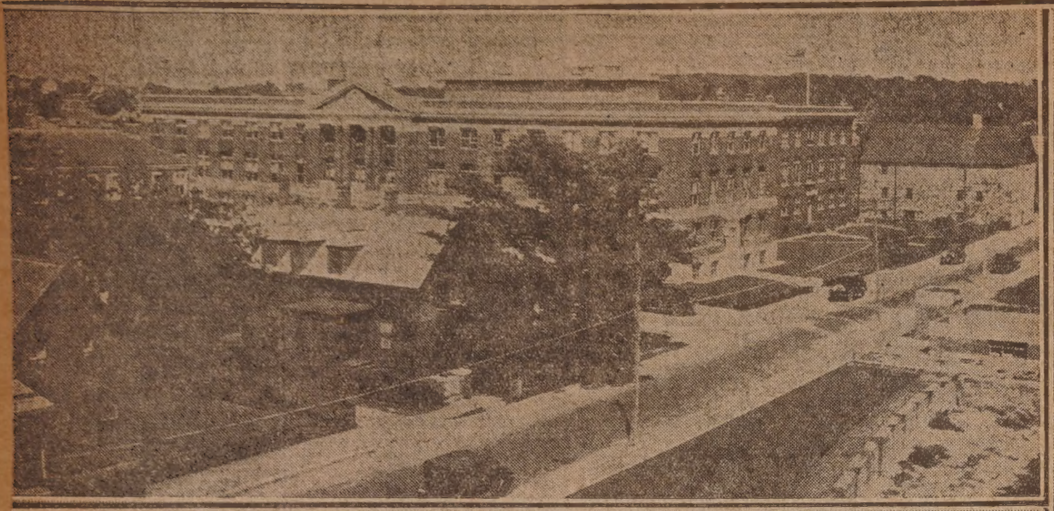
WILLIAM ROTCH DIES AT 81

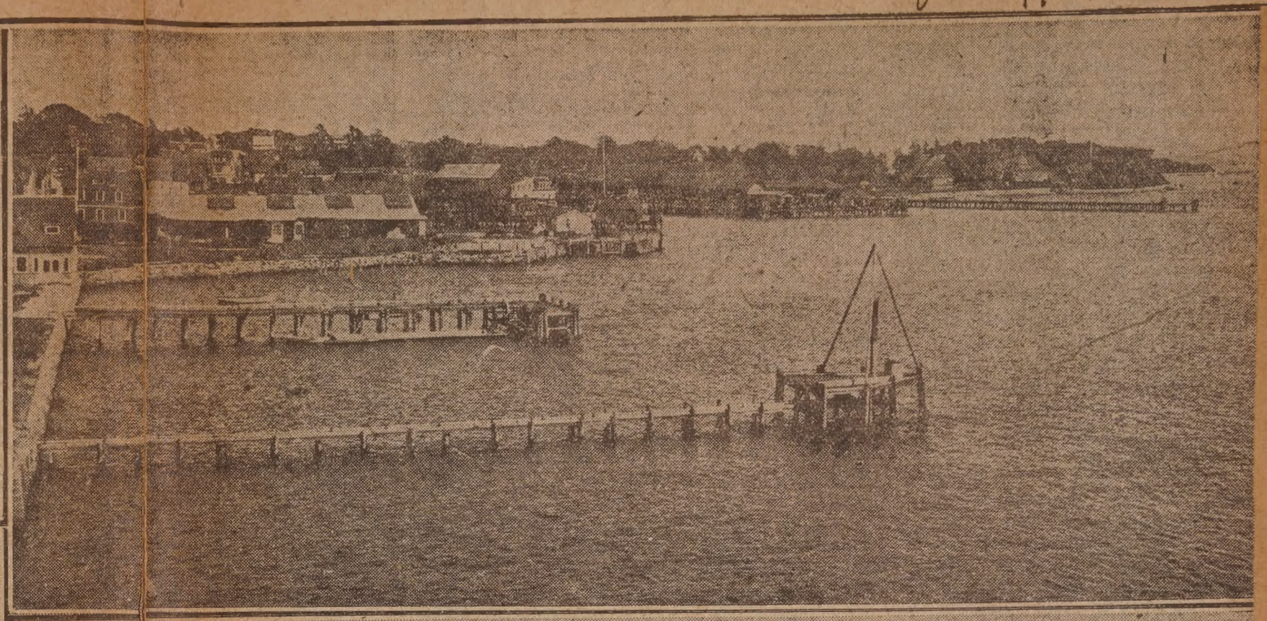
Heart Attack Proves Fatal to Boston Man, Former Resident Here

Civil Engineer and Capitalist, Spent Summers at Nonquitt

Woods Hole "Window" to the Open Sea Framed by Kaleidoscope of Scenic Wonders—Penzance Point, Hadley's Harbor, Naushon, Nobska Point Only Few of Charming Spots Near Swirling Waters

July 26 1925





This is the first of a series of copyrighted articles, Windows on the Sea, by Thomas Edwards to be printed exclusively in The Sunday Standard, describing the far famed "holes" of Buzzards Bay, the outlets of New Bedford to the sea.

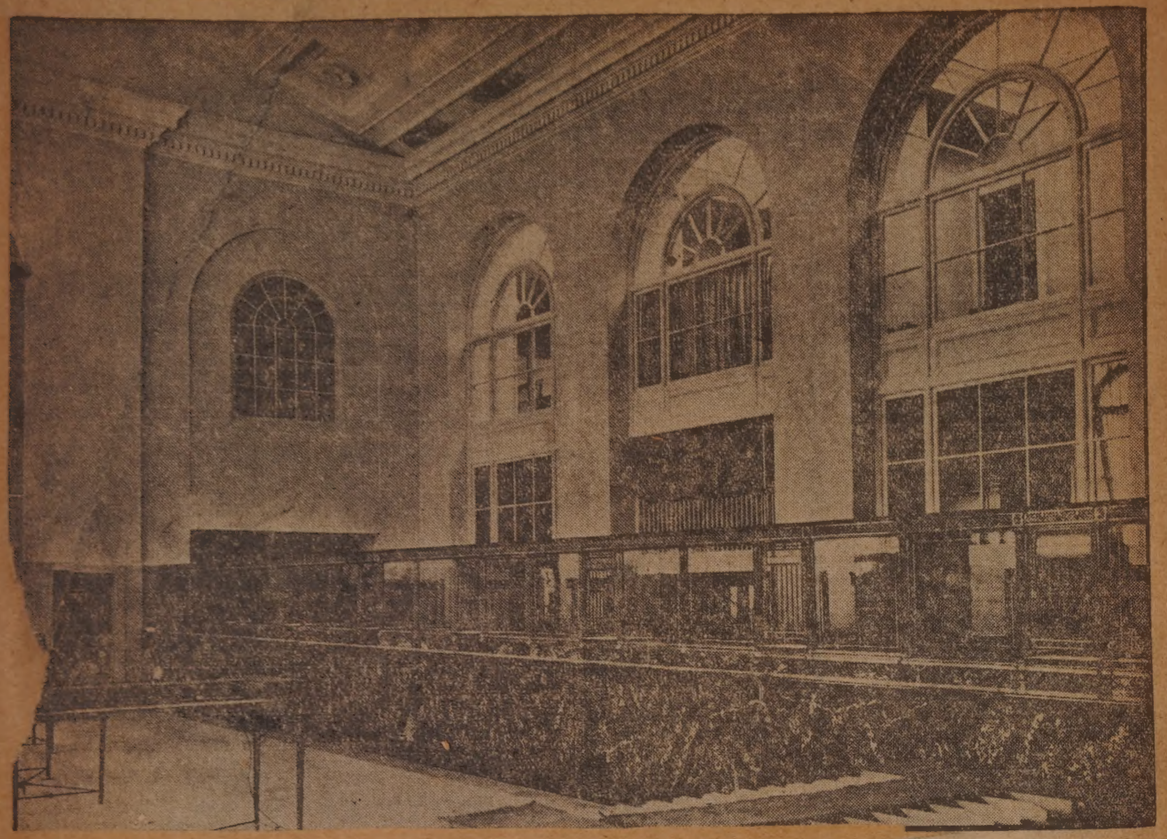
The second article, Robinson's Hole sketched with pen and camera, will be printed August 2nd. Future articles will treat of Quick's Hole and Cannapitsett Channel.

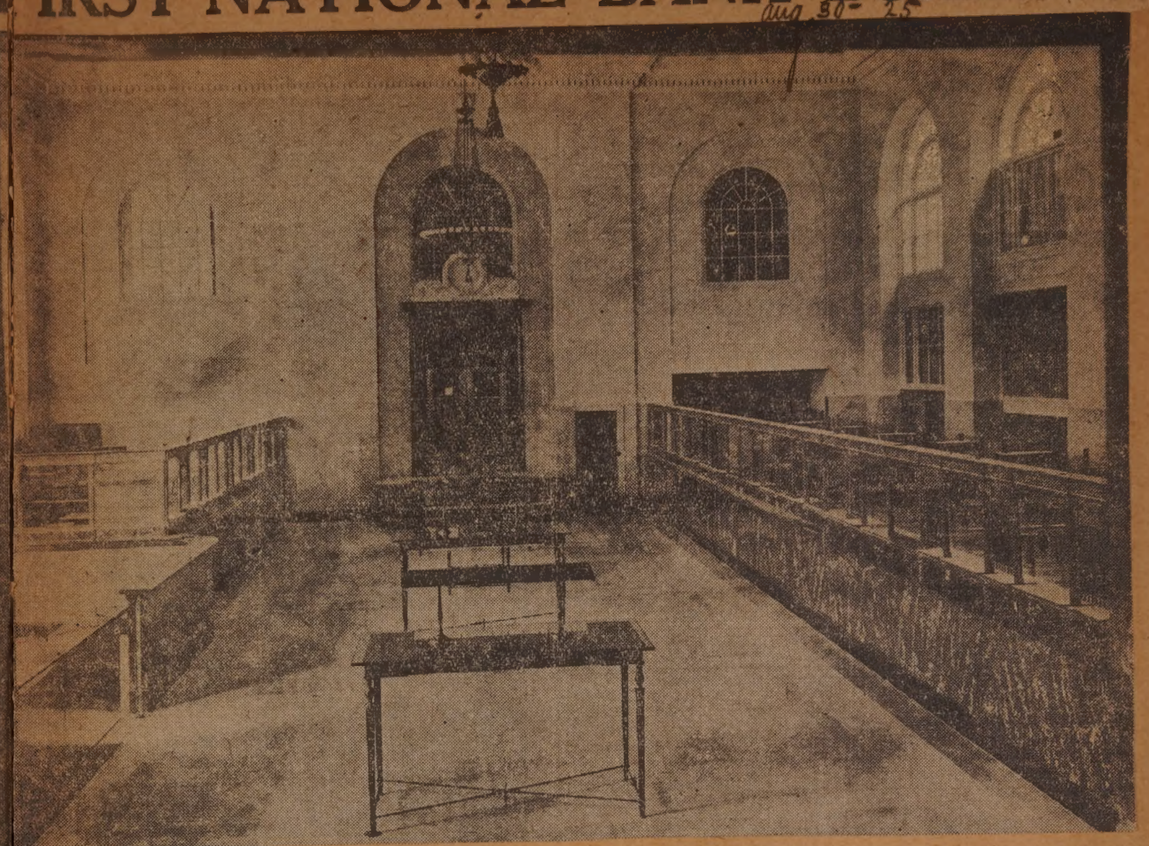
HERE AND THERE AT WOODS HOLE

Upper left: New wing of the Marine Biological. Left center: The Fish Comm sion buildings. Lower left: A view from Little Harbor looking toward Marthas Vi yard. Upper right: Woods Hole harbor, showing steamer docks. Right center: Woo Hole, showing treacherous shoals and stranded schooner. Lower right: Another vi of Little Harbor.

STATELY VAULTED LOBBY OF NEW FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING

Aug 30 - 25





The Bank's New Quarters

The pictures show two views of the magnificent vaulted lobby of the new First National Bank. They are both taken from the mezzanine floor above the main entrance. One gives a idea of the whole lobby, while the other is looking northwest, showing great arched windows which light the mezzanine floor. Elevated booth for telephone operator is shown just above the row of teller's cages. Note the handsome marble finish around the cages.

RENEW SERVICES IN REMODELLED BUILDING

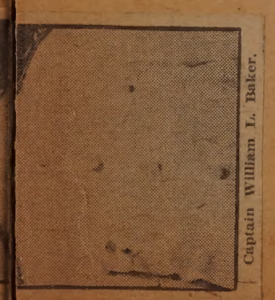
Oct 2 - 31 - 25

Howard M. E. Church

CAPTAIN WILLIAM L. BAKER, VETERAN OF DEEP SEA, IS DEAD

1926

Former Whaleman Succumbs at 67 --- Held Licenses as Both Sailing and Steam Master---Joined Navy in 1917---Went with U. S. Shipping Board After Armistice



Captain William L. Baker.

BIBLE CLASS OF SOUTH P. M. CHURCH.—There are 65 members in this class which meets with the Rev. Charles H. Kershaw every Sunday. In the photograph are: front row, left to right, Jack Whittaker, Victor Marshall, managing committeeman; F. B. Crumley, president; Robert Burnhoe, Sr., Owen Downhill, Robert Burnhoe, Jr., attending secretary; Victor Catterall, Henry Martin; second row, Christopher Wright, John Halliwell, Thomas Rawcliffe, treasurer; Walter Westby, managing committeeman; the Rev. Charles H. Kershaw, Thomas Entwhistle, George Bauer, Samuel Tebutt, J. F. Griffiths; third row, Albert Byron, James Tebbutt, organist; Fred Griffiths, Thomas Forrest, Fred Bates, Percy Shard, Edward Wagner, Harry Pollard; fourth row, Archie Halliwell, Samuel Bates, Richard Harrison, Norman Hall, Arthur Rawcliffe, Thomas Anderson; fifth row, O. W. Young, William Taylor, Josiah Southworth, John Beecroft, assistant teacher; William Wignall, J. W. Ainsley, assistant teacher; sixth row, Albert Crook, Alfred Bilsborough, Fred Edmonson, Bertrand Davies, James Eatnough, Robert Baker, managing committeeman; H. Marsden, James Bleasdale, chorister.

Feb. 14, 1926.

Changing Homes

Busy scenes on Union and Pleasant streets yesterday when the First National Bank moved into its new home. Employes and officials joined in transferring office supplies and equipment from the old to the new building. Upper row, left to right: Eugene H. Sullivan; Doris Robinson; Harry C. Robinson, vice-president; Grace Stanton; Mabel Andrews; lower row, left to right: Stanley Kendrick and James W. Tripp; William F. Dammon; William C. Phillips, assistant cashier, and Frank B. Chase, cashier; Olive Rieter.

Built About 1890
Aug. 9, 1925.

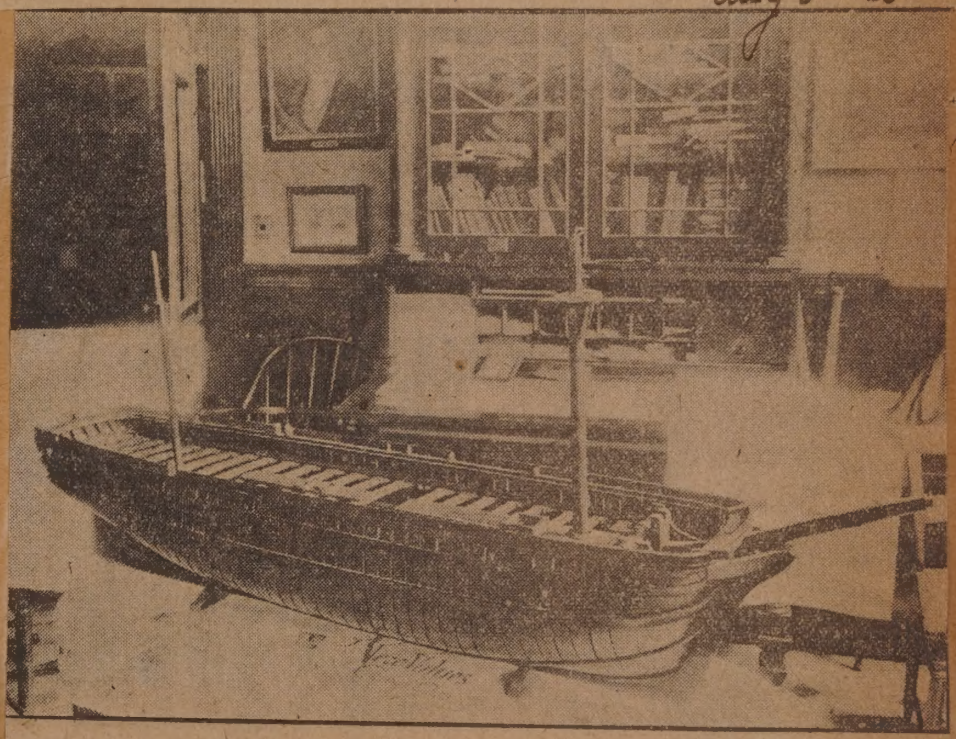
The residence of the late E. Williams Hervey, on the north side of Hawthorn street, east of Tremont street, now on the market.

Nov. 14, 1925.

THE REV. ROY B. GUILD, minister of the Trinitarian Congregational Church.

OLD SHIP MODEL COMES TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Aug 8. 25



Relic Now on View at Old Dartmouth Museum

This builder's model of an old-time ship was recently presented to the Old Dartmouth Historical Society by Max Williams, of New York. It is between 80 and 100 years old, showing a design of that period, when bluff bows were typical of both merchant-men and whalers. The model was originally made to be used as a pattern in a ship-building plant in Maine, and shows every detail of hull construction, both inside and out. Such builder's models, that is, those of American origin, are rare.

HARVARD CANDIDATE
Sept 16 1925

Charley Pratt of This City Retained When Fisher Cuts His Squad

Charles A. Pratt, Jr., of this city, was one of the 40 candidates for the Harvard varsity team held on the first squad by Coach Fisher when he made his first cut yesterday. Pratt, a candidate for a tackle, was a member of the Crimson freshman team last year.

EQUIPPED WHALERS
Sept 30 25

Frank E. Brown.

AUTHORITY ON WHALING DIES

nk E. Brown Succumbs to Hemorrhages at Sanitarium anufacturer of Bomb ces and Civil Veteran

Inspiration Finds Mary Smalley at Mill Loom and She Jots Down Her Ideas for Use at Home —'Unseen People' Help Her in Her Writing

Miss Mary Smalley

MRS. JEWETT DIES

Oct 18-25

Was First Vice President of W. C. T. U. and Allen Street Home Director

Mrs. Amanda Jewett, 85, widow of Nelson E. Jewett, first vice president of the W. C. T. U., and one of the directors of the Allen Street Home, died at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Carlton Judson, Prospect street, Padanaram. Mrs. Jewett had been in ill health since early in August. Death was due to a heart attack.

Mrs. Jewett was born in Kennebunk, Me., and came to this city as a young woman. She lived in New Bedford for more than 40 years, but for the last eight years, made her home in Padanaram. She survived her husband, Nelson E. Jewett, by more than eight years.

The couple celebrated the 50th wedding anniversary in this city Nov. 27, 1915, and guests from this state, Rhode Island and New Hampshire attended the celebration. Mrs. Jewett is survived by one son, Charles Jewett, six grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

TO ST. JAMES'S CHURCH

Oct 2-25

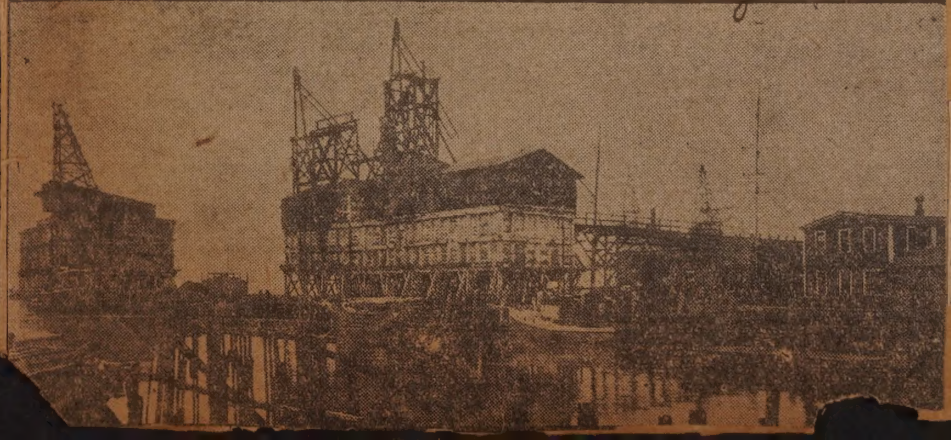
Edward Loughlin Thomas O'Brien

Patrolman William Atwood

Policeman Atwood Turns Scripture Into Verse Then Sets It to Tunes of Popular Songs--Strums Banjo and Sings at Church Services

WHARF LANDMARKS TO BE RAZED

aug 16-25



Considered Fire Hazard

Coal pockets and runaways, formerly owned by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company, now the property of the New Bedford Gas and Edison Light Company, which are to be removed as a precaution against fire.

EASTERN STAR OFFICER DIES

aug 4-25

Mrs. Caroline F. Austin, for 29 years secretary of New Bedford chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, died yesterday afternoon after a week's illness. Mrs. Austin was born in Nantucket, Oct. 16, 1836, the daughter of Thomas S. and Sarah C. Sayer. In 1856 she married Dr. Joseph Austin, and they had one daughter, S. Elizabeth, who died in 1920. During the Civil War, Dr. Austin was a captain in the Union army, stationed at one of the forts near Washington; and Mrs. Austin was at camp with him. Both Captain Austin and his wife attended the funeral of Abraham Lincoln.

Mrs. Caroline F. Austin.

Mrs. Austin was formerly secretary of Keystone chapter No. 18, O. E. S., of Roxbury, which instituted New Bedford chapter, and for the past 29 years served New Bedford chapter. She was the oldest Eastern Star secretary in the state. Mrs. Austin was a member of Palestine Shrine of the White Shrine of Jerusalem of New Bedford; a member of Stella Rebekah lodge, the Woman's Relief Corps, the D. A. R., and the Sons and Daughters of Nantucket. She leaves a brother, the Rev. Thomas S. Sayer; a niece, Mrs. Chester W. Chase, and three grandnieces, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Chase.

been in F... past

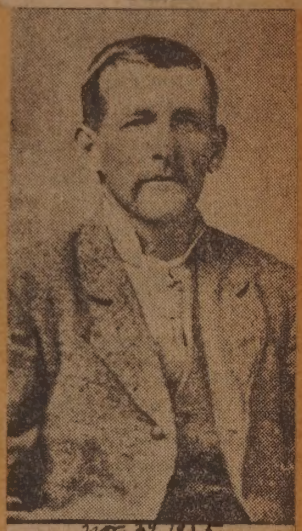
SHALL THIS RELIC BE DESTROYED?

The Old Globe Mill, Fall River Aug. 2, 1925.

SEA CAPTAIN'S CAREER VARIED

The late James Allen Wing in Arctic Ice Catch of 1898

Was First to Navigate in Upper Stretches of Yukon



Sept. 24, 1925.
Captain James Allen Wing.

group of old time Nantucket Quakers impersonated by Miss Sarah B. Winslow, Miss Hathe B. Silvia, Fall River; Mrs. Adelaide Bates, Miss Ellen Judkins, Miss Hannah Hamblin, Winchester; Miss Susan Brock, Miss L. M. Gardner and Miss Sarah Macy. Miss Winslow was the last Nantucket woman to go on a whaling voyage.

Aug. 16, 1925.
At Nantucket Fair

DIES TODAY

Nov 30-25

Benjamin Wilcox.

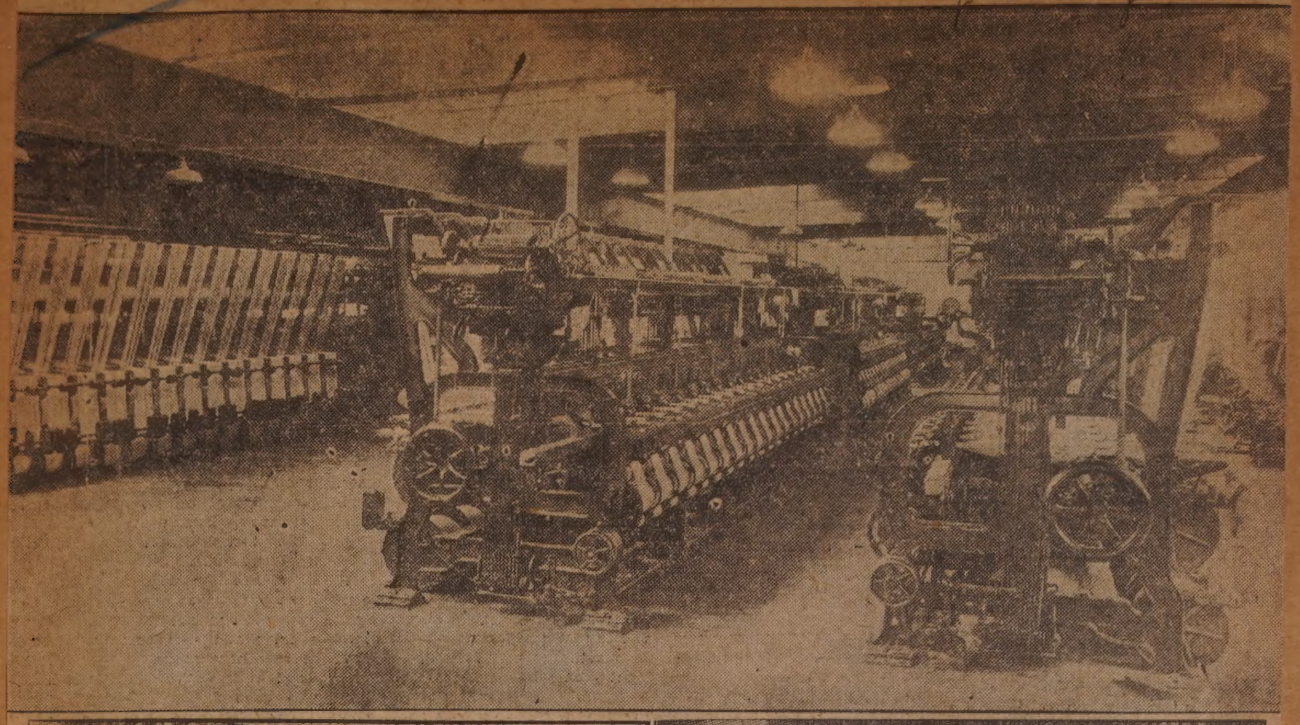
HEART DISEASE CAUSES DEATH

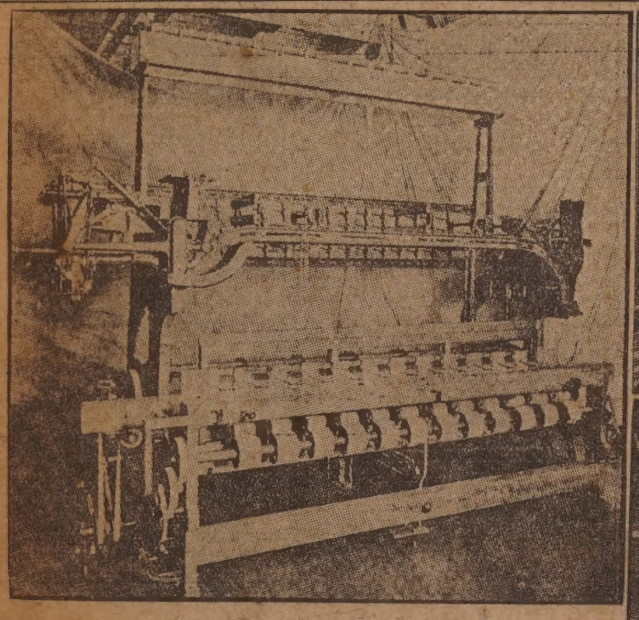
Benjamin Wilcox Dies This Morning After Year's Illness

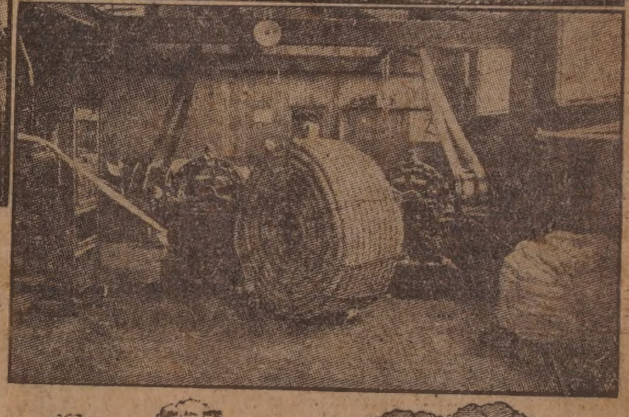
Was Formerly Treasurer of City Manufacturing Company

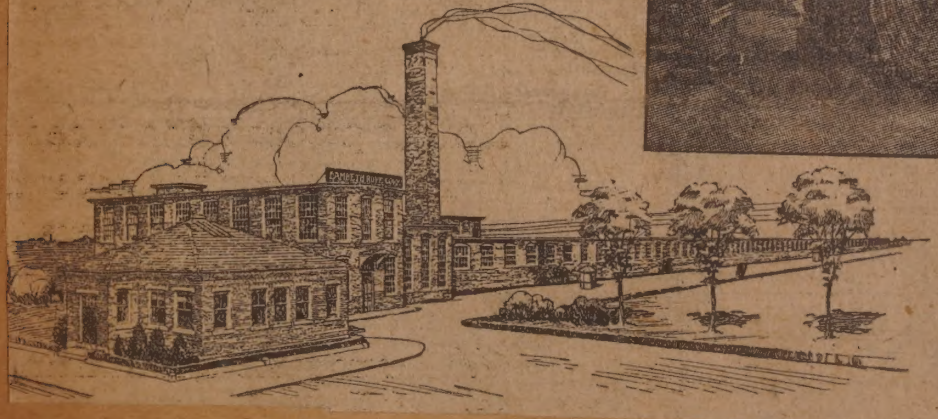
WHERE LAMBETH WHEELS HUM DESPITE DEPRESSION

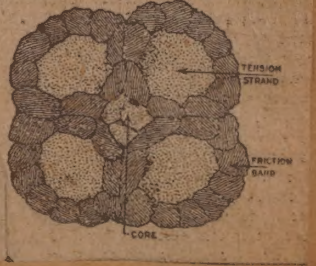
aug 28 - aug 28-20











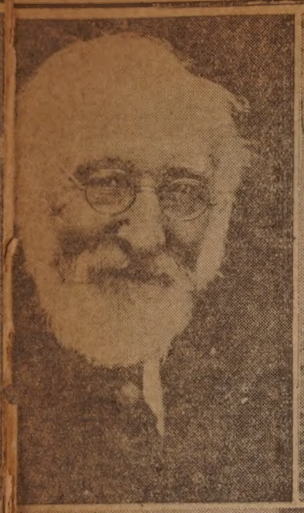
Narrow Fabric in Making

Top picture shows a view of a part of the interior of the narrow fabric plant of the Lambeth Rope Corp., which was recently moved to New Bedford from Pawtucket. Some of the narrow fabric looms shown in this picture are operating on collar cloth. Below at the left is a picture of a typical narrow fabric loom of the circular shuttle type in which the shuttles move in an upward curving arc. Center right picture shows two views of the interior of the Lambeth's rope walk, where the cotton transmission rope is laid; the upper view is one looking down the length of the rope walk, while the lower view is the equipment at the head of the long walk, and shows a large coil of the finished cotton rope, ready for shipment.

At the bottom is a view of the exterior of the Lambeth's main factory on Tarkiln Hill road oposite the Acushnet railroad station. Insert at the right is a sectional view of a piece of heavy cotton transmission rope, showing the core and the four strands from which this rope is made. The interior of each strand consists of thousands of individual strands of cotton yarn untwisted, while the outside of ea strand is a layer of tightly twisted cotton yarn termed the fric band which protects the inner or tension strands of the rope.

NEW BEDFORD'S VETERAN CANOEISTS IN ACTION AND REPOSE

aug. 2+25



IN FAR AWAY HUNGARY — Orcha Halprin, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Halprin, 167 Merrimac street, standing on the left, is studying violin interpretation in Budapest. He expects to be home about the first of the year. Nov. 13, 1925.

Formal a

Upper left, a group of picnic
The man at the extreme right of this city, Upper center, J. S ond oldest member of the Amer one of the double paddle crews left, J. J. Smith and some of his Wright as he looked in his little by J. Herbert Harper.

Otherwise

g canoeists cooling off in a stream.
his face lathered is J. J. Smith ison Wright of New Bedford, seca Canoe Association. Upper right, ection at Onset last week. Lower noeing trophies. Lower right, Mr.
ell. The portrait of Mr. Wright is 1927.

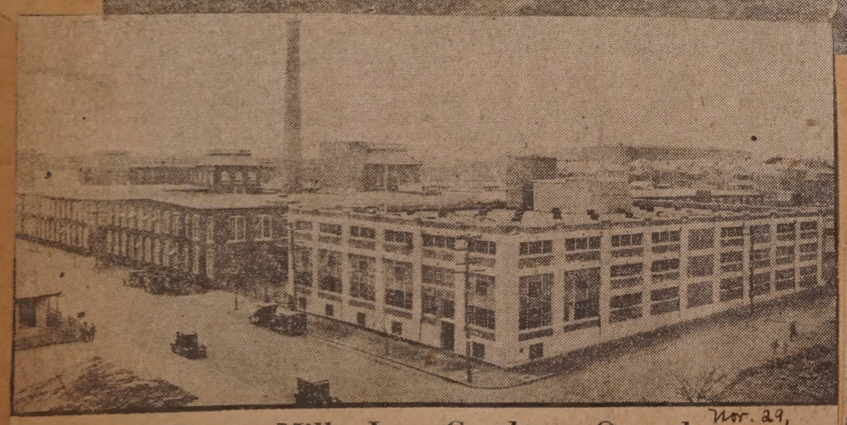
ROBINSON'S HOLE

Aug. 2, 1925.

ROBINSON'S HOLE SCENES.

Upper left—The farmhouse at West End, Naushon. Upper right—Pasque as seen from across the Hole. The New Bedford schooner Lizzie is shown under sail passing through. Lower left—The "graveyard" or southern junction of Robinson's Hole and Vineyard Sound. Lower right—Naushon's West End wooded bluffs and the Sound approach to the Hole.



Devon Mills, Inc., Goodyear Owned

Nov. 29, 1925.

view of the Mills, the newer building in the foreground containing the offices and the cotton receiving and Department.

POLICE OFFICER DIES

Dec 1925

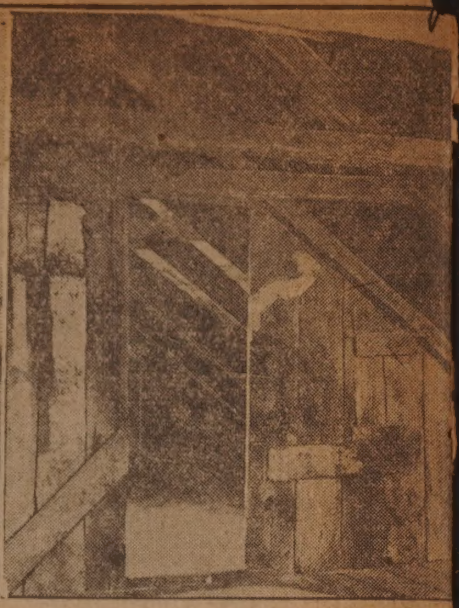
Sergeant Charles F. Daley.

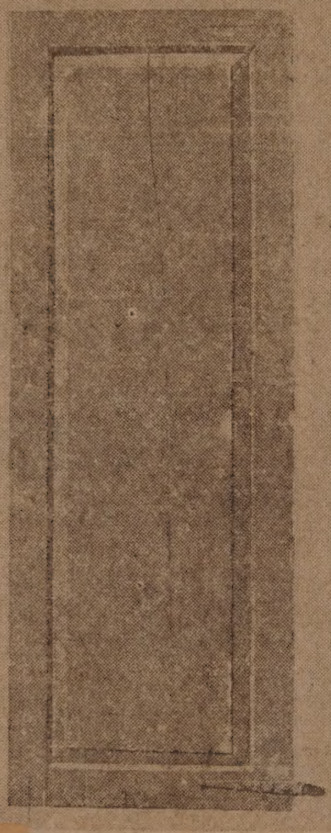
PNEUMONIA IS DEATH CAUSE

Sergeant Daley Taken Ill Monday---Died Early Today

Had Been on Force Since 1904---Promoted in 1921

ONE OF OLDEST HOUSES IN CITY IS PUT ON AUCTIO





Ancient Estate Unsold

At the top left is the ancient dwelling house now numbered 40 B shown some of the attic timbers just as the house was put together ago; at the left of the bottom picture is one of the old doors, showin are two other old doors shown at the right; the shorter upright in th mantel from the house.

Y. W. C. A. PICKS HEALTH LEADER

Miss Alice Robinson Gets Appointment as Head of Swimming Instruction and Education

Miss Alice Robinson, Meriden, Conn., a graduate of New Haven School of Gymnastics, 1923, and holder of a Red Cross life saving title, has just been appointed head of the Y. W. C. A.'s department of health education, including swimming instruction in the new pool. She is to begin work in a day or two.

Miss Robinson was in charge of the department of hydrotherapy at Miss Katherine Briggs.

Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, the year after her graduation, and last year was with the Playground Athletic League of Baltimore. She was employed this summer as an assistant in the health department of Yale University.

Comes from Attleboro.

Miss Katherine Briggs, who will enter Sept. 14 upon her duties as industrial secretary of the Y. W. C. A., comes to this city from the executive secretaryship of the Attleboro Leagiue for Girls and Women. She won her A. B. degree at Tufts College in 1918 and her A. M. in 1925, and has taken special courses at Brown University and Boston Uni-tler street; at the top right are nore than a century and a half the heavy wooden latch; there picture to the right is an old

OCK
13-25

MEMORIAL FOR MONSIGNOR SMYTH 9/12

At St. Mary's Cemetery

A statue of the Blessed Virgin and Child Jesus has been erected in St. Mary's cemetery as a memorial to the Right Rev. Monsignor Hugh J. Smyth. This statue which is seven feet high is beautiful work of art executed in first quality Carrara marble. It stands on a ten foot pedestal of handsome selected black and gold marble. The statue and pedestal are from the McBride Studios, Pietrasanta, Italy. A descriptive booklet of the memorial is being prepared by the Rev. Timothy J. Calnen, director of the cemetery. The statue has been erected by the cemetery.

s past record. She in high schools in Woods-ville, N. H., and Cranston, R. I., from 1918 to 1921, in Somerville Junior High the following year, was supervisor of girls' playground work at Medford in the summer of 1920, recreation director at Rockport Lodge, Rockport, in the summer of 1924, and recreation director at Holiday House, Milford, N. H., this summer.

Progress towards opening the service department of the new Y. W. C. A. building at Sixth and Spring streets is being made rapidly. Dining room, employment bureau, information bureau, and fellowship hall, where patrons of the dining room and others may meet informally during open hours, will go into use next Tuesday, Sept. 6.

The activities department will be ready for occupancy a little later. No formal opening is planned for the present.

GLIMPSES OF SPACIOUS COMFO

The Dining Rooms

The Welcoming Exterior

NEW Y. W. BUILDING OFFERS

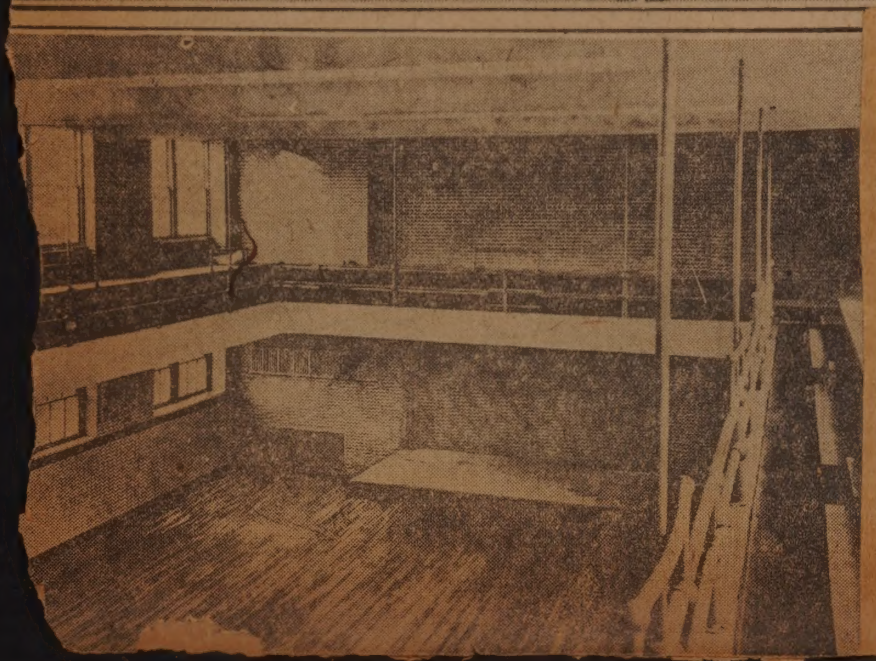
Sept 5-25

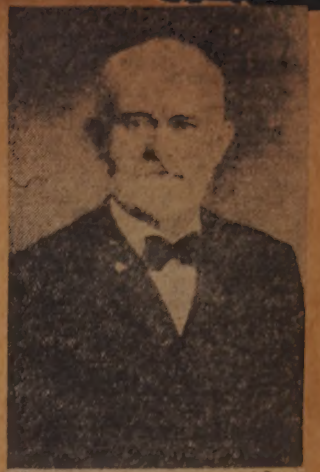
The Lounge

REMOVED TO MAKE WAY FOR NEW Y. W. C. A. BUILDING

Sept 27-25

HERE'S ANOTHER GLIMPSE INSIDE THE NEW Y. W. C. A. 9/5-1925





Died, George L. Taber. 1925.

VETERAN MILL EMPLOYE DIES

George L. Taber Connected with Wamsutta Mills More Than 40 Years--Retired Ten Years Ago

Nov. 15, 1925.

Miss Janet S. Ewing

Miss Ewing is the Y. W. C. A's new membership and educational secretary. She comes here from Bridgeport.

DIRECT ACTIVITIES IN NEW "Y" BUILDING

Sept 27-25

The Y. W. C. A. Staff

Left to right, standing, Misses Helen B. Kitchin, assistant health education director; Olive Robinson, director health education; M. Gloria Pitta, International Institute; Greta Husberg, office clerk; Katherine Briggs, Industrial secretary; Mrs. P. C. Estes, food service secretary; Misses Lucille Azevedo, International Institute; Cora Kent, recreation secretary; Esther Todd, girl reserve secretary.

Seated, Mrs. Sara Darrow, house secretary; Miss Ruth Kelley, business secretary; Miss Ruth R. Hawkins, general secretary; Mrs. Blanche Howell Tripp, secretary International Institute; Miss Deborah Harrub, employment secretary.

MAYOR WELCOMES SOUTHERNER

Oct 17-25

Offers City's Hospitality

Mayor Hathaway, left, greeted Dr. J. H. Smith, chairman of the Southern visiting delegation, at the New Bedford Hotel this morning. In the center is Arthur W. Forbes, president of the New Bedford Board of Commerce.

Oct. 4, 1925. Alfred Geier who was reported save when the Submarine 51, on whi he was a first electrician, was ra med last night

Nearly Ready for Use

Top right, the kind of kitchen the chef has wanted for a long time, to feed patrons of the restaurant; left, this way to the offices upstairs. The staircase is in a hallway opening from the lobby. Bottom, the gymnasium, seen from the balcony.

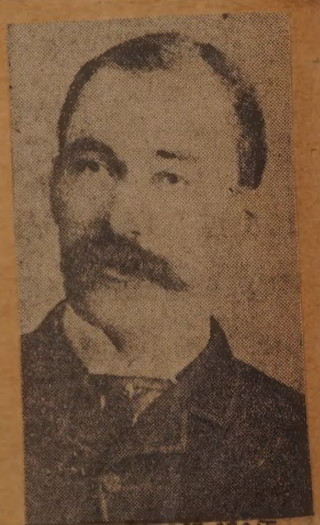
FIREPLACE AND INFORMATION

Woodwork Is Spotless

Y. W. C. A. BUILDING

"Red Light" Career Ended Nov. 1, 1925.

picture shows the old "Red Light," famous as an underworld resort of sailormen during whal- now being demolished to make room for new factory of The Ted Toylers. The building next s already been torn down, was New Bedford's first theater, while the frame building at the site occupied by Greene's barroom.



Nov. 19, 1925.

Frank Perry Sarmento Was Member of Catalpa Expedition

Frank Perry Sarmento, one of the last survivors of the Catalpa expedition, died from cancer yesterday afternoon at his home, 12 Christian street, Fairhaven. He had ben confined to his bed since last August.

Mr. Sarmento came to this country 49 years ago, and was a fish dealer on South Water street, New Bedford, for many years. He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Chruch, Fairhaven.

Besides his wife, Mary, Mr. Sarmento is survived by six children, one of whom is a son by a first wife.

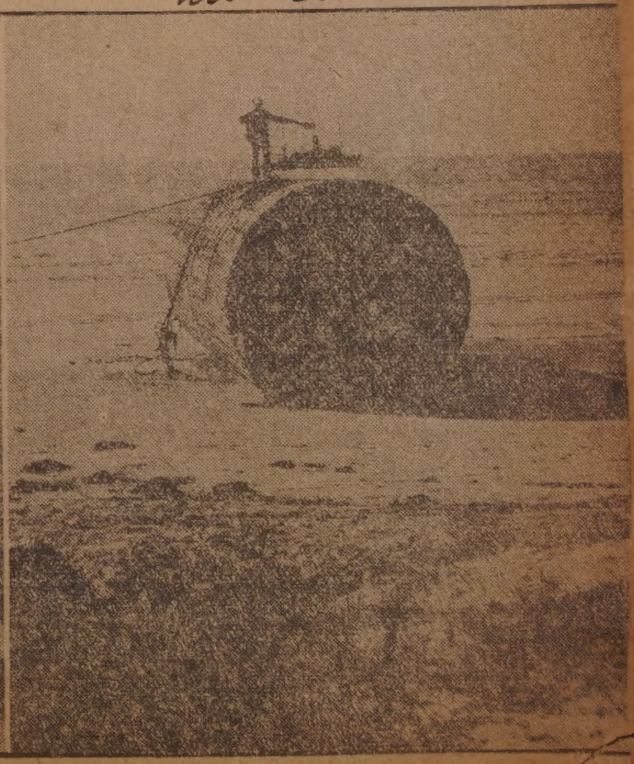
DESK ARE ATTRACTIVE SPOTS

Sept-27-25

Is Delightfully Cozy Place

NAVY SALVAGERS AND PONTOON THEY'RE TRYING TO SAVE

Nov-20-25



At Horseneck Beach

Left, the working party from the U. S. S. Sagamore, the tug which is trying to salvage the big pontoon, which washed up on Horseneck beach Saturday morning. At the right in the back row is Boatswain E. E. Walton, in charge of the operations. Just behind and to left of him is Charles Soule, Westport man, who sheltered the sailors when the Sagamore was forced to leave them stranded Monday. Heading from atop the pontoon to the Sagamore as she lies offshore.

COMPANY WANTS COPPER STREET FOR OWN

Sept 25 - 1925

Request of Firm to Discontinue Road Starts Argument

Copper street, which the Taunton New Bedford Copper Company is seeking to have discontinued, was accepted as a street April 10, 1912.

The request started an argument at the Board of Aldermen meeting last night. Three feet on the north side of the street were discontinued in May, 1917. The records do not show whether the Copper Company petitioned for the discontinuance, but at a hearing on the question held May 14, 1917, Clarence A. Cook appeared in the interests of the company. At the hearing, Charles S. Ashley, then mayor, referred to the fact that there had been some dispute about continuing the street as a public way several years previously. Copper street runs east from North Front street. On the left is the Copper Company, on the right part of the Wamsutta Mill property.

TO BE NEW BEDFORD'S FIRST SILK THROWING PLANT

Dec 13-25

Will Begin to Hum Soon

The three story brick and concrete mill building constructed several years ago on the north side of Grant street west of Shawmut avenue by the New Bedford Textile Company is being sold to the Old Colony Silk Mills Corporation, now being organized here, and will become this corporation's silk throwing mill. It will be the first silk throwing mill to be established in New Bedford. It is expected to begin operation in approximately three months.

Nov. 28, 1926.

Home of John Duff.

In the remodeling of the former Hawthorn street residence of the late William W. Crapo, Mr. Smith was confronted by the difficult problem of having to make changes in a type of house that was distinctive in another period. This property, as changed for the occupancy of John Duff, has been so extensively altered as to retain very little of its original appearance. An addition for service rooms on the first floor and with quarters for three maids on the second floor has been made in the rear of the house, while the front of the house has been extensively changed by the removal of the old verandas and the construction of verandas wholly different in appearance. The old trees on the ground have been removed, a five-car garage has replaced the old stable, a driveway has been laid out to the east of the house instead of on the west side as formerly and this has been extended through for an entrance or exit on the Maple street side of the property. The work has been done by the J. W. Bishop Company.

TEACHERS COMPLETE NEW BEDFORD HIGH SCHOOL STAFF

Sept 20-25

First Year Here

The teaching staff of the New Bedford High School for the year 1925-26 has been altered with the addition of the following members: Left to right, top, James A. Worden, Miss Esther Blaisdell, Miss Marion Colby, Miss Doris I. Eccleston, Miss Theresa Fitzagrel, John D. Connors. Bottom, T. N. Kingdahl, Miss Ruth H. Caddy, Miss Marion E. Lord, Miss Marguerite Hussey, Miss Mary E. Ryan, James C. Comiskey.

Klansmen in Regalia Present Banner to Seamen's Bethel

Oct 20-1925

Klan

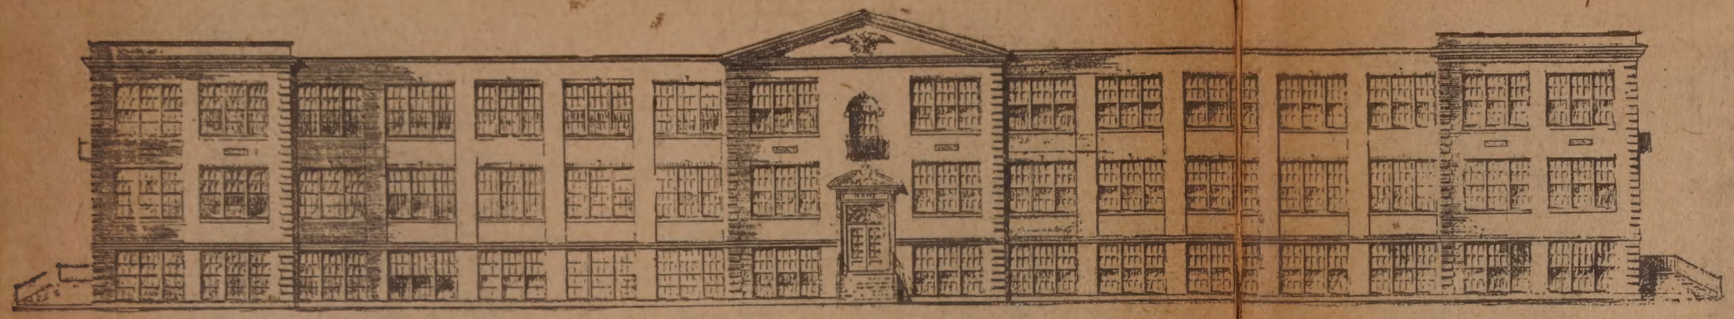
BUSY DAYS AHEAD OF EXECUTIVES Oct 24 1925

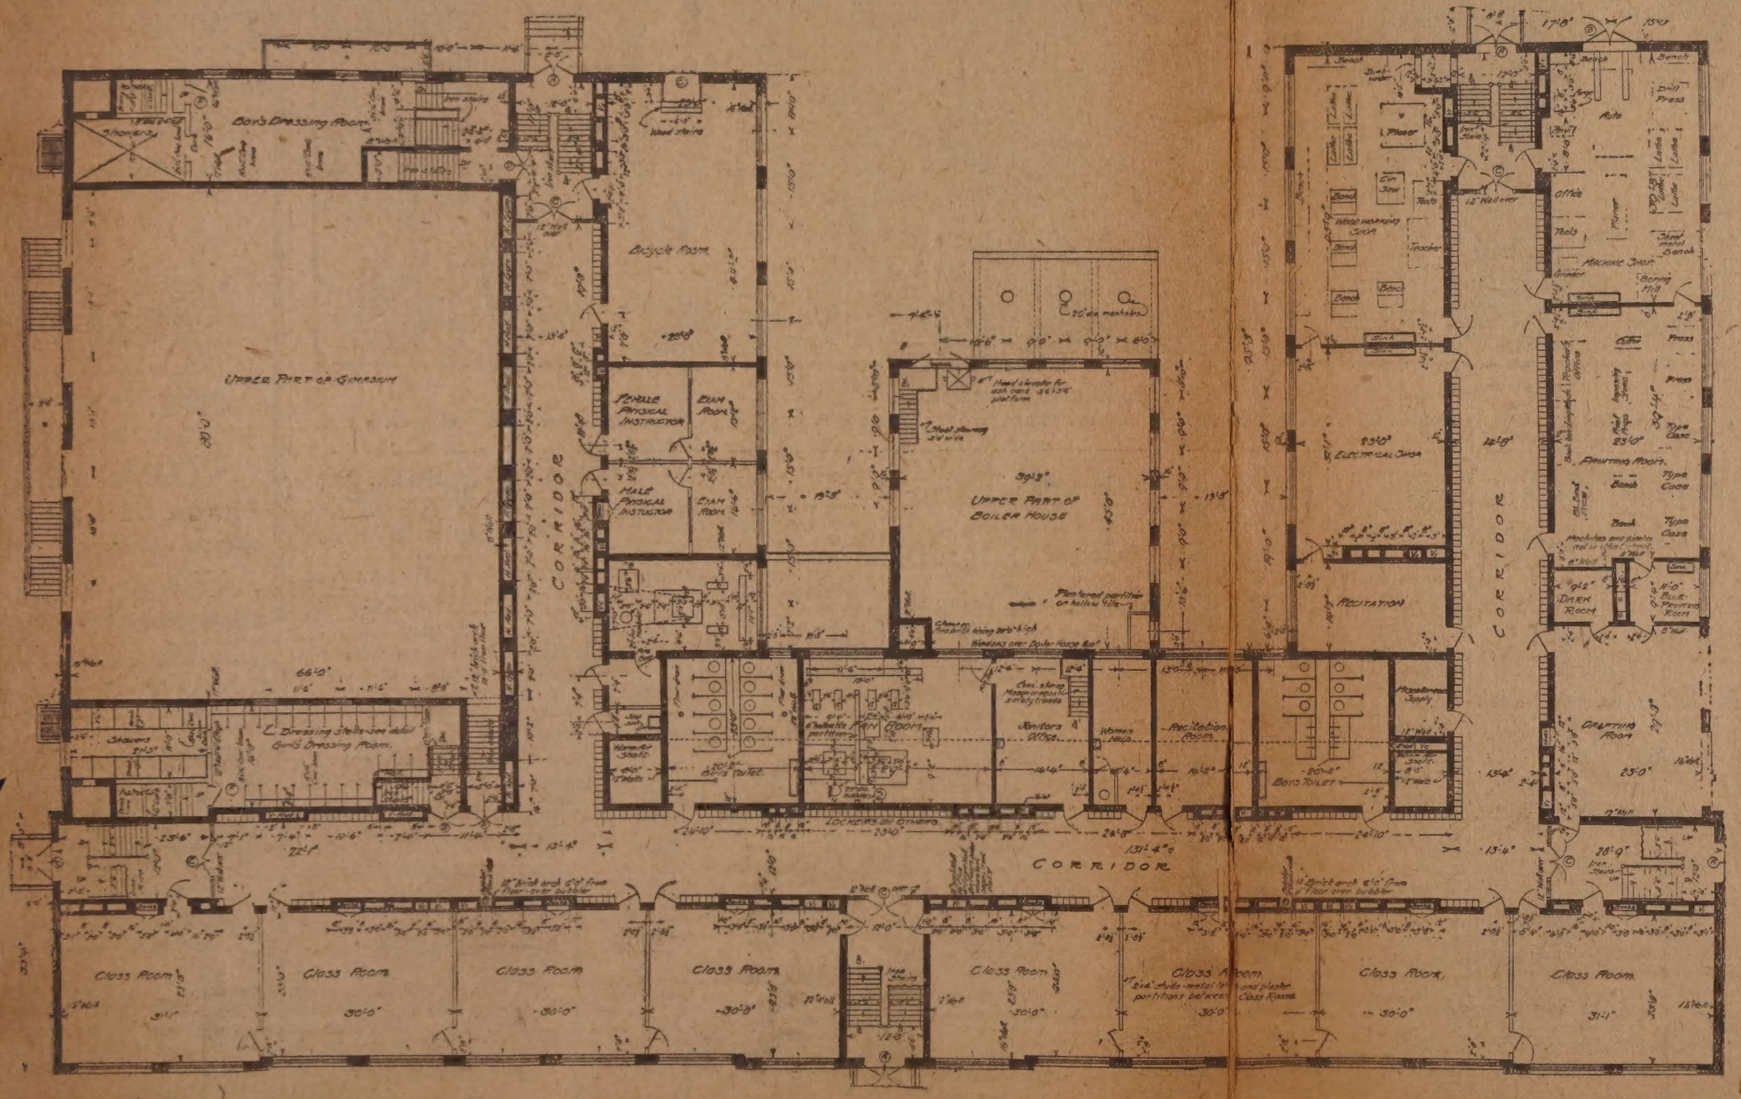
Planning the Campaign

Scott Whitcher, superintendent of St. Luke's Hospital and Secretary Fred E. Hilton of the Central Council of Social Agencies confer on details of the coming appeal for funds.

Junior High School Plans Arranged to Make It Low-Costing Building

Sept 20-1928





For Children of North End

Above is a front view of the building. Below are plans for the first floor.

A BLUECOAT FOR 39 YEARS

Dec 6-25

Patrolman John C. Rooks

PATROLMAN ROOKS APPOINTED TO POLICE FORCE 39 YEARS AGO

Is Oldest Man in Department in Point of Service and Also One of Biggest—Assigned to Central Station Where He Is Housekeeper

BACK FROM THE LAND OF FLOWING STEINS—Mrs. Warren Delano Robbins, wife of the counselor at the American Embassy in Berlin, has returned with her husband to Washington, where he has been called to complete special work at the State Department. Mr. Robbins has legal residence in Fairhaven.

Nov 4 1925

BRIDE WEARS OLD FASHIONED WEDDING COSTUME

Sep 27 1925

Second Ceremony at Gammons Farm

Photograph at left shows bride, Molly Nye Gammons, and bridegroom, Warren Price Tobey, Jr. In picture at left are the bride and her brother, John Ashley Gammons, Providence.

TAKES REST FOR 80TH BIRTHDAY

Oct 26-25

Arthur Welsh Celebrates Day by Leaving Tailor Shop and Visiting Friends—Is as Active as Man 30 Years His Junior Though He Takes Few Vacations

As active as a man 30 years his junior, Arthur Welsh, 114 Newton street, was celebrating his 80th birthday today. Just as a sort of a change from the daily routine of working at his trade as a tailor with Andrew G. Fish, Mr. Welsh took the day off and planned on spending it by visiting friends.

"I'll never see 30 again," he jokingly remarked, "and might just as well make the most of the day while it is here." A dinner party in his honor was tendered Mr. Welsh by his son, Arthur G. Welsh, at the latter's home, 241 Hawthorn street, yesterday. Present at the dinner party were members of the Welsh family.

Mr. Welsh came to this city in 1872 from Glasgow, Scotland, and with the exception of his annual vacation period which he spends during the Summer months at Cuttyhunk, today is one of the few days that he has taken off from his daily duties.

O'LEARY DIES

10-29-25

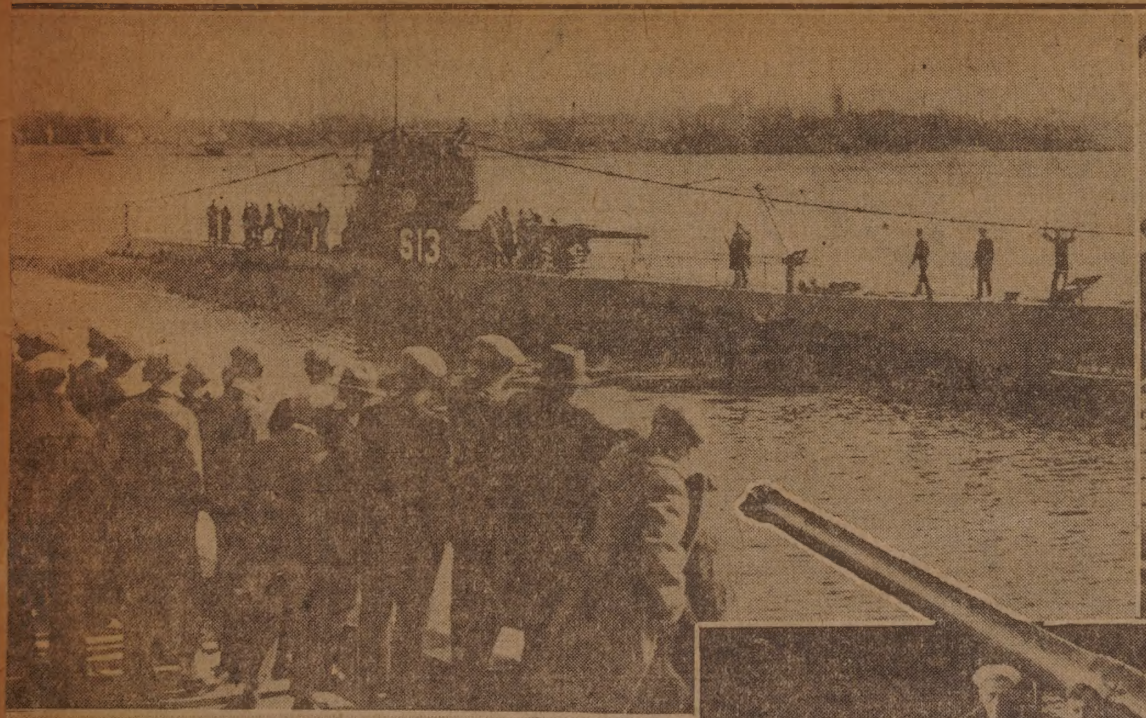
Picturesque North End Figure Succumbs to Pneumonia

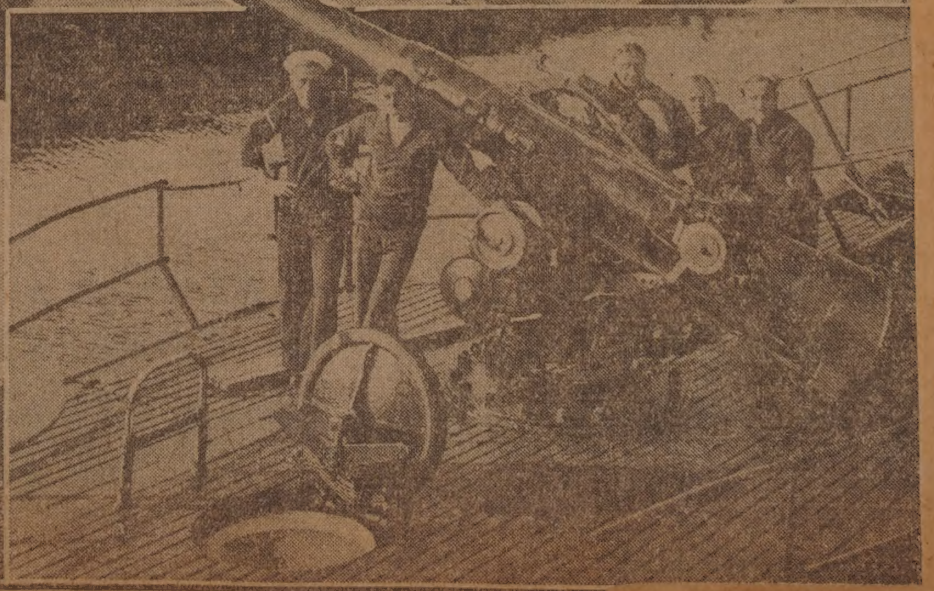
Patrick O'Leary died at 10:30 this morning at his home, 121 Deane street. He had been ill but a few days with bronchial pneumonia. He was 78.

For years Mr. O'Leary, a retired liquor and real estate dealer, was a picturesque figure in the North End. He was better known as P. O'Leary.

VISITING SUB TAKES MAYOR ON CRUISE

Oct 28-25





Here for Navy Day

The S-13 taking Mayor Hathaway and city officials on a trip down the bay yesterday, the Mayor going aboard, a sub gun crew, and Lieutenant T. E. McClellan, commander of the S-10 with Lieut.-Commander E. P. Thomas, commander of the S-13.

NEW BEDFORD FISHING INDUSTRY THRIVES AGAIN

Oct 4-25

Though Whaling Has Been Forsaken for Mills, Metropolitan Appetite for Mackerel and Flounder Brings Steadily Increasing Business for Boats out from This Port fishermen dressing the catch

John Troth taking o in the Ivanhoe of oil for a trip

Nantucket

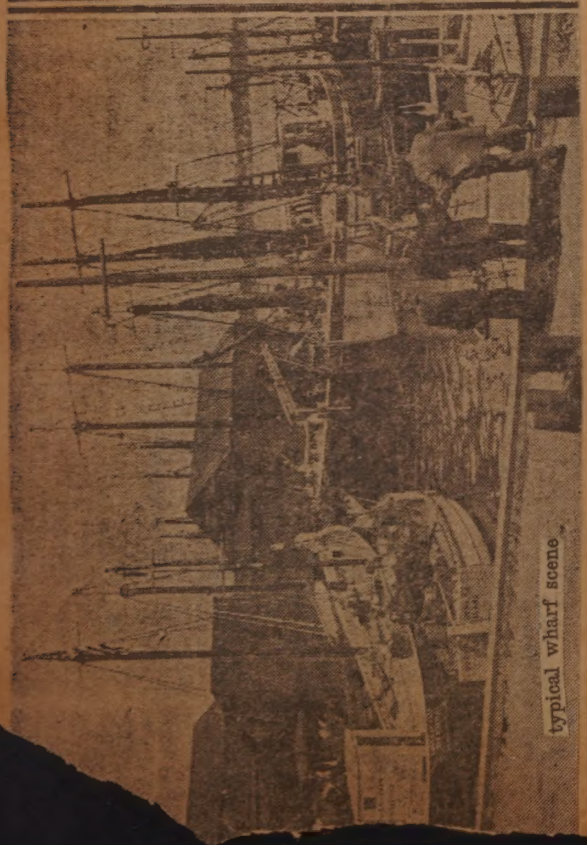
John Cody and Thomas MacDonald on the Martha E. Murley.

repairing a line

(left), Thomas Murray (center), and Mate Alphonus Malloy (right) in the Mary.

Ronal Foley, Bill Sparrow and John Dorn of the Mary T. Ruth.

Captain John J. Sater.



typical wharf scene.

How Early Morning Fire Worked Ruin

Destruction caused by night blaze in Fairhaven is revealed here. No. 1, ruins of Fairhaven Water Works office; No. 2, Casey boat yard office; No. 3, Fred Colwell's sloop which escaped damage; No. 4, Major Casey's yawl Ruma; No. 5, Roger T. Fay's power boat; No. 6, Charles Le Blanc's Honored slightly damaged; No. 7, Frederick Lorraine's Wait-a-Bit; No. 8, Jackson sloop Palomine; No. 9, Rufus Soule 3d's sloop Balaena; No. 10, charred hulk as yet unidentified.

OLD VINEYARD HOME IS DESTROYED

Aug 18-25

Prey to Flames

Hollyholm, Chilmark, Martha's Vineyard home of George D. Eustis which was burned down early yesterday

Oct. 24 1925

LAY CORNERSTONE OF NORTH FAIRHAVEN CHURCH

Dec-7-25

Secretary of State Cook Speaks at Ceremony

In the group on the platform are (lect to right) the Rev. C. R. S. Pike, Selectmen Thomas W. Whitefield, and John I. Bryant, Frederick W. Cook, secretary of state, the Rev. John M. Groton, the Rev. F. Taylor Weil, the Rev. Linden H. White.

BIG BASS DISAPPEAR WITH PASQUE ISLE CLUB

Huge Catches Made Waters a Paradise for Fishermen, but Number of Anglers Decreased as Fishing Declined and Now James Crosby Brown Is Sole Possessor of Land

Oct. 18, 1925.

C. C. JENNEY, 75, DIES OF SHOCK

2-27-1927

Morse Twist Drill Employe Succumbs to Seven Months' Illness---Was Active Church Member

Charles C. Jenney, 75, for 46 years an employe of the Morse Twist Drill and Machine company, died yesterday at his home, 8 Rounds street, following a long illness. He suffered a shock last February and had been in ill-health since.

Mr. Jenney was born in Middleboro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Jenney. After his marriage to Miss Annetta F. Vaughan at Middleboro on Feb. 12, 1873, he made his home in Taunton for seven years, where he worked in the Mason Machine company.

CHARLES C. JENNEY.

He then came to New Bedford and soon after became employed at the Morse Twist Drill plant, remaining here since. Mr. and Mrs. Jenney celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1923.

Mr. Jenney was an active member of the Allen street M. E. church and was a member of the official board of the church for many years. He also belonged to the New England Order of Protection.

Besides his widow, Mr. Jenney is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Charles A. Sampson, Mrs. Percy L. Kent and Miss Lila P. Jenney, this city; Mrs. Louis J. Gillespie, West Somerville, and Mrs. Harry Smith, West Dennis; and a brother, William B. Jenney, New Bedford.

Anglers used to catch huge fish off Pasque Island when their club was in existence. The land is now private property.

—Photo by Kororek.

MISS ELIZABETH HOUTH, New Bedford, as a Quaker maid. Feb. 7, 1926

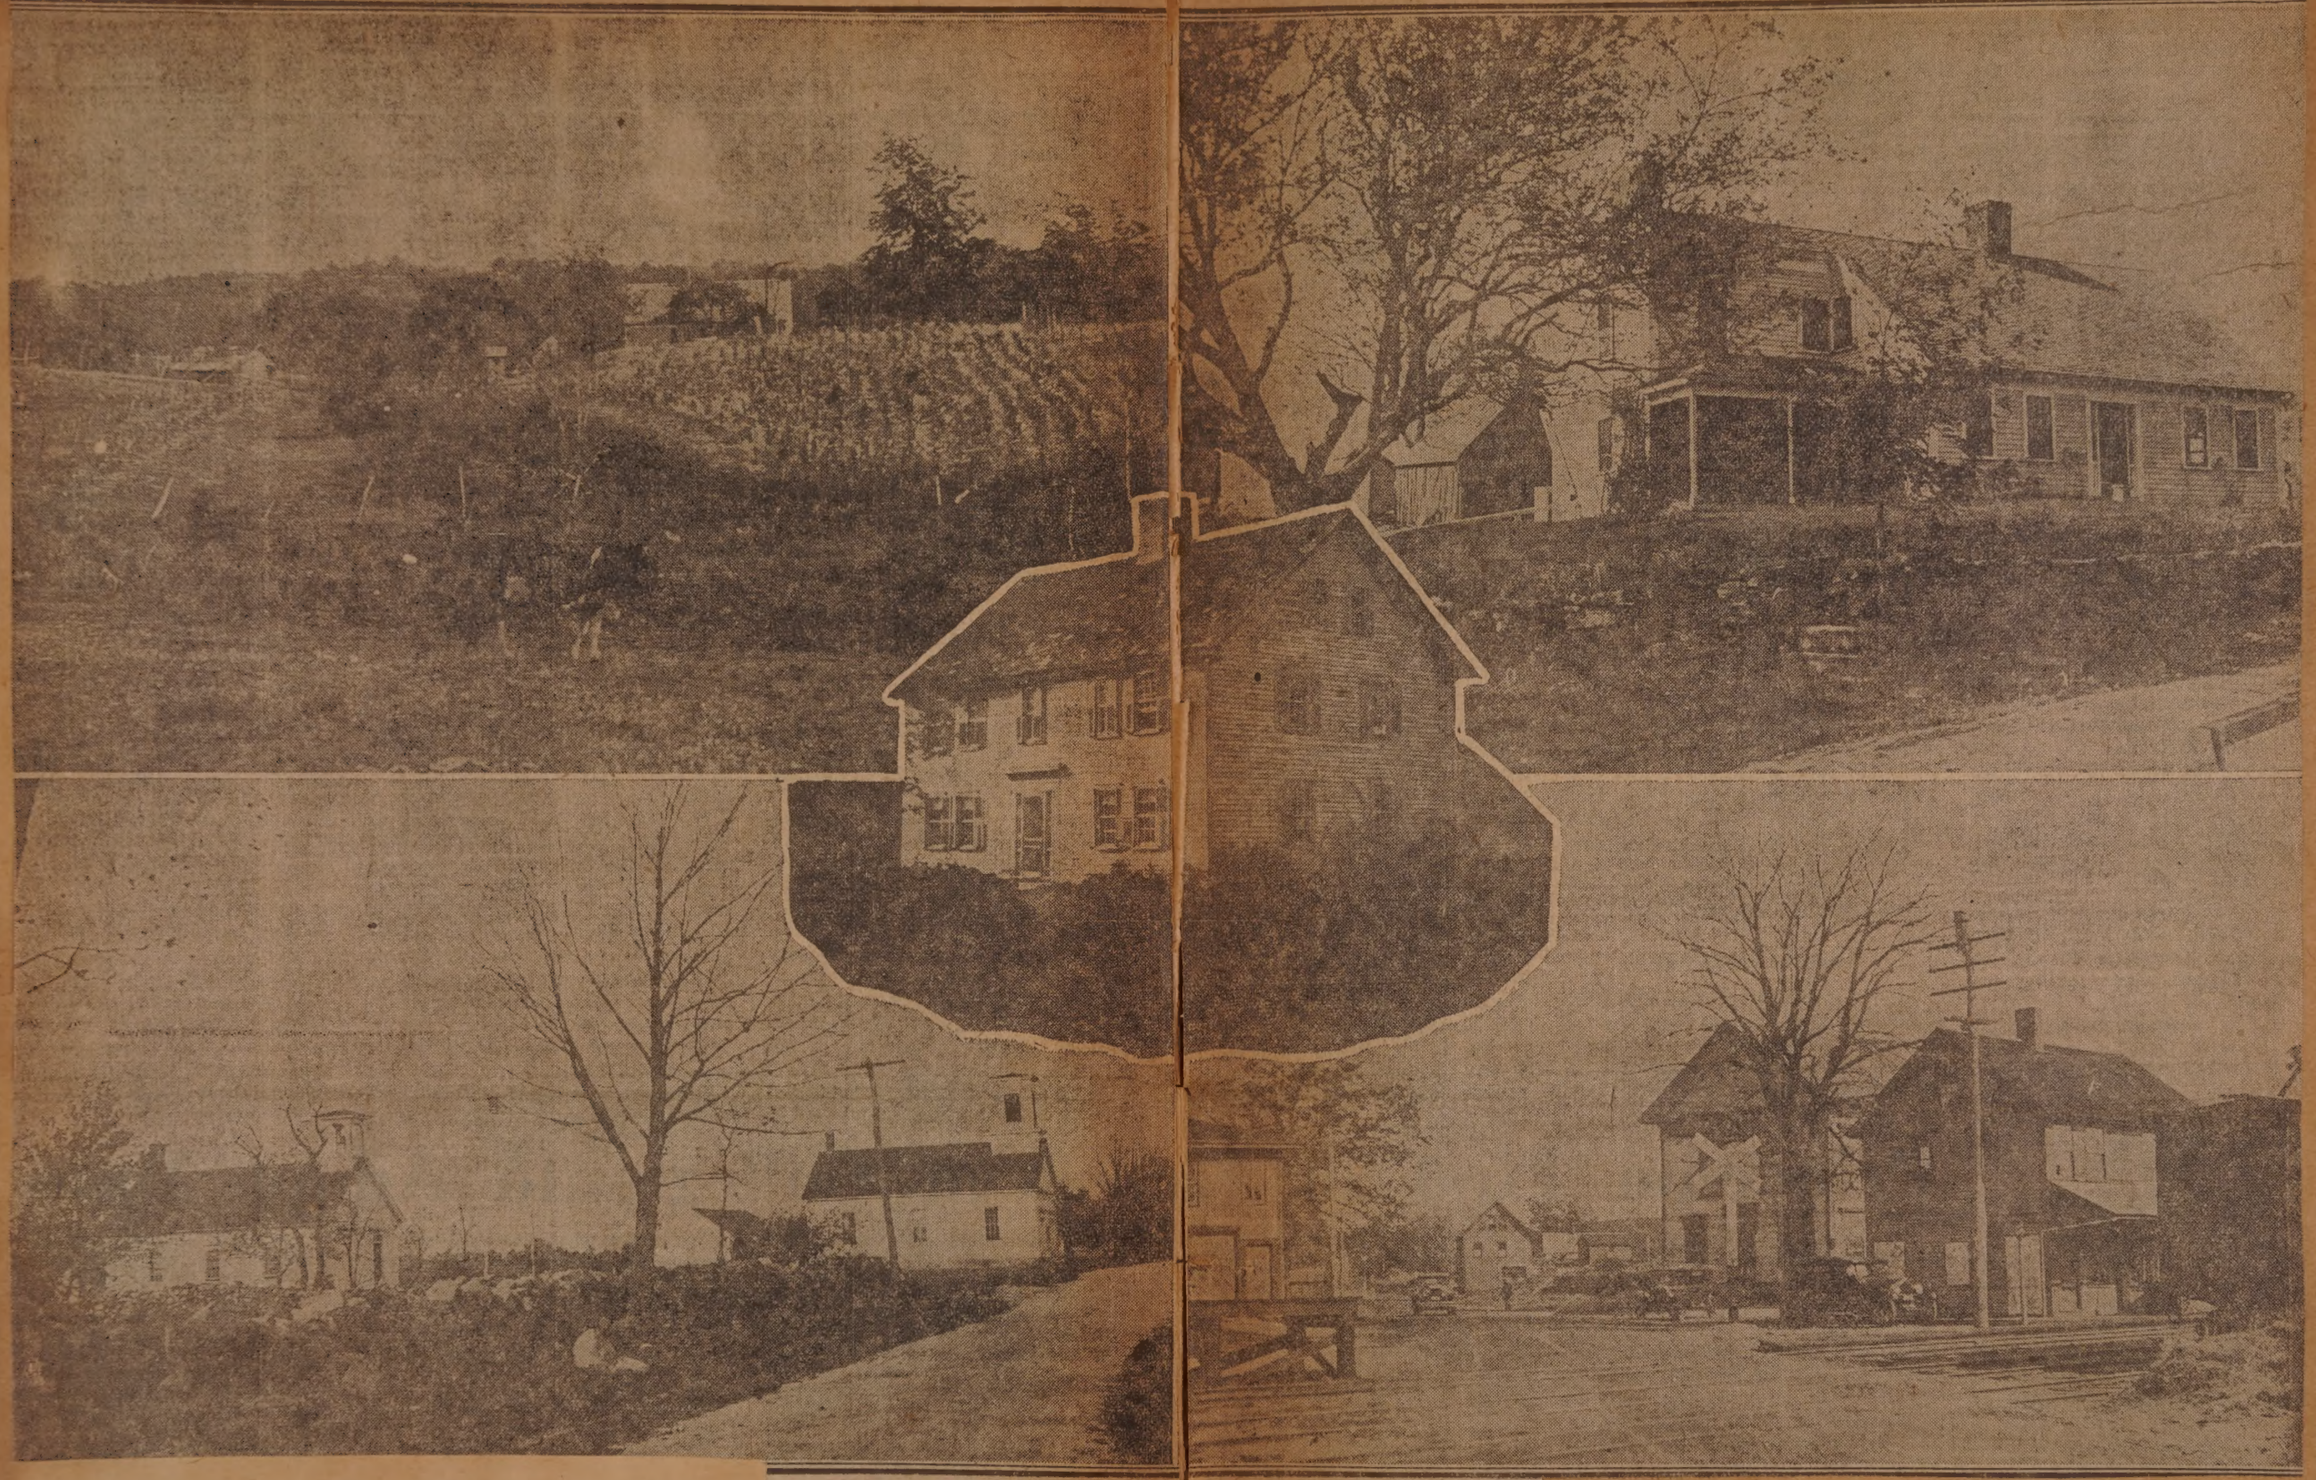
A SUNDAY SCHOOL ON WEEK DAYS—Members of the North Christian Church junior group on week days do work which has not been done in the Sunday School. Handwork comprises the greater part of the outside study. In this group, from left to right, are Elizabeth Gurney, Margaret Borden, Jessie Beauchaine, Loisette Anderson, Charity Gurney, Wentworth McAuliffe, Herbert M. Wainer, Jr., Mrs. Jessie R. Gurney, superintendent of the junior department of the church school, Rodney Morse, Isabelle Pearson, Virginia Hirst, Grace Bradshaw, Mrs. George Crooks, teacher, and Eleanor Delano.

Feb. 7, 1926.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. B. Remington Choose Picturesque Site in Beautiful Moosup Valley for Their New Home--Old Official Cares Are Buried in Pleasantness of Country

65

Oct. 25, 1925.



Photograph at upper left shows fields and pasture surrounding the new home of former Mayor Walter H. B. Remington and Mrs. Remington, with Bessie, their pet cow, in the foreground. Upper right shows the house at Rice City now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Remington. At the lower left a picture of the Christian Church and schoolhouse at Rice City. The picture at the lower right shows a general view of Greene, adjacent to Rice City, which is railroad and post office center. The old Rice City Tavern is in the insert. It was a halfway point between New York and Boston for colonial travelers.

GRACE CHURCH TO GET HASKINS HOME AS MEMORIAL GIFT

Dec 1-25

Left to Grace Church

The Haskins house, looking north on County street toward the Church.

The will of Miss Mattie A. Haskins, this city, has been filed in the Probate Court at Taunton.

The testatrix gives her residence at County and School streets, 416 County street, to Grace Church as a memorial to her late nephew, Richard Haskins Nichols. She also gives to Grace Church the sum of $7000, to be held as a permanent fund, the income to be used for the payment of taxes and repairs upon the house.

GETS NEW POST

DEC-27-25

Man Who Built Up Fairhaven Library System Leaving

Galen L. Hill, who has resigned from the Millicent Library, Fairhaven, to take charge of the library system in Quincy, increased the book volume of the Fairhaven library more than 100 per cent. the 15 years that he was in the branch library at Oxalso established. Mr. Hill even to assume his new the first of February.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

Charles F. Broughton,
Treasurer of Wamsutta Mills, who heads American Casablanca Corp.

Mar. 25, 1926.

DR. F. H. PARKER, 14 YEARS HEAD OF PENIKESE LEPER COLONY, DIES

70-Year-Old Physician Succumbs to Whooping Cough in Montana—Contracted Disease While Battling Epidemic—Sacrificed Much to Aid Afflicted

Jan 11-26

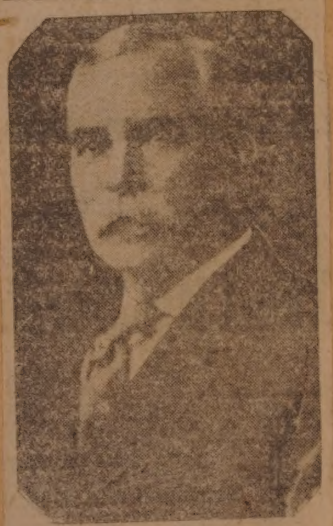
Dr. Frank H. Parker, 70, formerly of Malden, widely known in New England for his 14 years of devoted service as superintendent of the leper colony maintained on the island of Penikese until 1921, died Saturday in Hamilton, Mont., a victim of whooping cough contracted in battling an epidemic.

Dr. Parker died at the home of his son, Dr. Ralph Parker, state entomologist of Montana. With him was his wife, Mrs. Marion King Parker, who shared his labors at Penikese. Mrs. Parker is a sister of Edwin R. King of New Bedford.

Shortly after the Penikese lepers were transferred to a federal leprosarium in Louisiana and the colony was abolished, Dr. Parker went West seeking relief from a heart affection. He had improved, but his heart could not stand the strain imposed by the whooping cough to which he exposed himself in his professional zeal.

Indignation.

When the Penikese colony was closed, much indignation was aroused throughout Massachusetts by the failure of the Legislature to provide any retirement compensation for Dr.



Dr. Frank H. Parker.

Parker in recognition of the sacrifices he had made as superintendent. He had received a salary of $2500 annually for his services, out of which he often paid sums to supplement the meager state allowance for the care of his afflicted charges. Legislators held that no pension or other compensation could be paid him, since he had not yet reached the retirement age of 70, at which a small annuity would have become payable. He had taken three weeks vacation in all the years he spent on the island.

ACCEPTS POST RANKING HIGH IN TEXTILES

Dec 12-25

Is Elected Treasurer of Tremont and Suffolk Corporation

PLANS TO STAY AS RESIDENT OF CITY

No Successor Selected for His Position in Firm Here

Fred W. Steele yesterday announced that he has resigned as agent and treasurer of the Booth Mill, effective Jan. 1. He has held the two offices since 1917.

Will Live in New Bedford.

Mr. Steele was yesterday elected treasurer of the Tremont and Suffolk Mills, Lowell, a post which ranks as one of the most important in the New England textile industry. His office will be at 70 Kilby street.

LEADERS OF ORGANIZED STATE EMPLOYES

Dec 13-25

Head Southeastern Unit

Officers of the district organization of the new association of state employes called the Commonwealth Service Association. In the pictures are:

Miss Josephine N. Cygan, treasurer (upper left). Miss Cygan is in the New Bedford bureau of immigration.

Miss Ida E. Livesey, secretary (upper right). Miss Livesey is in the New Bedford registry of motor vehicles.

James O'Neil, president (lower left), is an official of the Taunton asylum.

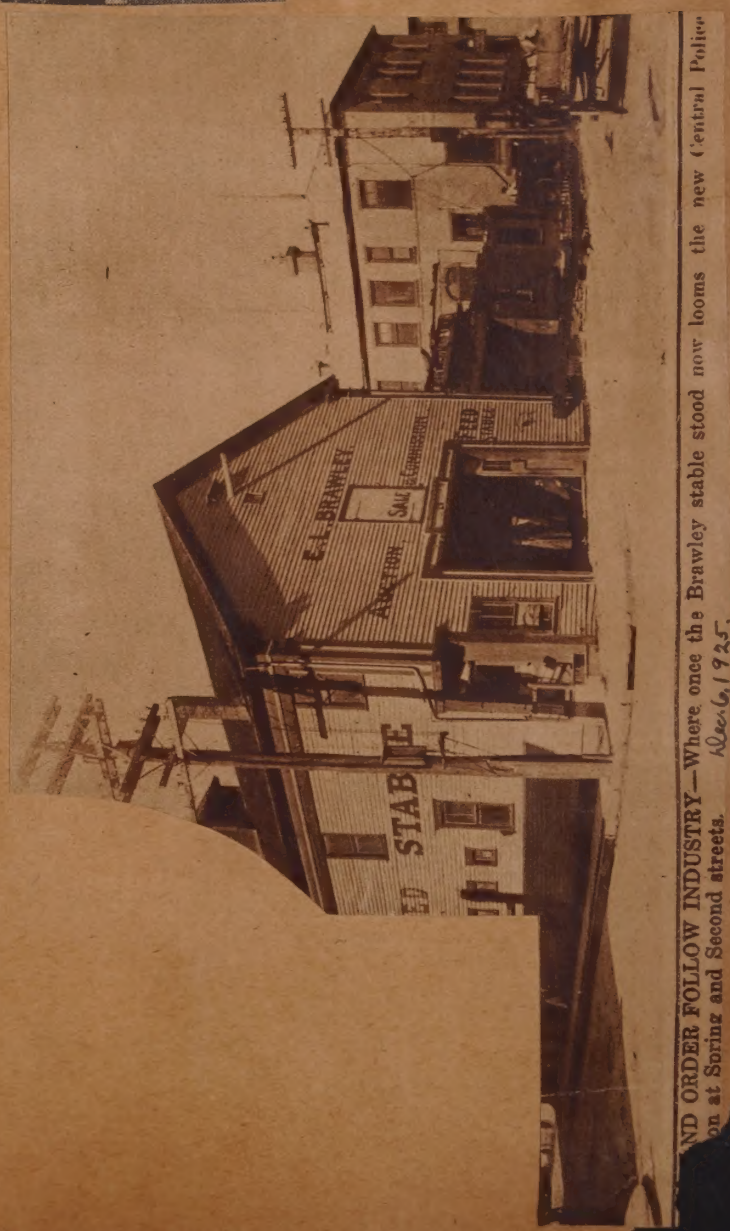
William Acomb (lower right), vice president, is a New Bedford Textile School teacher.

Fred W. Steele.

Boston, headquarters of the firm, and he will divide his time between Lowell, Boston and New York.

Mr. Steele plans to remain a resident of New Bedford.

The Tremont and Suffolk Mills, manufacturing flannels, blankets and yarns, are capitalized at $2,000,000. Their equipment includes 41,000 mule and 189,000 ring spindles, 2,000 wool spindles, 6400 looms, six sets of wool cards, 50 knitting machines, and 125 sewing machines. The plant dyes, bleaches and finishes. Its average cotton consumption is 90,000 pounds per week.



ND ORDER FOLLOW INDUSTRY—Where once the Brawley stable stood now looms the new Central Police on at Spring and Second streets. Dec 6, 1925.

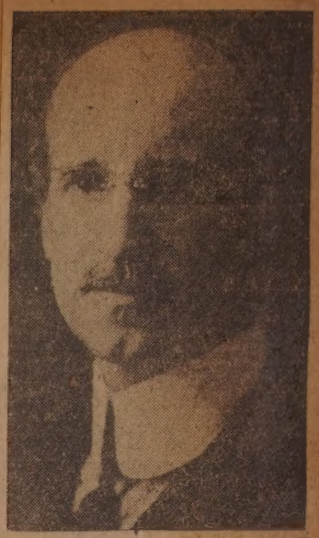
TURKS CLASH WITH CHRISTIANS—Clifford W. Ashley painted "The Battle of Lepanto", a pictorial description of a naval engagement in 1571 between the League of Christian Nations under Don John of Austria, 22 years of age, and the Turks, for the library of A. Felix du Pont, Wilmington, Del. Sept. 27, 1925.

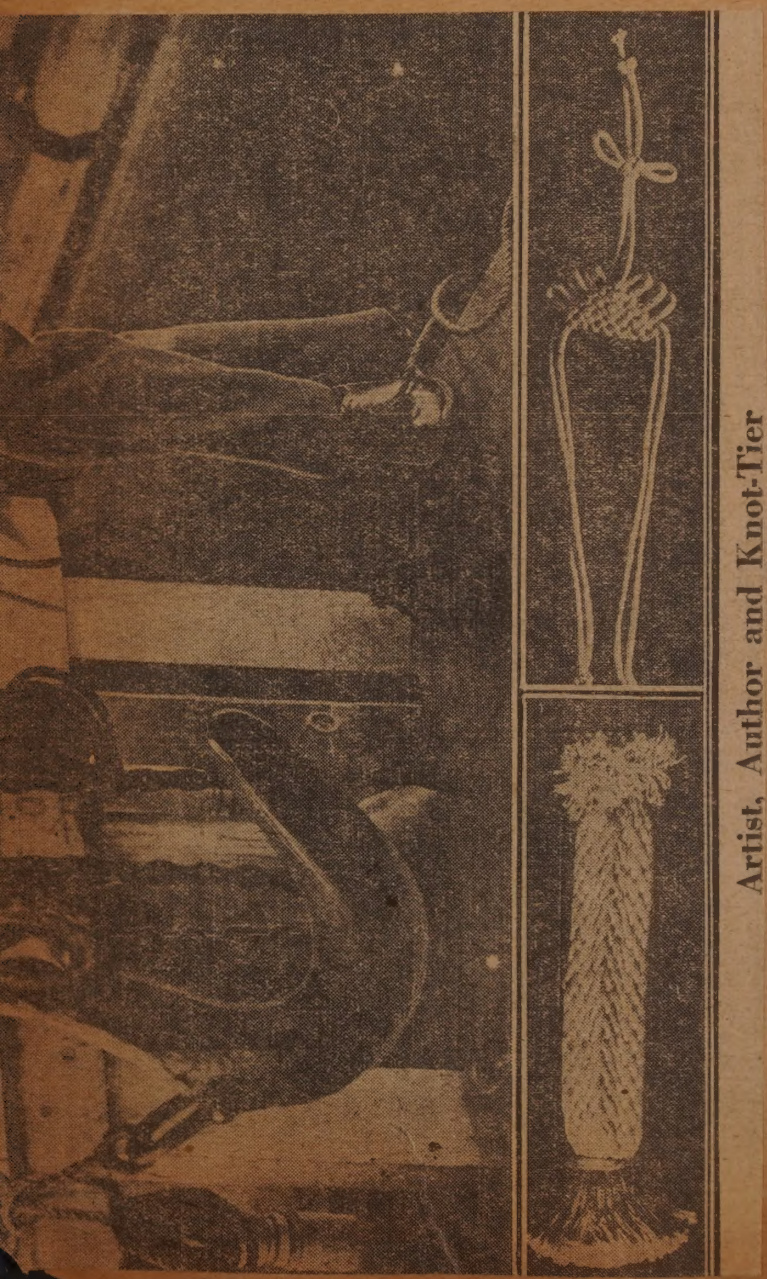
Ashley Turns from His Painting to Tie Ropes and Prepare a Book on Various Twists Nov. 1, 1925.

—P. and A. Photo.

MAROONED—Sixty-eight blackfish were stranded on the beach at East Brewster, Mass., when caught in shallow water. Sept. 27, 1925.



Dr. Edwin E. Browning. Dec. 24, 1925.



Artist, Author and Knot-Tier

NEW HEAD OF BOOTH MILL Jan 8. 26

Frank I. Neild

BOOK CHARACTERS COME TO L E IN BOOK WEEK PAGEANT

Nov 8-25

Did You Gue Them Correctly?

Young folks at The State show yesterda orning guessed what characters from books were im- personated by these merrily costumed membe of Mrs. Clare Woodruff's dancing class. Here they are identified:

Left to right, top, Peter Rabbit with Al in Wonderland, Bernice Caswell and Marion Heald; Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn, Harvey C iland and John Fitzgerald; The Pied Piper and Children of Hamelin, Dorothy Brunette (the Piper), T dey Blanchard, Charlotte Chappell, Louise Spooner, Leah Johnson; Little Lord Fauntleroy, Elle Kelly; Miss Muffet and the Spider, Irene Fichtenmayer and Lillian Baillargeon.

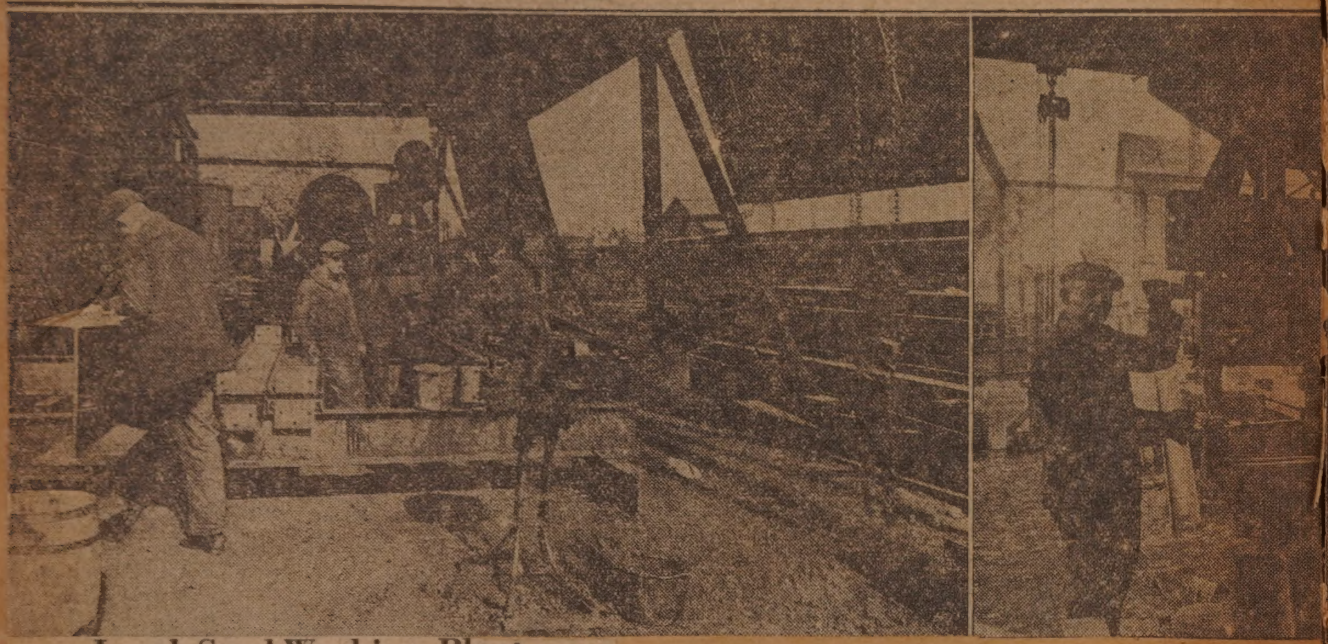
Second row, Peter Pan and Bo-Peep, Cecc Morse and Mildred Brunette; Cinderella, Eleanor Cas- well; Little Women, Meg, Jo, Beth, and Amy, orence Tripp, Dorothy Gomes, Catherine O'Rourke, Phyllis Forth; Daffydowndilly, Dorothy Roch ; Robin Hood, Maid Marian, and Aladdin, Alba Cia- burri, Henrietta Redfern, Doris Wells.

Below, Mother Goose, Anna Vera; Kit a Kat, Charlotte Gobell and Rosamond Gifford.

Characters not pictured were Robinson C e, Edward Fitzgerald; The Prince (from Cinderella), Elsie Brindle; Child of Hamelin (The Piper) nette Quintin.

Mrs. Sumner H. Remick was prominent in health work when she was a member of the Woman's Club in New Bedford and she still retains her interest in the promotion of longevity. Her husband, who was head of Sassaquin Sanitarium, is now chief of the Division of Tuberculosis, State Department of Public Health. —Photo By Davis & Sanford Dec. 6, 1925.

WHERE MASSIVE STEEL BEAMS UNDERGO

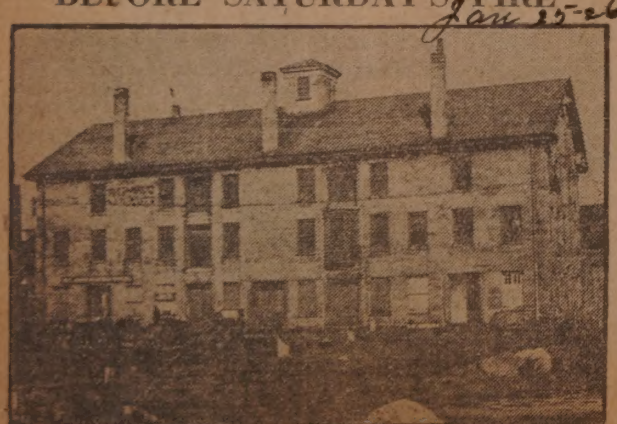


Local Steel-Working Plant

The photograph at the upper right is a general view of the plant of the U. S. Machinery Company and shows the caterpillar crane, the stock piles, and the shed where fabrication goes on; upper left shows the oxy-acetylene cutting process; the lower right is a view of the Pels combination punch and shears showing the jaws where the holes are punched while angle iron cutting goes on in the center; a few of the fabricated steel beams ready for the painting are seen at the lower right, and likewise in the foreground the blower where the rivets are heated.

BEFORE SATURDAY'S FIRE

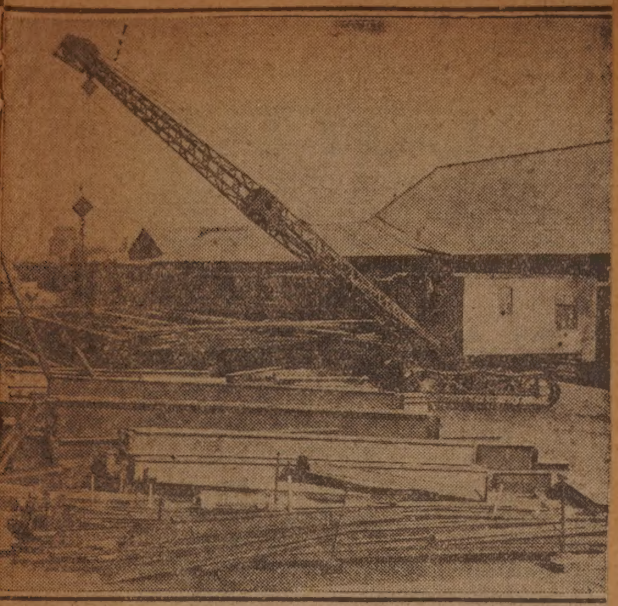
Jan 25-26



The Merrill Block

KNIGHTS OF THE RAIROAD.—Here's the crew, where's your ticket? On the Fairhaven branch of the New York, New Haven & Hartford this group travels daily. From left to right, in the front row, are Frank Sherman, engineer; Herbert E. Tripp, fireman; rear row, Fred G. Packard, brakeman; Frank Gault, flagman; John G. Daggett, conductor.

Nov 1-25

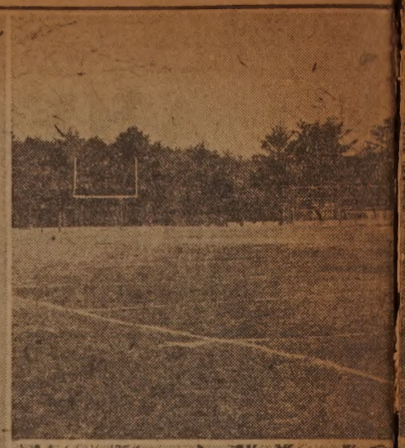


SOUTH STUDIES MILLS—Prominent Southern manufacturers visited the Taber Mill while on a visit to New Bedford and this section. Nov. 8, 1925.

MILL EMPLOYES OUTDO ALEXANDER'S RAGTIME—After four years of existence, the Whitman Mill band now includes 30 pieces. It plays concerts twice a week at the mill. Max Erlbeck, second from left in rear row, organized it, and Romeo Bonimelli, fourth from the right in the front row, is leader. Nov. 8, 1925.

GLIMPSES OF SCHOOL WHICH KEEPS ON LAND AND WATER

Nov 15-26



At Tabor Academy

The 90-foot schooner Tabor Boy which accommodates 25 boys and four officers; a glimpse of the campus; and two of the school buildings.

WOODEN DEER SURVIVES HUNTERS — Only wooden bullets could bring down the rover of the wilds, an antlered-deer made by George L. Tripp, Westport Harbor road, Westport, during the long evenings of last Winter from pieces of deadwood gathered on his farm. The black kitten on the deer's back is a pet of the Tripp family.

Nov 16 1925.

Sept. 20, 1925.

—Jack Frasier

VIEWS OF OLD NEW BEDFORD

The Standard will be glad to publish in this section, other pictures of olden days.

F.A.SOWLE MOULDINGS CUTTERS &c.
BUILDERS HEADQUARTERS F.A.SOWLE
MANUFACTURER BUILDERS' MATERIAL
No 5 & 10 ELM ST.
SOWLE'S STEAM MILL. WINDOW FRAMES, MOULDINGS, TURNING, SCROLL-SAWING

HOW TIMES DOES FLY—This photograph shows a center of industry years ago. The door, sash and blind factory of F. A. Sowle, at Elm and Bethel streets, was destroyed by a spectacular fire in 1884. In the picture are shown the factory previous to the blaze and a display which received first prize of $75 in a Fourth of July trades parade. Photo Furnished by Nat. P. Sowle, 103 Summer Street. Nov 16 1925.

TAKES A TIP FROM DAVID BELASCO—"Bob" Wade, 220 North street, figures that scenic art needs new blood, so what does he do but construct some sets himself. Here are two of his models for dramatic productions, the upper one for use by Les Masques who will dramatize one of Achmed Abdullah's stories, and the lower one for an imaginative Oriental play. He is a member of the New Bedford High School Dramatic Club. Photo by H. J. Harper Oct. 25, 1925.

A BIT OF THE PRIMITIVE—This part of Lake Quittacus shore looks as if it were far from civilization. Nov. 1, 1925.

Jan. 6 Thomas A. Morrison, 1926.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ROAR
Loud shouts greeted the New Bedford High School eleven as it took the field against Attleboro High in the opening game of the season at Sargent Field. Oct. 15 1925

Photo by Lester I. Jenkins

AND JACK CAME TUMBLING DOWN—A weathervane in a Padanaram garden portrays Jack and Jill with the gentleman performing his celebrated collapse.
Nov. 1. 1925

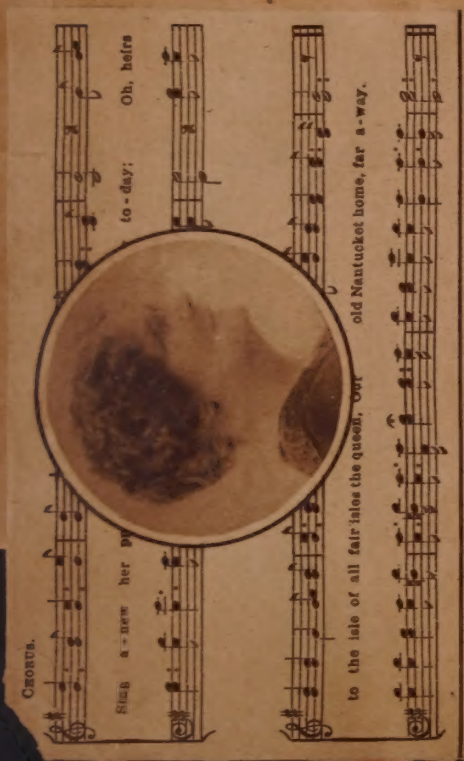
Oct. 11, 1925.

Photo by H. J. Harper

THE HANGING COMMITTEE CONFERS—H. Rodman Booth, P. Bert Taylor, and J. Arnold Wright, from left to right, are discussing the hanging of pictures, not the art of the noose.

—Photo by Oki Seizo.

WHAT WEDDING GUESTS MISSSED —Mrs. Alan Gillespie Rinehart was still Miss Gratia Buell Houghton during the scramble of photographers. Note Oki Seizo arranging the bride's train. The scene is the garden aisle at "The Meadows," South Dartmouth, where the wedding reception was held; the time, a half hour before the ceremony Sept. 19. Oct. 11, 1925.



A NANTUCKET HYMN—Mrs. Lilian C. Bridgham of Waverly wrote the words of "Our Old Nantucket Home Far Away" to the music of Foster's famous song "My Old Kentucky Home. Oct. 27, 1925

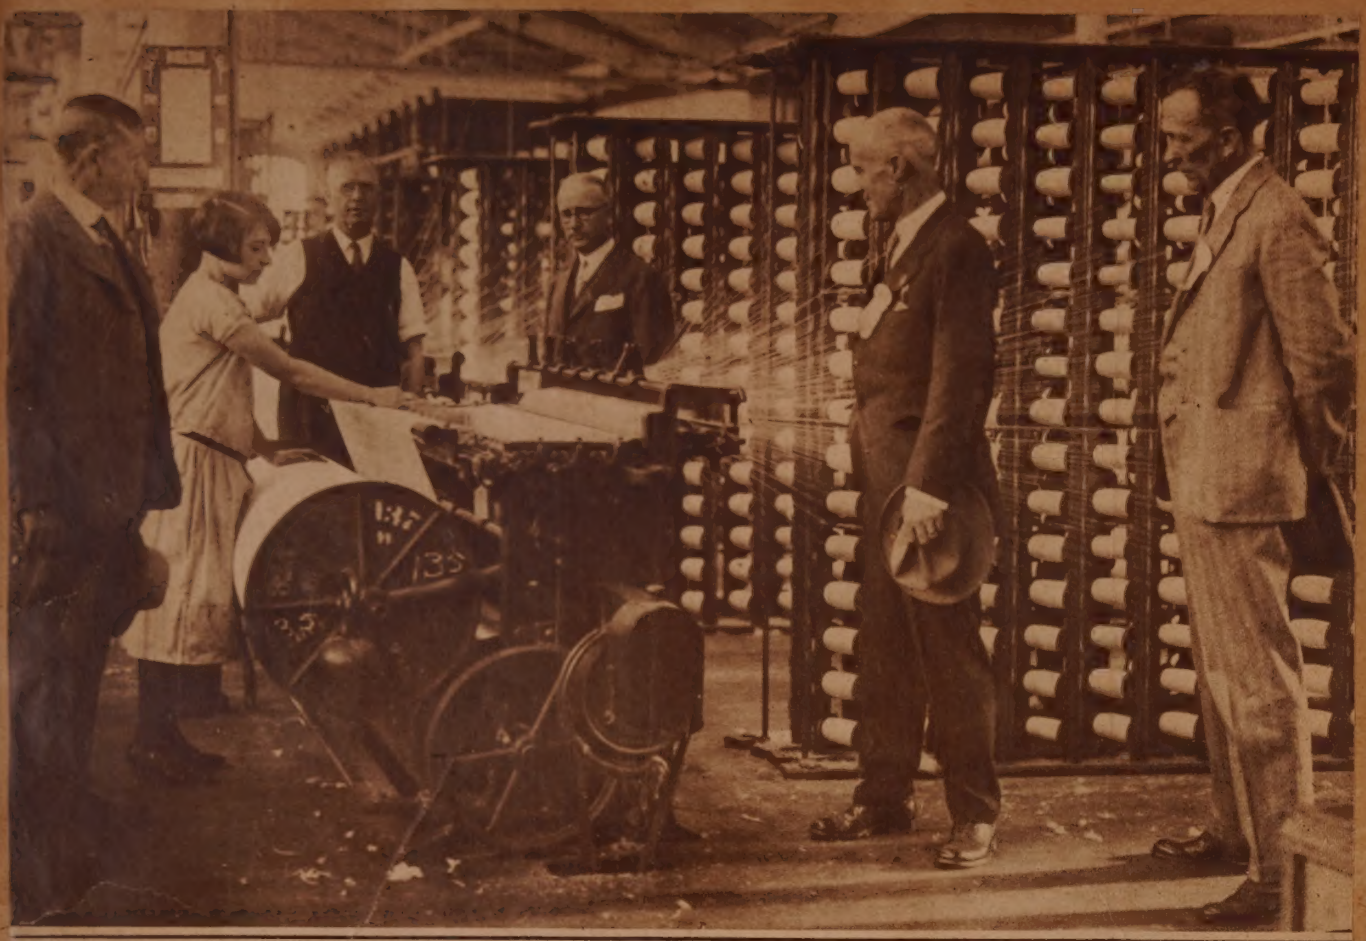
Nov. 15, 1925. —Photo by Lewis-Smith Chicago.

THE BRIDE OF DR. CURTIS C. TRIPP — Mrs. Tripp was Miss Gwladys Mitchell Ruffin, Chicago, and her marriage to Dr. Tripp, of this city, took place at her home.

THEY DISPEL RAIN—Members of the New Bedford Assembly of Rainbow Girls have the right to drive away the raindrops. They are, front row, left to right, Dorothy Kuechler, Faith, Millicent Smith, Charity, Mary E. Blair, Worthy Adviser, Mrs. Mary M. Blair, Mother Advisor, and Helen N. Soule, Hope. Second row, left to right, Esther R. Carroll, Evelyn Crossland, Doris P. Smith, Isabel Bealey, Ruth Hunt, Jeanette Gardner, Marion Leighton and Elizabeth C. Parsons. Third row, left to right, Barbara A. Clarke, Dorothy Holbrook, Barbara Cook, Marjorie Ames and Ruth E. Bedford.

Photo by National Studio

—Miss Mary Gwozdz is stenographer for Mayor Edward R. Hathaway and City Solicitor William M. Conroy.



WATCHING NORTHERN MILL METHODS—Manufacturers of the South showed a keen interest in machinery at the Taber Mill during their visit here. Those gathered around a winding machine are, from left to right, C. F. Harvey, president of L. Harvey & Son Company, Kinston, N. C.; Virginia Mello, operator; John H. Boyle, finishing foreman; G. Scott Parrish, president of Richmond Chamber of Commerce; C. O'Conor Goldrick, free lance of the Star Publishing Company, Fredericksburg, Va.; H. G. Buchanan, Richmond, associate counsel, Norfolk and Western Railway Company. Nov. 8, 1925.

THEY'VE GOT YOUR NUMBER.—Telephone girls drop into the lunchroom of their working quarters to find sustenance in tea after a strenuous "hello" session.
Nov. 15, 1925.

BANDMAN DEAD
Dec-30-25

James Taylor

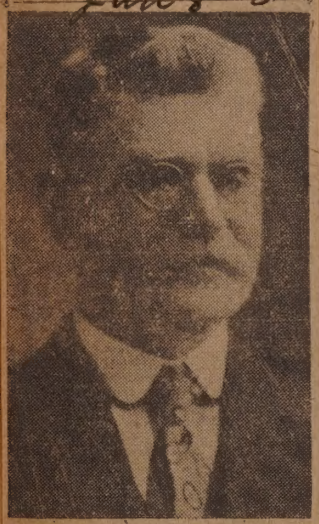
HILL'S BAND SURVIVOR DIES

James Taylor Taken by Death in His 89th Year

Last Member of Famous Brass Horn Body Was Broomfixer Here

WHAT CHANCE HAS A CLAY PIGEON?—Marksmen look as if they had a successful day at the weekly shoot of the New Bedford Fish and Game Club. They are, seated, left to right, Philip Letendre, Elsie Weihl, A. Menard; standing, Allen Wordell, Barbara Weihl, Jacob Weihl, E. F. Besse, C. T. Gifford, and Frank Borden. Nov. 22, 1925.

WATCHMAN DIES
Jan 8-26



William Reynolds Employed at Wamsutta Mill 54 Years

William Reynolds, 80, an employe of the Wamsutta mill for 54 years and until two months ago a watchman there, died yesterday morning at 4:30 in the Pine Lawn Sanitarium from hardening of the arteries. He was one of the oldest men in point of service at the mill and at the termination of 50 years of service was presented with a gold watch by his employes. He had recently been retired on a pension but went back to work there in the capacity of a watchman.

He was a resident of New Bedford for the past 60 years and one of the oldest members of the Acushnet Lodge of Odd Fellows, having been a member for 40 years. He was a widower and leaves four children, Mrs. Mary Woolfenden, New Bedford, Mrs. Jennette Mason, Acushnet; William Reynolds, Jr., Providence and George H. Reynolds, New Bedford, besides four grandchildren.

SHOULD AULD ACQUAINTANCE BE FORGOT?—It should not, answers Zephaniah W Pease, editor of The Morning Mercury, as he renews friendship with Colonel W. S. Copeland, Newport News, Va., whom he met while traveling in the South. At the left is Junius P. Fishburn, Roanoke, Va., president of the Times-World Corporation and publisher of the Roanoke Times and World News. In the center is Mr. Pease and at the right Colonel Copeland, publisher of the Newport News Daily Press and President of the Virginia Press Association. The visitors were in a group of Southerners who inspected this section. Nov. 8, 1925.

L WED FRANK WOOD

June 10-26

Mrs. Jane G. Campbell

Frank Wood, curator of the Old Dartmouth Historical Society Museum, and Mrs. Jane G. Campbell of Utica, N. Y., will be married at noon Jan. 30 in St. Bartholomew's Chapel, New York City. No invitations are to be issued, and only a few friends will be present. Mr. Wood and his bride will leave for California immediately after the ceremony to be gone two months. They will be at home upon their return at 335 Pleasant street.

ROTARY CLUB HOLDS ELECTION

apr 22-26

Clarence H. Brownell Is Chosen President of Organization

Clarence H. Brownell.

AFTER THE CEREMONY —Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Barret, with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vera, their attendants, leave the Church of St. John the Baptist after the marriage rites are performed. The bride was Miss Florence Vera, brother of Mr. Vera. Oct 4, 1925

THE BRIDE RIDES AWAY —Mrs. Oscar U. Dionne smiled a farewell to friends pouring out from St. James's Catholic Church. She was Miss Mary Marguerite Adams.

Nov. 15, 1925.

WED TO REPRESENTATIVE—Miss Mary Marguerite Adams, 82 Swift street, became Mrs. Oscar U. Dionne when she was married to the New Bedford legislator in the General Court.

PASTOR ARRIVES

Dec 27-25

Rev. Victor Wollenwebber at Sacred Hearts Monastery

The Rev. Victor Wollenwebber, a German father of the Sacred Hearts, arrived at the Sacred Hearts monastery, Fairhaven, yesterday. He will remain there until he takes up his work as new pastor at the Church of St. Boniface, New Bedford. Father Wollenwebber arrived in New York Monday on the Zeeland from Antwerp.

Oct. 11, 1925

HIGH ABOVE THE CROSSES.—The statue of the Blessed Virgin and Child Jesus erected in St. Mary's Cemetery honors Monsignor Hugh J. Smyth, who died Feb. 4, 1921. The statue and pedestal were completed in Italy.

MRS. LIZETTA T. ASHLEY CARES FOR SICK AND AGED 35 YEARS

Dec. 27, 1925.

Head of Pine Lawn Sanitarium to Observe Anniversary on New Year's Day—

Mrs. Lizetta L. Ashley.

ON THE TOMB OF THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER. — In an impressive Armistice Day ceremony, New Bedford High School girls presented a tableau, placing wreaths on a replica of the unknown hero's grave. While taps were sounded, they knelt with heads bowed.
Nov. 29, 1925.

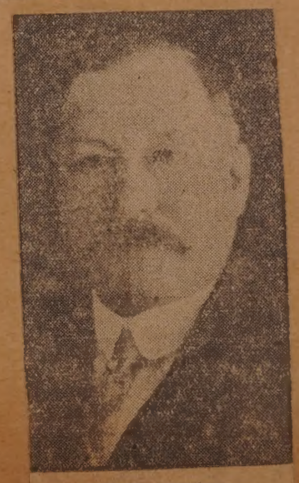
NOTHING TO DO BUT EAT—The lowing kine feed to contentment in a field at the intersection of Allen street and Tucker road. —Photo by Birdsall.
Oct. 11, 1925.

GETS A LESSON IN CITY ADMINISTRATION. — Buddy, German police dog, listened to City Messenger Cornelius J. Piper, his master, to learn a few things about the municipal government.
Nov. 29, 1925.

J. W. BANNISTER, WHOLESALE MEAT MERCHANT, IS DEAD

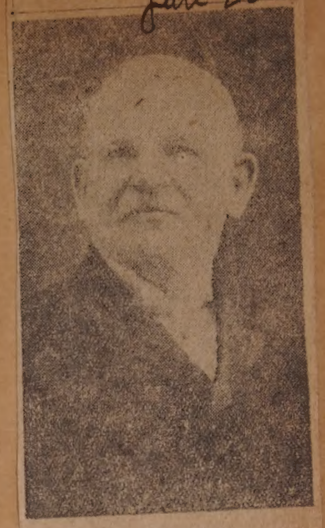
Succumbs to Heart Attack—Retained Active Control of His Business Until Monday Morning

Dec 30-25



John W. Bannister.

TAKEN BY DEATH
Jan 28-26



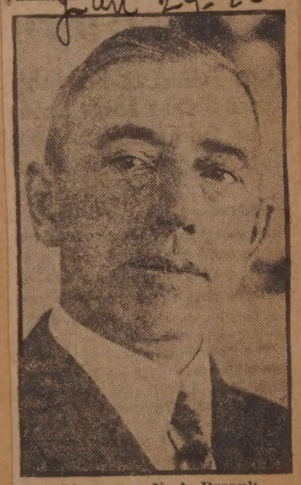
Rev. John Mason.

FORMER PASTOR HERE SUCCUMBS

Rev. John Mason Served in New Bedford for Four Years

Left Pastorate at First Primitive Methodist Church in May, 1916

VETERAN OFFICER
Jan 24-26

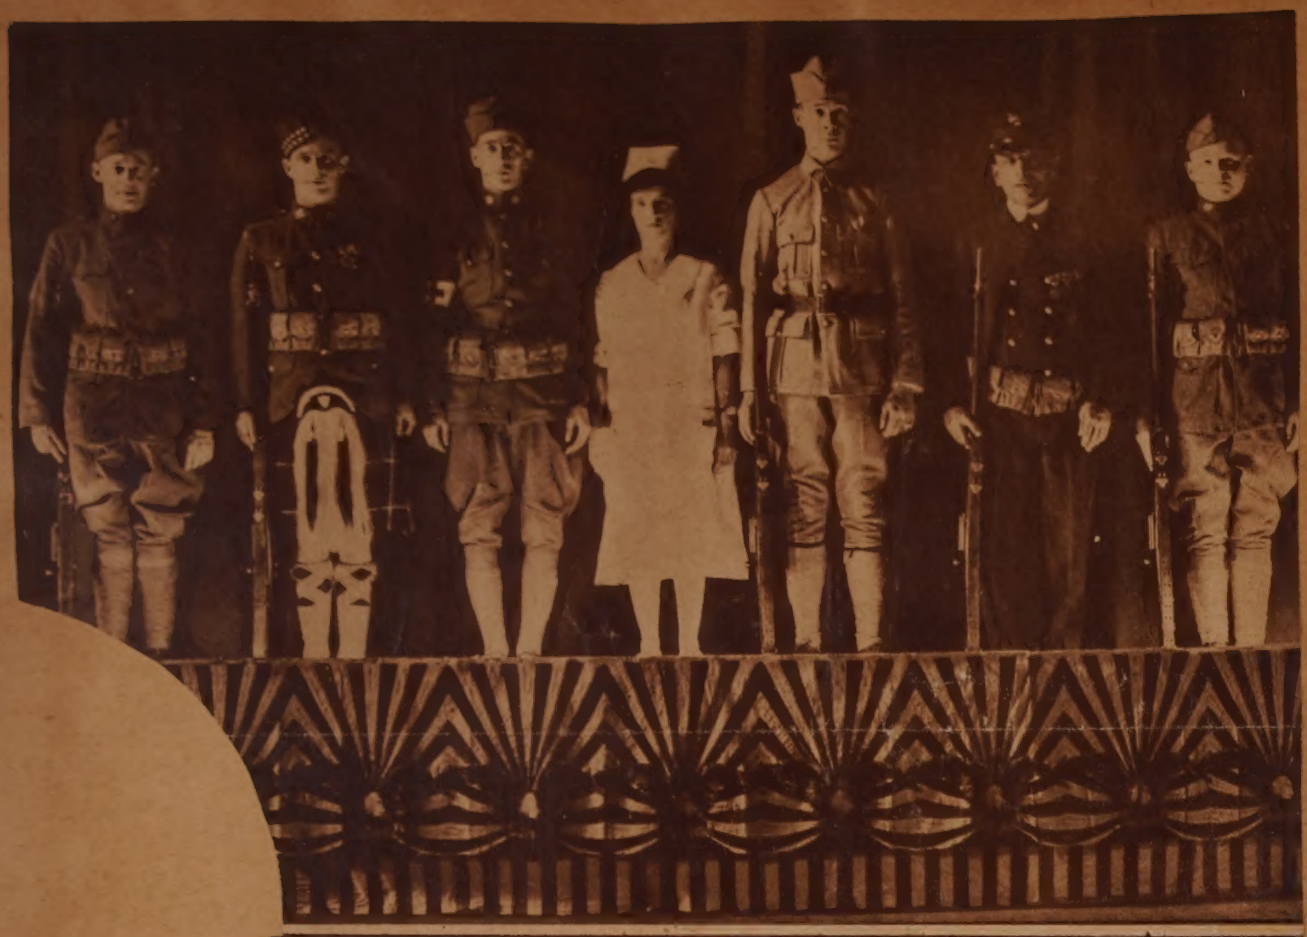


Lieutenant N. A. Breault.

ON FORCE MORE THAN 20 YEARS

Lieutenant Breault Was Member of City's First Liquor Squad

Now in Charge of Second Relief at Central Headquarters



TO HONOR THOSE "IN FLANDERS FIELDS"—Employes of the Atlas Tack Corporation, Fairhaven, observed Armistice Day with a tableau in their Recreation Hall. Those who participated were, from left to right, Harold Briggs, Robert Mathieson, Bram Pickens, Bertha Hall, P. E. Deschenes, John Baptiste, Walter Ohnesorge. The scenery was effected by Mrs. May Maxfield.

Nov. 29, 1925.

THEY ACCEPT LIGHTLY DANGERS OF THE SEA—Members of the crew of Pollock RipLightship wear carefree smiles despite their occupation which keeps them at the mercy of wind and water. They are, top row, left to right, Cezar Duarte, seaman; Thomas Estrella, cook; John J. Norton, mate, Captain Dave J. Allen, master; Roger Rich, fireman; Wilfred Blake, radio operator; William M. Fletcher, chief engineer; Middle row, Ernest George, seaman; Jose Gonsalves, seaman. Lower row, J. F. Grace, seaman; Manuel Souza, second cook; Edmond Griffin, fireman. Captain Allen was a lieutenant in the Naval Reserve Force. Dec. 20, 1925.

COLLECTING MINERAL SPECIMENS WOMAN'S HOBBY

Dec-27-25

Mrs. Olive B. Sherman and a Few Prized Specimens

Mrs. Olive B. Sherman and a few of the hundreds of mineral specimens in her collection of a lifetime. Upper left, a stalactite; center left, the mastodon's tooth; bottom left, the petrified mastodon rib; right, top to bottom, petrified herring; smoky quartz, albite and Amazon stone in one piece; petrified wood and agates with eyes; petrified crinoids and geode specimen.

PASTORS WHO WILL CONDUCT EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN HERE

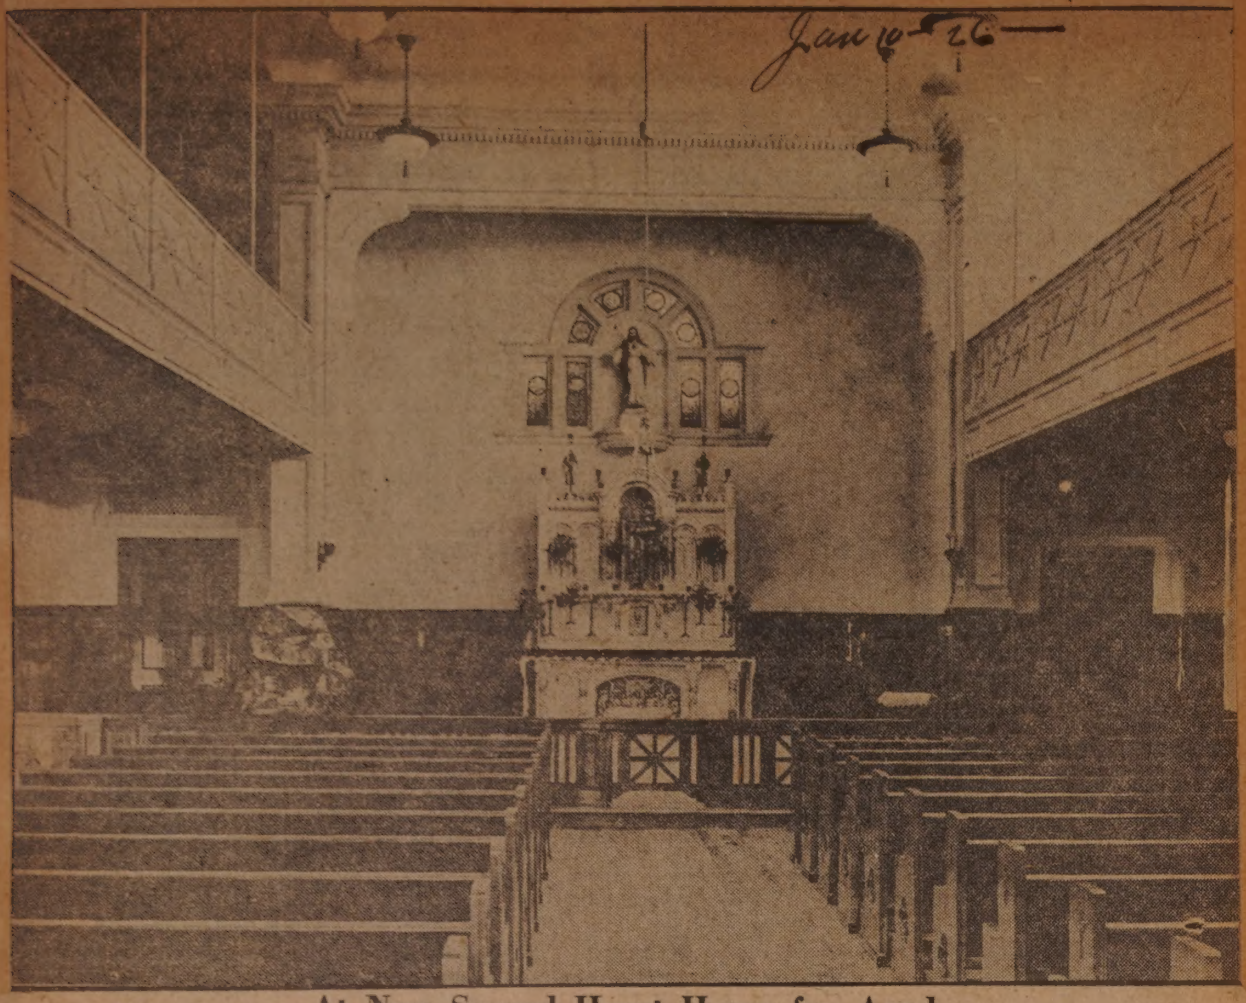
Dec-29-1925

To Use Salesmanship Methods

Standing—Revs. Roy B. Guild, F. E. Ramsdell, H. M. Hainer, Benjamin Lomax, Harold H. Critchlow. First row—Revs. R. Walter Anderson, Henry B. Williams, L. C. Harris, A. Earle Kernahan.

CHAPEL DEPICTS ROMAN CATHOLIC ARCHITECTURE

Jan 10 - 26



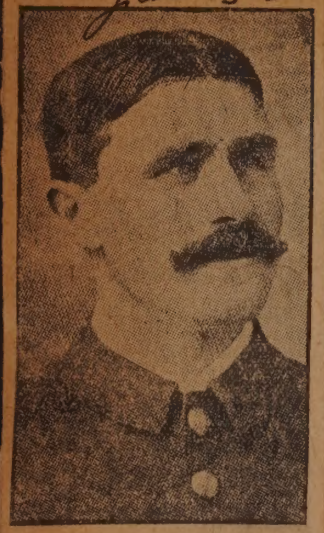
At New Sacred Heart Home for Aged

The chapel of the new Sacred Heart Home for the Aged on Summer street is an outstanding example of beautiful Roman Catholic architecture in this section. The Christmas crib is shown at the left of the chapel.

AS KEEN EYED AS EVER—George "Brigham" Young, well known in the city and a power in politics during the days of Mayor Thompson, retains his perspicacity in study-ing affairs of the moment. Dec. 13, 1925

JANUARY 24, 1926.

AS A PATROLMAN
Jan 15-26



Samuel D. McLeod.

M'LEOD SHOWS LONG RECORD

WILL TAKE HER HONORS TO COLLEGE.—Miss Ruth Perry, who won third honors in the January graduating class at New Bedford High School, plans to attend Wheaton next Fall.
Pettengill

DRAMATIC LAURELS GIVE WAY TO SCHOLASTIC.—Miss Dora Wolf, who is president of the high school Dramatic Club, gave plenty of attention to studies as is evidenced by the award of fourth honors to her, from all the graduating class.
Pettengill

LEADS HER CLASS IN BRILLIANCE.—Miss Claire Riley was named valedictorian of the New Bedford High School class which is to receive its diplomas Jan. 28
Pettengill

A CLOSE SECOND FOR HONORS. — Miss Bertha Finch was chosen salutatorian of the high school graduating class by virtue of her high marks.
Pettengill

Lieutenant Raymond Chase.

IDENTIFIES CRIMINALS
Jan 27 '26

WAS G. A. R. HEAD
June 24-26

Henry C. Slosson, Past Post One Commander, Dies at 91

Henry C. Slosson, past commander of Post 1, G. A. R., died last night at his residence, 151 Hillman street. He was 91. Mr. Slosson had been out and around until a week ago when he was forced to his bed with kidney trouble. His widow, Mrs. Clara Slosson, is his only survivor. He had been married twice.

Mr. Slosson was born March 26, 1835 in Clarence, Erie County, New York, and came to New Bedford when 21. In 1864 he enlisted in New Bedford and served until the expiration of the war with the 26th Massachusetts unattached volunteer infantry which was encamped at Readville for several months guarding a cavalry recruiting station. He received his honorable discharge at the close of the war.

In 1912 he married Mrs. Clara T. Andrews, his first wife, who was Miss Clara Phillips, a Brockton girl having died six years before. At that time he was an elevator man at the municipal building.

OFFICERS OF THE NEW BEDFORD WOMAN'S CLUB. Sept. 27, 1925.

All Photos by Bachrach.

Mrs. Dexter B. Goodwin
Vice President

Mrs. Irving W. Cook
Vice President

Mrs. William G. Potter
President

Miss Grace Dillingham
Corresponding Sec'y.

Miss Frances Congdon
Treasurer

Mrs. Fred R. Fish
Recording Sec'y.

Mrs. George H. Nye
Director

Mrs. Frank M. Metcalf
Corresponding Sec'y.

Miss Rosamond Clifford
Director

EMBROIDERED SHIP ON AN EMBROIDERED OCEAN—Joseph S. Avila, 17 Borden street, drew a design of a full rigged whaler on cloth and embroidered it in colored cotton while he was recovering from an illness. The rigging is in yellow, the sails in white, the deck in red and blue, and the ship's body in black. Dec. 20, 1925.

A PAGE OUT OF THE FAMILY ALBUM.—From the shades of the past come pictures of Miss Mary Davis, left, and Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, twin sisters, who recently celebrated their 85th birthdays at their home, 56 Campbell street. The photos were taken when they were 15. Dec. 13, 1925.

THE OLD FLAG NEVER TOUCHED THE GROUND — John Mendes acted as Sergeant William H. Carney in "Footprints," an historical pageant of Negroes written by Mrs. Ethel Riley Clark. Mr Mendes was a nephew of Sergeant Carney, who was famed as the hero of Ft. Wagner for carrying the Stars and Stripes through the battle. Dec. 20, 1925

WALT McDOUGALL, dean of American cartoonists, paints Spanish galleons for recreation. He did this wall decoration for Mrs. George A. Hough, Jr., of New Bedford. Dec. 20, 1925

A STRONG, BENIGN OLD MAN HE WAS—James F. Harrison took the part of Frederick Douglass in "Footprints," Negro historical pageant. Douglass, lead-er among the Negroes, was educated with finances furnished by S. Griffiths' Morgan. He worked on the New Bed-ford wharves. Dec. 20, 1925.

Jan. 3, 1926.

THE ROMANCE OF JUDAS MACCABEUS.—Staged by members of the Arnoff Dramatic Club at the Tifereth Israel Synagog in celebration of the Feast of Chanukah. In the picture are, rear row, left to right, Helen Horvitz, Leo Chaliff, Benjamin Meyers, Libia Halprin, George Korowitz, Sophie Bogorad, George Schwartz, Jack London, Edith Stone, Lester Willis, Burdetta Shapiro, Samuel Chaliff, Henrietta Wainer, Arthur Mickelson, Mervin Leen, Sylvia Wainer, Edith Stone, Milton Levy, Helen Horvitz. In the front row, left to right, are Selma Kroudvird, Lucille Horvitz, Rowena Leen.

AT THE DOOR OF THE INN.—Scene from pageant presented by the Community School of Religious Education. Left to right are: E. N. Milliken as Joseph, Miss Doris Vaughan as Mary, and Mrs. Anna Whitlock as the innkeeper. Jan. 3, 1926.

IS NEW LIBRARIAN

Jan 17-26

Louis F. Ranlett Comes to Fairhaven from Magazine Editorial Post

Louis F. Ranlett, Auburndale, who was elected librarian of the Millicent Library, Fairhaven, to succeed Galen W. Hill, recently resigned from the position of department editor of the Youth's Companion. He had served on the staff of that magazine for four years.

Mr. Ranlett served as a second lieutenant of infantry in the World War. During the latter part of the war he was a platoon commander in the 23rd Infantry, Second Division, until he was severely wounded in the battle of Blanc Mont. He is at present treasurer of the Plummer Memorial Library in Auburndale.

PHA
THI Shro hea env Bedf
Mer ske selve sky

THE WORLD RENOWNED TROTTING MARE GOLDSMITH MAID, WITH HER CELEBRATED TRAINER AND DRIVER BUDD TROTTING IN HARNESS A MILE IN THE UNPRECEDENTED TIME OF TWO MINUTES AND FOURTEEN SECONDS !!
AT MYSTIC PARK MEDFORD, MASS. SEPT. 2ND 1874.
Special Purse of $ 2500, for Goldsmith Maid to beat her own best recorded time of 2·14¼.

FLEET HOOFS MADE TURF HISTORY.—"There she goes," racing fans shouted as Goldsmith Maid, famous trotting mare, sped the mile in two minutes and 14 seconds. The picture is taken from a racing print in the collection of Andrew E. Hathaway. Feb. 14, 1926.

H. C. FRENCH NAMED AS MANAGER FOR CASABLANCAS CORP.

Wamsutta Agent Takes Charge of Long Draft Spinning Co.

2/26/11-26

H. Carl French, formerly purchasing agent for the Wamsutta Mills has been named as commercial manager for the American Casablancas Corporation, and has taken immediate charge of the commercial activities of this organization. He will make his headquarters at 12 Pearl street, Boston, the New England offices of the company.

—Photo by Oppenheim, Boston.
H. C. French.

KE
TOMS OF IGHT—l by the og that ed New ships at Wharf l them-ainst the houlish
ine. Feb. 14, 1926.

A NOSE WON THIS RACE—Faster and faster the thoroughbreds sped as they raced down the track to the finish line. It was one of th[illegible] finishes determin[illegible] by the length of [illegible] nostrils on the horses. The print is from Andrew Hathaway's collection.

NEW FAIRHAVEN LIBRARIAN—Louis F. Ranlett recently was elected librarian at Millicent Library. He came here from Auburndale, where he was treasurer of Plummer Memorial Library. Feb. 28, 1926.

BRIDAL PAIR LEAVING CHAPEL

Jan 31-26

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood

This photograph, made especially for The Standard, shows Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood leaving St. Bartholomew's chapel, New York City, after their marriage there yesterday. Mr. Wood is curator of the Old Dartmouth Historical Society. His bride was Mrs. Jane G. Campbell, Utica, N. Y. They are bound to the Pacific [illegible] months' wedding tour.

THE CONTEST OF THE NATIONS — Alice Corey and Mildred Bradshaw, heralds. Ethel Geller as Columbia and R. Payette as flag-bearer in operetta given by High School Glee Club.

Dec. 27, 1925

IN HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT — Misses Sarah Malick, Dorothy Lindsay and Marion Hoxie in "The Contest of the Nations." Dec. 27, 1925.

FATHER MOSHEY GOES FROM CITY

Jan 21-26

Departs for California to Found New Parish

Succeeded at Syrian Church by Priest from West Virginia

The Rev. Paul Moshey, who has served as pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Purgatory, for the past year and nine months, has left New Bedford for Los Angeles, where he plans to form a new parish. He is to be succeeded by the Rev. Peter Aschkar, who comes to New Bedford from parishes in West Virginia.

Rev. Peter Aschkar.

ASSIGNED TO PARISH

Jan 30-26

Joseph Edmond Potvin.

CURATE NAMED TO CITY CHURCH

The Rev. J. E. Potvin Again Assigned to Holy Rosary Parish After Serving Here 15 Years Ago

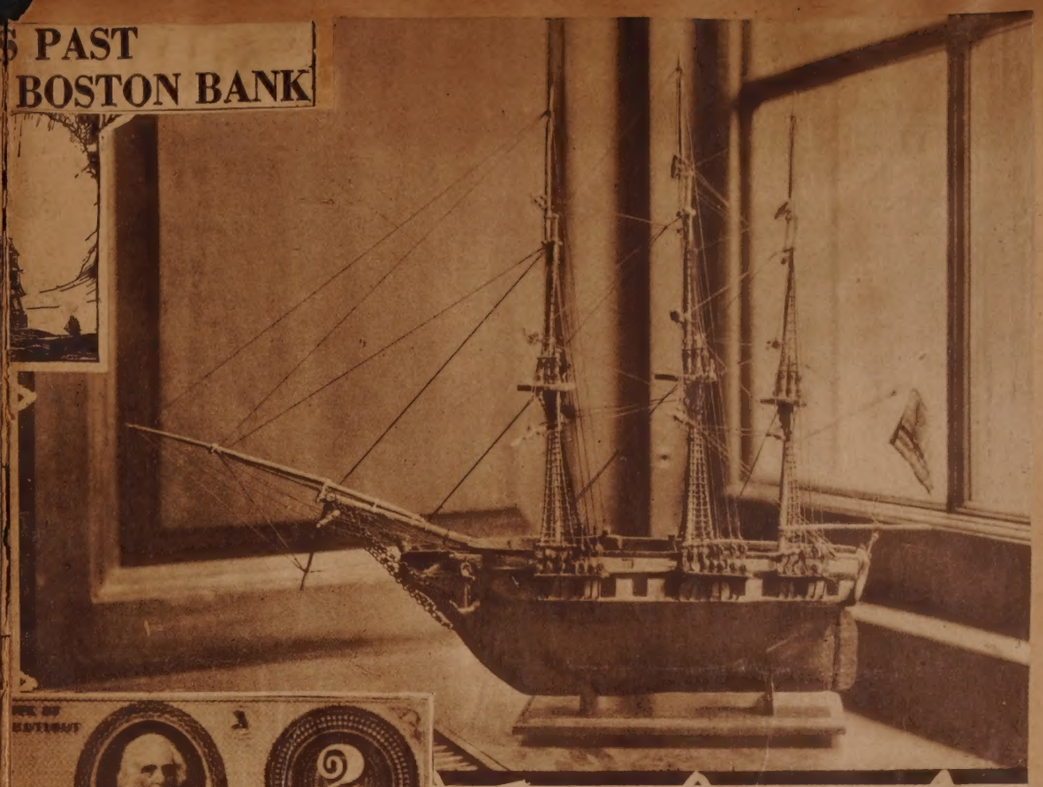
—Photo by Howard M. Wood.

BETTER'N AN ICEBOAT—That's what the ice-cutters on South Watuppa Pond, Fall River, think of their contraption for cutting solidified liquid. Feb 28, 1926.

CLEANLINESS IS NEXT TO GODLINESS — Believing in the old adage, James Wilbur, 39 Mill road, has cleaned streets in the vicinity of Lunds Corner for the last 12 years. Mrs. Beatrice Miller congratulated him when he attained his 81st birthday, Jan. 9. Feb. 7, 1926.

NEW BEDFORD'S PAST ENSHRINED IN BOSTON BANK

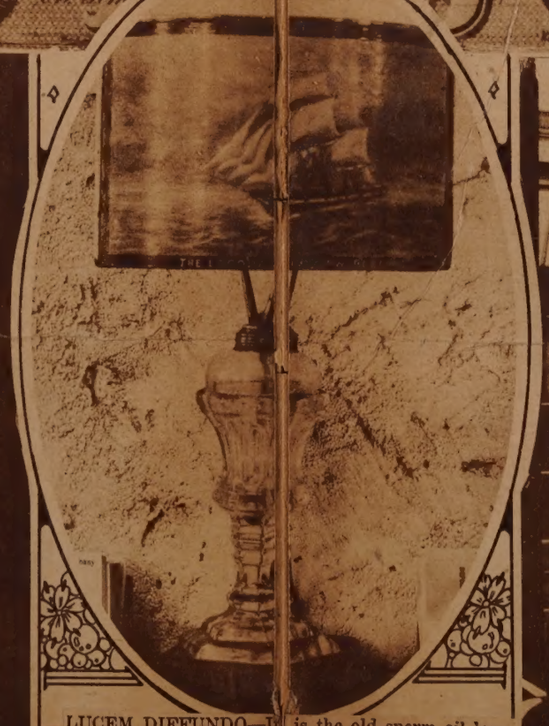
THE WANDERER HOME FROM THE SEA—A corner of the private office of President Allan Forbes, of the State Street Trust Company. The panelling and the door ajar on the right came from the Wanderer, wrecked in the hurricane of August, 1924. On the silk shade is a pen and ink sketch of old State street looking toward the State House. In this unique room, Mr. Forbes has epitomized his conception of the new bank as a memorial to the maritime glory of Massachusetts.



THERE SHE BLOWS—A piece of Connecticut script which is a reminder of the whaling era of Stonington.

OLD-TIMER—One of the many ship's models by which the bank is adorned.

THE WHALING MOTIF—One of the old New Bedford whaling prints on the wall of the Vice President's office.



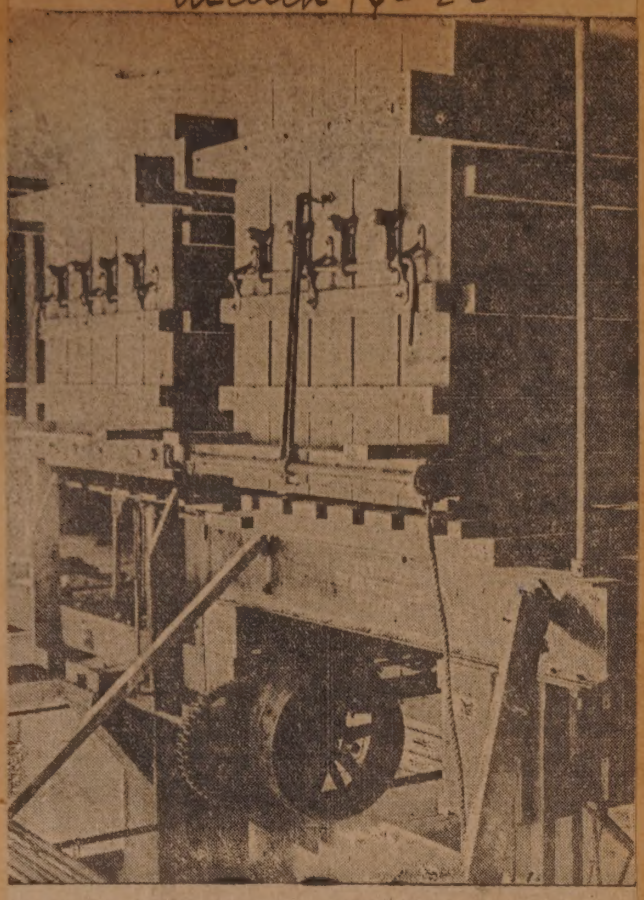
LUCEM DIFFUNDO—It is the old sperm oil lamp that diffuses light in the new banking rooms of the State Street Trust Company, albeit they have been electrically fitted. This one, over one of the customers' desks, bears a picture of the Lagoda on its sh[illegible]

THE PRIVATEER IN THE BANK ENTRANCE—The outfitting of this model was done entirely by Mr. Forbes and is complete to the last detail. The rigging was made on a special order by the Plymouth Cordage Company.

THE WHALER OVER ALL—This model of the old Maria, a New Bedford whaleship built at Pembroke in 1782, dominates the scene from the top of the grill work in the State Street Trust Company's banking rooms.

WHERE COTTON IS REBALED

March 14-26



Picture shows view of bale presses at local plant of New Bedford Cotton Cleaning Corporation. These presses constitute the final stage in delivering in clean white form, low grade dirty cotton fed into the machinery at the opposite end of the unit.

THEY TOOK THE CAKE—Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson, 1012 Pleasant street, received an unusual Christmas present of a Scotch cake of short bread from their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paterson, Glasgow, Scotland. The inscription on the cake, done in gold letters, means "Long may your chimney smoke."

Feb. 7, 1926.

WHEN A MAN'S HOME IS HIS CASTLE—On the old Un States Lightship No. 4, now the home beacon of but one sean the bo'sun's mate is captain. The boat is lying snug in wi quarters at Woods Hole. Dec. 20, 1925.

A SHIP WITH A DINING ROOM LIKE HOME—This homev-looking room serves as dining place for residents aboard the old United States Lightship No. 4 at Woods Hole. Dec. 20, 1925.

HAWTHORN STREET SHOW PLACE SOLD Feb 28 1926

The James F. Smith House

WHERE WORLD NEWS FIRST REACHES NEW BEDFORD—In the telegraph room of The Standard is a group of machines which tick off the latest events in every known part of the earth. Four automatic printers take the news and a telegraph operator supplements the "copy" that they bring in. At the left, in order of their appearance, is the second of the two United Press printers, then two Associated Press machines, and a set for an operator. At the right is Gideon H. S. Keen, Associated Press operater in The Standard office. Feb. 7, 1926.

SAVED FROM THE AUCTION BLOCK—Sale under the hammer of these veteran city horses was prevented by public sentiment aroused when The Standard told the story of Prince, old fire horse which was slated for sale. Prince is not in this group of faithful animals. Feb. 7, 1926.

—Photo by Fred C. Phinney

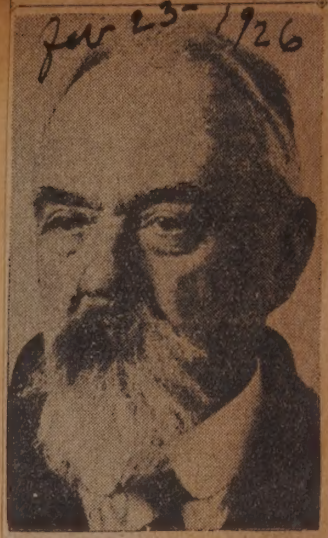
AGROUND AFTER A NIGHT IN FLAMES.—Steamer Sankaty, of the New Bedford, Martha's Vineyard, and Nantucket Company line came to rest on the Fairhaven side of the Acushnet River against the old whaling vessel Charles W. Morgan, after it was greatly damaged by fire on the night of June 30, 1924. [illegible] 1926.

ALL ABOARD BUT ONE—Hans Jorgensen and his family enjoy life aboard the old United States lightship at Woods Hole. This family group lacks Edgar, restless son and heir, who could not wait for the cameraman. Aug. 20, 1925.

Mrs. Rosanna Marcotte, who sits at the switchboard in the Municipal Building.

AGED OFFICER PASSES

Feb 23- 1926



Walter R. Spooner.

DEPUTY SHERIFF SPOONER IS DEAD

Dean of Bristol County Officers Succumbs at Acushnet at 79

Would Have Completed Half Centuury of Service Jan. 1, 1927

Deputy Sheriff Walter R. Spooner, 79, dean of Bristol County officers and one of the oldest in point of service in the entire State, died at his home, 30 Main street, Acushnet, early yesterday morning. Mr. Spooner had been in ill health since February, 1924, when a fall from a street car prevented him from attending the opening of Superior Court for the first time in 47 years of service.

Birthplace in Four Towns.

Mr. Spooner was born in what is known as Long Plain, Acushnet, the son of the late Walter and the late Susan Greenleaf (Pope) Spooner, on Oct. 26, 1847. The Spooner homestead in which Mr. Spooner was born, which, though unoccupied is still standing, has the distinction of having been in four towns yet has never been moved. Later the town lines were changed and it became a part of New Bedford. Still it was placed under the jurisdiction of Fairhaven and now is under the control of Acushnet.

Mr. Spooner was appointed deputy sheriff on Jan. 1, 1877, and if he had lived would have completed 50 years of service as an officer for the county on Jan. 1, 1927.

Attended Last Hanging.

Mr. Spooner prized a piece of rope that is a part of the long cord used to hang the last man executed in the county. He helped put the straps on Daniel M. Robertson, who was hung from the gallows of the House of Correction for the murder of his wife.

He was on duty in the famous Lizzie A. Borden trial in July, 189[illegible] as well as the Hoxie trial, both of which resulted in acquittals for the defendants. He acted as court officer during the Snell trial in 1904; the Leonard trial in 1909 and the [illegible] trial in 1916 the defendants were all sentenced to [illegible].

Mr. Spooner is survived by his widow, Mrs. Isabel[illegible], two daughters, Mrs. S[illegible] Grinnell street, Mrs. MacFarland, Co[illegible] sons, Walter [illegible] Poisett, and [illegible] Belleville av[illegible]

WESTPORT FAIR Oct. 1925

David Sanford, 89, of Sanford road

Westport's new bleachers

Real dirt farmers in overalls watch the cattle judging at Westport.

THE WORLD IS THEIRS—The terrestial globe that Colonel Edward H. R. Green presented to the Old Dartmouth Historical Society as a French antique is complete even as to the "fence around it." Making a short tour of the world in the picture are, Frank Wood, curator of the Dartmouth Museum, left, and Arthur C. Watson, assistant curator, right.

Jan 29-26

HAS NORTH END POST

Lieutenant James J. Moore.

MOORE SERVED CITY 19 YEARS

North End Lieutenant Commands Second Relief—Joined Force in 1907

Investigated Many Important Cases in Northern District

MRS. BUTLER SINGS IN "CARMEN"

Feb 14. 26

Has Title Role with Chicago Opera

Mrs. Morgan Butler (Bernice Fisher Butler) delighted a brilliant Washington audience last evening by her singing in the part of Micaela in a production of Carmen by the Chicago Opera Company.

A STUDY IN FACIAL EXPRESSION.—Members of the newly organized Junior C[hoir at the North Congr]egational Church sang with fervent ardor when they wore surplices for the first time. Some are intensely interested in the songbooks, others pay m[ore att]ention to the camera. In the front row, left to right, are Cynthia Rob[bins, Virginia Hunt, Elizabeth] Radcliff, Alice Bean, Richard Davenport, Eleanor Dodge, Alvah Shurtleff, Alb[ert Whiting, and Mario]n Souza. In the back row, left to right, are Herbert Gilkey, Gladys Davidian, Vivian West, Mildred Souza, Marjorie Powell, Dorothy Fielding, Carolyn Robbin[s, and Kenneth Tirrell. Miss Gladys, Director of Religious Education at the church, conducts the choir.

SEEKS CHANGE

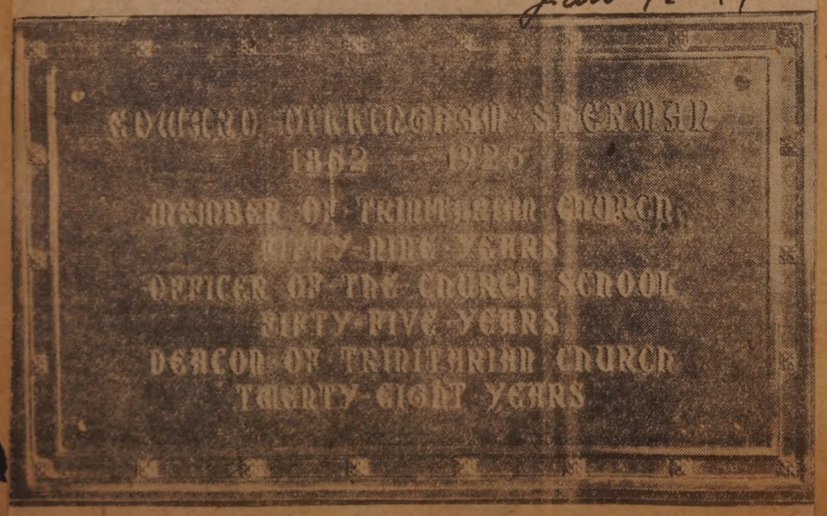
March 26-26

The Rev. James I. Bartholomew, Formerly Here, to Leave Pawtucket

The Rev. James I. Bartholomew, formerly of this city, has declined a unanimous request to return to the pastorate of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Pawtucket, for a seventh year. At the recent quarterly conference of the church, he told his parishioners that he felt the time had come for a change. He has succeeded in Pawtucket in strengthening the church, both financially and in membership. Dr. Bartholomew is an outstanding member of the New England Southern Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He is a former pastor of both the Allen Street and the old County Street churches, this city. No decision has been made as to his next assignment.

MEMORIAL TABLET WILL BE DEDICATED

Jan 12-1926



For Trinitarian Congregational Church

BRONZE TABLET TO HONOR MEMORY OF EDWARD SHERMAN

Inscription Will Tell of His Long Service to Church

A bronze memorial tablet in memory of Edward Dillingham Sherman is to be placed on the south wall of the auditorium of the Trinitarian Congregational Church.

It is planned to dedicate the memorial next Sunday. The memorial is to have a place between two other similar tablets, those of James Cannon Briggs and Frederic Augustus Washburn. Two other memorials on the north wall are those of William R. Wing and Clara B. Watson.

The memorial now to be placed in memory of Mr. Sherman is a handsome dark bronze in keeping with the other memorials in the church, and is the work of the Gorham Company, Providence. The inscription on the tablet reads:

"Edward Dillingham Sherman
1852—1925
Member of Trinitarian Church
Fifty-nine Years
Officer of the Church School
Fifty-five Years
Deacon of Trinitarian Church
Twenty-eight Years."

Jan. 10, 1926

This is a scene at Buttonwood Park

ASSURES YOU OF ICE CREAM NEXT SUMMER—Ice cut on South Watuppa Pond, Fall River, is stored now to keep the nation cool with Coolidge when sweltering days come around once more. Red Grange, the well known Wheaton iceman, knows he can find a job delivering cakes here if the wolf snaps at his door. —Photo by Howard M. Wood.

Feb. 28, 1926.

THE WARD THAT ROTARY'S GIFT WILL EQUIP

Feb-7-26

To Replace Lumbard House at St. Luke's

Seventy-five beds and all the equipment necessary to a modern hospital children's ward will be installed in this newly completed building at St. Luke's. It will replace the wooden structure now in use. New Bedford Rotary Club recently subscribed $22,500 to equip it.

Wellington A. Francis.
Cotton Goods Distributor.
Mar. 28, 1926.

PHYSICIAN SELECTED

Worth 11-26

Dr. Nerbonne Successor to Dr. Ponte, Jr., on Public Welfare Board

Dr. Joseph J. Nerbonne, 161 William street, was selected last evening by the members of the Board of Public Welfare, to succeed Dr. J. P. Ponte, Jr., who resigned recently as one of the physicians to the board. Dr. Nerbonne will assume his new duties immediately.

In addition to the election of Dr. Nerbonne, the board transacted considerable routine business.

UP THROUGH THE ROCKS—Trees forced their way upward despite the big stones on property of Allen Tenney, Front street, Marion, near Old Landing, Upper Village, formerly included in the William H. Ryder estate. Nov. 1, 1925

CLEFT BY A PINE—An oddity of Nature on property of William Dodge, Pleasant and Pitcher streets, Marion. The tree has held its place for nearly 100 years. Nov. 1, 1925

FOR REVOLUTIONARY GRAVES

Dec 12 1926

S. A. R. Grave Marker

MRS. COOLIDGE FAVORS MARY—"Be sure to get your face in this, Mary," insisted Mrs. Coolidge to Mary Sherman, New Bedford, when she and other Standard medal winners posed at Swampscott, Aug. 27 with the President and Mrs. Coolidge. That's how modest Mary happened to be in the place of honor between them. Photo by Schutz, Washington, D. C.

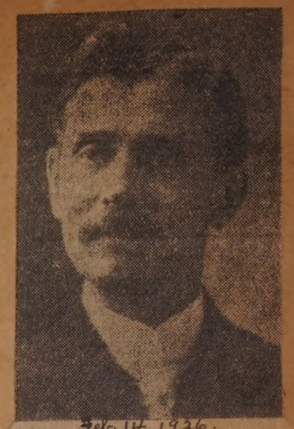
Sept. 20, 1925

A SPECIAL FAREWELL FROM MRS. COOLIDGE—Mary Sherman gets a fond good-bye from the First Lady.

Sept. 20, 1925.

MRS. COOLIDGE ACCEPTS STANDARD MEDAL — The First Lady smiles her thanks to Minna Littmann, of the Standard, but would you call Bob Roy's expression a smile? At right, Captain Adolphus Andrews of the Mayflower, the President's naval aide.

Sept. 20, 1925



Sept. 14, 1926.

The Rev. George G. Scrivener.

FORMER PASTOR TO BE SPEAKER

Will Take Part in Homecoming Celebration of Howard M. E. Church Next Friday Night

The Rev. George G. Scrivener, pastor of St. Paul's Church, Newport, and former pastor of the Howard M. E. Church, is to be the principal speaker at the roll call and reunion at Howard M. E. Church next Friday night at eight.

The meeting is to be a part of a homecoming celebration at the church for the dedication of the new addition to the Howard M. E. Church. About 200 invitations have been sent out to present and former members of the church.

Community singing will be led by Edmund J. Winterbottom at the reunion, following an address by Mr. Scrivener in which he will recall the building of the church. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. Scrivener was pastor of Howard M. E. Church from 1900 to 1902, during which time the present building was constructed. He presided at the dedication service held in February, 1902, and was the principal speaker at the ceremony for the laying of the cornerstone of the additions to the old building on June 16, 1925.

—P. and A. Photo

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S HANDS—New Bedford school children get medals awarded by The Standard for proficiency in rea ing. Captain Adolphus Andrews, of the Mayflower, is assisting the Chief Executive. Sept. 20, 192

AN ARCH OF ROCK—Double cleft arched rock at Bartlett Hill in Marion, the property of Sidney Hosmer, Boston and Marion. The tops leaning together form an archway 15 feet above the base. 1, 1925.

OFFICERS GUIDE GREATER NEW BEDFORD GARDEN CLUB

Feb. 7, 1926.

—Photo by Kozorek

MISS AVIS WING, New Bedford, second vice president New Bedford Garden Club.

←—Photo by Kozorek.

MISS M. LOUISE NORRIS, Fairhaven, president.

—Photo by Kozorek.

MISS WILTON A. GIFFORD, South Dartmouth, treasurer

—Photo by Kozorek

MISS CATHERINE JORDAN, Fairhaven, corresponding secretary.

MIN C. TRIP rd. assi

ENEMIES OF POLITICAL SLACKER

Jan 17-26

Thomas A. Morrison and Elsie, His Daughter

NAMED ZOO CURATOR

March 18-26

Arthur J. Nolan to Have Charge of Buttonwood Park Animals

Arthur J. Nolan has been appointed curator of the zoo at Buttonwood park. Superintendent of Parks E. B. Sherman said that the zoo has increased during the past few years and has now reached a point where it is imperative that one person have sole responsibility for the care of the animals and birds.

The Park Commission has instructed Mr. Sherman to confer with the Civil Service authorities regarding placing the position under Civil Service. Mr. Nolan has been given a temporary appointment, and if it is thought necessary by the Civil Service Commission, an examination will be held later.

Mr. Nolan, who lives at 14 Highland street, has raised and sold prairie wolves for several years.

POLICEMAN ON DUTY 20 YEARS

Jan 13-

Ellery E. Brightman Keeps at Job on Anniversary of Appointment 1926.

Traffic Patrolman Enjoys Good Health; Is at City Parking Lot

Traffic Policeman Ellery E. Brightman, observed his completion of 20 years' service on the Police Department yesterday by directing autoists in and out of the municipal parking lot—the duty to which he has been assigned for the last three years. Enjoying good health, Mr. Brightman, who is 62, has been on duty at the parking lot during all kinds of weather.

"Just one way of observing this day, and that is by showing them where to park and to prevent them from parking next to each other when they leave," the policeman avowed Ellery E. Brightman.

RACEHORSE PRINT OWNED BY ANDREW E. HATHAWAY

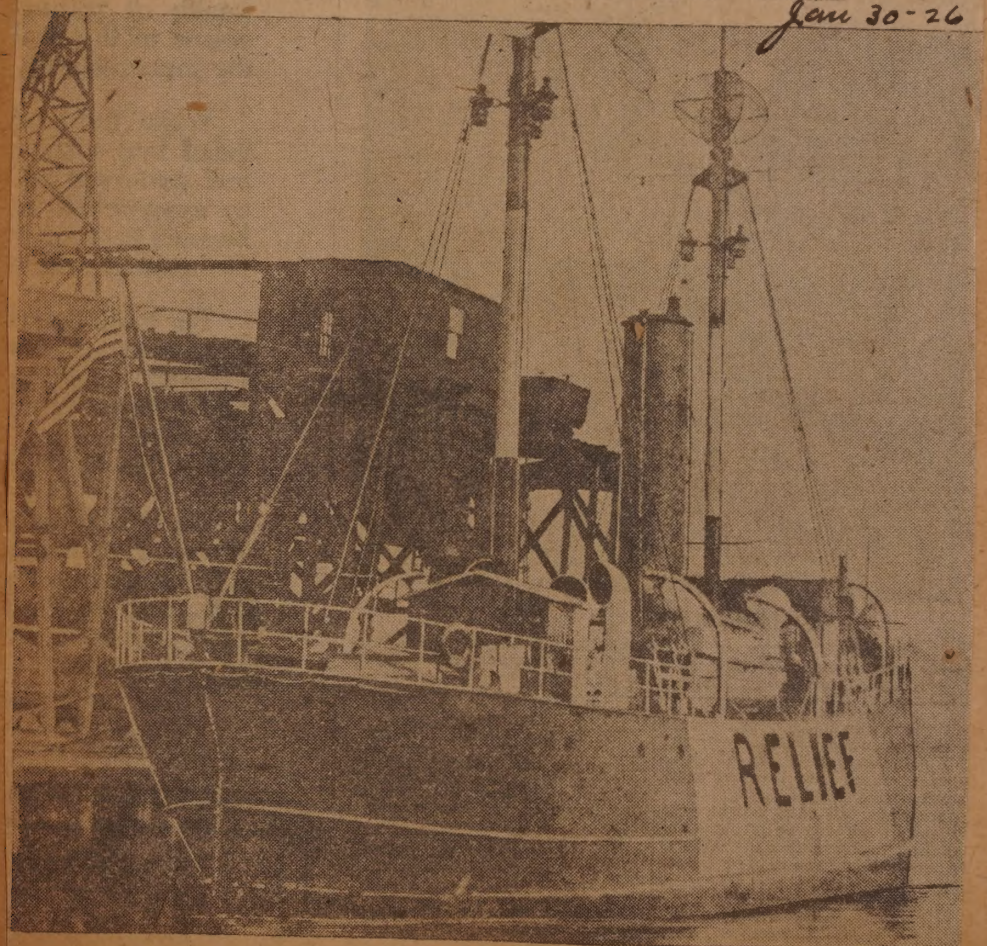
1926. Jan 17-

One of Sport Pictures Sought by Collectors

"A Third Heat in Two Sixteen" shows the racers Judge Fullerton and Goldsmith Maid in their trot at East Saginaw, Mich., July 16, 1874. Goldsmith Maid won all three heats.

VICTIM OF STORM'S LASHING GALE

Jan 30-26



Relief Light No. 90

Blown from her station on Pollock Rip Shoal and beached off Monomoy Point.

TAKES BANK POS

Homer W. Hervey.

March 17-26

BANK ELECTS H. W. HERVEY

Attorney to Become Tr
Officer at Merchants
National Tomorrow

Creation of Bank Po Departure for Bedfo

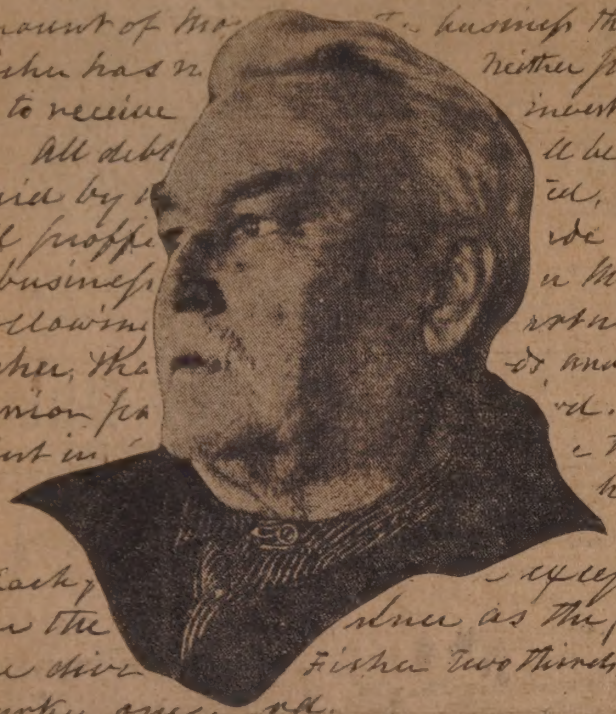
Jan 24-26

Know all Men by these presents, that the undersigned, Richard A. Fisher and David L. Parker, both of the City of Newbedford, have mutually agreed to go into business together in the store of Edward M. Parker on the corner of fifth & Union streets, now occupied as a grocery by said Fisher, and to continue in the same business as Grocers.

The said Parker is to invest the same amount of mo[illegible] business that Fisher has n[illegible] neither party is to receive [illegible] investments, All debt[illegible] be equally paid by [illegible]ed, and all profit[illegible]de and & business [illegible]n manner following [illegible]ner and the Fisher, the [illegible]d, and the junior pa[illegible]d. But in [illegible] this



Each [illegible]ness in the [illegible]ness as the profits are divi[illegible] Fisher two thirds, and Parker one [illegible]rd.

And it is further agreed, that any loan that may be made of [illegible], Parker, father of said David, the Company note may be given on demand, with interest at seven per cent, or such interest as may be mutually agreed on.

Signed & Sealed this 2d day of January A.D. 1869.

In presence of
Wm. H. Carney

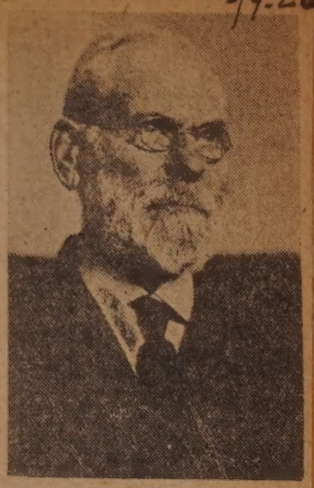
David L. Parker
Richard A. Fisher

Business History Is Pictured

Robert A. Fisher and the agreement dated January 2, 1869, by which he and David Parker became partners in a grocery business.

TAKEN BY DEATH

2/9-26



The Rev. Allen Damon.

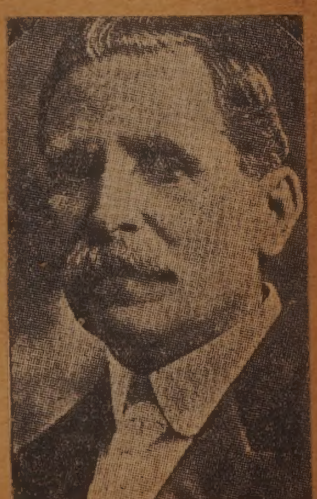
CLERGYMAN AND EVANGELIST DIES

The Rev. Allen Damon Succumbs to Old Age at 81

Adventist Minister Toured as Preacher---Filled East Fairhaven Pulpit

The Rev. Allen Damon, 81, minister and evangelist for 59 years, died of old age at 5:30 this morning at the home of his son, Clarence L. Allen, 29 Grant street. Mr. Damon had been confined to his bed only since last Wednesday and in view of his age had enjoyed exceptionally good health until recently.

Although not holding a regular pastorate in recent years Mr. Damon has been active in church work and has frequently served as supply at churches of this vicinity. He was a member of the Advent Christian Church on Sycamore street and often occupied the pulpit of that church. Until two years ago he was actively engaged in the ministry as supply pastor.



May 8, 1926.

Rev. Elijah Humphries.

TO BE MADE INTO NEW WRENCH FACTORY

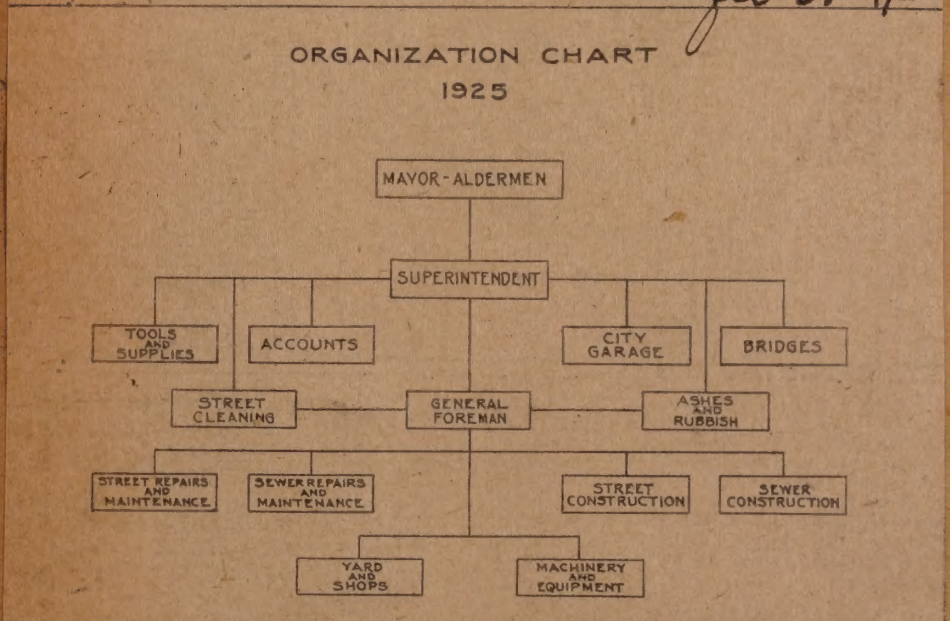
Jan 31-26

Leased by Local Corporation

Picture shows a view of the old Weeden Toy Factory building on North Water street just north of the Fairhaven Bridge. This whole building has been leased by the H. and E. Wrench Company, New Bedford's latest manufacturing corporation.

HOW STREET DEPARTMENT IS ORGANIZED

Feb 28-1926



Hammersley to Submit Chart to Aldermen

When W. P. Hammersley, superintendent of streets, sends his annual report to members of the Board of Aldermen copies of this chart showing how the Street Department is organized under his supervision will be enclosed. When Mr. Hammersley was here in 1916 he had a somewhat similar plan of organization ready to put into effect.

J. H. MAGNETT IS DEAD AT 66

Feb 7-1926

Employment as Janitor by Several Business Houses in Center of City Made Him Well Known

James H. Magnett died at his home, 54 Bedford street, yesterday, aged 66 years. Mr. Magnett was well known in this city through having been employed for many years as janitor at several business houses in the center of the city. For several years he had occupied a similar position at Parsons Laundry.

Mr. Magnett was born on the island of St. Helena, July 8, 1859, but he had made his home in this city for many years, ever since coming here more than 40 years ago. In the Spring of 1924 Mr. Magnett made a return journey to his native place, spending four months away from the city, visiting England, France and South Africa in the trip that included a stop at St. Helena.

James H. Magnett.

Mr. Magnett was a man with a large number of friends. For more than 30 years he had served as Superintendent of the Sunday School of Union Baptist Church and he had always taken great interest in the activities of the church. He was a past master of Union Lodge, F. & A. M. and also past senior grand warden of Prince Hall Grand Lodge and Past Eminent Grand Commander of Knights Templars of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Mr. Magnett was elected superintendant of the Salem Baptist church Sunday school on North Sixth street in 1883 and served ten years with that institution until its disbandment. In 1895 the Union schools were formed from the Second Baptist and Salem Baptist church schools. Mr. Magnett was elected superintendent and was elected annually since that time, serving under six pastors. When Mr. Magnett assumed charge of the Salem Baptist school he succeeded R. James H. Lee, later pastor of Third Baptist church at Washin D. C.

2 Feb. 14-26 Amy Stone
16 2/4 mch. Week ending

Dec.	10	mat	144.70
	10	eve
	11	mat	82.10
	11	eve
	12	mat	84.05
	12	eve
	13	mat	72.35
	13	eve
	14	mat	48.85
	14	eve
	15	mat	90.95
	15	eve

Candy mchs.
Exam. Steigmeyer to K
John Morris

Receipts
Expenses

Bayless ex. Expenses	21.10
Post Cards	2.00
Geo Bill	65.86
Printing	3.39
Bills & Typ	1.48
Ex. Agents	1.20
Rent & mch	.35
Bleir	4.25
Program	3 -	102.63
Misc help		2.46 -
Show
Dan Harrington	75 -
Hodges & Launchmere	75 -
Harry Dakes & Daly	125 -
Jake Lorenzo	70
Lasky & Ralph Quintette	300 -
Newyork Harmony 4	150 -
3 Mores	225 -
Vit	40 -	1060 -
		1408.63

Reminders of Theatrical History

Hathaway and ... vaudeville veter... who boasts he bought the first ticket to Hathaway's Theater rep.

Dec. 18. 1906

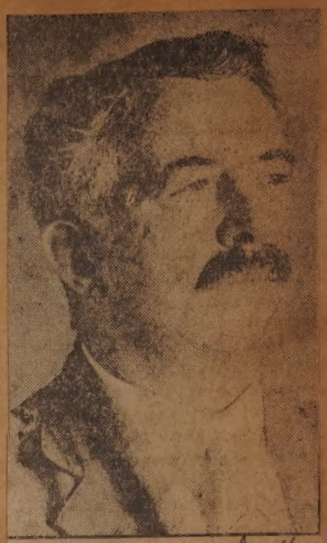
7.50 35220
9.65 28 1756 3395
3.35 25 7110 8715
2.75 24 5101 1136 45
35.55 17 4410 13108 5
46.45 33 7410 16482 5

15.60
6666
1166 12392
177217

2.17
8.63
7.54
.03
.37
10
47
215
22

-26
one of the old theater account

Feb. 14, 1926.
(Mrs. Saltmarsh from a new Kozorek portrait, her daughter by Oki Seizo.)



Walter Almond. Jan. 16, 1926.

Music Runs in the Family

Mrs. Robert C. Saltmarsh, 107 Reed street, and her musi loving little daughter, Betty, who'll be two in March. Mrs. Sa marsh is known in the musical world by her maiden name of F Stoessel.

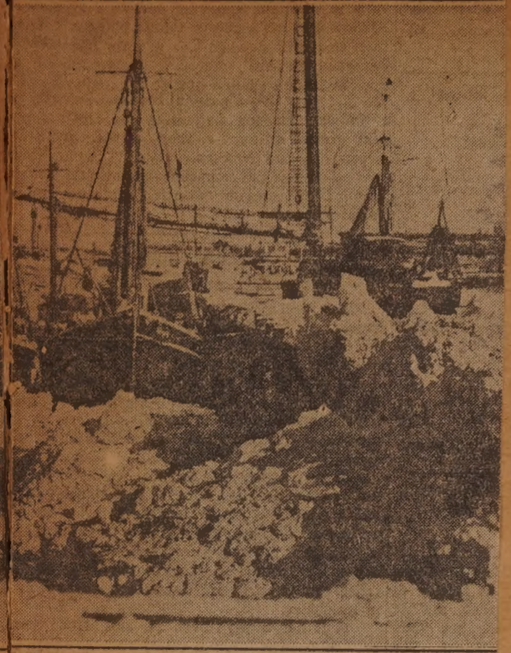
Mar. 26, Elton S. Wilde, 1926.

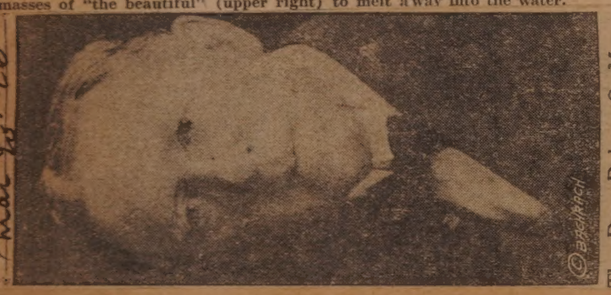
SCENES OF NEW BEDFORD'S SNOW CLEARING GANG AT WORK

Feb. 14. 26



From Street to the Sea to Melt

The sooner the better is the motto of the street department in snow removal. The snow banks disappear into trucks via the caterpillar snow loader (lower right) at a rate better than a truck a minute. They travel down to the city Pier and do a Niagara overboard (left). It takes some time for the masses of "the beautiful" (upper right) to melt away into the water.



WILL SPEAK HERE Mar 28

The Rev. Robert S. Moore Was Pastor in New Bedford Churches

The Rev. Robert S. Moore, pastor of Hope M. E. Church, Providence, and former pastor here, will speak at the morning service of the Pleasant Street M. E. Church tomorrow morning on the subject, "Our Veterans of the Cross."

Mr. Moore was pastor of the Allen Street M. E. Church here from 1905 to 1909 and of County Street M. E. Church for five years, retiring for a year's rest in 1923.

Lieutenant Albert B. MacKinstry.

M'KINSTRY 21 YEARS ON FORCE

Prosecuting Officer, in Line for Chief, Walked Old "Bowery" Beat

Lieutenant Named Policeman in 1905---To Court Post in 1921

This is the sixth of a series of sketches of the ranking officers of the Police Department, from among whom the next chief will be chosen by civil service elimination and appointment by the Mayor.

Albert B. MacKinstry, police lieutenant and prosecuting officer in third District Court, began his police career as a patrolman and inspector and lieutenant.

Lieutenant MacKinstry was born on Prince Edward Island on March 14, 1879, and came to New Bedford at the age of 12. After two years as a reserve policeman, he was appointed to the regular force on Sept. 18, 1905.

Walked Old "Bowery" Beat.

In his eight years as a patrolman MacKinstry served seven on the old "Bowery" beat in the center of the city, which was then one of the busiest beats. Another year MacKinstry spent on the "Marsh" beat in the South End.

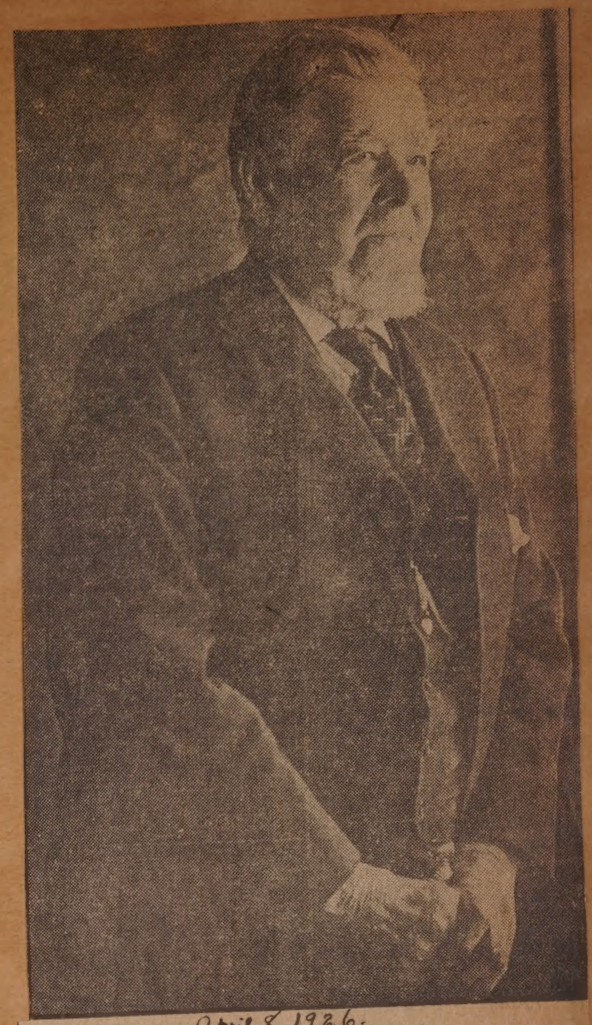
As a patrolman MacKinstry has to his credit the arrest of Hattie Simmonds for the murder of her husband, Harry P. Simmonds. The crime was committed on the morning of Aug. 2, 1908, when Mrs. Simmonds shot and fatally wounded her husband. Half an hour after the shooting, MacKinstry arrested the slayer and had her arraigned in court that day. When the husband died the charge was changed to second degree murder, and Mrs. Simmonds received a life sentence in Sherborn after pleading guilty.

MacKinstry was appointed an acting inspector on July 9, 1913, and served in that capacity until May 16, 1915, when he returned to the uniformed force. In February, 1917, he was made liquor officer at headquarters and with Inspector James E. Bolton, did the work of the present liquor and vice squad. During the latter he was adding the draft board, and then transferred back to the inspector's division.

Made Prosecuting Officer in 1921.

In 1921 Lieutenant MacKinstry began his work as prosecuting officer at Third District Court, an assignment which he still fills. On Nov. 3 he was transferred from the inspector's force to the uniformed force, with the rank of lieutenant. In his five years as prosecuting officer, Lieutenant MacKinstry has handled thousands of cases covering crimes of every nature.

In 1921 also Lieutenant MacKinstry began work as the instructor of the police school. Since that time he has instructed three classes of new policemen and another class of reserve officers on the essentials of police work. This work entailed instruction in making out all documents which police use, how to make investigations and a study of city ordinances.



April 8, 1926.

Erastus Gordon Butts

E. G. BUTTS TO BE 99 FRIDAY

Padanaram Nonagenarian Was Resident of South Dartmouth for 74 Years--Sailed on Whaler

Erastus Gordon Butts, Padanaram, will be 99 tomorrow. Mr. Butts has been a resident of South Dartmouth since his marriage 74 years ago. He is still active and an early riser. His usual rising hour is six in the morning. His sight is still good so that he enjoys reading the paper. He gets around very well helped a little by a cane.

Mr. Butts was born in Voluntown, Conn., and went to Providence when he was 16. He worked in a factory there for a time then left on his only whaling voyage which lasted almost five years. On his return he married Miss Rose Bowe of this city and made his home in Dartmouth where he has lived since.

Lived on Farm.

Until the death of his wife, 36 years ago, he lived on a farm at Barney's Joy. He is a member of the Allen's Neck Church.

Of his seven children, five are living, Mrs. Mary Hayden, Brockton; Mrs. Eliza Allen, Adamsville, R. I.; Mrs. Hanna Sanford, Padanaram; Edward E. Butts, Providence, and Andrew A. Butts, of Padanaram, with whom he makes his home. Mr. Butts has ten grandchildren, six great grandchildren, and one great, great granddaughter.

WOMAN LIVES IN ONE HOUSE 75 YEARS 1926 June 17

Mrs. William Bailey and Her Home

WILLIAM EMERY WOMAN HAS LIVED IN SAME HOUSE QUITS POSITION FOR THREE-QUARTERS OF CENTURY

Leaves Fall River News for Editorial Staff of Boston Transcript

Resigns Managing Editor's Job After Many Years on Paper

Mrs. William Bailey Can Remember When All Land North of Linden Street Was Meadows and Cedars—Home Was Far Out in Country 75 Years Ago

In this land of short-term leases and the moving van it is seldom that a person remains for three quarters of a century in the same house. Mrs. William Bailey has lived that long at 92 Linden street. She can remember when all north was meadows and cedars, and Acushnet avenue, today a busy thoroughfare, was but a country road.

The house in which Mrs. Bailey lives was built by her father, George Tuckwell, six years before she was born there. [illegible] street and a schoolhouse then known as the "Hill school." The building still stands just to the west of her house but was made over into a dwelling when Clark street school was built to care for children in that neighborhood.

Mr. Tuckwell opened a carriage shop at the foot of Linden street where it ran into Purchase. There was also a blacksmith shop there and beyond that practically no houses. Acushnet avenue just north of Mr. Tuckwell, who was a carriage maker, inquired why he was "going out in the country to live."

When Mrs. Bailey was Miss Mary A. Tuckwell and but a small child she can remember playing in the four meadows which stretched north from Linden street. Beyond these were "the cedars," dense woods. The meadows belonged to Mr. Penniman and extended to about where the street now named for him runs up Mt. Pleasant hill.

The section to which Mr. Tuckwell of 75 years ago moved was then locally known as "Jesseville." This was probably due to the fact that "Old Jesse" Reynolds lived in what is now Linden court and had two daughters, who married a Dunlop and a Bennett and built houses near his, forming a very small community.

Although she passed her 75th birthday on Dec. 11 Mrs. Bailey can well remember "Old Jesse," and the time he died. He was then believed to be more than 100 and she was taken to see the body by her father. Her father, always asserted, declares that "Old Jesse" was really dead many years before then. He swears he saw him move, but no one else could detect any signs of life. At any rate, whether dead or alive, he was duly buried.

When Mr. Tuckwell built there, only to the Head of the River and known as the "Head of the River road."

Mrs. Bailey recalls when there was a hospital conducted in a small house which now stands in Linden court and that a Negro died of small pox there. He was buried beneath an apple tree in an orchard nearby. She also vividly recalls many years ago when the Wilson soap factory at the top of the hill was destroyed by fire one night. Her father, with the other neighbors, at that time, ran to the engine house which was then across the street from the present Durfee street engine house and got out the old hand engine.

Mrs. Bailey was married a little more than 50 years ago and about a year ago last September celebrated her golden wedding anniversary.

Just after her marriage she moved for a short time to the house just east of her father's house but upon his death moved back again to live with her mother, having been away but a short time.

Mrs. Bailey has been a member of the Pleasant Street M. E. Church for many years and is a member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

She has four sons and three daughters, William W., Clement C., Louis B., Charles W., Mrs. Nellie Gifford and Mrs. Grace Gifford Steele.

9/22
HEADS ART SCHOOL 26

Ludwig Frank, Designer and Lecturer, Formerly Lived in This City

William M. Emery.

...ed by a complimentary dinner by his associates and ... other newspaper friends at the Hotel Mellen, Fall River. A gold watch was presented to him.

Devoted Time to Research.

Outside of his newspaper activities, Mr. Emery has devoted much time for a number of years to historical and genealogical research and writing. He has published several books on family history, chief among which being "The Howland Heirs," embodying the results of his labors in connection with the Howland family. His work on this case, involving the discovery the world over and his part in the distribution of the Howland trust, amounting to more than a million dollars, following the death of Mrs. Hetty Green in 1916, are well remembered.

During the last few years, Mr. Emery has made frequent appearances as a lecturer in Massachusetts and other states, his favorite topics being Eugene Field and Longfellow's Wayside Inn. At the presentation of the latter before the Massachusetts Society of Colonial Dames in Boston in February, one of Longfellow's daughters, Mrs. Joseph G. Thorp, Cambridge, the "Laughing Allegra" of "The Children's Hour," honored the occasion with her presence.

Member of Bowdoin Board.

Mr. Emery is a member of the Board of Overseers of Bowdoin College. He has taken a deep interest in the affairs of the Fall River Historical Society since its inception, and the directors since its reorganization with which he is first vice president. Mr. Emery is also a member of the Newport Art Association, and Authors' Club of London, England.

WILLIAM M. WOOD FUNERAL IN SHAWSHEEN Fall 9-26

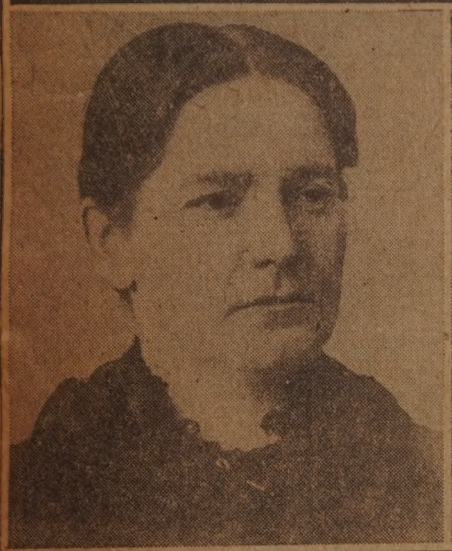
Prayers Before the Tomb

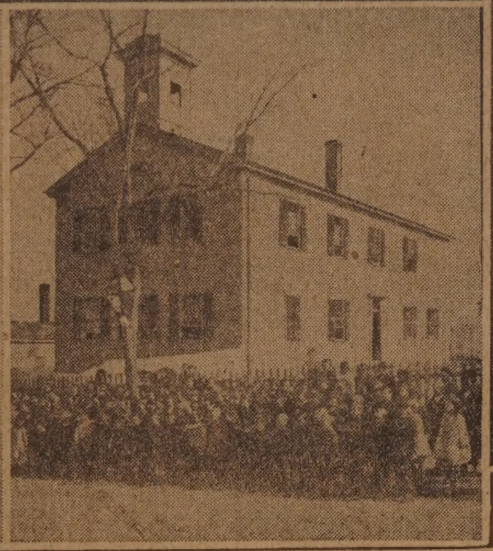
...rites for William M. Wood were held Sunday and the body was placed in the receiving vault at West Parish Cemetery on the outskirts of Shawsheen Village. In the group bared for the final words of the clergymen is Andrew G. Pierce of New Bedford (marked by X), president of the American Woolen Company.

CLERGYMAN BEGINS SERVICE HERE Jan 6-26

New Rector and Family

The Rev. George Buckley Krantz, Jr., new rector of St. James's Episcopal church, and his family. Left to right, George, 14, Mr. Krantz, Anna, 12, and Mrs. Krantz.





Teacher Completes 51 Years of Service in Public Schools Here

Half Century Ago and Now

Miss Isabella Luscomb (right), who teaches at the Clark street school, began her teaching career in New Bedford 51 years ago at the old Linden street school. At the lower left are pictures of Miss Luscomb as a young woman of 20, and the Linden street school as it appeared in that day. Today, minus its tower and its window blinds (upper left), it is No. 98 Linden street, a four family tenement.

Found Career
Very Congenial

HAS INSTRUCTED 3,000 CHILDREN

Looks Forward to Her Retirement in June, 1927, with Many Regrets COMMANDS ACUSHNET

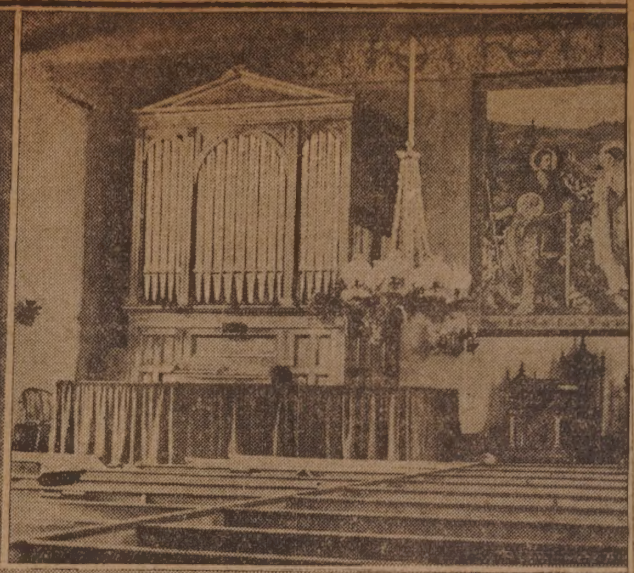
apr 6-26

Lieutenant Commander R. L. Lucas Takes Post on Coast Guard Cutter

Lieutenant Commander R. L. Lucas has assumed command of the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet, succeeding Lieutenant Commander J. A. Starr, who has been detached to take command of the United States destroyer Beale based on New London.

The new commander of the Acushnet comes to this station from the Coast Guard cutter Tuscarora, on which he had served as executive officer. Lieutenant Commander Lucas is a western man, calls Jackson's Hole, Wyo., near the lower end of Yellowstone Park his home, but since being in the Coast Guard service his duty has taken him both to the Atlantic and Pacific coast stations.

PASTORS
REV. HENRY JACOB	1616
" JOHN LOTHROP	1625
" THOMAS WALLEY	1663
" JONATHAN RUSSELL	1683
" JONATHAN RUSSELL	1712
" OAKES SHAW	1760
" ENOCH PRATT	1807
" ALFRED GREENWOOD	1836
" THOMAS RIGGS	1840
" ALONZO HAYES	1843
" EBENEZER CHASE	1851
" HIRAM CARLTON	1852
" HENRY A. GOODHUE	1863
" ROBERT SAMUEL	1883
" JEREMIAH K. ALDRICH	1886
" HANSON E. THYCESON	1890
" SAMUEL W. CLARKE	1894



West Barnstable Congregational Home Built in 1717

ANTI-SALOONERS AFTER TALKIN

Drys Declare Wet Org Newspaper Polls i sional Elections--- Immoral" in Ignori

Washington, March 13 (AP)—Th quarrel over prohibition went on to day—in the Capitol, in its corridor and at the White House.

It was largely a battle of forma statements, but it developed bits o real action when an Anti-Saloo League committee tooks its views t President Coolidge, and the Senat Judiciary Sub-committee, having o its hands the question of decidin for or against open hearings on mod ification bills, announced plans to Miss Betty D. Chapin.

MEDAL GIVEN GIRL RESCUER

Miss Betty D. Chapin Gets Girl Scout Award for Valor

Swimmer Saved New Bed- wning

OLD HOUSE IS SOLD

3/27/1926

Tracing Ownership of Dwelling Recalls Earlier History of City

School Street Residence Was Sturdily Built with Heavy Timbers

The recent sale to Harold W. Connolly of the one-family residence at 132 School street, the second house east of County street, on the south side of the street, is the first transfer of this property in many years. Tracing back its ownership serves to recall an earlier period in the city's history, for this house was built nearly 70 years ago.

The way in which the house is constructed is also a reminder of that period when a builder put into a house about twice the amount of timber that is now found to be necessary in the construction of a similar dwelling. The six-by-six timbers in the attic floor are one evidence of the size of the timbers in the house. Many of the timbers in the frame are fastened with wooden pins.

Mr. Connolly bought the property at Commissioner's sale. John Gibson was the Commissioner appointed by the Probate Court, and he was licensed to sell the property at private sale for $7,400 and distribute the proceeds among the heirs, most of them living in the West. There are ten of these heirs, five holding a one-sixth interest each, one a one-eighteenth interest and four a one-thirty-sixth interest each.

The heirs having a one-sixth interest were Harriet W. Deardorff, Aukum, Cal.; Charles J. Wood, Soda Springs, Ida.; Amelia E. Durand Johnson, Salt Lake City, Utah; Edward T. Wood, Alhambra, Cal., and Converse Merrill, New Bedford; Earle H. Mayhew, address unknown, had an eighteenth interest, and the four having a one-thirty-sixth interest each were Rhea Schuyler Mayhew (now Rhea Schuyler Mitchell), Oakland, Cal., Edward A. Schuyler, Los Angeles, Cald., Vera Schuyler McPike and Dorothy wall to form a breakfast alcove. A vapor steam heating system is being installed.

OLD HOUSE CHANGES HANDS

Dwelling is Sturdily Constructed

BROUGHT TELEPHONE TO NEW BEDFORD

March 25-26

Founders of Southern Massachusetts Company

Promoted by Mayor Hathaway

The new captains, top, William T. Cole (left) and Harry C. Ellis. Bottom, Raymond Chase (left) and Raphael Pieraccini.

MADE POLICE CAPTAINS

March 4-26

The Rev. Frank Lowe Phalen Was Minister at Fairhaven Church

Unitarian Clergyman Died of Pneumonia in Vermont

Funeral services for the Rev. Frank Lowe Phalen, former minister of the Unitarian Memorial Church, Fairhaven, and chaplain of the Soldiers' National Home at Togus, Me., who died Monday at Brattleboro, Vt., with pneumonia, will be held tomorrow at West Newton. Mr. Phalen was minister of the Fairhaven

The Rev. Frank Lowe Phalen.

April, 1913, and had a large number of friends in this city and Fairhaven.

Born in 1859.

He was born in Williamston, N. Y., May 9, 1859. He received his education in the public school in New York City, at Newburgh-on-the-Hudson, later attending Alfred University, Andover, and Meadville (Pa.) Theological Seminary. His first charge was at Wilton, N. H., where he remained for two years. Then after preaching five years at Brattleboro, Vt., he accepted a call to Concord, N. H.

His service at Concord covered a period of seven years, when he accepted a call to the Church of the Unity at Worcester. Here he served five years, resigning at the end of that time because of illness resulting from service in the Spanish-American War, when he served as chaplain of the First New Hampshire Volunteers. For a time he was chaplain of the Second Regiment, Massachusetts Militia.

Following his resignation at Worcester, Mr. Phalen spent a few years in travel and study, and in January, 1906, came to the Unitarian Memorial Church at Fairhaven. After a successful term, he preached his farewell sermon on April 27, 1913, leaving to spend a year or more in study abroad and then retire.

Mr. Phalen had been in failing health for more than a year. Besides a widow, he leaves one son, the Rev. Paul Phalen, minister of the Unitarian Church at West Newton, where funeral services will be held.

THE REV. FRANCIS C. B. SILVA, BAPTIST CLERGYMAN, IS DEAD

March 9 - 26

Founded Portuguese Chapel at Crapo and Thompson Streets---Active in Religious Work for Three Decades---Was Prominent Portuguese Language Newspaperman

The Rev. Francis C. B. Silva, pastor of the Portuguese Baptist Church, and a missionary among the Portuguese in this city for more than 30 years, died at 10:07 last night in his home at 184 Thompson street. His death followed an illness of diabetes complicated by a nervous affection.

During the past three decades the Rev. Mr. Silva has been very active in religious work, as well as social and other activities. He started the Portuguese mission in this city, and it thrived so that other missions were started all over New England. He founded A Alvorada, the present Portuguese daily newspaper, as a weekly. He acted for five years as an interpreter in Third District Court.

Came to U. S. When 18.

Mr. Silva was born in St. Michael's, Azores, 62 years ago. He came to America when 18, and went to California, where for four years he attended California College and Seminary at Oakland. When 26 he was converted to the Baptist faith. His education was finished at the Newton Center Theological Seminary, where he was graduated in 1895. While at Newton the idea came to him of establishing a mission in New Bedford. After leaving Newton, he returned and was able, in 1897, to erect the Portuguese Baptist Chapel at Crapo and Thompson streets.

The First Baptist Church, William street, is the mother church of the Portuguese congregation. Members of the latter are also taken into the Center Church. With his efforts at establishing a Baptist church among the Portuguese in this city successful, Mr. Silva and his helpers started missions in other cities, and ultimately churches of the same kind were established in Fall River, Somerset, Plymouth, Taunton, Providence, Bristol, Pawtucket, Boston and Cambridge. The original efforts of the New Bedford founder were carried on independently in the other cities.

MISSIONARY DIES

The Rev. Francis C. B. Silva.

HEADS "Y" DRIVE COMMITTEE

March 14 - 26

Mrs. G. Walter Williams

feet house was Mrs. Mary A rill, who had a life interest in the property as one of the heirs of the late Rebecca B. Wood, a former occupant of the house. The last transfer of the property was in 1883, when the house and 14.31 rods of land were sold to the late Charles W. Clifford and the late J. Arthur Beauvais, trustees under the will of Charles L. Wood, for the benefit of William Wood. The trustees bought the property from Charlotte C. Nye, executor under the will of her husband, Sylvanus G. Nye, and at this time the transfer was made for $6,000.

Tracing back the former owners of the property, the records show that the lot of land on which the present house stands was sold in 1857 by Ivory H. Bartlett, Jr., and George F. Bartlett to Sylvanus G. Nye, for $1,392.60. Since the records show that the Nyes mortgaged the property back to the Bartletts for $3,000 in 1857 it is fair to assume that it was about this year in which the present house was erected. The house is one of 14 rooms, and the property has a School street frontage of 45 feet and a depth of 86 feet.

The house bears many of the earmarks of the fine craftsmanship that went into the erection of dwellings of this type 70 years ago. There is a fine old marble mantle over one of the fireplaces, and the old method of constructing the chimney for this fireplace was to rest it on a slab on a level with the fireplace. This old chimney has been removed and a new one built. The old gray marble mantle will be preserved and retain its place over the fireplace.

Other evidences of construction methods of an earlier age are the wood panels under the windows, extending from the bottom of the windows to the floor level. Over the windows there are also ornamental caps. There is a fine old stairway with a curved balustrade leading from the front hall to the second floor. Interior changes to be made will include hardwood floors throughout the house, putting in two bathrooms and two other lavatories, the tearing out of a partition wall to build in a butler's pantry between the dining room and the kitchen, cutting a new window in the kitchen and utilizing a part of the very large [illegible] by making a new partition

...S CLOCK WHI...LL ...OWING TIME IN FOUR NATIONS

...seph Cabral, North End Mill Worker, Conceives Idea During Sickness—Chronometer Reveals Hour in London, Paris, Lisbon and U. S. Eastern

While confined to his home by illness about a year ago, Joseph Cabral, 82 Davis street, began to construct a clock with four faces which would show the correct time in as many different countries. Two weeks ago he completed his work which is proudly displayed on a table in the parlor of the Cabral home in the North End.

The illness which caused Mr. Cabral to be confined to his home resulted in a temporary paralysis of his limbs and made it almost impossible for him to walk about the rooms of his home for three months. To take his mind from the suffering he decided to build this clock. Always a jack-of-all-trades, he had been fascinated by the intricate mechanism of timepieces. For neighbors and friends he had often worked for hours repairing their clocks.

Studies Problem Long Time.

After obtaining gears, springs, and other necessities for the construction of timepieces he started to study his problem of making one clock which would show four different times. Mr. Cabral slowly combined the smaller wheels and springs into the machinery of his imagination for he had no model to work by.

Finally the mechanism of the clock was completed, after hours of study and planning each night after he had finished his daily task of operating an elevator in the Soule Mill where he has been employed for the last ten years. He printed the faces for his clock and each bears the name of a foreign city.

Represents Four Cities.

These cities are London, Paris, "National," and last but as Mrs. Cabral said "not least" is Lisbon, a city of his native country. Mr. Cabral said that the name "National" means Eastern Standard Time in this country, and might stand for a

...NSTR... FOUR-TIME CLOCK

Proud of His Invention

WINSLOW IS MAYOR FOR DA...

President of Aldermanic Board Picks Up Reins of Municipal Government in Absence of Mayor Hathaway

In the absence of Mayor Hathaway, who spent the day in Boston attending an important Civil Service conference, Henry S. Winslow, president of the Board of Aldermen, was Acting Mayor today. Mr. Winslow reached the Mayor's office about ten and remained through the day. Several applications for the position of fence viewer were taken by Mr. Winslow. Some of the applicants had the impression that the job provided steady work at an income of $2 a day. On the contrary a fence viewer is paid only when he works and then at the rate of $2 a day. At most the income from the position totals only about $25 a year.

RECEIVES PEN FROM FULLER

Mrs. John L. Burton Gets Quill with Which Governor Signed School Loan--Doyle Sponsored Gift

The quill pen with which Governor Alvan T. Fuller signed the act permitting New Bedford to borrow $1,200,000 outside its debt limit for schools has been presented by the Governor to Mrs. John L. Burton, New Bedford school committee member. It was accompanied by a personal letter from the Governor and is attached by a blue ribbon to a certified copy of the act.

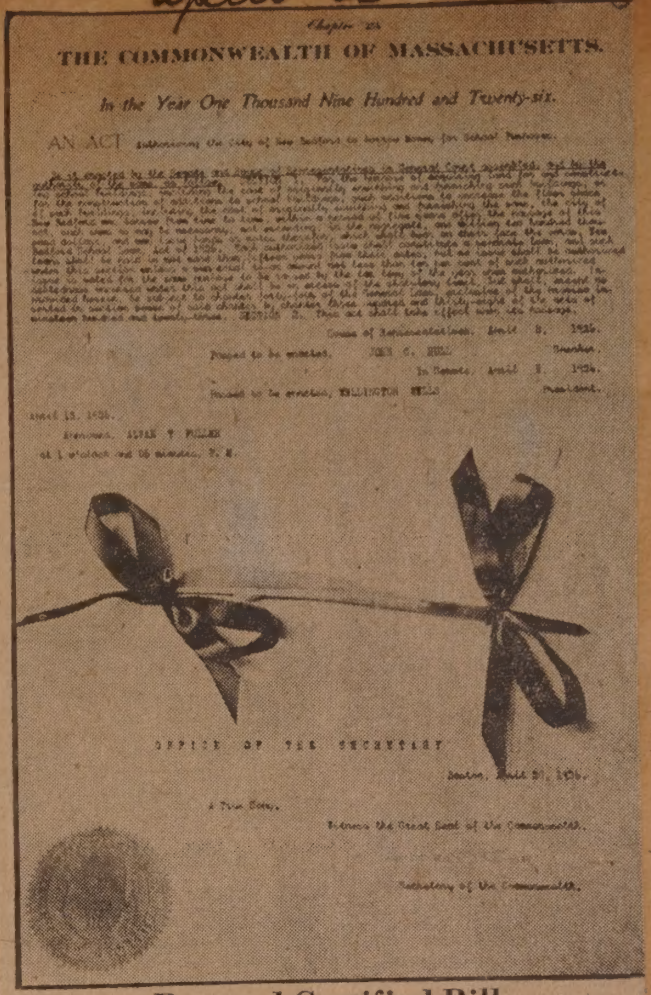
These souvenirs in recognition of the excellent work Mrs. Burton did in stating the needs of New Bedford's schools at a hearing March 15 before the Committee on Municipal Finance were awarded her through the good offices of Representative Andrew P. Doyle.

"Mrs. Burton made far and away the best appeal for the bill," said Mr. Doyle. "Her discussion of the social needs of the schools was a great help to me in convincing the committee that the bill should be passed. When I told Chairman Eben S. Draper that I wanted Mrs. Burton to get the pen with which the Governor signed the bill, Mr. Draper said, 'She deserves it.' "

Governor Fuller's letter to Mrs. Burton: "At the request of Representative Doyle, it gives me great pleasure to present to you herewith a quill with which I have today signed an act authorizing the city of New Bedford to borrow money for school purposes."

SOUVENIRS SENT BY GOVERNOR

April 23 - 26



THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-six.

AN ACT

Pen and Certified Bill

How the pen with which Governor Fuller signed New Bedford's $1,200,000 bill was presented to Mrs. John L. Burton.

ILL THREE WEEKS

4/14/26

JAMES F. HOYE, 61, SUCCUMBS

Retired Insurance Broker Was Ill Three Weeks with Pneumonia --- Wife and Three Daughters Survi

James F. Hoye, 61, retired ins... ance broker, died last night at ... home, 15 Pope street. He was ... three weeks with pneumonia. ... Hoye was engaged in the insurance business here for 24 years, prior to his retirement in 1916.

He was born in Blackstone, and educated in the public schools of that town. After his graduation from Blackstone High School he enrolled in a Providence commercial school where he received business training. For seven years he was head bookkeeper for the Lawrence Felting Company.

Coming to this city in 1892, Mr. Hoye engaged in the insurance business, and conducted a large agency here for 24 years. On Feb. 1, 1916, he sold out his interests to Paul and Dixon, and at that time retired from business.

Mr. Hoye is survived by a wife and three daughters, Mrs. Leo Kavanaugh of this city, Mrs. William Kerr Wollaston, and Mrs. Blanche Julliance of New York.

number of large clocks in the Eastern part of the United States, so he decided to create a name.

With the clock completed, it became necessary to decide upon some means of displaying it, so its inventor built a tower about three feet in height and placed the clock which is about four inches square in the top. Over each face he has placed four small flashlight bulbs which are operated by a drycell concealed in the base of the tower.

On the top of the tower is a silver eagle with spread wings denoting fleeting time, Mr. Cabral said. On one side of the base is a larger clock denoting the correct Eastern Standard time of the United States. On the opposite side two dials showing the month and day. A small windmill which revolves automatically by a rigging to the clockwork for a minute and remains still for an interval of two minutes is on the third side of the lower part of the tower. A small globe on the fourth side is rotated by the clockwork.

Beneath the larger clock, Mr. Cabral has painted a small American flag, and beside it a heart with a sword plunged through it. When asked what this latter painting signified, the inventor said it was just something which he had seen somewhere and so he painted it on the tower of his clock. The flag and the heart are also painted on the side below the dials denoting the date.

Born in Portugal.

With pride Mr. Cabral stands before his clock and points to the diversence of time in the various countries represented on his work. It was shortly after Mr. Cabral had come home from work yesterday noon that a reporter viewed his creation. The clock for London showed that it was almost dinner time in London for it was 5:15. In Paris it was 5:20 and in Lisbon, 4:35.

Born in Portugal in 1889, Mr. Cabral worked on his father's farm as a youth. He came to this country about 14 years ago and has been employed in the mills here since that time. His wife, Marie, to whom he presented the clock as a gift, takes considerable interest in showing the present to her neighbors and friends and tells of the many hours of labor and concentration which her husband spent in constructing the timepiece. There are two children in the family, Rose, ten, and her brother, Arthur, five.

NEW BEDFORD'S NET WORK OF MAIN ARTERIES FOR MOTORIZED TRAFFIC

March 7 - 1926

DR. ANDREW B. CUSHMAN HONORED

May 5-26

Pupils Present Loving Cup

Principals in the presentation of a silver loving cup to Dr. Andrew B. Cushman, school physician and former school committeeman at Cushman School, Dartmouth, this morning, are, from left to right, Charles Pires, who presented the cup on behalf of the pupils; Antone Ponte, Dr. Cushman, and Harold I. Moore, principal of Cushman School.

FOR VALOR.—John B. Cornell of Cuttyhunk, one of the men who went to the rescue of the crew of the Wanderer in 1924, showing to Joseph L. Campbell, Jr., the medal presented to him and his comrades on the Mojave April 19

May 16, 1926.

May 9, 1926.

THEY GET THEIR DIPLOMAS IN JUNE.—The High School class of June, 1926, grouped on the High School steps.

THE FALL RIVER PUBLIC LIBRARY. This, and the picture to the right, give glimpses of the interior beauties of the library with whose exterior most New Bedford people are familiar. Above is a view of the entrance to the open shelf department.

A MUNICIPAL GREENHOUSE.—Snapped at Buttonwood, this picture gives a glimpse of flowers and shrubs which the city grows under glass for the beautification of the parks.

May 16, 1926

—Photo by Lester L. Jenkins

A MONUMENT TO WARRIORS.—In Falmouth stands a World War memorial to which mothers and other relatives come with frequency in honor of their heroes.

Oct. 18, 1925.

THE ART GALLERY. Some of the treasures of Fall River's Library.

May 2, 1926.

A CUSTODIAN OF BOOKS AND A DISPENSER OF CULTURE. Harrison Cummings, librarian of the Fall River public library.

HEADS CONFERENCE

May 14 26

The Rev. Uel Anderson, of Smith Mills.

NURSES WHO BRING HEALTH TO CHILDREN. — On the Board of Health staff are, left to right, top row, Miss Bert... P. Riddock, and Miss Gladys M. Taylor; second row, Miss Azubah Dexter, Miss Kathleen F. McCabe, Mrs. Harriet... Murphy, Miss Lena McFarland, Miss Estelle R. Reca, Miss Beryl I. Ross; first row, Mrs. Priscilla M. LaBrode... Miriam S. Houghton, Miss Edith Gifford, Miss Isabel Fitzgerald, Miss Elsie M. MacLeod, Miss Mary J. Rec... Philomena E. Gifford.

Mar. 21, 1926.

Photo by A. C. Church.

THE MIRACLE OF THE FISHES.—The mackerel are running now and this is a familiar scene on New Bedford fishing boats off Block Island. The men handling the fish wear goggles to protect their eyes from the flying scales.

HEADS ALIEN OFFICE

12/26-26

JAMES J. McGUINN, who has directed the work of the Division of Immigration and Americanization in this city since April 1.

A NEW EMBELLISHMENT AT BUTTONWOOD PARK. — A lily pond is to be the central feature of new garden development. Laddie, the collie belonging to Peter Keith, the park gardener, is on guard. May 16, 1926

IVE THEIR PERFORMANCE, RAIN, SNOW, OR SHINE.—Storms prove but small hindrance to the Instructive Nursing Association, members of which do their duties whether it's hot or whether it's cold. In the front row, left to right, are Mrs. Jane Frawley, Miss Emily Rogers, Mrs. Louise Borden, Miss Margaret Campbell, Miss Lillian Seaman; rear row, Miss Jean N. Hume, Mrs. Bertha Irons, Miss Dorothy Buttle, Miss Grace E. Smalley. Mar. 21, 1926.

—Photograph by J. L. Sherman, Fall River.

TOO SMALL FOR TWO NEW BOATS AT ONCE—The landing at Woods Hole which is to be rebuilt after this summer's service ends.

Apr. 11, 1926

IN GARB OF DAYS GONE BY—Mrs. C. E. P. Thompson sang a contralto part in the Woman's Club old folks concert.

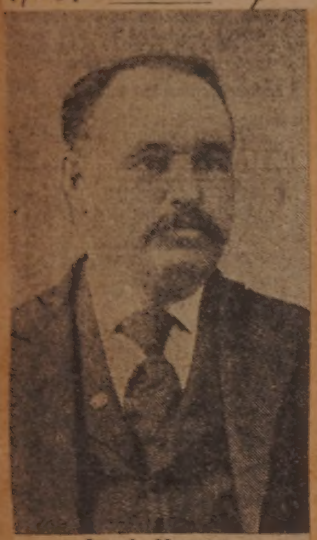
Broughtons Revisit Fairhaven Scenes as Sapphire Excites Envy in Harbor

aper-11-26

FORMER CITY OFFICIAL DIES

Joseph Magnant, 70, Succumbs to Third Paralysis Stroke 12/16

1926

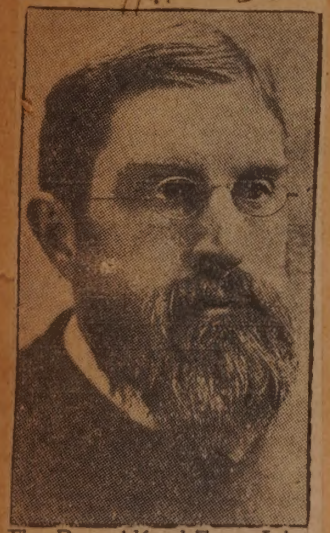


Joseph Magnant.

Fairhaven's Distinguished Visitors

Upper left: Urban H. Broughton. Upper right: William R. Coe, Mrs. Broughton's brother-in-law, a guest aboard the Sapphire. Lower left: Captain A. R. C. Reavley, skipper of the Sapphire. Lower right: Mrs. Carrie Leland Rogers Broughton, leaving the Sapphire's launch at the Atlas Tack Company wharf, Fairhaven, accompanied by her elder son, Huttleston Broughton.

FIRST RECTOR
9/11-26



The Rev. Alfred Evan Johnson, Orlando, Fla., to Preach at St. Martin's

The Rev. Alfred Evan Johnson, Orlando, Fla., rector of St. Martin's Episcopal Church during the time that the present structure was planned and most of it built, will assist and preach at the morning services of the church tomorrow.

Mr. Johnson is at present conducting a Bible course in the Cathedral School for Girls, Orlando. Older members of the church will remember Mr. Johnson as the rector under whose ministry the Olivet Mission was established under its present name of St. Martin's Church. The church building was erected as a memorial to his wife.

Mr. Johnson was a visitor at St. Martin's Church in June of last year.

apr 11-26

MRS. BROUGHTON'S GIFT TO HER FATHER'S TOWN

Interior of the Fort

Fort Phoenix From the Water

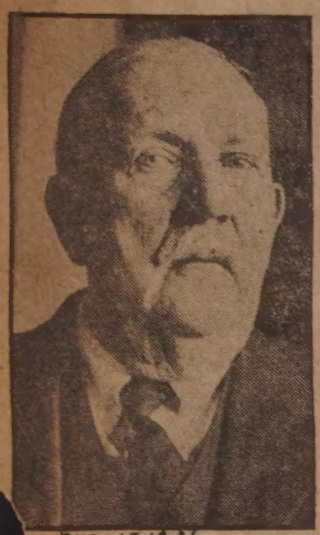
Achieves Boyhood Wish to Be Authority on Precious Stones

apr 11-26

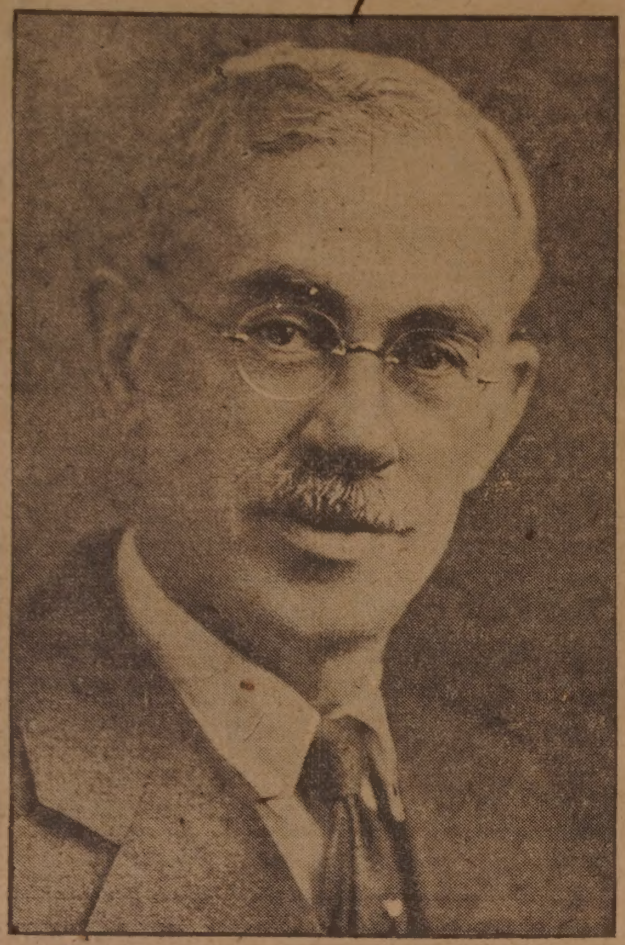
Frank B. Wade, Former New Bedford Man, Also Noted Educator

HAS PUBLISHED SEVERAL BOOKS

Love of Diamonds Rivals Pleasure Derived from Teaching Chemistry



May 15, 1926.
Robert E. Knapp.



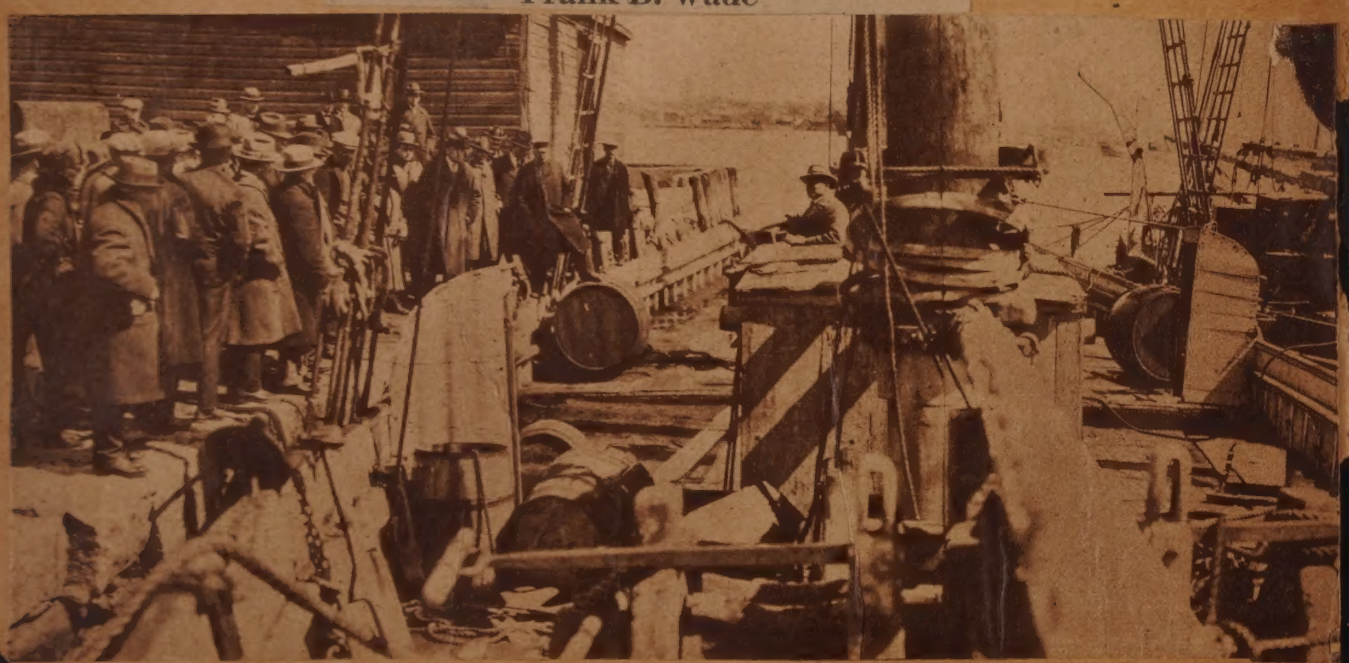
Frank B. Wade

LEAVING ACUSHNET

Mar 3-26

Lieutenant E. S. Endon Transferred to Destroyer Trippe

Lieutenant (j. g.) (T) E. S. Endon, engineer officer of the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet, has been transferred to similar duties aboard the destroyer Trippe. The transfer becomes effective May 15. Lieutenant Endon joined the Acushnet as an ensign in December, 1924, coming from the cutter Manning.



NEW TE

Relic of Olden Days

Unique little relic of by-gone days, this little boy used for tethering horses, comes under the aldermanic ban on all hitching posts in the city. John Curran, 67 Willis street, one of the kids who used him as a playmate, is shown with him. Apr. 20, 1926.

LITTLE IRON BLACK LAD, PAL OF CHILDREN, BOWS AT EDICT

Owner Hopes Special Dispensation by Aldermen Will Let Playmate of Youngsters for Two Generations Stay at His Post Despite Ban on Hitching Stands

CHURCH BUYS PROPERTY

May 9-26-

Baptists to Enlarge Quarters

Here is shown a view, looking east, of the property which has just been acquired by the First Baptist Church on William street. The property, located just west of the church building, has for many years been known as the Cornish house, taking its name from the late Dr. Aaron Cornish, who lived there for many years. Dr. Cornish's son, the Rev. Louis C. Cornish, formerly the minister of the old Ship Church in Hingham, left that pastorate to become secretary at large of the American Unitarian Association. The First Baptist Church buys the property in order that it may enlarge its church, providing quarters that will more adequately meet the needs of the large church school.

May 4, 1926.

BEDFORD STILL HAS MARITIME IN-TS.—They are illustrated in this picture uctioning by Deputy United States illargeon of the Cape Verde packets Athlete at Merrill's Wharf.

OF ANCIENT INDESCRIBABLE CHARM.—An old dwelling at June and French street, Fall River. June 14, 1925.

...PTAIN SKIFF DIES, AGED 91

May 12-26

One of Oldest Citizens of New Bedford, Learned Two Trades

Belonged to Old Engine Company, Planted Trees on Common

Captain Albert Chester Skiff, last of the family of nine born to Thomas and Rebecca Skiff, and one of New Bedford's oldest citizens, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lotta G. Handford, 53 Richmond street, in his 92nd year. Death was due to hardening of the arteries. Although he danced three sailor's dances on his 90th birthday, Dec. 22, 1924, the captain had not been in his usual good health since last Fall.

Captain Skiff was born in 1834 on Phillips road. He had four brothers and four sisters, the last of whom died several years ago. He received his schooling in the little old red schoolhouse on the County road. After leaving school, he studied two trades, those of a calker and of a shipbuilder. In the latter, he worked a time on the whaling bark ...s W. Morgan, now enshrined ...nd Hills. While learning the may 31 1926.

Captain Albert Chester Skiff.

—Photo by Howard M. Wood.

GETTING READY FOR THE LOBSTER SEASON —This picture, taken at Menemsha on Martha's Vineyard, is typical of the activity among the lobster fishermen at this season of the year.

Planted Trees on Common.

He journeyed out to "Old Deacon Braley's farm on Braley's Hill, near Rochester," he said, and dug up the young trees. He then carried them to the east side of the Common and planted them, all for a quarter a tree from the city.

He enjoyed the distinction of having voted in the old marketplace, south of Union street, used before New Bedford became a city.

Captain Skiff was master of several vessels. On one occasion when he sailed to the Carolinas, Georgia, Florida and Louisiana to get live oak for government shipbuilding. 47 of his crew were stricken with yellow fever. He did not have it.

For 26 years he went fishing out of Tiverton and was the last of the old fishermen who used to sail from that port. John Cundall Howland, Tiverton's oldest inhabitant, was died at the age of 93 recently, was the second last survivor.

Captain Skiff leaves three children, Mrs. Alice E. Gray, John T. Skiff and Mrs. Handford, all of New Bedford; five grandchildren, Mrs. Edna L. Schials, Albert C. Gray, Mrs. Marian Hilton and John A. and Gladys Handford, all of New Bedford; and nine great grandchildren.

SUCCUMBS AT 88

may 1-26

Miss Elizabeth N. Crowell.

DEATH CLAIMS MISS CROWELL

Is Remembered as Music Teacher, Church Worker, and Picture Importing Business Woman

Miss Elizabeth N. Crowell, 88, died at 6:15 last evening at her home, 20 Seventh street, as a result of an illness that had developed from a cold.

Miss Crowell was the daughter of Allen H. and Abigail Crowell, and was born in North Falmouth, coming with her parents to this city many years ago. Here she had made her home ever since, a woman who had a wide circle of friends, though she lived a retired life. Miss Crowell at one time taught music, but a large number will remember her as having carried on for many years a picture importing business. She imported many prints, displaying and selling them at her home.

Remembered for Church Work.

Another circle of friends will always think of her in connection with Trinitarian Congregational Church, of which she was a member for many years. She was active in the Sunday school for more than 50 years. Miss Crowell and Miss Cynthia Driggs were for many years associated in carrying on work among the youngest children of the church school.

Miss Crowell had been feeble for a number of years, and in recent years had become nearly blind. She was always active, however, and interested in the events of the day, frequently going out and interested in receiving calls from friends.

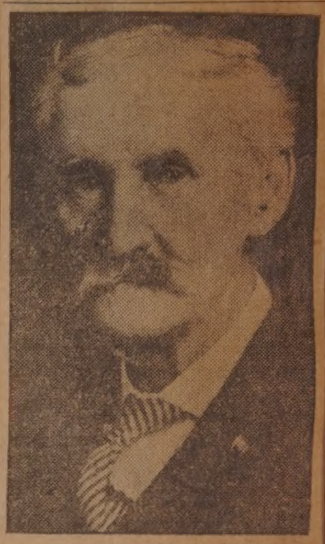
apr 28

Benjamin W. Taylor, Civil War Soldier, Dies Suddenly While Dressing

1926

Victim Was Sole Survivor of Famed Stone Fleet Episode

Benjamin W. Taylor, veteran of the Civil War and said to be the sole survivor of famed Stone Fleet episode, died suddenly, yesterday morning, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clifton P. Tuell, 341 Orchard street, at the age of 83. He was stricken with a heart attack while dressing and died within a few minutes.



Benjamin W. Taylor.

A native of Nantucket, Mr. Taylor came to New Bedford at the age of five, and this city had since been his home, although most of his early life was spent on board whaling vessels. He went to sea when just a boy and followed the whaling profession up to the outbreak of the Civil War.

The Stone Fleet was a group of whaling vessels loaded with stone sent to block Charleston harbor at the outbreak of the war. Mr. Taylor served on the bark Garland, under the command of Captain Rodney French. During the war, he served both in the Army and Navy, enlisting in the 23rd Infantry following his service on the Garland.

He was a member of the crew of the whaler Lafayette when that vessel was captured by the Alabama and burned off the island Fernando de Noronha, off the coast of Brazil. Mr. Taylor was a member of Post One, G. A. R.

Although he had been subject to occasional heart attacks and had been told by his physician that sudden death might be expected, Mr. Taylor was unusually active both physically and mentally, for his age. He had been up and about the house until the day of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage about five years ago. For the past seven years they have been living at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Tuell.

Mr. Taylor is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emily J. Taylor; two daughters, Mrs. Fred Blossom and Mrs. Clifton P. Tuell; and one brother, George W. Taylor, all of this city.

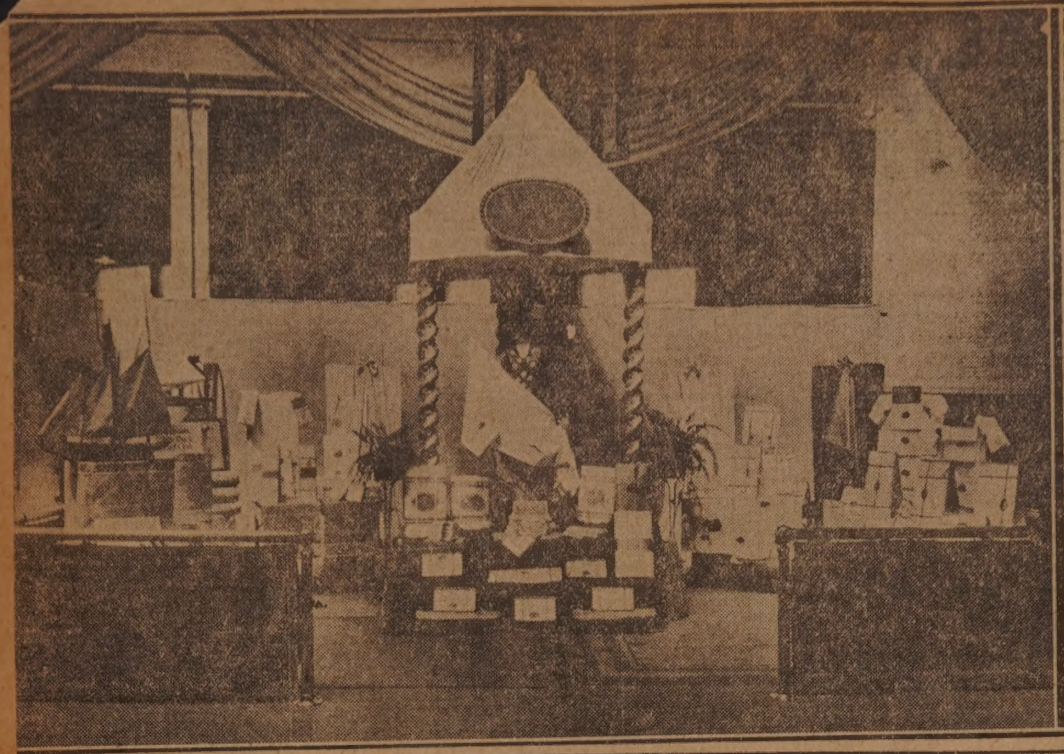
SHOEMAKER DIES

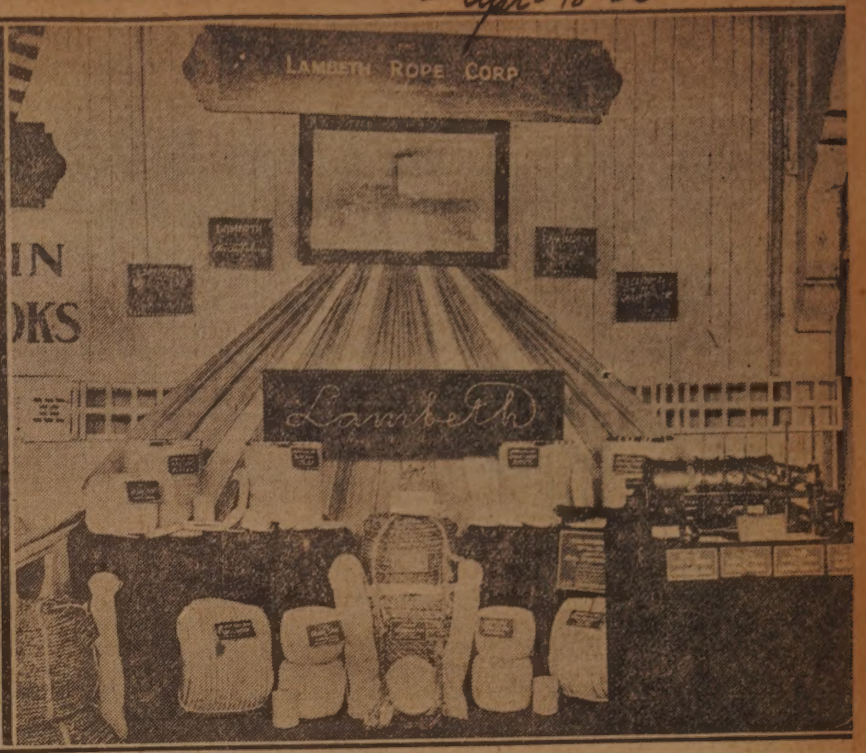
85-26

...US, 61, for many ...aker in this city, ... Cedar street,

EW BEDFORD BOOTHS MADE GOOD SHOWING AT BIG TEXTILE SHOW IN BOSTON THIS WEEK

- Apr. 18-26 -





A MIRROR PROVIDED BY NATURE—In the waters of Taunton River are reflected the buildings and trees on its banks. The picture is taken from Adams Street Bridge, looking south toward Taunton. Dec. 13, 1925.

A CAPE COD MAIN STREET.—Picturesque, and business-like as well, is Main street, Hyannis. The picture is taken looking north. Jan. 10, 1926.

CLUB TREASURER

May 16-26

MRS. CHARLES R. HUNT, who was elected treasurer of the Women's Republican Club of New Bedford at the recent annual meeting of the club. Mrs. Hunt is also regent of Fort Phoenix Chapter D. A. R., and is nominated for re-election at the annual meeting of that chapter tomorrow afternoon.

IN WITH THE NETS—At Menemsha, near Gay Head, Marthas Vineyard.

Apr. 11, 1926

144

May 23, 1926.

Wide World Photo.

BRIDES, PAST AND PRESENT.—Four ages of wedding gowns were displayed at the annual fashion show in Philadelphia. Left to right: Mabel Slifer in the bridal garb of 1776; Gertrude Lampe, 1826; Kathryn Stanley, 1876; Betty Stetson, 1926.

ITS FIRST 100 YEARS WERE HARDEST.—On the main road from Onset to Buzzards Bay at Point Independence stands this house, unused except occasionally in the Summer, which is known to be more than 100 years old. It is owned by Samuel C. Chubbuck, 70, and has been in the family many years.

Jan. 10 1926.

Photo by A. C. Church.

"SHOVE OVER THE SEINE BOAT!"—An exciting moment aboard a big Gloucester fisherman when a school of mackerel is sighted ahead.

—James K. Donaghy, High School physical education director, showing Carlton Sundin how to put the reverse English on a baseball.

Apr. 25, 1926.

GOOD-BY, OLD DOBBIN, GOOD-BYE—The first hitching post at the Court House falls, a victim to the tune of time, destroying the last vista of Old Dobbin, whose metropolitan reign is given ov to the "horseless carriages" now lining the curbing where used to wait. The motorist whose car is on the right will n able to open his door.

May 23, 1926.

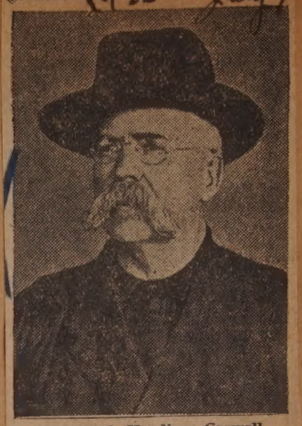
146

OVER HILL, OVER DAL... E—Riders and guests of the Rockdale Riding Club "count off" before a bracing canter. Left to right: H. J. Messie...r; Seabury Cook, guest; Emmons Slocumb, groom; Hans Best, groom; W. J. Downey; Edward V. Lahey; Tom McDe...rmott; George Slocumb, groom (standing); Harold Dahill; Edward DeMoranville, guest; Clif Higham; Isaac Daws...n; Edward J. Moore; Fred B. Drew, and Frank McGowan. May 23, 1926.

—Photograph... by A. F. Packard

HISTORIC TAUNTON GREEN—Around the beautiful plat ar... County Court-houses and other ... of law and ... admin... 29, 1925.

SUCCUMBS AT 78 1926 July 7



Nathaniel Harding Caswell.

DEATH TAKES BLACKSMITH

Nathaniel Harding Caswell Succumbs After Several Weeks' Illness

Served as City Fireman and Shod Mules on Pasque Island

Nathaniel Harding Caswell, 78, 38 Trinity street, for more than 50 years a well-known blacksmith of this city, died last night after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Caswell was born in Union, Me., in 1847, and came to New Bedford when 17. After driving a milk cart for a short time Mr. Caswell went to work for William D. Sherman, learning the blacksmith trade as an apprentice and journeymen for seven years. At the end of this period he and his brother Amos bought out Mr. Sherman and the brothers did a thriving business for another seven years. Mr. Caswell then became sole proprietor and continued in business for himself.

Shod Mules on Island.

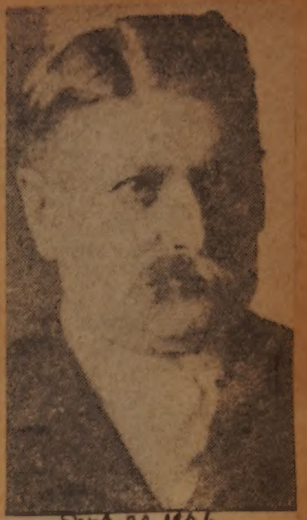
He did work for the Pairpoint Manufacturing Company for many years and yearly went to Pasque Island to shoe mules used there by members of a fishermen's club in transportation across the island. At one time he went live-oaking to Florida for the Swift firm of this city.

In addition to running his blacksmith shop Mr. Caswell was for 23 years a member of the New Bedford Fire Department, serving on Hook and Ladder Company No. 1.

He was a member of the Tiger Lodge of this city.

Mr. Caswell is survived by two daughters and two sons, Mrs. Eunice M. Simister, Mrs. Susie H. Nevins, Watertown, George A. Caswell, New Bedford, and Nathaniel H. Caswell, New Bedford. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Sarah M. Wilson, Boston, 11 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

AMONG THE SWEET-SCENTED BLOSSOMS.—Most anyone would become poetic when intoxicated by the perfume of such apple blossoms as these found on Braley road.



Sept. 22, 1926.

Frank Gideon Carpenter, 65, Succumbs After Illness of Week

Frank Gideon Carpenter, 65, 44 Summer street, died at his home Sunday, after an illness of a week. Pneumonia was given as the cause of death.

He was survived by his widow, Mrs. Ida P. Carpenter, and two sisters, Mrs. Edward B. Gray, 745 County street, and Mrs. Samuel Robertson, 29 Emerson street.

Mr. Carpenter was a native of New Bedford. He has been employed as a shoe clerk at the store of the Lucas Shoe Company and more recently at Nichols and Damon's store. He was a member of New Bedford Grange and the Musicians Union.

1926. From Howard M. Wood Collection.

SAILING UNKNOWN SEAS. — Captain Otis S. Flanders, whose death is mourned by fellow townspeople of Martha's Vineyard, was called "Uncle Otis" by his friends. He was a ship carpenter by trade. His few short poems breathed the romance of the sea and storm. This photograph was taken at Menemsha Creek, August, 1924.

TO DEDICATE NEW CHAPEL.—The new chapel at St. John's cemetery will be dedicated today. May 30, 1926.

...N. — Familiar to many of those ...ds is the veteran steamship Gay Head of the New Bedford, Martha's Vineyard, and Nantucket Steamboat Company, which plied between the city and Nantucket in days gone by.

July 10, 1926.

George Fox Tucker.

WHEN FACTORY FLOURISHED YEARS AGO—The picture shows the old A. Field and Company, later A. Field and Sons, tack factory ton River a quarter of a mile below the factory. The Field shops started in 1827 and reached the outlines shown in the picture in 18

, 19 Spring street, Taunton. The water is Mill River which empties into the Taun-59. The Atlas Tack Corporation took over the property in 1891. April 18, 1926.

ACCEPTS NEW JOB

Ellery L. Vogel

6/25/26

BANK OFFICER RESIGNS POST

Ellery L. Vogel Leaves to Accept Position in Northampton

Assistant Cashier Started Banking Career After High School Graduation

"THE RIVER"—This picture by William Baylies, New Bedford artist, was recently shown at Tilden and Thurber's, Providence, in an exhibition of Dutch and American landscapes.
Nov. 5, 1926.

IE SMITHY STILL STANDS—Inside, the blacksmith performs his duties while an onlooker watches with interest. The shop is on the Beach road to Vineyard Haven.
Sept. 20, 1925.

The Rev. Antonio J. Rodrigues
Sept. 11, 1926.

WHERE LAND MEETS SEA AND THE SKY—Lonely, forlorn, and beautifully desolate is this section of Hyannis harbor, with the old steamboat wharf plunging out into the water. Jan. 3, 1926

A STONY BULWARK AGAINST WORLDLY STRIFE. — Strong and firm, the Trinitarian Congregational Church in Taunton seems quite capable of repelling menacing present-day controversy. Jan. 24, 1926.

FAMOUS FOR ITS STEEPLE—Congregational Church in Sandwich is outstanding for its Christopher Wren steeple, one of two in New England constructed from the design of the great English architect. The church was built in 1848 on the site of a predecessor which was destroyed by fire. Antics of the weather vane on top puzzle residents of Sandwich, winds blowing the vane at right angles and then back into position.

RESIGNS POST

9/22/26

A. H. Andrews Leaves Board of Commerce for Portland, Me.

Photo by William F. Dammon.

CASKS OF WHALE OIL—A scene like this one would be difficult to find today. Merrill's Wharf, at the foot of Walnut street, is shown packed with barrels of whale oil, the reward of the men who chased the leviathan.

FAIRHAVEN IN ADOLESCENT DAYS—The place was a pretty little sleepy-town when this photo graph was taken. The building at the right of the church was the Dr Atwood house and is now the Town Hall, facing Center street. The large structure in the foreground is the Phoenix Block, Center and Main streets.

FAIRHAVEN TURNS OUT TO BID MRS. BROUGHTON FAREWELL

apr- 15-26

At Fort Phoenix Yesterday

Photos by A. F. Packard of Standard.

Flags and handkerchiefs waved Mrs. Urban H. Broughton goodbye yesterday afternoon from Fort Phoenix as the Broughton yacht Sapphire steamed out of the harbor. The Sapphire went to Oyster Bay. Early in May the Broughtons will leave the Sapphire and return to England on a passenger liner.

Photo by Thyolonia T. Chase.

FRIENDS PATRIARCH OF DARTMOUTH — Job S. Gidley, a birthright member of the Society of Friends, at 82 looks back on a lifetime spent in exemplification of "peace on earth, good will toward men."

1926.

Photo by Howard M. Wood

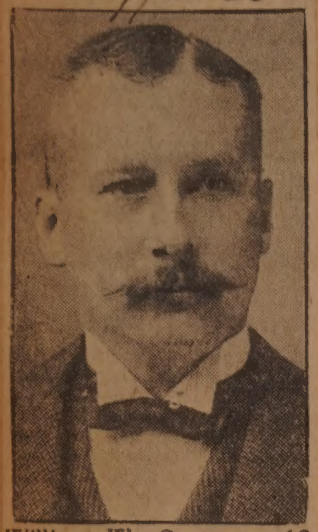
WHERE BLOSSOMS SCENT THE BREEZE—Apple trees in full transform Braley's road into a Spring panorama of pastorial beauty. June 20, 1926.

Photo by Harris and Ewing.

MILLET'S MEMORY SURVIVES—Friends of Francis Davis Millet, native of Mattapoisett, war correspondent, and artist, and Major A. W. Butt, military aide to President Taft, both victims of the Titanic disaster, erected this memorial fountain near the White House grounds. Millet's sketches for mural paintings in New Bedford Public Library were lost at sea. Aug 4 1926

NATIVE OF CITY

7/28/26



William W. Cranston, 62, Dies After Illness of Week

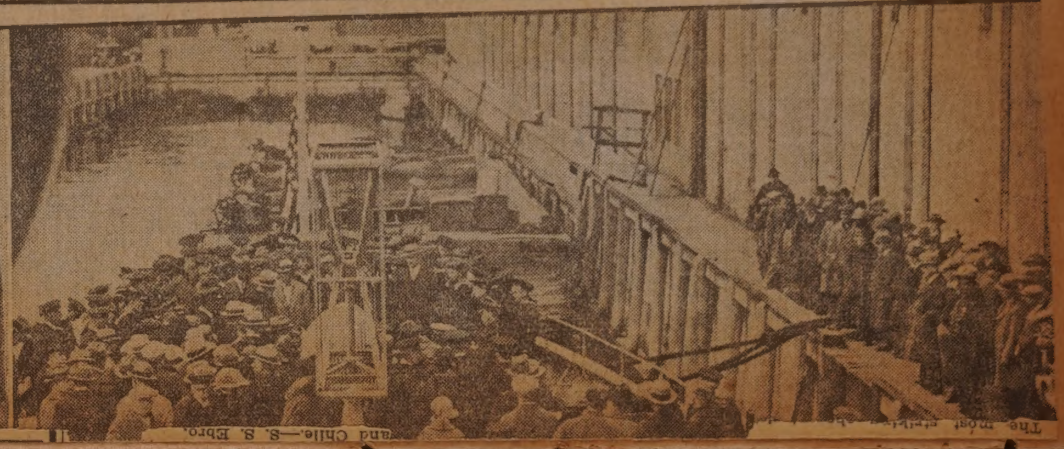
William W. Cranston, 62, died Saturday evening at his home, 143 Washington street, after a week's illness. Mr. Cranston was a native of New Bedford and had worked as clerk at C. F. Wing Company, for 35 years.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Alice Cranston, and a sister, Mrs. Herbert J. Eddy, Oak Bluffs. Funeral services were held at his home this afternoon.

Rabbi Alexander Bernstein, 1926

HEROES OF WANDERER DISASTER AWARDED MEDALS

apr. 20-26

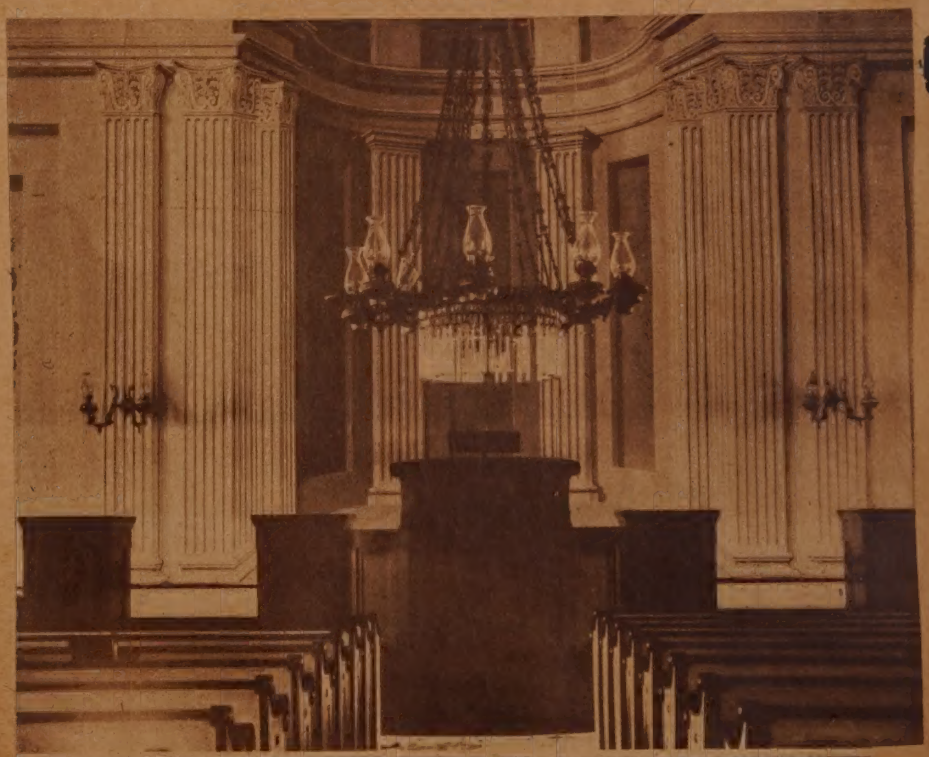


and Chile.—S. S. Ebro.

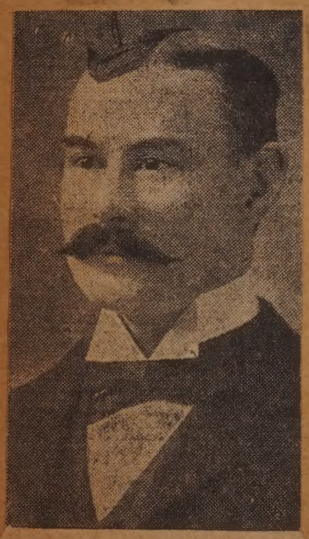
On Deck of Cutter Mojave

The above pictures show principals in the presentation yesterday morning of life-saving medals awarded by Congress to five men who rescued the crew of the whaling bark Wanderer, Aug. 26, 1924. The heroes wearing their medals are shown in the upper left picture. Reading from left to right: Mrs. Humphrey I. Jamieson, Captain Humphrey I. Jamieson, Mrs. Louis J. Ramos, Louis J. Ramos, John Cornell, Howard Cornell, Isaiah Tilton, Mrs. Isaiah Tilton and Congressman Charles L. Gifford. The Congressional Life-Saving Medal is shown in the upper right picture. Arthur W. Forbes, president of the New Bedford Board of Commerce, who arranged the presentation ceremony, is shown in the lower left hand corner. The picture on the lower right shows the presentation ceremony on the quarterdeck of the Coast Guard Cutter Mojave.

CAPE CODDERS WORSHIP HERE.—The old Hatchville Congregational Church in East Falmouth is one of the oldest churches in the vicinity, reflecting the simple charm of early Cape Cod architecture. June 20, 1926.



BEAUTY OF LINE IN CHURCH PULPIT—The original pulpit of the Church of the Redeemer, Universalist, Provincetown, has been restored. The pulpit is of solid mahogany and is in harmony with the grace and beauty of the building. June 20, 1926.

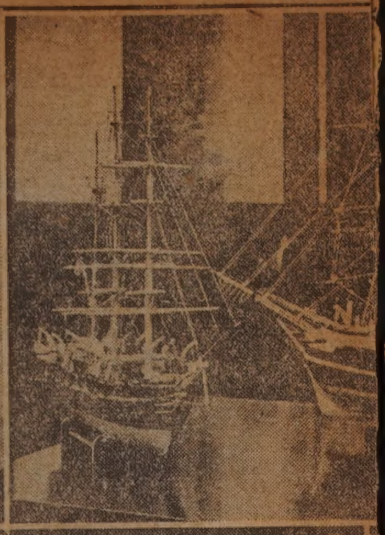


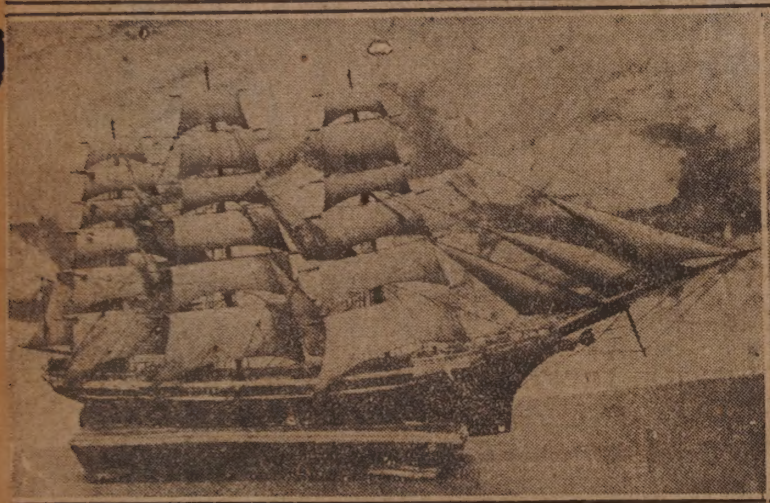
Dr. Henry A. Razou.

Aug. 11, 1926.

DIES AT HOME IN HARBOR VIEW

TREASURED SHIP MODELS ON EXHIBITION





Model Craftsmanship at Its Best

Treasured ship models on view at the New Bedford Institution for Savings. Left to right, above, whaling barks in miniature: "Wanderer," owned by William C. Hawes; "Harry and Etta," owned by Henry P. Burt; "Andrew Hicks," owned by Thomas F. Glennon; "Canton," owned by William Deacon; "Morning Star," owned by John Duff; "Alice nKowles," owned by Timothy J. Crowley. Second row, "Wanderer," made and owned by Joseph Perry; "Wanderer," owned by William H. Tripp; "America," (clipper ship) owned by Andrew G. Pierce. Below, clipper ship model owned by Henry P. Burt; bark "Kathleen," owned by Edward H. Cook.

HERE may 2-26

The spire of the Church of the Redeemer, Universalist, Provincetown, is copied from one in England designed by Christopher Wrenn. On Summer days the artists sit with palette and easel on the hill overlooking the church and put on canvas the beauty of the tower.
June 20, 1926.

WAS POLICEMAN HERE 20 YEARS

Daniel Meehan, 79, Dies at New Haven; Pensioned Oct. 13, 1917 9/10

Injured in Performance of Duty, Twice Wounded in Civil War

Daniel Meehan, 79, who was pensioned from the New Bedford Police Department, Oct. 13, 1917, died in New Haven, Conn., yesterday.

Daniel Meehan.

160

Photo by Howard M. Wood

WITH SAILS UNFURLED—Passengers on board the steamer Uncatena watch a passing schooner in Vineyard Sound. June 20, 1926.

IN UNIFORM OF 1865

Nathan C. Bumpus

July 27, 1926.

SERVED AT 18 IN CIVIL WAR

Nathan C. Bumpus, 79, Dies in Acushnet House Where He Had Lived 37 Years--- Born in East Wareham

Nathan C. Bumpus, 79, Acushnet farmer, and veteran of the Civil War, died yesterday morning at his home, 649 Main street, Acushnet, of complications resulting from hardening of the arteries. He had been in poor health for five years, and seriously ill since last December.

Mr. Bumpus was born in East Wareham, Sept. 23, 1846. He came to Acushnet when a boy, and had lived 37 years in the house where he died.

As a youth of 18 he served during the last year of the Civil War, first with Company H and then with Company L, 2nd Massachusetts Regiment, Volunteer Service, Heavy Artillery.

Mr. Bumpus was a member of Perry Hill Christian Church. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Susan Helen (Ellis) Bumpus; two sons, Ebenezer E. Bumpus, Brockton, Rowland S. Bumpus, Acushnet; four daughters, Mrs. Horace Borden and Mrs. Mabel F. Tripp, New Bedford; Miss Harriett S. Bumpus and Mrs. Valetta E. Richardson, Acushnet; and nine grandchildren.

A sister, Mrs. Caroline P. Baker, San Diego, Cal., also surviving, is the last living member of a family of ten.

NEVER LOST SHIP

Captain Stephen F. Cottle

1926

VETERAN ARCTIC WHALEMAN DIES

Captain Stephen F. Cottle Succumbs to Shock at San Francisco

Native of Vineyard, Went to Sea at 16; Never Was Shipwrecked

(Special to The Standard)

Vineyard Haven, Sept. 18.—News reached the Vineyard today of the death in San Francisco Tuesday of Captain Stephen F. Cottle, a veteran Arctic whaling captain and former master of the whaler Belvedere, the last of the old Lewis Arctic whaling fleet. Death came to Captain Cottle [illegible] hospital in the city where he [illegible] his home for the last 25 or 30 [illegible] Death was due to an apo- [illegible] He was 86.

162

SPECIALISTS ON BOOKS.—Old Dartmouth Library Club heard many angles on books from eminent librarians when the members convened here June 4.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cunningham

May 6, 1926.

COUPLE WED 50 YEARS HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham Surprised on Golden Wedding Anniversary

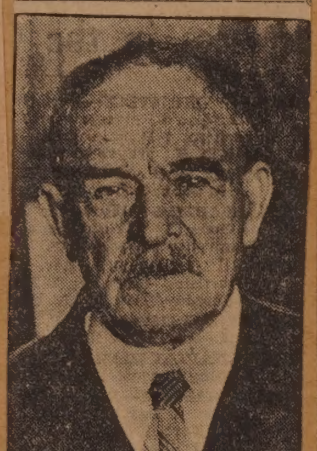
Cake Adorned with Initials of Bride, Bridegroom Is Presented

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Cunningham, 37 Bonney street, found themselves the center of an informal little surprise party last evening at their home, in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. Neighbors to whom the venerable couple have been friends for many years dropped in bearing flowers and a festive wedding cake adorned with the initials of the bride and bridegroom of 50 years ago and the date of their union.

Mr. Cunningham, who is 74, has been for more than 50 years a machinist at the Morse Twist Drill plant and expects to return to work as soon as he is fully recovered from a recent indisposition. Mrs. Cunningham, 72, is still active in management of the household. She has not been well for the last several months, and, because of the state of her health and Mr. Cunningham's, their friends made the party a quiet affair.

Songs by Miss Helen Mein and piano solos by Mrs. A. C. Browning were part of the evening's entertainment. Others present were: Miss Doris Cunningham, a granddaughter; Mrs. Sarah Drew, aged aunt of Mrs. Cunningham, who remembered the day and came to congratulate her niece and nephew without reminder from anyone; Mrs. Fred Mein, Miss Alice Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Moseley and John Moseley, and Mrs. Lizzie H. Whitcomb.

SPEAKS TOMORROW



The Rev. C. B. Wathen Will Address North Christian Congregation

1926 9/18

The Rev. C. B. Wathen, pastor emeritus of the Padanaram Congregational Church, will speak at the morning service of the North Christian Church tomorrow in place of the pastor, the Rev. H. M. Hainer, who has been called to Newmarket, Can., by the illness of his mother, Mrs. Charles Hainer.

Mr. Wathen retired from the Padanaram pastorate early in the past summer after serving the church for 16 years. He had been in the ministry for nearly 44 years. Mr. and Mrs. Wathen celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday.

...FACTURER OF SOAP DIES

Thomas Hersom Succumbs to Illness of Month in 90th Year

Born in Maine, Acushnet Man Came Here in 1863

June 1926

Thomas Herson died at six this morning at his home in Acushnet, following an illness of about a month. He was in his 90th year. Death was attributed to infirmities of his advanced age.

Thomas Hersom was born in Lebanon, Me., Aug. 17, 1836, the seventh child in a family of 12. His parents were John and Asenath (Shorey) Hersom, the father a carpenter and millwright who built many sawmills, the mother a descendant of Elder William Wentworth of New Hampshire.

Thomas Hersom went to school during the winter months until he was 13; during the summer he worked on the farm or in the nearby cotton mills. At 14 he went to Boston to work, returned home to Maine for a year, then came to Massachusetts again where he settled permanently. His first employment in this state was in a livery barn in ...olph, where he later became a ...ilter. For four years he Thomas Hersom.

COUNCIL MEETS IN OLD CHAMBER.—Governor Alvan T. Fuller and council meeting in the Old State House, Boston, in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the evacuation of Boston. Reading from left to right: Pehr G. Holmes, Eugene B. Fraser, Charles L. Burrill, Elwin T. Wright, Frank G. Allen, lieutenant governor; Alvan T. Fuller, governor; Charles S. Smith, Francis W. Aldrich, George E. Curran and Washington Cook. Standing are William L. Reed, executive secretary, and Herman A. MacDonald, governor's secretary. —Photo by Oppenheim.

HAWTHORN STREET HOUSE REPAIRED

9/19-26

John Duff Property Formerly home of Wm. W. Crapo.

ORGANIST AT CHURCH

Oct 2-26

MISS ALICE M. CRAIG, assistant to Rodolphe Godreau as accompanist for singing in public schools, now organist and musical director of the Allen Street M. E. Church. Miss Craig has had a varied experience in musical circles of the city and has played for other church organizations.

Came Here in 1863.

In 1863, Mr. Hersom came to New Bedford. He had a young wife, Almeda Torrie Bryant, whom he had married in 1862, a small baby, and $300. His capital he invested in its entirety in a bus line running between New Bedford and Acushnet. It was a business he understood thoroughly, and he prospered. He extended his lines as far as Long Plain and Rochester before he sold the property. In 1876 he sold the stage line to Andrew E. Hathaway.

Buys Soap Factory.

Mr. Hersom's next business enterprise was the manufacture of soap and washing powder, in which he has been engaged ever since. He bought the soap-making plant of Otis A. Sisson, on Middle street, New Bedford, in 1876, forming a partnership with N. L. Bryant, his wife's brother, under the firm name of T. Hersom & Company. In 1878 Charles R. Tucker became a member of the firm, and the name was changed to Hersom, Tucker & Company. In 1879 Mr. Tucker withdrew, Hersom & Bryant succeeding and continuing until Mr. Bryant sold out, leaving Mr. Hersom in full control. Three years later Mr. Tucker returned and Mr. Hersom sold out, the business being turned over to Tucker and Bryant.

SE BLOCK—Standing by an ancient gateway on the Chil- late once owned by Colonel John Alden on Marthas Vine- unique horse block, with a step cut in its side. Colonel man of money and affairs there in the early 18th

—Photo by J. C. Allen.

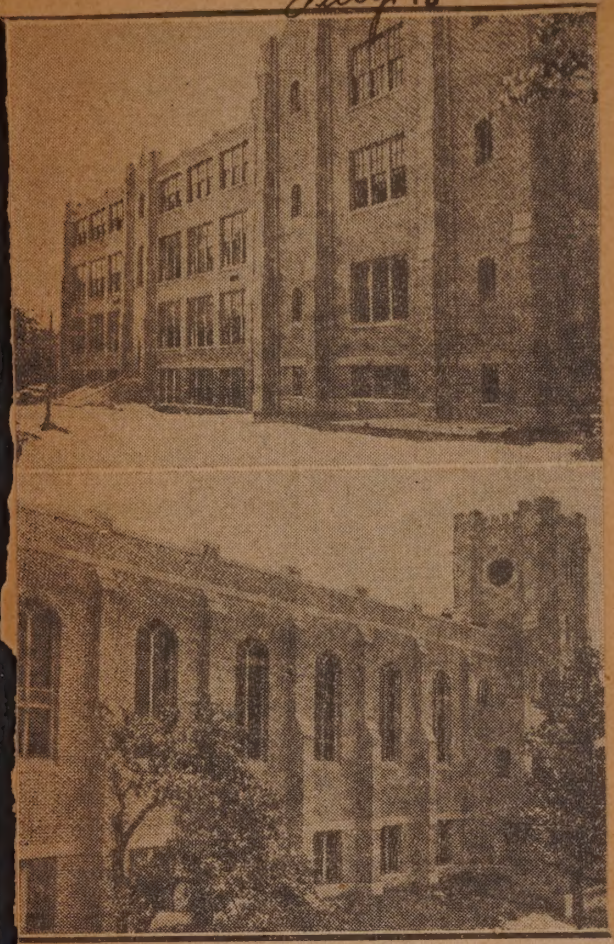
164

CHANGES WROUGHT IN 40 YEARS—Two score years have wrought many changes at the pier in Oak Bluffs. Where the horse and wagon had greeted the Summer travelers, as shown in the other picture, the motor car is now seen. the passengers are more numerous today step over the gangplank. but they are happy than those of yesteryear. 1926

OAK BLUFFS PIER IN THE 80'S—When the old steamship Marthas Vineyard pulled up to the pier at Oak Bluffs in the 80's

ACADEMY BUILDINGS IMPROVED

July 18- 26



Will Be Occupied in Fall

The new addition to Sacred Heart's Academy, Fairhaven, is shown in the top picture. The newly completed chapel which has a seating capacity of 100 is shown in the lower picture.

LIBRARIAN'S BRIDE

June 20-26

Mrs. Louis F. Ranlett

The wedding of Miss Helen D. Miller, Auburndale, to Louis F. Ranlett, librarian of the Millicent Library, Fairhaven, took place June 16 at the home of the bride's parents in Auburndale.

OLD HOSTELRY GIVES WAY TO PROGRESS

June 27-26

Old Elm Arch Inn

OLD FALMOUTH INN IS MOVED

Is Shifted 200 Yards to Clear Plot for Business Development---Hole Ascribed to Cannonball

Old Elm Arch Inn, Falmouth, more than 100 years old, is being moved 200 yards back from the line of Main street to clear a plot for business development.

While the moving operation is in progress, Louis LaBossiere, his sister, Mr. Ann B. Richardson and family, are occupying the house. It was reported that the house was built in 1811. It was owned for 17 years by G. H. Hodgkins, who recently sold it to the Central Cape Realty Corporation, (F. W. Norris, Stimpson, Henderson and Ross).

There is a hole in one of the house walls, which according to Falmouth historians, was caused by a British cannonball in the bombardment of 1812. Mr. LaBossiere and his sister plan to conduct the house as an inn when placed on a permanent foundation.

166

JEAN B. JEAN, 63, ACTIVE IN BUILDING NORTH END, DIES

6/28-26

Succumbs to Long Illness---Came to City as Young Man---Savings from Work in Railroad Gang Gave Him Start in Business---Supporter of Charles S. Ashley

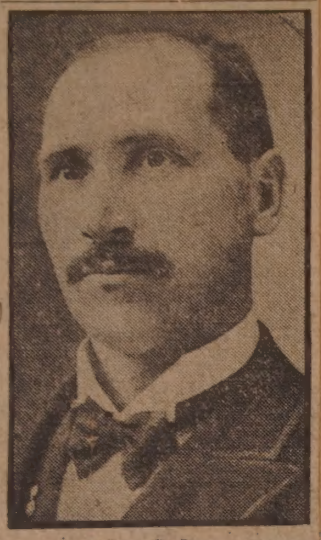
Jean B. Jean, 63, a realty dealer, one of the best known Franco-Americans in New Bedford, died at his residence, 1305 Acushnet avenue, last night following a protracted illness. Mr. Jean recently had been under treatment at St. Luke's Hospital for a complication of diseases. He was removed to his home several weeks ago.

A resident of the North End for about 50 years, Mr. Jean did much to develop that section. He had extensive real estate holdings in the North End, built and owned several of the large blocks that now stand on Acushnet avenue, and at one time was the owner of big tracts of land running from Ashley boulevard to Acushnet avenue. He also owned large areas of land in Acushnet, north of Slocum street, a section which has seen rapid development in the past few years. In the heyday of his real estate career, it is said, there was never a real estate deal in the North End, but that Mr. Jean had a hand in it.

First Work with Railroad Gang.

Mr. Jean was born in Petit Metis, a village near Rimouski, Canada, and came to this country when a youngster. He first lived in Fall River, where he remained for two or three years, then coming to New Bedford.

Soon after this purchase, he acquired the Park hotel in the North End.



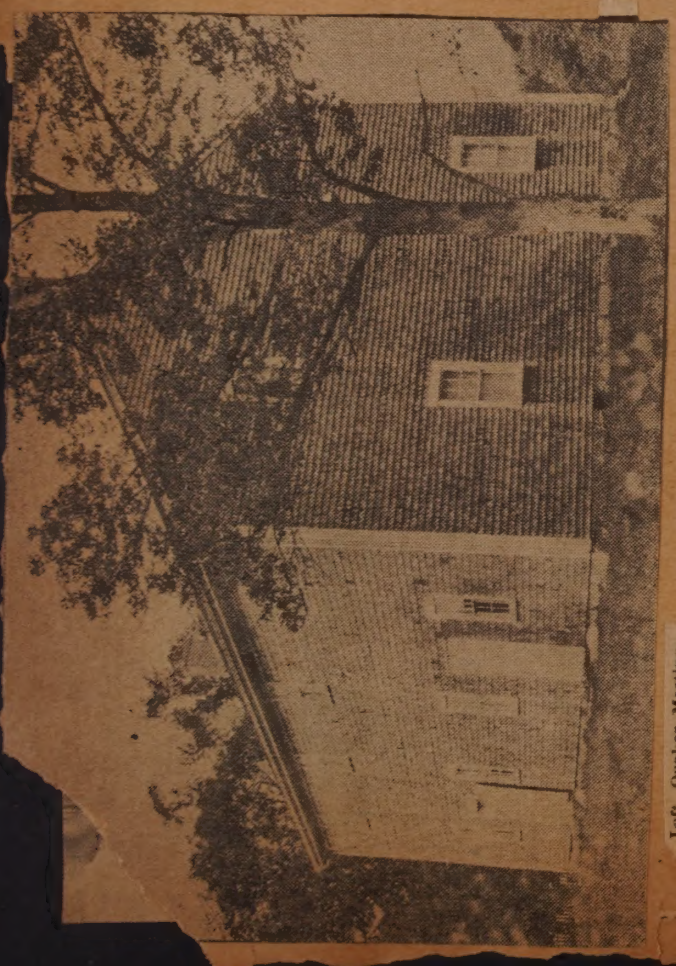
Jean B. Jean.

ROUND HILLS MILL IS ETCHED

From an Etching by Emily Burling Waite.

"The Old Mill"

Wyatt's Mill, for years one of the picturesque landmarks of the island of Rhode Island, stood at Middletown Four Corners until it was recently purchased by Colonel Edward H. R. Green of South Dartmouth and removed to his estate there for preservation. A similar mill may still be observed in Portsmouth, near the East Main road.



Left, Quaker Meeting House at Apponegansett, built 1824.

GUARDIAN ELM—Holding age-long secrets in its massive trunk, this stately elm stands guard on the road between New Bedford and Middleboro. —Photo by Birdsall. Sept 11, 19

LOS ANGELES CALL ACCEPTED

June 21-26

The Very Rev. Harry Beal to Be Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral

Former Grace Church Rector Leaves Holy Trinity, Havana

The Very Rev. Harry Beal, dean of Holy Trinity Cathedral, Havana, has resigned to become dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, Los Angeles, Cal., according to word received here. Dr. Beal was rector of Grace Church, New Bedford, before going to Havana. He will succeed the late Dr. William McCormack at the Los Angeles Cathedral, which has more than 2,000 communicants. Satisfaction that Dr. Beal had accepted the call was expressed by Bishop Joseph H. Johnson, bishop of the Los Angeles diocese. Dr. Beal will go to Los Angeles in September after touring Europe this summer with his family.

Dr. Beal is now in this country. He spent considerable time last week at the Cambridge Theological school

The Very Rev. Harry Beal.

William A. Burt Has Carried Mail in City for 20 7/25 Years

1926

If letter carriers delivered mail on Sunday, William A. Burt, 377 Reed street, could tell friends along his route today that this is the 33d anniversary of his appointment to the United States Postal Service as a member of the New Bedford post office staff.

Thirty-three years is a long time, but Mr. Burt is by no means a grizzled veteran. For he started in at the post office as a clerk, July 25, 1893, just two days after he was 21, and his 20 years as a carrier have kept him as young as a man of 54 ought to be.

When Mr. Burt was appointed under Postmaster Charles H. Gifford, the post office boasted only seven clerks and 23 carriers.

William A. Burt

NYES CORNER GROCER DEAD

7/26 1926

Edward E. Baker Was Probably Last to Drive Horse-Drawn Meat Wagon Through New Bedford

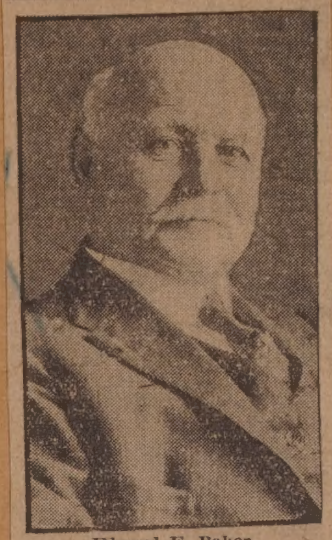
Edward E. Baker, 64, died yesterday morning at 7:45 at his home, 123 Green street, Fairhaven, from a complication of diseases. Until his illness, which began three weeks ago, Mr. Baker was active at his work, in the H. K. Nye Company at Nye's Corner.

Born Oct. 12, 1865, in Fairhaven, Mr. Baker lived there all his life, and was engaged in the meat and grocery business there for most of it. His first employment was with the E. C. Brownell Company, New Bedford. Later he drove a meat wagon in New Bedford, and was probably the last of the meat salesmen to drive a horse and wagon through the streets here with his wares. Since 1906 he has been with the Nye Company.

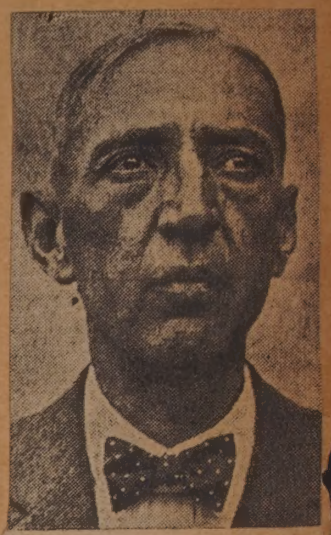
He was treasurer and a member of the board of trustees of the Center M. E. Church, Fairhaven, and a member of the board of directors of the Fairhaven Institution of Savings.

Mr. Baker was a 32nd degree Mason. He was a member of George H. Taber Lodge, A. F. and A. M., Adoniram Royal Arch Chapter, New Bedford Council of Royal and Select Masters, Sutton Commandery, Knights Templars, the Scottish Rite bodies of Fall River, Massachusetts Consistory and Aleppo Temple, Boston.

Mrs. Hattie E. L. Baker, his widow, survives him, as well as one daughter, Mrs. R. E. Gifford, New Haven, Conn.; two brothers, John Baker, East Fairhaven, and Charles Baker, Athol; and two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Gifford, and Mrs. Laura Carpenter, both of Fairhaven.



Edward E. Baker.



Colonel Harry P. Wilbur, New R. O. T. C. Head Here, Visits City

July 31, 1926

Col. H. P. Wilbur, who is to head the New Bedford High School, R. O. T. C. this year, visited the city yesterday to make arrangements for taking up his duties Aug. 1st. He comes here from Cleveland, where he has been in charge of the R. O. T. C. organization since September, 1924.

He expects to take up his residence at Fort Rodman shortly before Aug. 1, with his wife and two children, E. P. Wilbur 3rd and Miss Mary Wilbur.

Colonel Wilbur left the senior class at Yale to join the Army in 1898, at the start of the Spanish-American War. In the period preceding the World War, he served in the Coast Artillery in many parts of the United States and in Hawaii. He commanded the 312th Field Artillery of the 79th Division during the World War, and was retired at Bethlehem, Pa., four years ago.

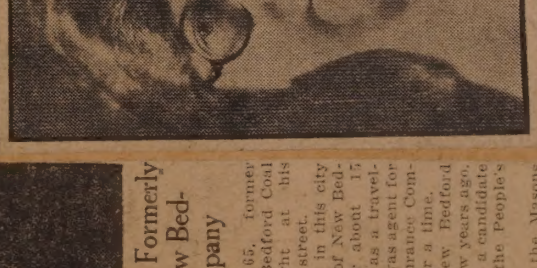
SUPERVISOR OF NURSES RESIGNS

May 26 1926

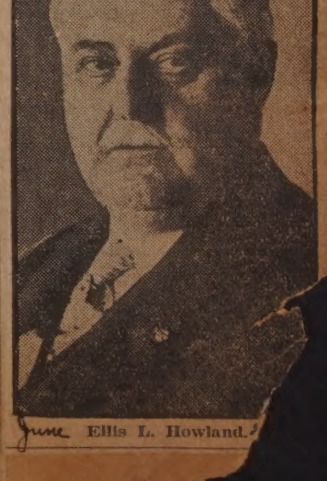
Health Board Officials Express Regret at Decision of Miss Lena P. McFarland to Leave

Miss Lena P. McFarland, supervisor of Public Health Nurses, has resigned. Miss McFarland, who came to this city May 1, 1925, from the post of supervisor of nurses of the Fall River District Nursing Association, has three positions under consideration. Her resignation is to be effective the last of June.

Regret that Miss McFarland has resigned was expressed today by Dr. J. Ubalde Paquin, chairman of the Board of Health.



Miss Lena P. McFarland.



June Ellis L. Howland.

BUSINESS MAN DIES

May 26 1926

William A. Holmes Formerly Was Head of New Bedford Coal Company

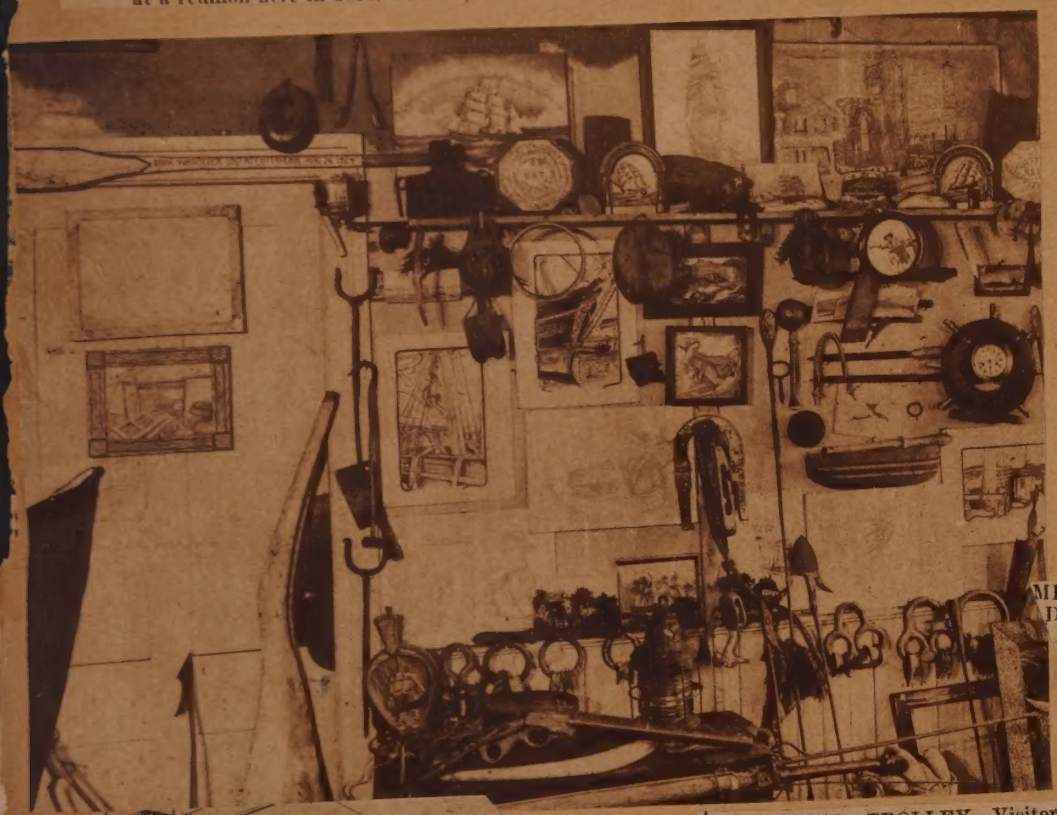
William A. Holmes, 65, former proprietor of the New Bedford Coal Company, died last night at his home, 166 Washington street.

Mr. Holmes was born in this city and he was a graduate of New Bedford High School. For about 15 years, he was employed as a traveling salesman. He later was agent for the North American Insurance Company in New Bedford for a time.

He conducted the New Bedford Coal Company up to a few years ago. In 1924, Mr. Holmes was a candidate for the city council on the People's Progressive party.

He was a member of the Masons and of the Odd Fellows. Aside from his years as a traveling salesman, Mr. Holmes always made his home in New Bedford. His wife, Mrs. Lucy Holmes, survives.

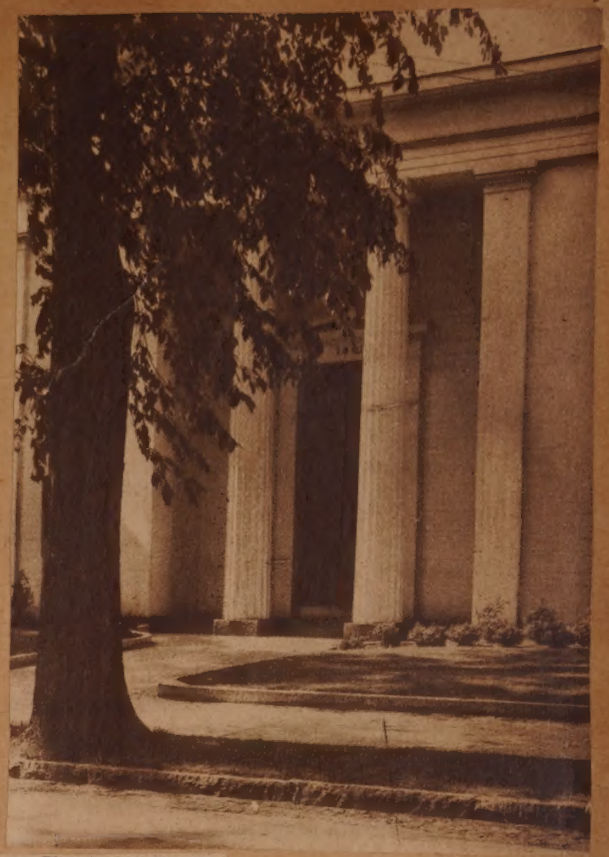
TABER FAMILY REUNION—Taber met Taber when members and descendants of the family name gathered at a reunion here in 1911.



MEMORIES OF OLD WHALING DAYS—A delight to old seamen reminiscent of whaling days, is the work shop of Clarence De Montigny, Jonathan Bourne building, Merrill's wharf. Pictures of the Wanderer, Charles Morgan, Sunbeam, Gay Head, James Arnold, and Morning Star adorn the walls.

TRACKLESS TROLLEY—Visitors to Pope Beach about a decade ago remember this trackless trolley on the Sconticut Neck road. It was propelled by electricity from two trolley wires.

IMPOSING CORINTHIAN COLUMNS — Architectural beauty is obtained by this two story portico with plain entablature as portrayed by the Borden residence, 456 Rock street, Fall River. 1926.



—Photo by Jack Harper.

SIMPLICITY — Unadorned beauty in the form of Doric columns guards the doorway of the Centre Methodist Episcopal Church, Fairhaven.

Photo by M. Goulart.

YOUNG WHALEMAN — This is Raymond A Buckley, formerly employed as interior decorator by the C. F. Wing Company, as he appeared at the end of three and a half months on board the schooner John R. Manta, on a whaling voyage.

—Photo by Jack Harper.

RESTLESS WATERS—This is another view of the surf at Horseneck Beach. The Camera records the molten appearance of the waves in certain ligh

170

June 15-26

From Old Hall to New

Dartmouth officials transferred their records yesterday to the newly completed town office building. In the picture are Town Clerk Harry B. Bennett and Mrs. Eleanor M. Lucas, secretary to the Board of Selectmen and Overseers of the Poor and also assistant to Mr. Bennett. The dog is Bally Gawley, Irish wolf hound owned by Albert E. McGrath. The dog is a great favorite with Dartmouth town officials.

FIFTH MASSACHUSETTS BATTERY HOLDS REUNION

Aug 9 12-26

Dwindling Members Recall Old Memories

Members of the Massachusetts Battery Association present for the 56th annual reunion and clambake held yesterday afternoon at Fort Phoenix include the following (reading from left to right) Charles Tripp, William W. Caswell, Goffstown, N. H.; Pasiello Emerson, 93, Springfield, who walked from the Fairhaven bridge to the fort; William H. Dunham, Fairhaven, president of the organization; Albert Winters, Marion; and Joseph B. Alton. James I. Greenhalgh, Eastham, left, and Thomas H. Soule Jr., right, two guests for the reunion, are shown in the rear row.

CENTURY-OLD WOMAN DEAD

11/16 1926

Mrs. Mary C. Davis, Acushnet, Succumbs After Eight Months' Illness

Celebrated 100th Birthday in April — Grandfather Fought in Revolution

Mrs. Mary C. Davis, 100, widow of Walter Davis, and the oldest resident of Acushnet, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas J. Robinson, Perry Hill road, Acushnet, at 4:30 this morning, after an illness of eight months.

Mrs. Mary C. Davis.

Mrs. Davis celebrated her 100th birthday April 26, last, while confined to her bed with bronchitis, which, setting in three weeks before her anniversary, left her in a weakened condition to the end of her life. Mrs. Davis was not bedridden, however, even in the last weeks of her illness. She arose several times a day for short periods, but was too weak to remain up long.

For nearly 80 years Mrs. Davis had been a resident of Acushnet. She was born near Rock Village, Middleboro. Her husband died 34 years ago in Long Plain. For the last 13 years she has lived with Mrs. Robinson.

Mrs. Davis was active most of the time throughout her life of more than a century. Although not in the best of health the last five years, she retained her faculties to a remarkable degree.

Never Joined D. A. R.

Mrs. Davis was eligible to membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution, although she never joined that organization. Her grandfather, Barnabas Clark, served as a solider in the Revolution.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Thomas J. Robinson, Acushnet; two grandsons, Charles W. Clark, Middleboro, and Walter A. D. Clark, Union City, N. J., and two great-grandchildren, Winthrop H. Clark, son of Charles W. Clark, and Dorothy Clark, daughter of Walter A. D. Clark. Another daughter, Mrs. Arthur Clark, died in 1913.

Mrs. Davis was a member of the Long Plain Baptist Church.

COMPLETE LONG SERVICE HERE

May 20 - 1926

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles F. Hersey

COMMITTEE MAKES URGENT APPEAL TO RAISE HERSEY FUND

Hopes to Obtain Balance of $2,902.75 by May 22

An urgent appeal is made for more contributions for the $6,000 fund which is being raised to purchase a farm for the Rev. and Mrs. Charles F. Hersey, who are retiring from the City Mission after 32 years of service. Small contributions are earnestly solicited. The committee has as its slogan, "Every dollar counts." The 80th anniversary of the City Mission will be observed at a public meeting, which will be held at the North Congregational church Tuesday evening, May 25, and it is hoped to present the money at that time.

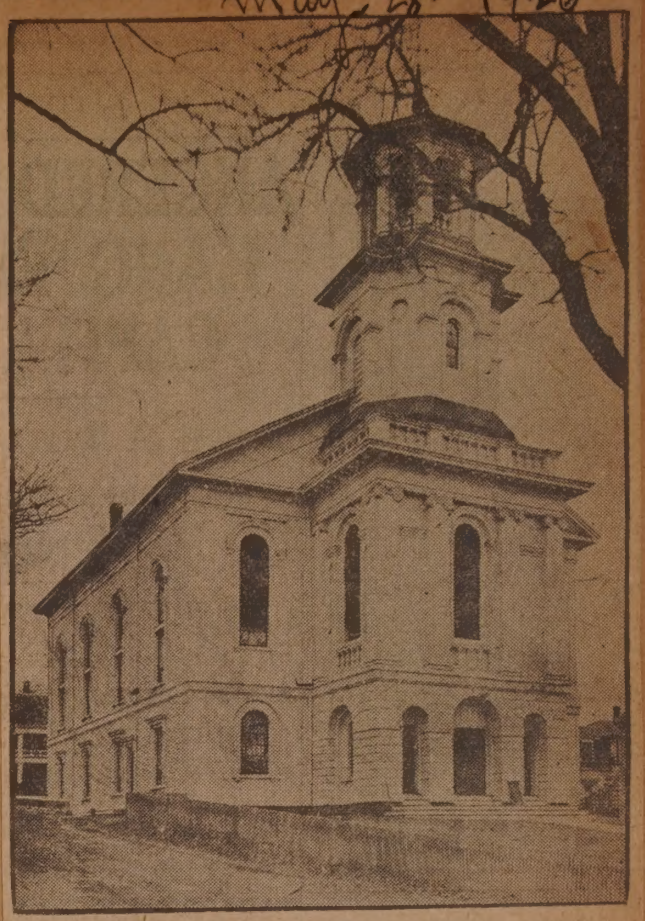
All who are planning to contribute are asked to send in their donations before May 22. The committee wishes to obtain the full amount by that date, but will accept contributions until the evening of May 25. Checks may be made payable to the Hersey Testimonial Fund or to Frederic Taber, treasurer. It was originally planned to hold the anniversary observance tomorrow evening, but it has been postponed until next Tuesday.

The fund today is $3,097.25. New contributors are:

Miss Mary L. Young, Mrs. Mary Hitch, James W. Allen, Frederic T. Pierce, Mrs. Herbert B. Hamilton, Mary A. Baker, Horace Humphrey, Walter P. Bailey, James P. Doran, Mrs. David Thomson, Mary Edith Macy, Philip C. Holmes, Steiger Dudgeon Company, H. P. Dion, Emma D. Denison, Ulysses G. Brownell, Emma C. Robbins, Harold E. Perry, Friend, Homer W. Hervey, Mrs. John C. Shaw, E. D. Searls, Reynolds Printing.

HISTORIC CHURCH IS ROW SCENE

May 28 - 1926

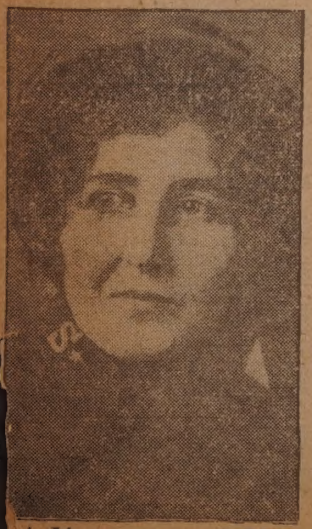


Center Church, Provincetown

Where Klan and Methodist church officials are said to be contesting for control. The Rev. Wilfred D. Hamilton has left, charging the Klan drove him out and a parish committee has put a new lock on the door.

SALVATION ARMY LEADERS HERE

5/16-27



Adjutant and Mrs. James S. O'Brien

Aug. 29, 1926.

Rhode Island Red Immortalized

For the first time in America a monument has been erected to a chicken. Miss Deborah Taber Manchester, donor of the site of the memorial, is standing at the left of the huge boulder on which is the memorial tablet to the Rhode Island Red hen. On the right Miss Manchester's nephew, Roger Dennett, who unveiled the t at exercises in Adamsville, R. I., yesterday.

72

BURGESS KEEPS CITY'S RAINFALL RECORDS

May 16 1926

He Weighs the Raindrops

George F. Burgess, chief engineer of New Bedford Water Department, and weather record devices. Insert at top shows rain gauge. ...rt at left shows gauge separated. White insert at right shows gauge as it usually appears.

Sept. 26, 1926. Dean Rousmaniere

DIES AT 88

July 28-27

MRS. SARAH F. BRYANT.

Mrs. Bryant, 88, widow of Seth E. Bryant, 51 Mt. Pleasant street, died at her home Tuesday following a serio... illness of three weeks.

GOLDEN WEDDING CROWNS THEIR MARRIED LIFE

may 30-26

Then—and Now

Top, Mr. and Mrs. John I. Bryant as they appear today. Below, as they looked 50 years ago.
tory on Page Ten.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

aug 8-29

THEO. D. CHASE

Miss Elizabeth Stanton

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Stanton, Jr., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Stanton, to Theodore Holton Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Rice, Boston. The date for the wedding has not yet been set. Miss Stanton, with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Seabury Stanton, was presented at the Court of St. James's in June, 1924, by Ambassador and Mrs. James S. Rodgers.

dian Eyes on China Junk Take in Sights of Waterfront

July 18-26

Three-Masted Amoy Anchors on Leisurely Cruise for "Anywhere"

SKIPPER, WIFE, AND STUDENTS IN CREW

Strange Craft Wanders Along Coast, Comes Here from Nantucket

By ALBERT COOK CHURCH.

New Bedford's waterfront has seen some strange looking craft slipping in past Palmers Island, but old salts rubbed their eyes yesterday afternoon when a full fledged Chinese junk came sailing in, and she was flying the American flag at that. With only one of her three sails hoisted, she set a surprising pace as she headed up the harbor and made directly for the anchorage off the New Bedford Yacht Club at Popes Island, where she dropped her mudhook and settled down to rest.

Her lively pace was partly due to gasoline breathing apparatus, but that didn't appear until a more minute examination was made, for it has become rather difficult to negotiate harbors infested with ferry boats and other congested shipping without some such assistance. Across the sharply raked overhang stern the name Amoy, Stratford, reveals that this is indeed the Chinese junk built five years ago that crossed the Pacific to San Francisco and has already left more than 18,000 miles of water astern as she pursues her leisurely way round the world.

Guardian Eyes on Bows.

The Amoy is an interesting craft, conspicuous in her flaming red decorations, softened down here and ther by skilfully contrasted blues as only the Chinese could do it. On either side of her rising bows may be seen the guardian eye, peeping out into the mysterious darkness, if it happens to be night, of taking verything in that goes on in the ... See everything. Look ...

Chinese Wanderer Halts for Rest

—These two remaining walls of a once flourishing mill haunt this beautiful spot near Tiverton, R. I. Sin and Flesh river still ambles by the old mill set off by this blossoming apple tree at the left. 1926.

—Photo by Lester I. Jenkins.

OLD CAMP GROUND SCENE—This old scene recalls pleasant memories of Clinton avenue at the Marthas Vineyard Camp grounds, Oak Bluffs.

HAVEN FOR BIRDS—Jutting out amid the placid waters of Troy Pond in South Park, Fall River, this rock island has become a sporting place for birds. Sept 19, 1926.

THE HORSE-CAR TURNS THE CORNER—Pulled by a team of horses worshippers arrived at the Methodist Tabernacle for Marthas Vineyard camp meeting services as big around as a flour barrel.

The craft has three masts, and Skipper Alfred Nilson, who shares the command with Mrs. Nilson, says these are called the fore, main and mizzen, just as in any other three-masted vessel. They certainly are vastly different in everything but that respect, the mizzen being stepped at the starboard side of the extreme after quarter.

MUSICIAN DIES
8/24-27

John M. Carter Succumbs in New Hampshire at Age of 74

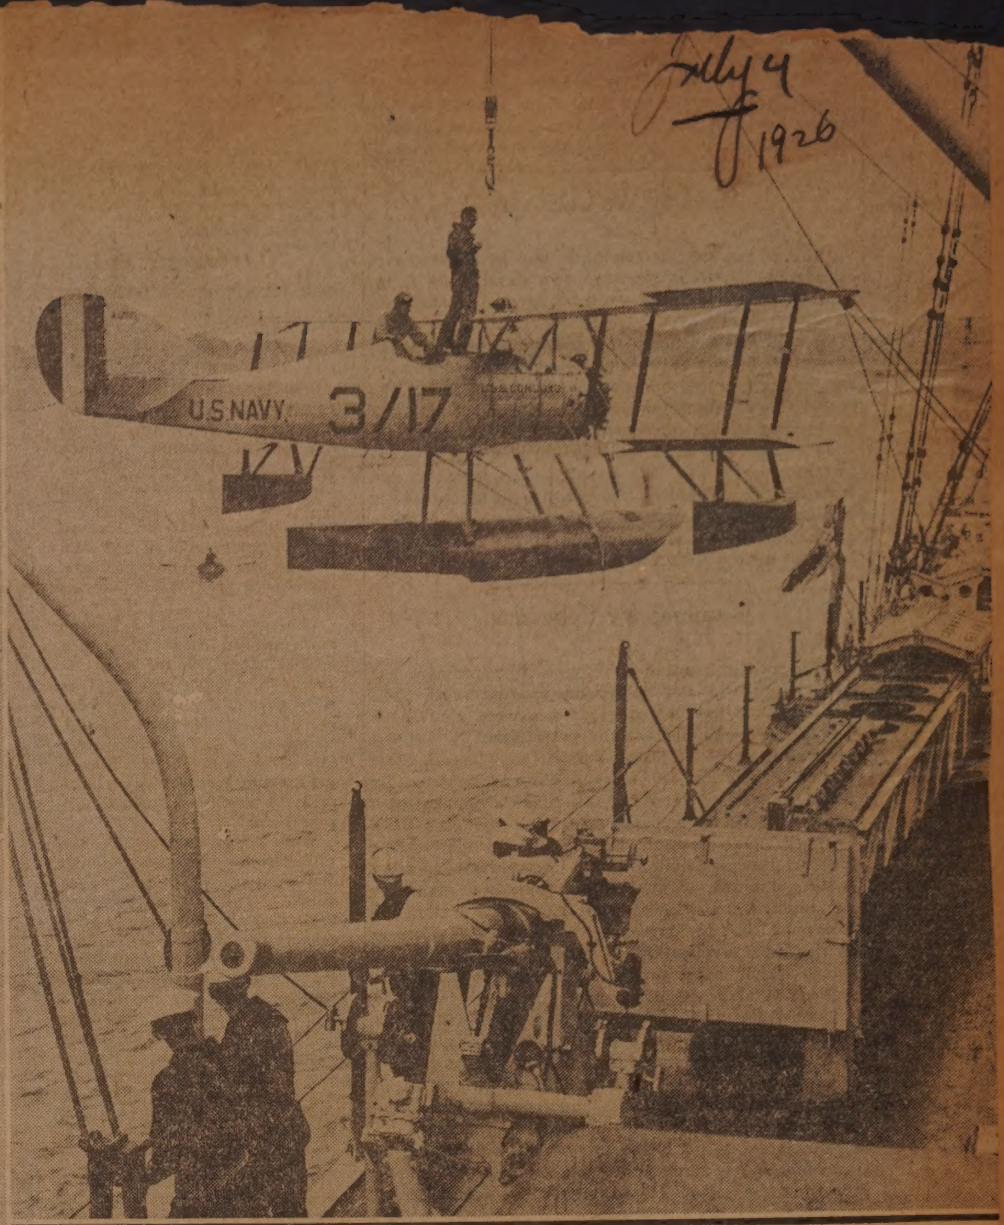
John M. Carter, for many years prominent in musical activities in this city, died last Thursday at the age of 74 in Unity, Claremont, N. H., following a shock some time ago.

Mr. Carter was born in Hollston, Mass., Dec. 1, 1852. For 30 years, he was leader of the Middleboro band, coming to New Bedford in 1908. He played in Joseph O'Connell's orchestra at the old Hathaway theater on Purchase stree as a cornetist. In October, 1913, he succeeded Charles Mathews as leader of the New Bedford band. At that time, he was one of the oldest ...ive musicians in Massachusetts.

Carter was a familiar figure in ...edford, particularly at the North ...uring the summer months, his ...ved nightly at Lakeside park, ...d practically all of his life ... and band work and played ... leading bands of south- ... a few decades ago.

... by a widow and 11 ...eral was Saturday. ... Mountain View

July 4 1926



To Help New Bedford Celebrate

Top left: Officers and families united on the State Pier. Left to right, Lieutenant Commander W. S. Hogg, Mrs. Hogg, Mrs. Wilson, Commander P. L. Wilson, Miss Wilson, Lieutenant Commander W. H. Porter, and Mrs. Porter.

Lower left: The Concord as she entered the harbor.

Right: One of the two seaplanes being lowered to the water by derrick to take off as the vessel came to a stop in the harbor.

NEWLY ELECTED WOMAN'S CLUB OFFICIALS, May 25 1926

Share Responsibilities

—Photo by Bachrach.

Left to right, above, Mrs. John W. Potter, chairman of current events committee; Mrs. Grenville H. Hayes, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George E. Kirkpatrick, chairman of the education committee.

Below, Miss Elizabeth J. Dillingham, auditor; Miss Maude Sumner, chairman of legislative committee; Mrs. Howard I. Wordell, chairman of music committee.

FINEST HOUSE IN NEW BEDFORD — The home of John Avery Parker at County and Pearl streets, built in 1833 at a reported cost of $125,000, was considered one of the show places of the city.

178

INDIAN CHURCH SELDOM USED

Simple Structure Built in Mashpee in Year 8/22 1684 1926

Bronze Tablet Eulogizes Early Pilgrim Workers Among Indians

Buried in the woods of Mashpee, reached only by following a narrow sandy road winding a mile off the main highway between Falmouth and Mashpee village, stands the Old Indian Church, one of Cape Cod's most ancient structures, built in the year 1684.

Just a simple boxlike structure, shining white in the sun with a new coat of paint, the Old Indian Church looks as if it were built but yesterday. It stands on the crest of a small hill, and in both its backyard and frontyard are weathered gravestones, some more than a century old.

This ancient temple of Pilgrim faith, where two centuries ago the Mashpee Indians were told of the Christian religion, has for 215 years been aided by a fund left in trust to Harvard College by one Daniel Williams. Even today, when the last full-blooded Mashpee Indian has disappeared, services are held in the Old Indian Church occasionally.

Tablet Tells Story.

A tablet of bronze, fastened to a large boulder before the church, tells its story. It reads: "In memory of friends who labored among the Indians. To the ones who gave more grounded hopes of adoration to the things of God.

"In 1711 Daniel Williams left a trust fund in charge of Harvard College for the perpetuation of preaching to the Indians. Indian preachers, Simon Popmonet, Solomon Briant, William Apes, Joseph Amos, the blind preacher.

"That it may stand in all the future years the undisturbed record of a rugged race, to be governed by the word of the Lord in all things. Now to their gentle memory be naught but kind regards and to their quiet ashes—peace."

Mashpee has but two churches, and one pastor, the Rev. Lawrence D. Hinckley, Forestdale. Sunday services are usually conducted in the chapel at Mashpee, but occasionally the Old Indian Meeting House serves, as it has for the past two centuries.

Old Indian Church at Mashpee

Mrs. Elijah Humphries

Aug. 19, 1926.

WIFE OF RETIRED PASTOR IS DEAD

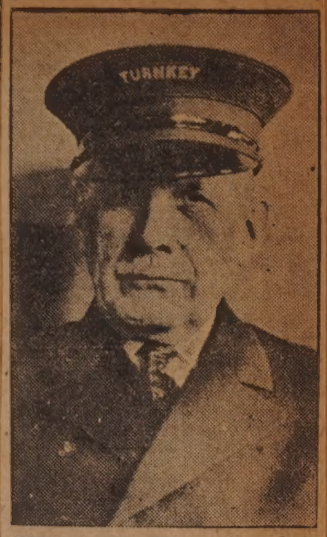
Mrs. Elijah Humphries,, 75, Succumbs at Home in Billerica Center

Was Active in W. C. T. U. Here When Husband Held Pastorate

Dec. 12, 1926

Captain Charles E. Greene.
Fire Station No. 6.

12/21 TURNKEY DIES 1926

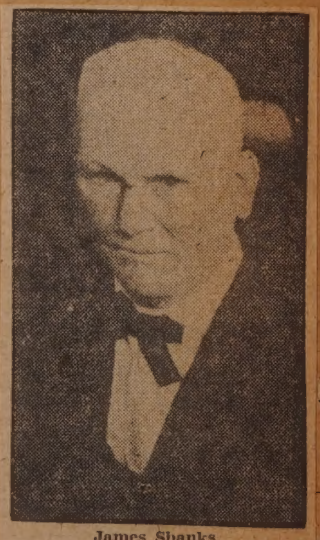


William R. Shaw Lived in New Bedford Nearly 40 Years

William R. Shaw, 59, for the past 18 years a turnkey at the Bristol County House of Correction, died at his home in Russells Mills, Dartmouth, yesterday.

He was born at Tuxton, N. Y., but lived in New Bedford for nearly 40 years. He moved to Russells Mills about a year ago. He was a member of Star of the East Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and attended the Universalist Church.

Mr. Shaw is survived by his widow, Mrs. Amy Shaw; his mother, Mrs. Etta H. Shaw; three sisters, Mrs. Frank Allen, Taunton; Mrs. Frederick L. Dexter, Mattapoisett, and Mrs. Thomas H. Forbes, New Bedford; and a brother, Chauncey L. Shaw, New Bedford.



James Shanks.

11/7/26

JAMES SHANKS DIES SUDDENLY

Veteran New Bedford Sportsman Drops Dead of Heart Disease

Was Leaving for Providence to Play U. S. Checker Champion

ORDER SIGNED BY ADMIRAL FARRAGUT

July 18. 26

West Gulf Squadron,
Flag Ship Estella
Mobile Bay—
June 2 9th 1865.

To. —

You are hereby detached from the U. S. S. Cara Lassett and ordered to report. Acty Ensign F. Elms Commanding U. S. S. "Buckthorn" for duty on board that vessel —

Very Respectfully,
H. W. Thatcher
Act. Lt. Admiral

Comd

To Mate
A. A. Delano
U. S. S. "Cara Lassett
New Orleans-

Reported on board as Flag Ship
New Orleans April 11th 1866. Gn for duty with Comdg Officer of this Vessel Commanded

D. G. Farragut
Rear Admiral

Reported April 12th 1866
L. L. Easton
Lieut.

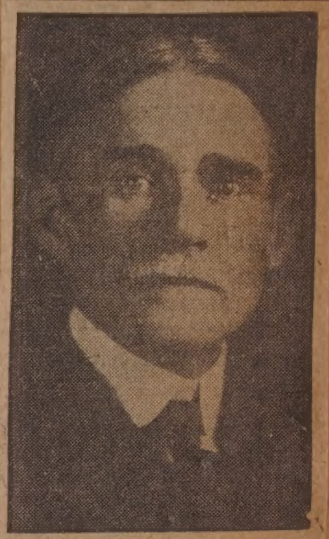
A. A. Delano, Insert, Transferred

AUTHOR'S NEW VOLUME ISSUED

George W. Harrington, Mattapoisett Summer Resident, Writes Story of Modern People

12/6/1926

The Silver Lining and Hannah Stearns, a volume of stories, just issued by B. J. Brimmer Company, is the latest publication of George W. Harrington, who has been a summer resident of Mattapoisett for many years. Mr. Harrington married Miss Marion Andrews, Mattapoisett, and the family has made Mattapoisett its summer time home ever since. Mr. and Mrs. Harrington reside in



George W. Harrington.

Brookline in the winter. They have three sons, George Jeffries, Boston; Carl Harrington, employed at the Providence National Bank, Providence, and Gerald Harrington, a freshman at Harvard.

Mr. Harrington was formerly associated with his father in the banking business in Providence, but since his graduation from Harvard, he has given more attention to writing. His publication include Plebian Pestilence, a story in which smallpox is the chief theme; two books of poems, The Garden by the Sea and The Gardent of Unrest; The Reversion of Form, a horse story and his latest book, which he dedicates to his father, is a story of modern people.

Mr. Harrington has an estate of some 68 acres in Mattapoisett. Located on Pine Island road, it is known under the old Indian name of Winnatuxett. Mr. Harrington has indulged his love of horses here, and one of his diversions has been keeping a stable of hurdle jumpers. Superintendent of his estate is J. P. W. Peacock.

HENRY P. WILLIS DIES SUDDENLY

4/26-27

Furrier Here Half Century Stricken at Home with Heart Attack

Son of Whaling Captain Was at Place of Business Yesterday

Henry P Willis, 74, for more than 50 years engaged in the furrier business in this city, died suddenly from a heart attack at his home, 52 Seventh street, yesterday.

Mr. Willis had been a sufferer from heart disease for several years, but was at his business as usual Thursday.

HENRY P. WILLIS.

Born in Sandwich Islands.

Mr. Willis's father was a New Bedford whaling captain and Mr. Willis was born in Hilo, Sandwich islands, while his parents were there on a voyage. He had lived his entire life, in New Bedford.

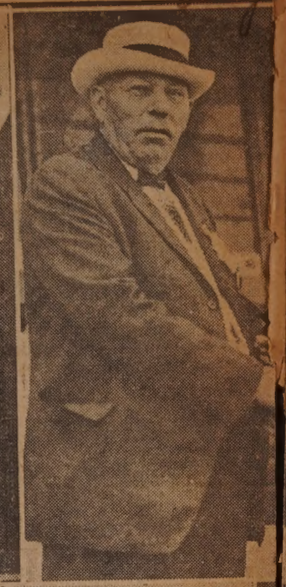
Belonged to Whaleman's Club.

He was a member of the Whaleman's club and the Horticultural society of this city, and was formerly active in the Dartmouth club and the New Bedford Yacht club.

Surviving him are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. L. E. Call, Manhattan, and Miss Edith Willis, this city; one son, Henry P. Willis Jr., Chicago; two grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. [illegible], Fall River, and one brother, Willis Lakeville.

WHALESHIP CHARLES W. MORGAN COMES HOME TO REMAIN FOREVER

July 22 - 1926

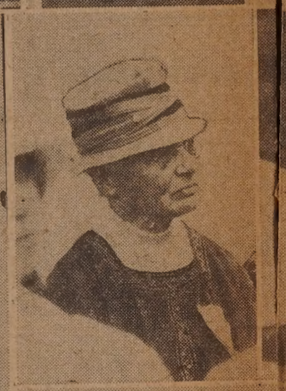


BUILT BY JETHRO AND ZACHARIAH HILLMAN
LAUNCHED NEW BEDFORD JULY 21, 1841.
DEEDED BY GIFT TO WHALING ENSHRINED INC.
BY

CHARLES S. ASHLEY	1/32	HARRY NEYLAND	1/32
JAMES F. AVERY	1/32	PEMBERTON H. NYE	1/32
CLARANCE H. BARTLETT	1/32	ANDREW G. PIERCE JR.	1/32
JOHN H. CLIFFORD	1/32	OLIVER PRESCOTT	1/32
JOHN A. COOK	1/32	JOSEPH M. READ	1/32
HENRY H. CRAPO	1/32	OLIVER G. RICKETSON	1/32
WILLIAM W. CRAPO	1/32	WILLIAM A. ROBINSON, JR.	1/32
BENJAMIN CUMMINGS	1/32	MORGAN ROTCH	1/64
JOHN DUFF	1/32	JIREH SWIFT	1/32
EDWARD R. HATHAWAY	1/32	JAMES E. STANTON, JR.	1/32
THOMAS S. HATHAWAY	1/32	FRANK C. TAYLOR	1/32
MARTHA M. HINSDALE	1/32	FREDERIC H. TABER	1/32
CLARK W. HOLCOMB	1/32	HENRY L. TIFFANY	1/32
CHARLES W. HOWLAND	1/32	GEORGE FRED TILTON	1/64
CLARA WING HUSSEY	1/32	CHARLES F. WING, JR.	1/32
HENRY S. HUTCHINSON	1/32	EDMUND WOOD	1/32
AMELIA H. JONES	1/32	TOTAL	32/32

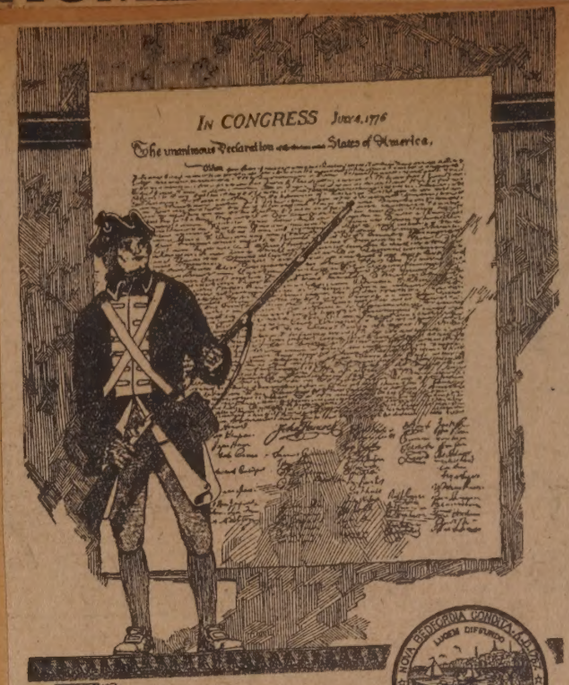
ENSHRINED JULY 21, 1926 BY
COL. EDWARD HOWLAND ROBINSON GREEN

© H. Neyland 1926



Three Captains Present at Ceremony

Upper left—Group around tablet; left to right: Henry S. Hutchinson, Colonel Edward H. R. Green, Miss Amelia H. Jones, former Mayor Charles S. Ashley, Willia[illegible]T. Eldridge, chairman of Plymouth Selectmen. Upper right—Captain George Fred Tilton clasps h[illegible] with Captain W. H. Griffiths, Fall River. Lower left—Bronze memorial tablet with names of [illegible] whaleship Morgan. Center left—Miss Amelia H. Jones, who unveiled tablet. Center right—[illegible]haway delivers speech of accept-ance; Lower right—[illegible] Sherman and Captain Jud[illegible]



An Invitation from New Bedford

Fourth of July Invitations Out

June 25, 1926.

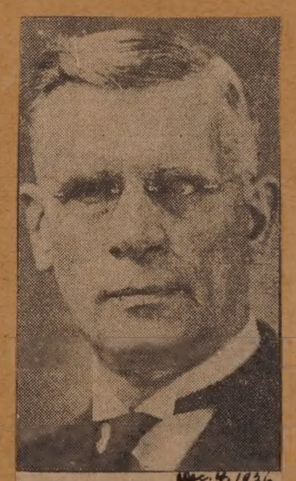
INVITATIONS SENT OUT FOR JULY 4 CELEBRATION HERE

More Than 1,000 Bids Mailed to Officials of Cities in Vicinity

More than 1,000 invitations are being sent by the Committee on Fourth of July to officials of neighboring towns and cities to participate in New Bedford's observance of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

It was the desire of Mayor Hathaway to have the city issue handsome invitations. Design for the invitation as drawn by Joseph F. Rapoza, artist for George H. Reynolds, printer who is preparing the invitations.

The outside cover bears a reproduction of the Declaration of Independence, beside which a soldier of the Revolution stands with gun uplifted. The city seal is reproduced in gilt at the lower right of the page. The colorings are red, white, and blue. Upon opening the invitation, the formal invitation is found inscribed on a Liberty Bell on the third page. The bell is reproduced in a light blue tint. Names of the members of the Fourth of July committee are printed at the end of the invitation.



The Rev. Joseph Cooper.

South Manchester, Conn., former pastor of the old County Street Church.

UNITARIAN MINISTER DIES

11/28/1926

The Rev. Dr. Paul Revere Frothingham Passes Suddenly

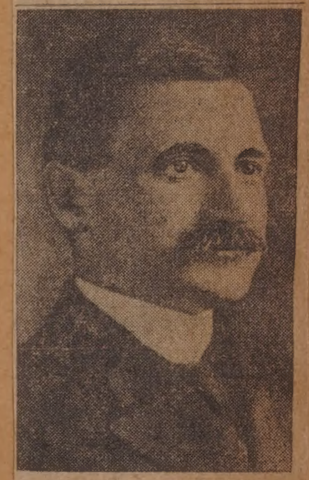
Clergyman Left New Bedford for Pulpit He Occupied for 26 Years

Boston, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Paul Revere Frothingham, for 26 years minister of the Arlington Street Unitarian Church, Boston, died suddenly at his home here tonight. He was 61.

Dr. Frothingham was at the First Congregational Society (Unitarian) in New Bedford from 1889 to 1900 when he was called to the Arlington Street Church in Boston. Since his transfer to Boston, he has kept in touch with affairs here through frequent visits to the pulpits of his former charge and the Fairhaven Unitarian Memorial Church.

He was born in Jamaica Plain July 6, 1894, the son of Thomas B. and Anna Frothingham. He was prepared for college in the public schools of Boston and entered Harvard with the class which was graduated in 1886. He later began the study of theology in Harvard Divinity School and was graduated in 1889. During the summers of 1887 and 1888 he preached at the Unitarian chapel at Tiverton, R. I., but his first permanent pastorate was in New Bedford. In 1892 he married Miss Anna Clapp of Pittsfield.

At one time Dr. Frothingham served on the School Committee in New Bedford, and for several years was president of the Massachusetts Cremation Society.



Rev. Dr. Paul Revere Frothingham.

Cortez Allen.

CORTEZ ALLEN IS DEAD AT 87

Former Whaleman and One Time Representative Succumbs After Long Illness

One of Oldest Citizens Westport—Active in [illegible] Affairs

DISTINGUISHED THRONG SEES MORGAN IN ITS PROUDEST ARRAY

July 22-1926

At Round Hills Yesterday

Guests at the Morgan dedication (left to right), Mr. and Mrs. Andrew G. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Wood, Mrs. Oliver Prescott, Mr. Prescott, Frederic H. Taber (in back), Miss Elizabeth Hussey, Frank A. Mosher. The Morgan in dedication array.

POLICE CAPTAIN IS DEAD AT 60

11/3-26

Frank W. Sylvia Was Member of Department for 31 Years

Figured in Investigation and Prosecution of 13 Murder Cases

Captain Frank W. Sylvia.

Lieutenant Edmund Foley.

THE REV. CHARLES CRAWFORD, new pastor of the Bethel A. M. E. Church, comes to New Bedford from Springfield, Mo. Mr. Crawford has exchanged charges with the former pastor, the Rev. William H. Lacey.

11/2-1926

NEW PASTOR HERE

OFFICERS OF THE ISLANDER—Seven officers are required to take charge of the work on the steamship Islander in its daily trips across Buzzards Bay and Nantucket Sound. Left, seated: Captain M. K. Sylvia; right, First Mate M. F. Atwood; rear row, left to right: Second Mate Joseph Frates, Assistant Purser John D. Sylvia, Purser W. F. Kelley, First Pilot A. J. Robinson, and Quartermaster John Galuska. 1926.

ROOSEVELT STATUE ADORNS ENTRANCE

Sept 9. 26

City's Newest Apartment House

The Roosevelt, at County and Arnold streets.

TWO HISTORIC HOUSES—Side by side are these two homes, each the birthplace of a president. The one on the right, John Adams was born in 1735 and left his son, John Quincy Adams, the mar 13 1927.

WAVES CHARGING THE SHORE — Persistent waves, like an endless cavalry charge from the sea, constantly pound against the south shore bluffs at Squibnocket Bight, Marthas Vineyard.

Photo by Howard M. Wood

nd these ie house on the ys.

PURITAN MEMORIALS DOT DUXBURY LANDSCAPE

May 16-26

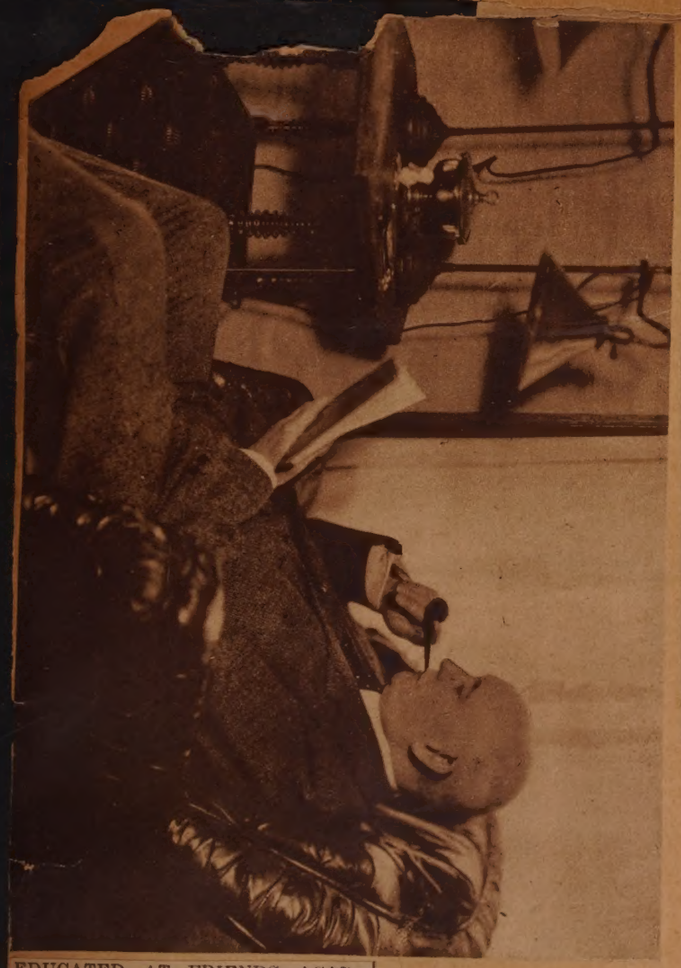
BEFORE THE CAUSEWAY WAS BUILT—This photograph, taken from Horseneck Beach, shows the rocks that a few years ago marked the track to Gooseberry Neck Island. Here the restless waters beat themselves into a froth against the rough shore. —Photo by Birdsall.

Historical Touring Ground

THE PILGRIM TOWN OF —DUXBURY—

(Photos by A. S. Eurbank, Plymouth, Mass.)

Upper left, Standish House, Duxbury, built by Alexander, son of Myles Standish, 1666 (Myles Standish Monument can be seen in the distance); upper right, John Alden House, Duxbury, built in 1653; center left, Major John Bradford House, Kingston, built in 1675; center right, Myles Standish Monument; bottom left, map of main highways leading to Duxbury; bottom right, map of Duxbury with points of historical interest indicated.



EDUCATED AT FRIENDS ACADEMY—Dr. Ansel G. Cook, eminent Hartford, Conn., surgeon, who spent his boyhood days in Vineyard Haven when free from his studies at the Friends Academy in this city and Pierce Academy in Middleboro, is enjoying a leisure moment. He has just received an honorary degree from Trinity College. 1926.

'NEATH WINTER'S MANTLE — While the oldtime whaling industry lies buried in the "snows of yesteryear," the symbol of its abiding place in the city's memory is transformed by winter's whiteness until we have this view of New Bedford's unique memorial.

Jan 30 1927

188

OLD JAPANESE SCENE PORTRAYED.—In the home of Thomas W. Whitfield, Fairhaven, hangs this artistic wall decoration, called a kakemono, the gift of Dr. Toichiro Nakahama, Tokyo

July 4 1926

AS THE ORIENTAL SEES THE STORKS.—This Japanese painted wall decoration is one of the gifts sent to Mrs. Marcellus P. Whitfield, Fairhaven, by Dr. Toichiro Nakahama, Tokyo, after returning home from a visit in Fairhaven.

SHOCK FATAL TO AGED VETERAN

Charles G. Allen Dies While Visiting Son in Pittsburgh, Pa.

8/7-

Former Custodian of Police Headquarters Was Drummer in '60s

1927

Word was received here late Sunday night of the death in Pittsburgh, Pa., of Charles G. Allen, of this city. Mr. Allen was visiting his son, George, at the time of his death, and had written here last week saying that he was feeling much better. He had suffered from a shock a short while ago, and it was thought that another shock caused his death Sunday. He was 72.

CHARLES G. ALLEN 8/9/1927

Enlisted as Drummer Boy.

Mr. Allen, a veteran of the Civil war, enlisted as a drummer boy in the Third Massachusetts Infantry, which was recruited at Camp Joe Hooker, Lakeville, in the fall of 1862. At that time he was only 13 years of age, and for years he been known as [illegible] its veteran [illegible] remaining

...e second time on July 1864 with the New Bedford City Guards for a period of three months. He received his discharge for doing this "bit" with the Guards on Nov. 5, 1864.

During his first enlistment Mr. Allen was stationed around the Carolinas and went through four battles, namely: Goldsborough, the second battle of New Bern, Kingston and Whitehall.

Colonel Richmond, who commanded the Third Massachusetts Infantry during the Civil war made the following comment on Allen when the regiment returned to this city after a long period of duty at the front:

"The men in the regiment felt duty bound to look after Charlie. He was only a mite of a fellow, but as proud of the position of drummer which he held as any man in my command. On our 11 days' march to North Carolina from New Bern, to Goldsborough I thought the tramp would be too much for him and directed that he be left behind. He made such a fuss about it and pleaded so hard to go with his company that I consented and after that he went with us everywhere."

Custodian at Headquarters.

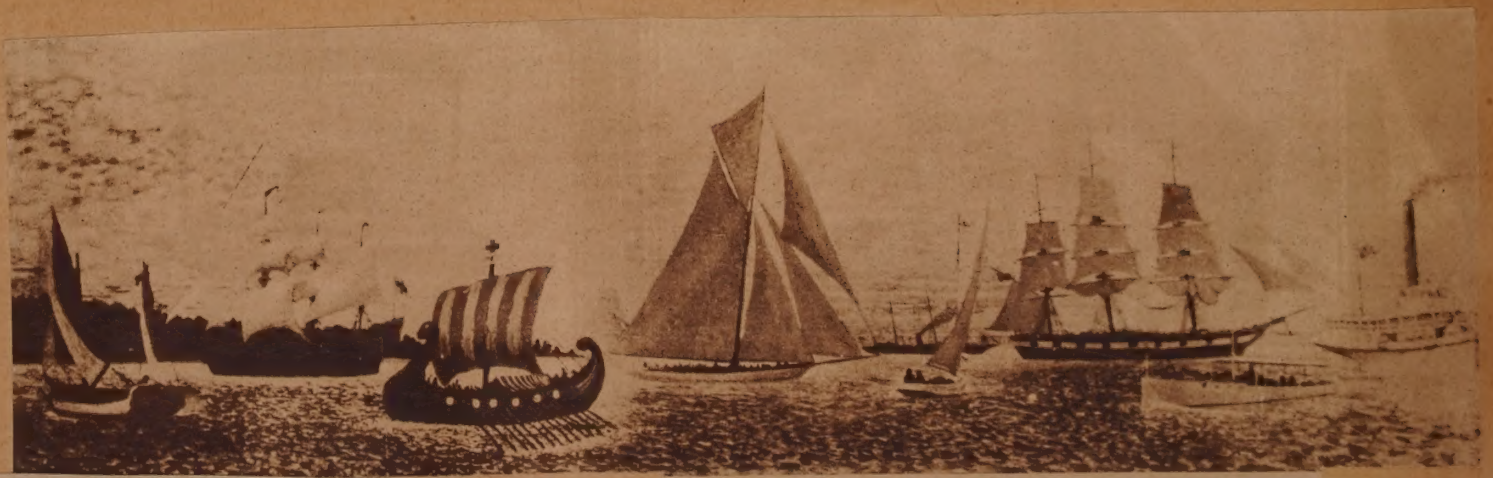
In the World war Mr. Allen, who drummed for the boys in blue when they entrained for the South had the unusual experience of drumming for the New Bedford boys in khaki when they left this city. Annually when the veterans of '64 paraded on Memorial day Mr. Allen marched at the head of their fast shrinking ranks as drummer boy.

For years Mr. Allen conducted a boating and fishing business at Fish island, but in 1910 he retired and became custodian of police headquarters, a position which he held until January, 1921, when he was retired at his own request by Mayor Ashley.

In his younger days Mr. Allen was noted as a champion velocipedist, and often appeared at many of the halls in this vicinity back in the 70's when this sport was one of the leading attractions.

He is survived by his son George in Pittsburgh, another son Charles B. Allen, Fairhaven, and a sister, Mrs. Elmira Davis, Boston.

ART FROM THE ORIENT.—This Japanese kakemono, painted wall decoration, is the gift of Dr. Toichiro Nakahama, Tokyo, to Miss Allie W. Omey, Fairhaven. Dr. Nakahama visited Fairhaven as a tribute to the memory of Captain William H. Whitfield who rescued his shipwrecked father, Prince Manjiro Nakahama, from an island.



VARIOUS CRAFT SEEN AT ISLAND—This decorative painting by Leslie W. Miller shows the various types of vessels that have touched Marthas Vineyard since the time of the Norseman. The canvas was reproduced by permission of George W. Rolfe and the artist. The craft shown from left to right are: Yawl Spray, Captain Joshua Slocum, home from around the world in 1898; Gosnold's ship that explored these waters in 1602; Norsemen in Viking ship about 1000 A. D.; Brigantine, typical of West India trade, middle of the 19th century; Volunteer, cup defender in 1890; steam yacht Electra, flag ship of New York Yacht Club in 1890 and long afterward; typical Vineyard Haven catboat, present time; James Arnold, New Bedford whaler, built 1852; gasoline launch, 1924; steamer Uncatena; typical three-masted schooner, present time, 1926.

SCHOOL NURSE
8-27-1927

MISS KATHERINE SOPHIA O'LEARY

Miss O'Leary was appointed a school nurse at the meeting of the School Committee last evening. She has been an industrial nurse at the National Spun Silk company. Miss O'Leary is a graduate of St. Luke's hospital training school. During the World war she was a member of the nursing corps of the United States Navy. She succeeds Mrs. Annie Spurr Smith, who resigned.

1881

...DS 50 YEARS' ACTIVE WORK

1926.

Frank A. Brownell Leaves Market; Known for His Good Nature

For Nearly Quarter Century, He Drove Stage to Little Compton

The genial and jolly nature of Frank A. Brownell, 64 Mill street, is destined to be well tested this winter. For after about half a century of almost continuous employment, Mr. Brownell is going to try his first experiment in idleness. Last Wednesday night he completed 15 years of service in the meat and provision market of Edward S. Lanagan, 995 Purchase street, and Saturday night cut his last steak for Mr. Lanagan.

A form of chronic rheumatism in his legs which has been coming on for several years and which is the first major ailment he has experienced in the 68 years of his life is responsible for the retirement. "I couldn't carry a leg of beef from

Frank A. Brownell.

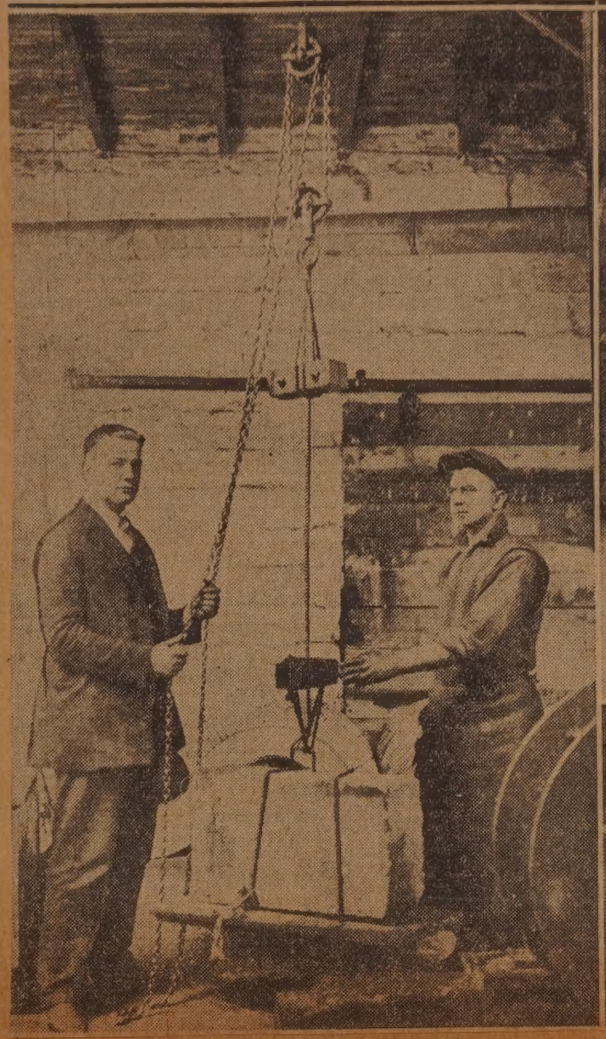
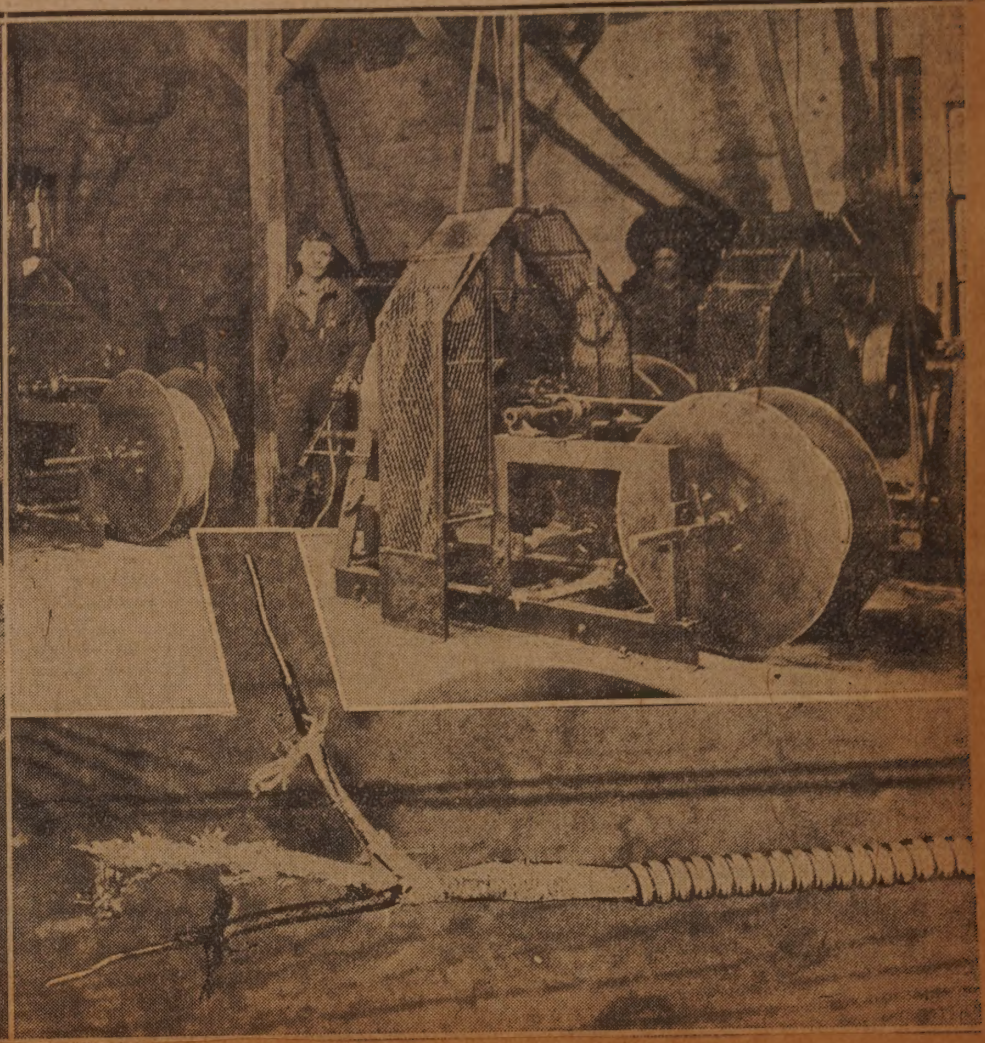
MAKING STEEL JACKETTED ELECTRIC CABLE FOR INTERIOR WIRING

May 16 1926



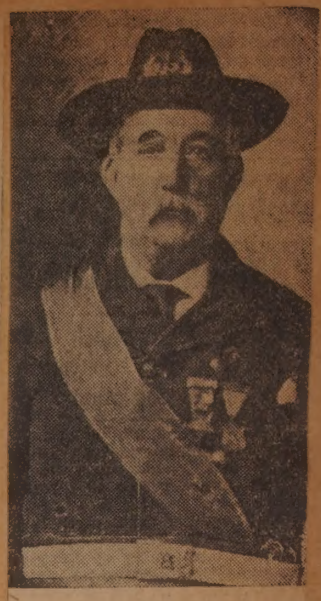


83-YEAR-OLD VETERAN DIES

1926 Oct. 16

Joseph Donaghy, Former City Wharfinger, Succumbs at Home

Was One of Oldest Members of Grace Church--- Born in Ireland



Joseph Donaghy.

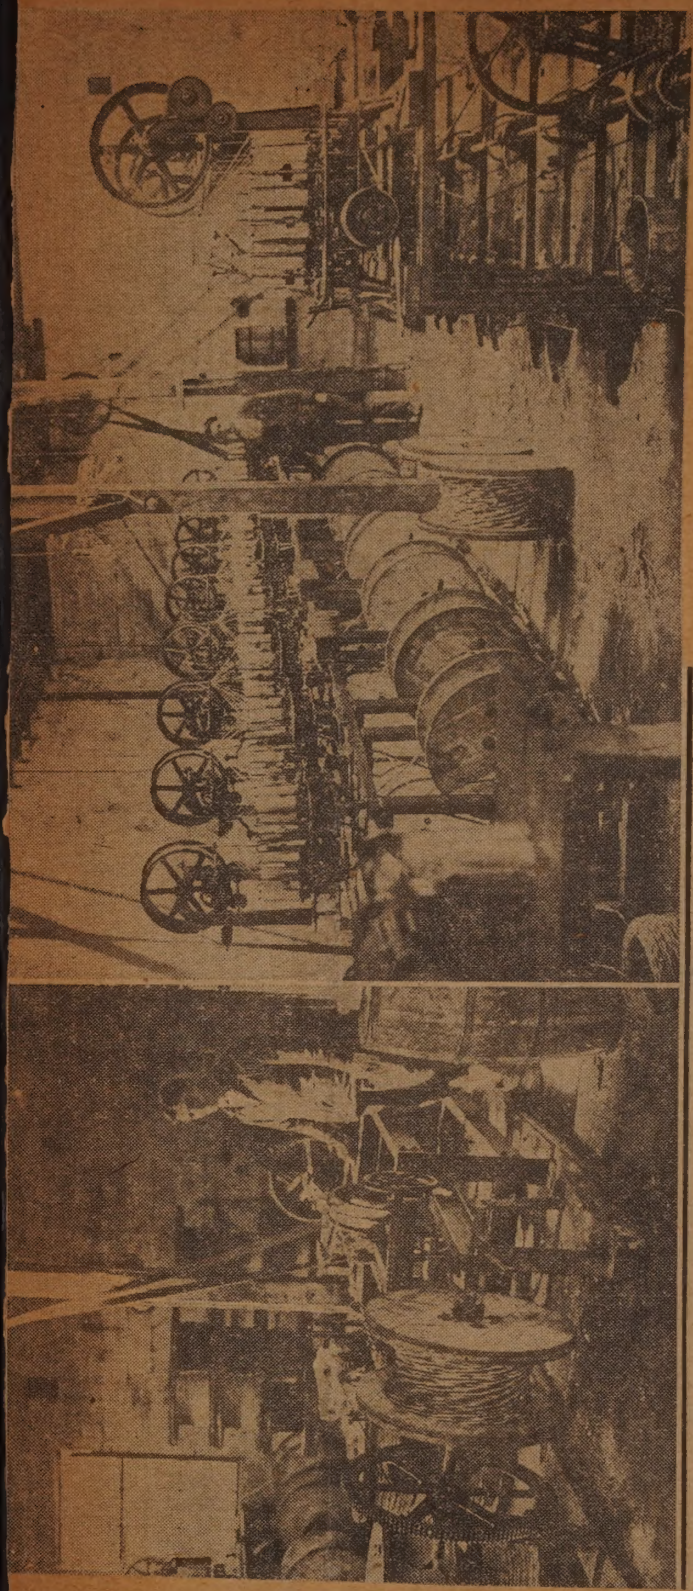
J. E. BRIERLY IS DEAD AT 74

1926 Oct. 21,

Founder of Christian Science Church in City Succumbs at Home

Practitioner Came Here in 1887 and Started with Class of One Pupil

James Edwin Brierly.



Another Infant Industry for New Bedford

The pictures herewith give an idea of the interior of the plant of one of the city's youngest infant industries, the American Flexible Conduit Company. Upper left shows the method of testing the metal conduit for textile strength. The weight suspended at the bottom weighs 300 pounds and the conduit to pass the official underwriters' test must sustain this weight for three minutes without breaking. J. H. Abrams, manager and proprietor of the business is shown at the left of the picture. Lower left is a view of the wire twister, where the individual strands are cabled. Upper right is a group of the steel forming machines which shape the strip steel in such a way that one layer interlocks with the next, and then winds it spirally about the exterior of the wire cable. Finished steel-armored cable is being wound upon the large drums, while the uncovered cable is in coils behind each machine, one coil being in front of the workman standing by the post. Lower right is a view of the braiders which cloth the twisted wire with a braided jacket which is afterward filled with paraffin. In center at the right is a close-up of a piece of armored cable, showing the steel covering at the right, also the braided cotton jacket, which has been slit part way to release the individual wires which form the cable. These wires are individually insulated as shown, with a layer of rubber next to the core wire, covered by a braided outer covering of cotton.

For 24 years in his pre-market days, Mr. Brownell drove the old stage between New Bedford and Little Compton, R. I. carrying mail, passengers, baggage, and acting as errand boy for the whole countryside. Then for a few years he trained his tongue to reel off the names of dozens of varieties of pies, cakes and cookies in Gray's Bakery at Adamsville, R. I.

J. V. Ashley was proprietor of the Purchase street market when Mr. Brownell brought his family to New Bedford and started work there 15 years ago. The business was acquired by Mr. Lanagan, the present owner, soon afterwards.

With the exception of a brief illness not long after he started work at the market, and occasional vacations, Mr. Brownell has put in about 12 full hours, six days a week behind the counter of that market for a decade and a half. Physically vigorous with the exception of those rheumatic legs, jovial, good natured and perpetually cheerful, Mr. Brownell's New Bedford friends have become legion.

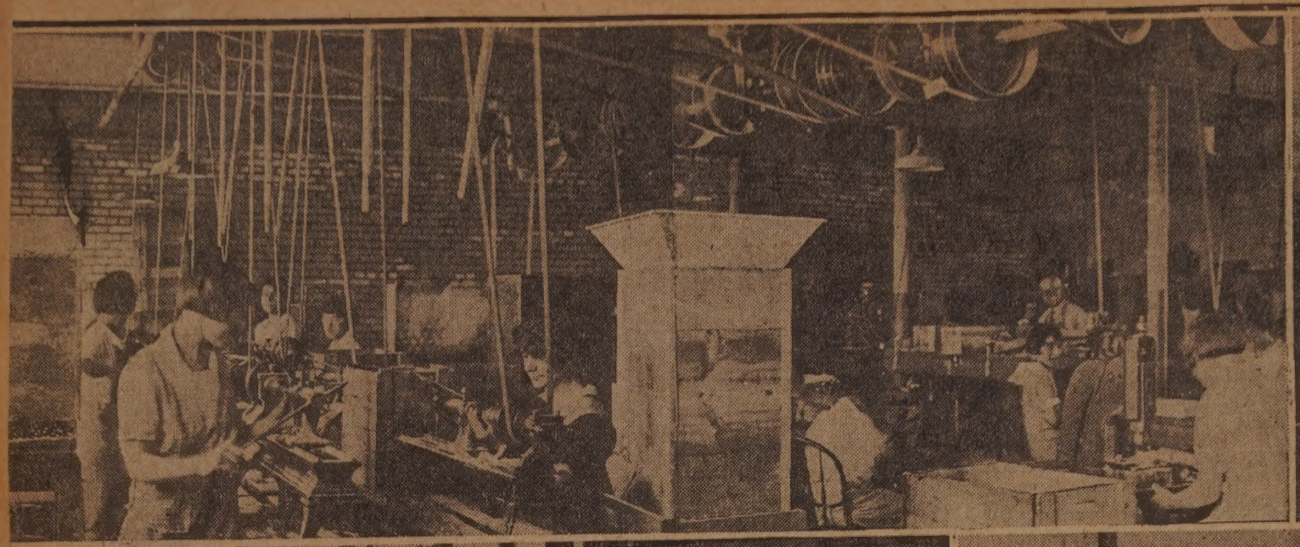
Shopper for Community.

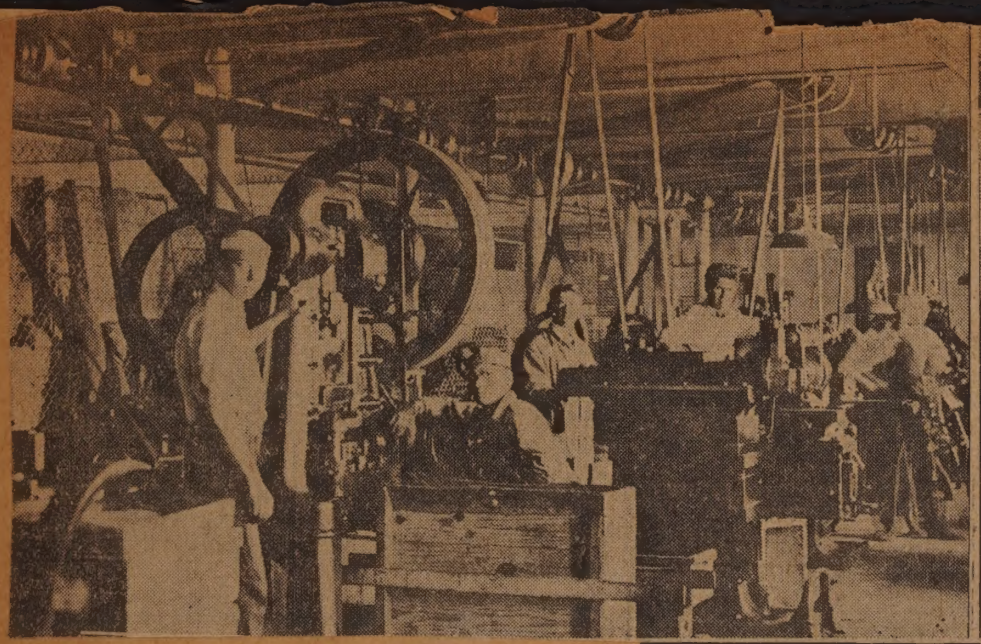
In the old days when he drove the Little Compton stage, his good nature was thoroughly tested too. He was called upon to shop and do errands in the city for everyone along his stage route. He bought women's hats and had them trimmed; he bought the baby's rompers, little sisters dresses; brother's jeans and dad's overalls. He was the main connecting link between city and country in those ante-auto days.

The hours crammed fullest with activity have been Mr. Brownell's happiest ones, and he's a bit dubious now of the prospect of his coming adventure in idleness. But he's going to try it for a few months just working about the house, taking care of the fires and sitting in his big chair with a one-tube pipe and a six-tube radio furnishing his entertainment and alleviating the possible irksomeness of ease.

PUTTING NEW BEDFORD ON TOY MAP OF THE WORLD

July 11-1926





Views of Ted Toy-ler Factory

Upper left, a part of the wood-working department. Upper right, one unit of the battery of spraying machines, which are kept constantly at work stencilling faces, or blouses, or neckties, or some other detail of the toy exterior that does not lend itself to the faster dipping methods that are used wherever possible.

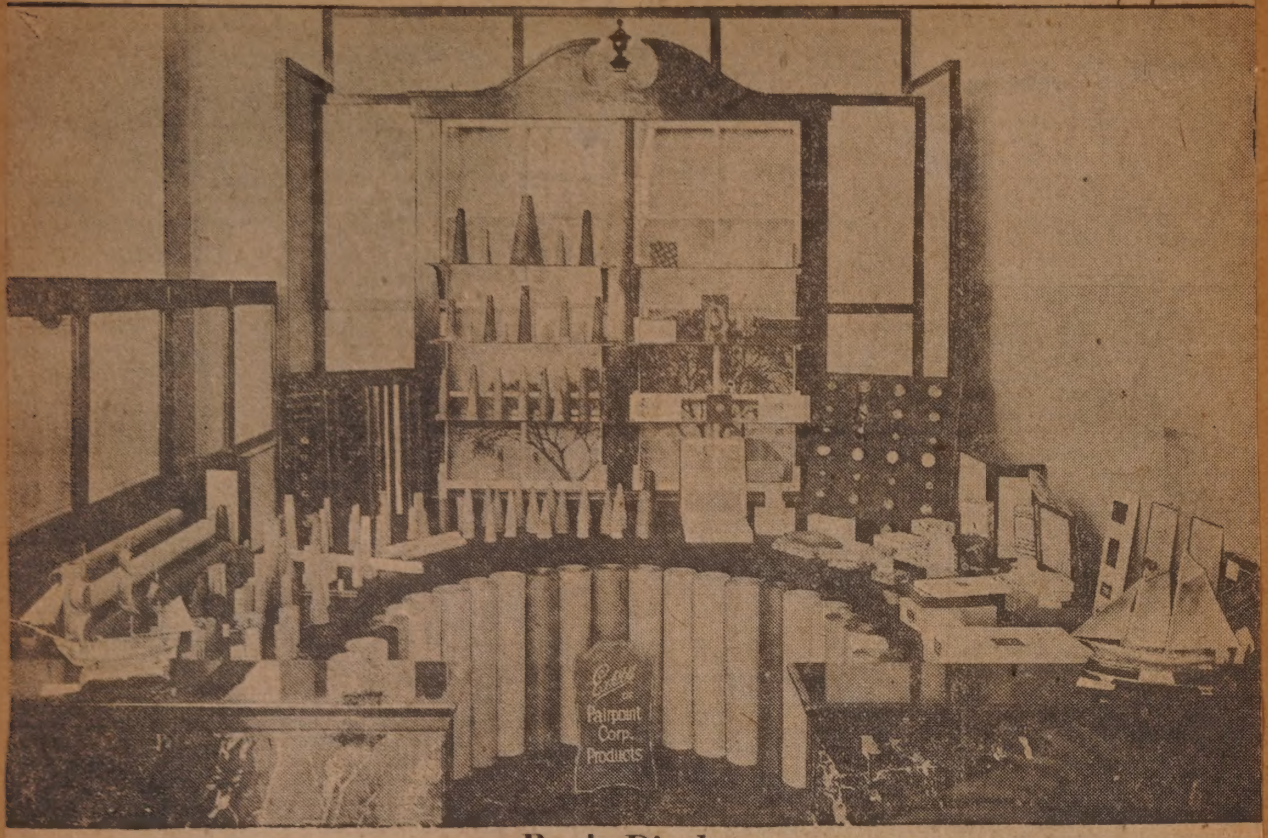
Middle left, a view down one of the assembly tables, showing the conveyer belt in the center carrying the toys and the operators at either side, each with her hopper of supplies by her side. Middle right, some of the toys themselves displayed on a special rack built for the use of the retailer.

Lower left the stamping room with machine shop beyond. Here is where the metal parts are turned out and the special machinery is constructed for use in the factory. Lower right, one corner of the finishing room, where the color is being applied. Note the dipping tanks and enclosed drier, also boxes of finished parts ready to go to the assembly room.

BEAUTIFUL MENEMSHA—Nestled snugly between the uplands at the western end of Martha's Vineyard Island and Menemsha Bight lies the village of Menemsha. This painting, by Frank F. Frederick, is a realistic portrayal of the scene. Sept. 26, 1926.

194

PAIRPOINT EXHIBITS ITS PRODUCTS IN PAPER 9/19.26



Bank Display

In the space which the First National Bank of New Bedford has courteously given over to a series of exhibits of local products, there is shown this week the boxes, tubes and cones manufactured by the Pairpoint Corporation, which recently displayed its glass and silverware there. The photograph here reproduced shows the attractive arrangement in which Pairpoint has put its paper goods before the public. It is a colorful display.

RESCUED FENIAN PRISONERS FROM AUSTRALIA aug 29-26

Bark Catalpa, Captain George S. Anthony

"SMILING ANDY" IS GRANDPA NOW

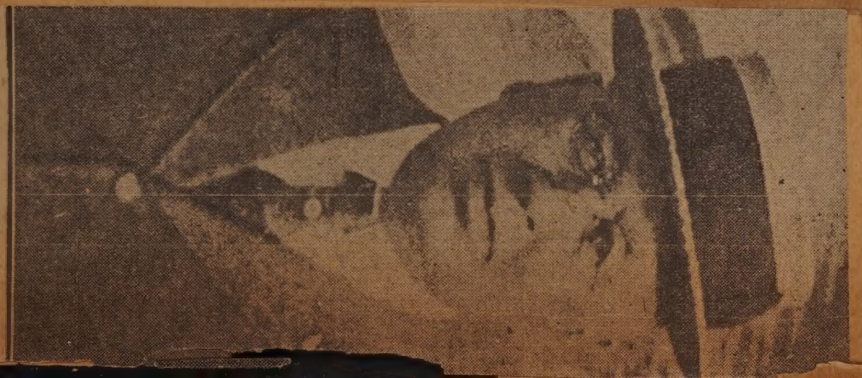
sept. 12-1926

Is Youngster a Future Politician?

Representative Andrew P. Doyle of the Eighth Bristol district is never so busy campaigning that he doesn't have time to play with his eight-months-old grandson, Andrew Doyle O'Neil. The baby's mother, Mrs. Thomas H. O'Neil is admiring her son from over her father's shoulder.

SURVIVOR OF COLONIAL DAYS—The old Carey house, Nantucket, built in 1745, harks back to the days when Britain still ... America. This historic dwelling where Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Caldwell and Mrs. George H. Carey reside has seen almost two ce... of American progress. The group of fair pedestrians is hiking along the road that leads by the old Nantucket Mill in ...

HAVEN FOR VESSELS—In the sheltered Little Bay harbor at Woods Hole many craft bob about on gentle swells protected from the rough waters of the sea. The Anemone, lighthouse tender, is tied up at the pier. Sept. 19, 1926.



Captain John A. Cook.
Keeper of Penn. 16, 1927.

Princess Wootonekanuske.
Oct. 31, 1926.

MRS. JOYCE KILMER SUMMERS AT WESTPORT

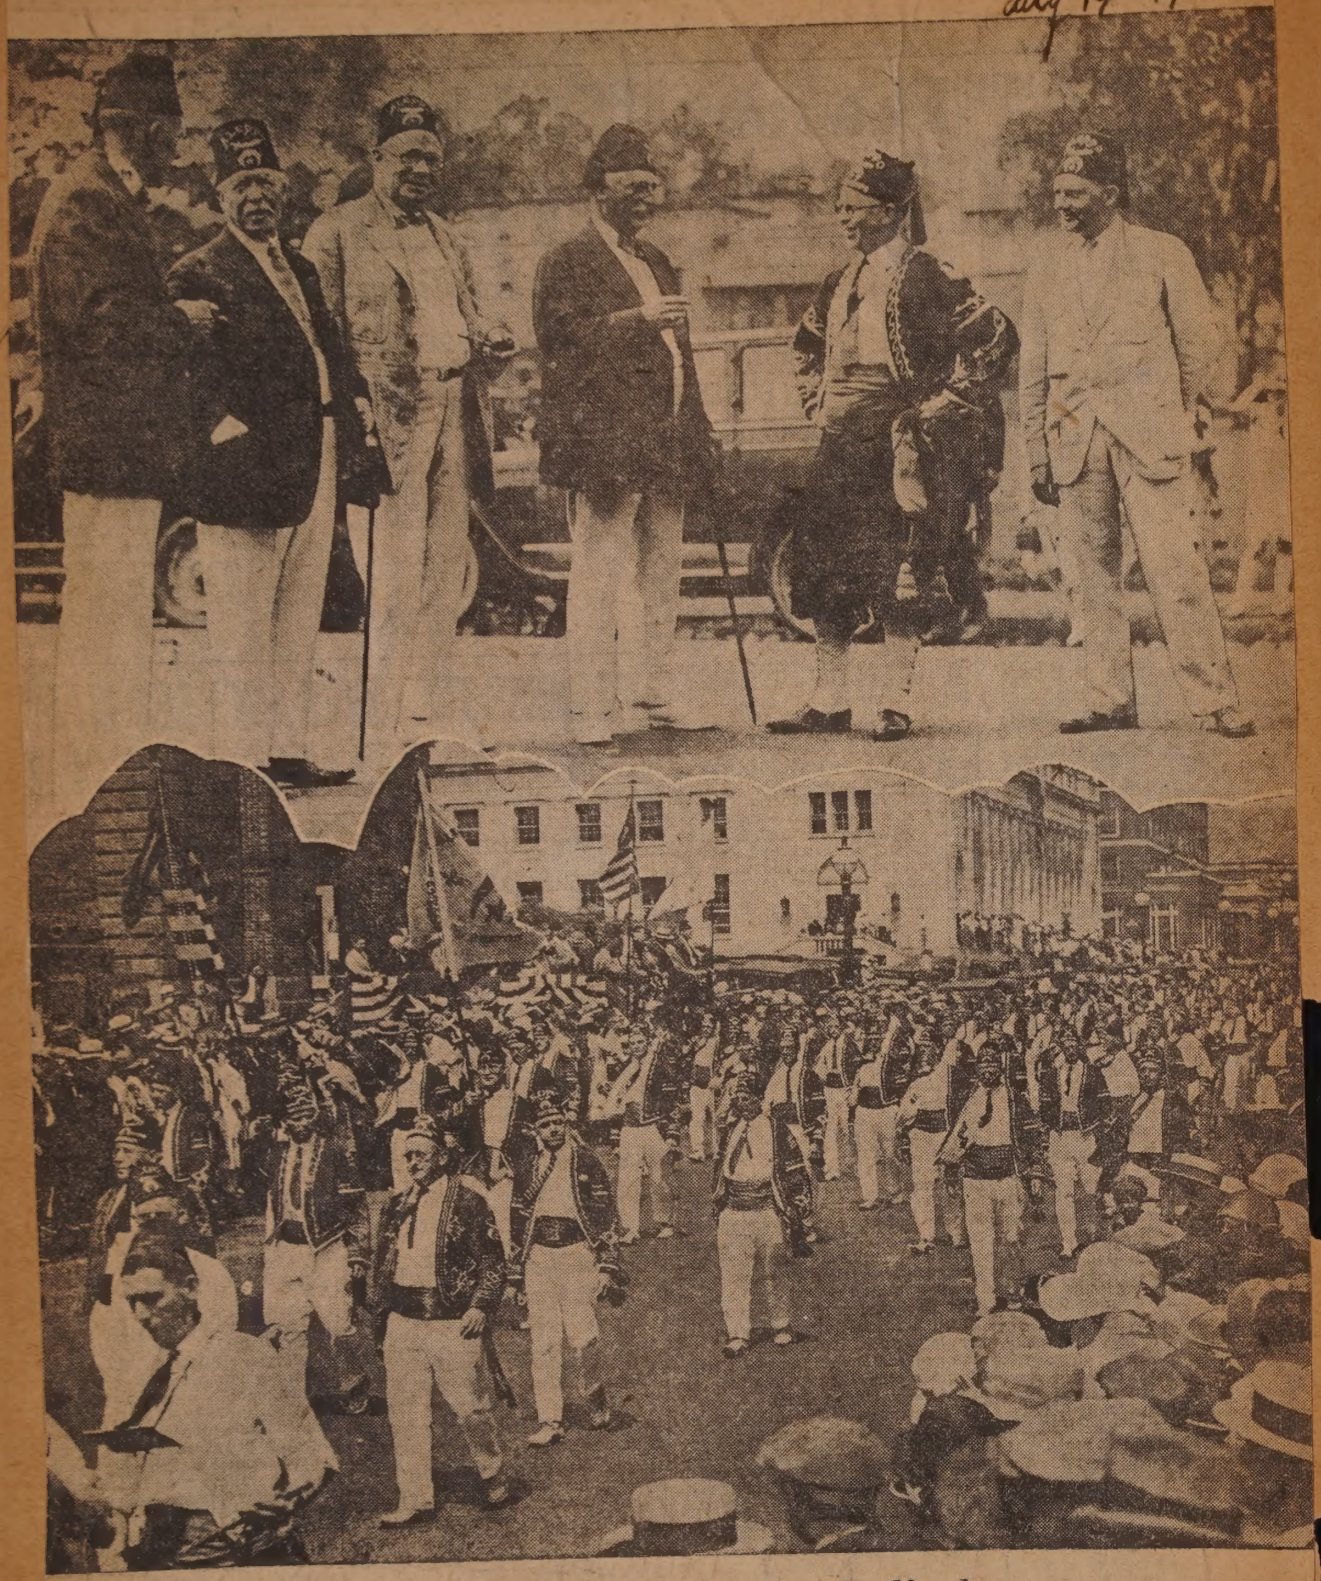
Aug 22-26

A Poet's Family on Vacation

The younger Kilmers pause in their play. Deborah, Michael, Domar the dog, and Christopher. Top right, Aline Kilmer, their mother (Mrs. Joyce Kilmer), and her eldest son, Kenton. Below, "The Buttonwood," their hom ethis summer, from the Westport River front.

SHRINERS TREAT CITY TO PARADE AND MUSIC

aug 14-1926



Aleppo Temple Visits New Bedford

Greetings at the railroad station: Fred L. Heyes; William R. West; Stephen C. Lowe; Charles S. Ashley; an Aleppo bandsman, Jeff Beede; Walter I. Brown. A glimpse of the parade passing the reviewing stand.

Andrew Robeson house which stood on the east side of Second street.

The Fall River Robeson house which this story centers.

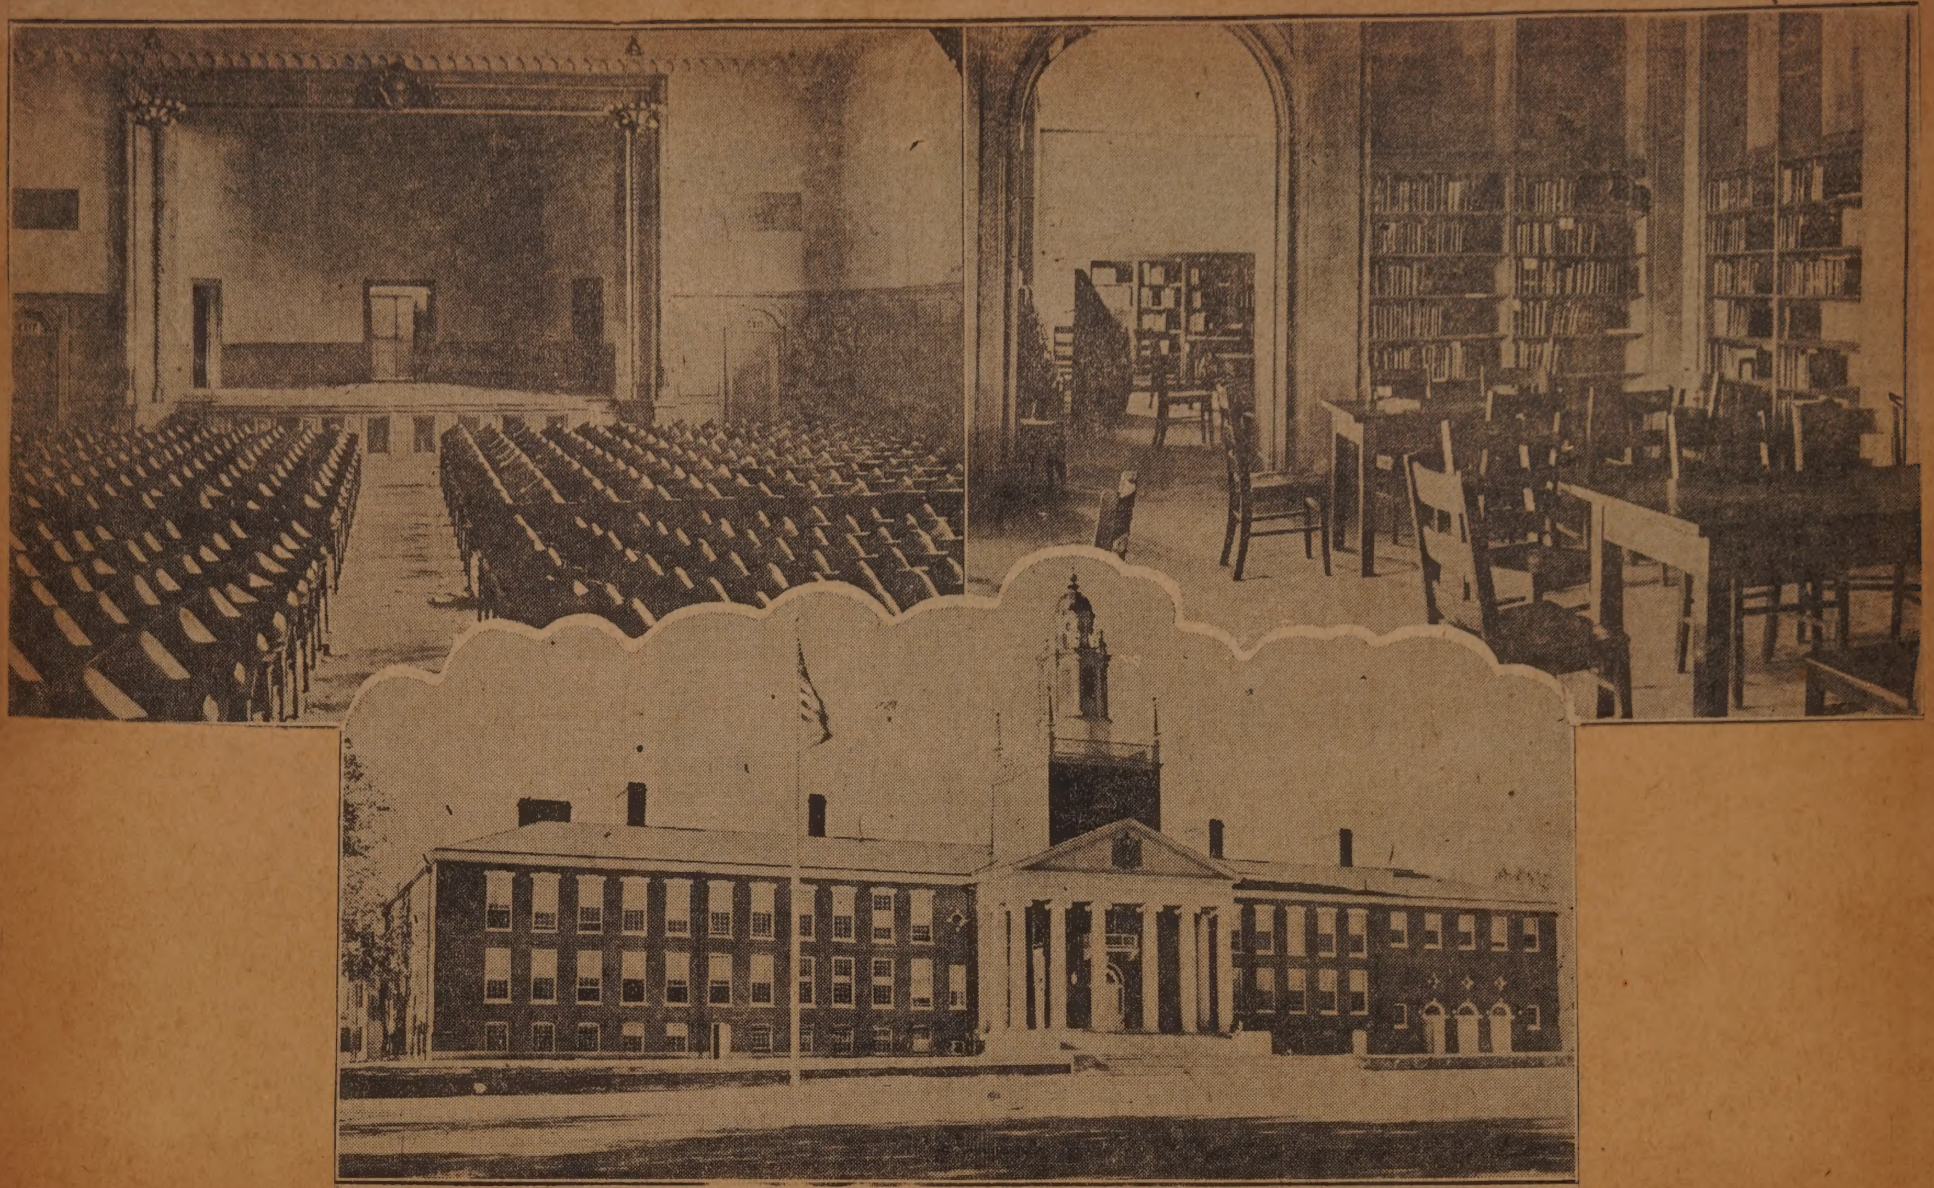
Novelists at Summer Home

Major A. Hamilton Gibbs and his wife, Jeannette Phillips Gibbs, novelists both, "at home" at the Phillips farm, The Highlands, in Lakeville. The picture at the right is deceptive. "We don't really read the same book at once," Mrs. Gibbs said. "I read so much more rapidly than Arthur does." "But not so thoroughly, perhaps?" teased her husband. There's nothing deceptive about the lower picture, though. Major Gibbs loves his pipe and plays a corking game of golf.

BUILT IN 1836—The old Lawrence Academy building in Falmouth, used for educational purposes until a new high school was built there, now houses the Grand Army of the Republic, the Women's Relief Corps and the American Legion.

BURNED STRUCTURES AT BRIDGEWATER NORMAL SCHOOL ARE REPLACED

6-17-26



Will Be Dedicated Next Friday

Above—Horace Man Auditorium and Library. Below New Normal School Building.

The Thomas R. Robeson house on County street. Aug. 15, 1926.

IN THE 'NINETIES—This is how one of New Bedford's busiest corners — Purchase and William streets — looked 30 years ago. Haskell & Tripp's dry goods store was on the site of the Union Street Railway Waiting Room.

MEMBERS OF THE WING CLAN GATHER AT SANDWICH

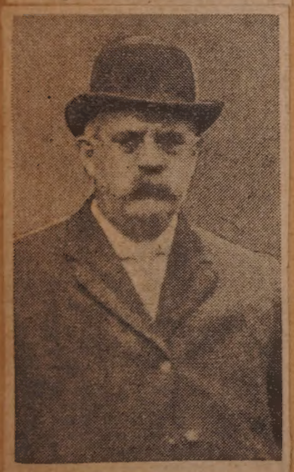
aug 28 '26

CAPE COD CANAL—This picture shows the Canal in late summer. —Photo by Michael Greenan.

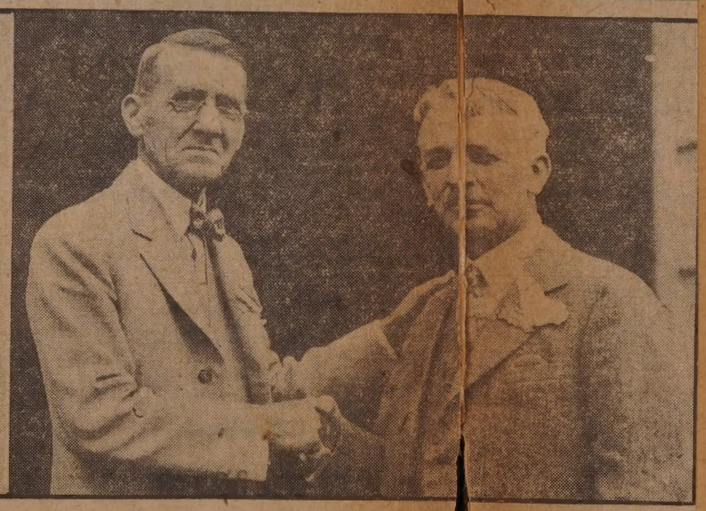
VETERINARIAN, 70, DIES HERE

11/25-26

Albert A. Dunlap Was for Many Years Employed to Care for Health of Fire Department Horses



Albert A. Dunlap.



At the Wing Family Reunion

Upper left—One of the largest families present: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Councill of Pittsburgh, Pa., and their children, Alice Wing, David Elihu, Ruth, and William H. Upper right—New officers: Professor Herbert Wing, Jr., Carlisle, Pa. and South Dartmouth, Mrs. Emma Wing Thompson, Seattle, Wash., second vice president; Rufus L. Sisson, Potsdam, N. Y., first vice president; Alvin Wing, Sandwich, treasurer; Mrs. Caroline Wing Parker, Acushnet, secretary. Professor Wing is holding the youngest member of the family present at the reunion. Lower left—the Wing coat of arms. Lower right—Frederick A. Wing of Seattle, and George L. Weston of Portland, Maine.

AN OLD VIEW ON VINEYARD HAVEN—Dr. Leach's barn and the home of Laura Robinson may be seen in this old time photograph taken on the island.

Fund Designed to Give Free Medical Aid to Vineyarders

James P. Cahen Would Remove All Mercenary Motives from Profession

HOPES TO TEST HIS VISION ON ISLAND

$5000 Invested in Bank to Accumulate Into Endowment

9/19/1926

(Special to The Standard)

Vineyard Haven, Sept. 18—A vision of the free practice of medicine throughout the land has been a guiding force to a summer resident of Marthas Vineyard. It has led him to establish a $5,000 endowment which will eventually afford free medical and surgical care to all residents of the island. This, he hopes, will be in the nature of a demonstration and a first step toward the realization of his dream. He believes the day will come when mercenary motives are absolutely removed from the medical profession, when all physicians will be supported by endowment or by the state and will, therefore, make no charge for their services, and, greatest of all in his opinion, when the profession will be limited to true physicians and surgeons, guided only by ideals of service through their skill.

James P. Cahen

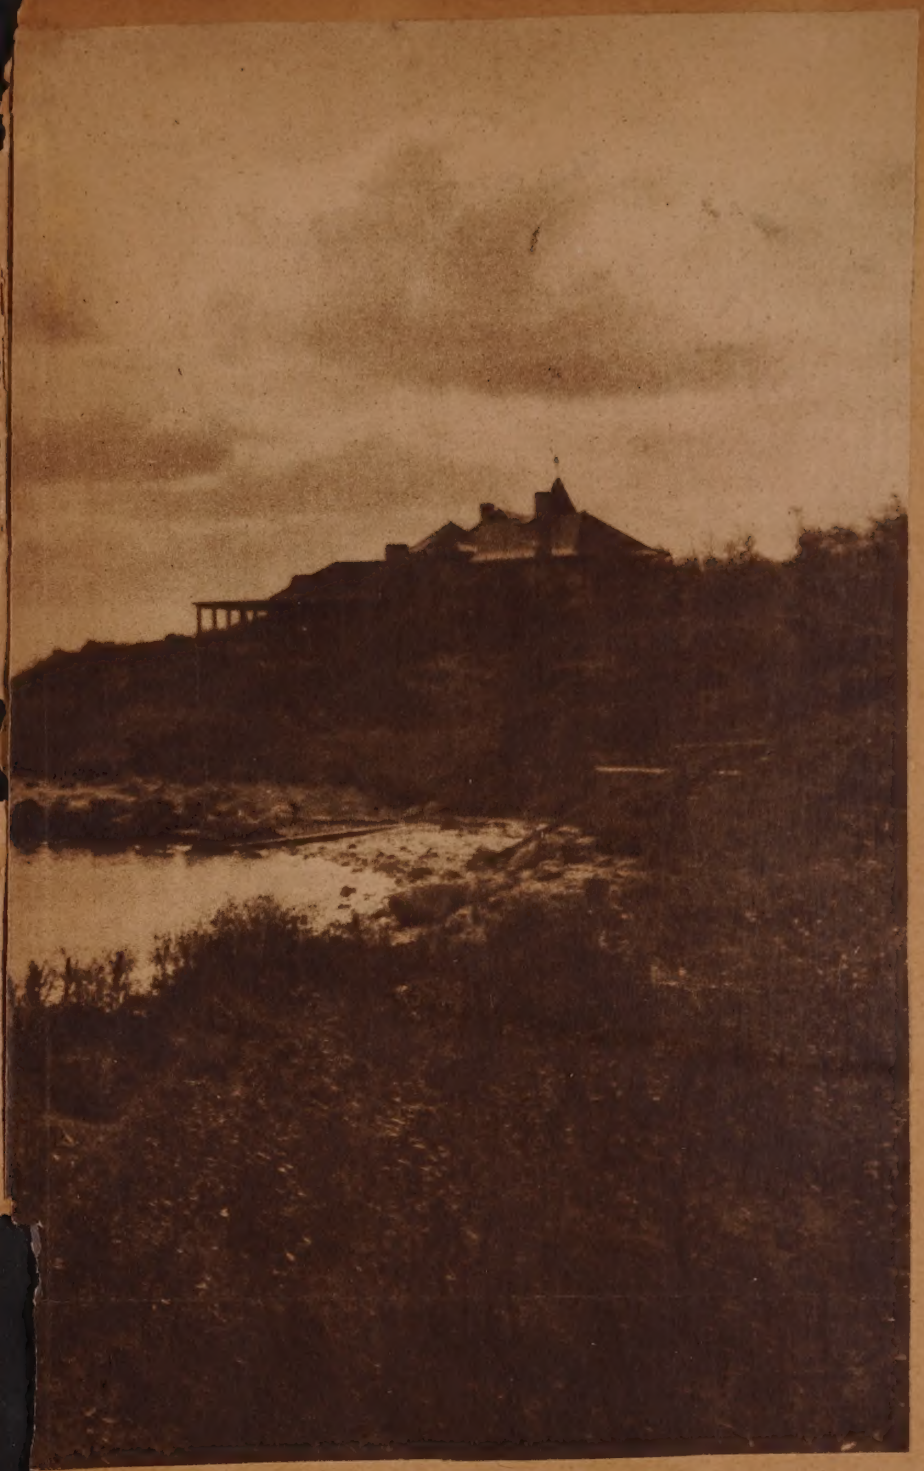
Photo by Howard M. Wood

THE MYSTERY OF THE SEA—Early shadows of nightfall enhance the beauty of this scene, taken on the shore of the Grinnell Estate, South Dartmouth.

419

Copyright 1906 by the Rotograph Co.

G 6893 Ye Olde Winde Mill, built 1746, Nantucket, Mass.



DIES AT AGE OF 88 IN ACUSHNET

1/3-27

Mrs. Lois E. Chace Fails to Recover from Slight Shock Friday 1/3

Native of East Freetown Did All of Her Own Housework

Mrs. Lois E. Chace, 88, widow of Abel Chace, 397 Middle road, Acushnet, died at 8:30 this morning following a brief illness.

Mrs. Chace was found unconscious on the floor of her home Friday suffering from a slight shock. Since net, died at 8:30 yesterday morning following a brief illness.

Mrs. Chace was born at Ashley's Corner, East Freetown, and had always made her home in this vicinity. She had been a resident of Acushnet for more than 30 years, moving there with her husband, when his health began to fail. Her husband was a wheelwright and carpenter by trade and before moving to Acushnet was foreman for Greene and Wood.

Mrs. Lois E. Chace.

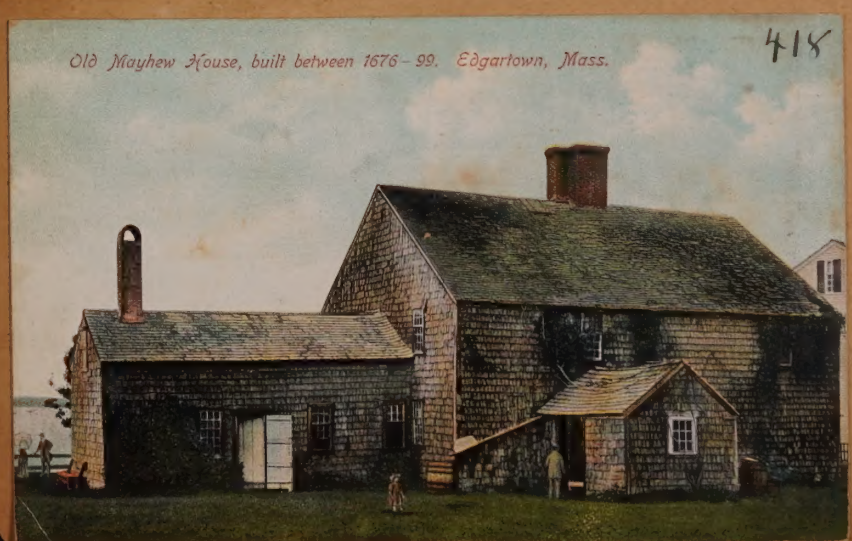
For a time Mr. and Mrs. Chace lived in Taunton and other places of this vicinity as his place of business changed. Mr. Chace died after he had been at the Acushnet farm two or three years.

In spite of her advanced age Mrs. Chace has been mentally alert and physically able to do all of her own housework. Except for a hired man who did the chores about her place she had lived by herself.

She is survived by three children: Lester N. Chace, Wareham, Morris C. Chace, New Bedford and Mrs. Anna B. Darling, East Freetown; and two sisters, Mrs. Walter Spooner, Acushnet, and Mrs. Susan Williams, Freetown.



208

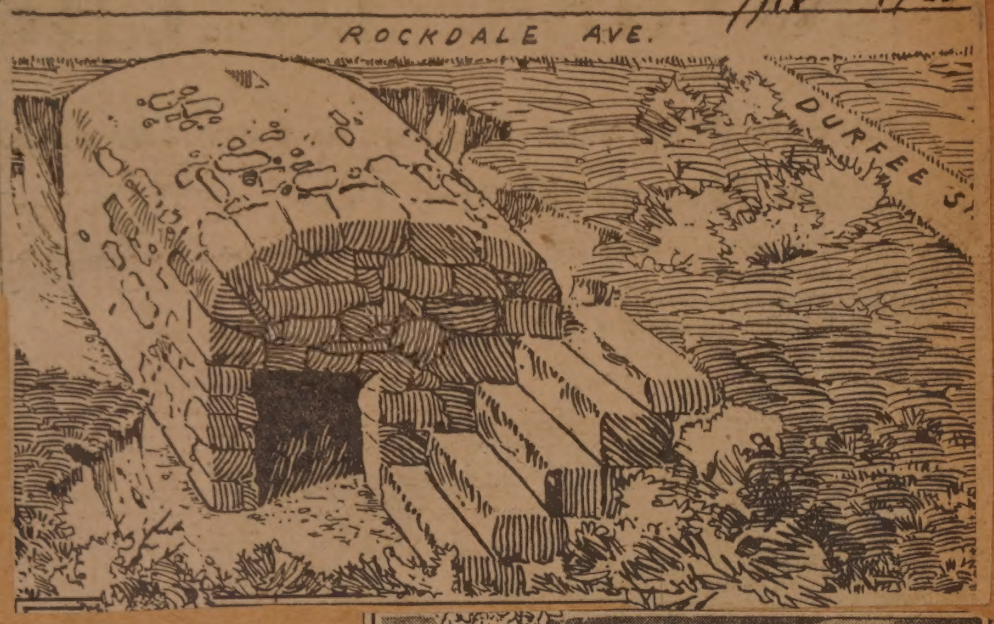
Cave on Rockdale Avenue Will Soon Be Cellar, but Mystery of Origin Persists

9/18 1926

Stone Cavern Probably Built for Experiment in Beer Manufacture

HAS LONG BEEN HAUNT OF BOYS

Romance Attributes Its Use to Smugglers and Escaped Slaves



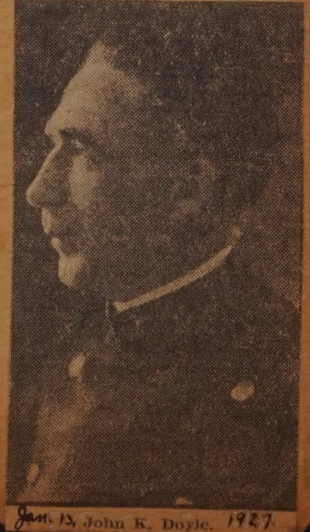
Mystery Lurks in Cave

The sketch at the top shows the relative location of the cave and as the entrance appears. At the bottom, a reproduction of a photograph of the mouth of the cave.

PASTORAL BEAUTY—The camera has caught a landscape here that is almost worthy of the elder Innes, painter of trees. The scene is on the country place of Mrs. Oliver Prescott, North Dartmouth.

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY

1927. Edward J. Harrington.



Jan. 13, John K. Doyle. 1927

TED TOY-LERS DISPLAY TOY LINE AT BANK Oct 10/26

Reasons for Rapid Rise of Toy Concern

The display of wood and metal toys made by New Bedford factory is attracting much interest at First National Bank.

—Photo by Birdsall.

HE DEALS IN FUTURES—The farmer, no less than the cotton man, stakes his time and money against the future. This man, photographed in Lakeville, is plowing for next year's crop.

NEW BEDFORD HAS SPRIGHTLY MUSICIANS OF MELLIE DUNHAM TY

Old Time Trio's Combined Ages Reach Total of 234 Years

They are: William F. Healey, 77, (left); Benjamin F. Fish, 80; and Roland A. Hatch, 77; who find that music helps to make pleasant hours.

ANOTHER VIEW — Two County street residences opposite the present site of the High School are shown here in another view of old New Bedford. The children have no fear of being hit by automobiles.

LOOKING DOWN WILLIAM STREET—Here is a view from the Morgan House back in the days when the automobile was as rare as the horses and buggies in this picture are today. The old Merchants National Bank can be seen under the foliage at the other end of William street. The Morgan House stood on the present site of the New Bedford High School.

HOME FROM SOUTH AMERICA may 14, 26

Wilson Family Is Re-United

Left to right, Edward L. Wilson, New Bedford; his brother, Captain William H. Wilson, Valparaiso, Chile, who is visiting New Bedford for the first time in 42 years; Captain Wilson's son, William M. Wilson, who was born in Chile; Mrs. Louise Wilson Pettengill, Round Brook, N. J.; Miss Bertha Wilson, New Bedford.

—Photo by Bachrach.

MISS EDITH PHILLIPS — Miss Phillips is th daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Phillips, 16 Elm street.

VİNEYAR Viney road i

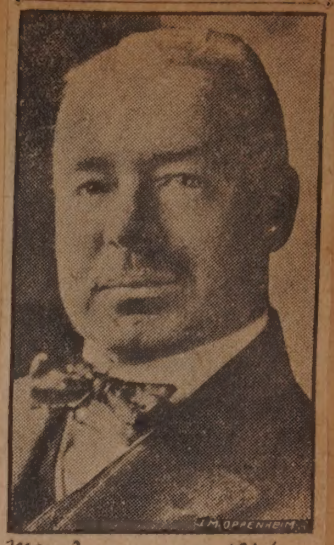
Photo by Howard M. Wood.

HAVEN FROM THE SKY—This is the view the aviator has of Haven and West Chop from a 1,000-foot altitude. The Beach ainly outlined in the foreground. Sept. 5, 1926.

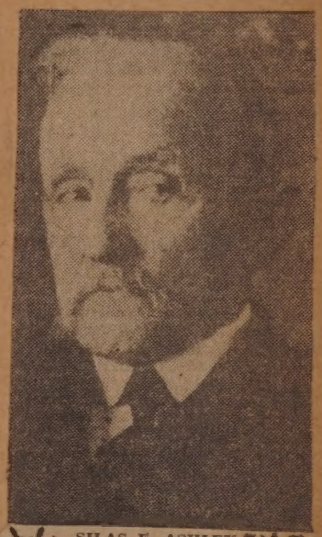
ACCIDENT VICTIM



May 3, John Neild. 1926.

DEATH AFFECTS THREE PLANTS

John Neild Connected with Bristol, Neild, and City Companies



July SILAS E. ASHLEY. 7-27

Mr. Ashley, a pioneer settler of the North End, died yesterday at 85.

May DR. A. J. TAVEIRA 25 '27

Photo by Howard M. Wood

HALLOWED BY THE PILGRIMS—This road, where once the Pilgrims trod, leads up to Corn Hill, Truro, where the Pilgrim expedition first discovered Indian corn.

COUNTING TIME FOR ISLANDERS — The old town clock in the tower of the Second Congregational Church, Nantucket, stands sentinel-like among the elm trees. This island watchman, silently recording each beat of time, can be seen from any part of the island and a long way off at sea. At the right is the entrance to the First National Bank. 1926

WHERE THE POND LILIES BLOOM — There are many picturesque spots on Cape Cod, but few are more entrancing than this one at North Eastham. The vine covered building in the background lends an atmosphere of age which the modern structures close by cannot entirely destroy. —Photo by Howard M. Wood

Photo by Howard M. Wood

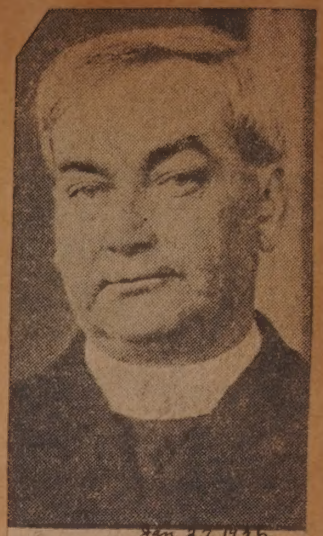
THE DAY'S TASK — With the labor of the day completed this team of oxen at Menemsha, Marthas Vineyard, presents a picturesque scene as it plods along the homeward path.

TAKING HER SHORT CUT—One of the entertaining pastimes along the Cape Cod canal is watching vessels pass through. Here is the S. S. New York, enroute to New York out of Boston, passing through the canal at Bournedale. —Photo by Birdsall.

A CHURCH ON CAPE COD—This is the Federated Church, at Sandwich, whose tower clock keeps time for the people of this Cape Cod town.

Sept. 5, 1926. Photo by Howard M. Wood

ON A SUNDAY AFTERNOON—'Tis a merry ride on the steamer Nobska, and 'tis a gladsome scene looking out over Buzzards Bay from the deck of the vessel.



Jan. 27, 1926.
The Rev. Charles E. Clerk.

MISS HELEN F. MOORE.
June 11, 1937.

—Photo by C. C. Cain Jr.

INDUSTRIAL TAUNTON— This photograph, taken from the top of the new Taunton municipal light plant smokestack, at a height of 250 feet, shows a number of the city's large stove foundries.

—Photo by Michael Brennan

THE LURE OF THE CAPE—Approaching the old mill at Sandwich, Cape Cod, one follows the windings of this shaded road. It is to glimpse such vistas as this one that so many go to the Cape.

CHURCH AND RECTORY—The photograph shows the Church of St. Peter the Apostle, at Provincetown, of which the Rev. John A. Silvia, formerly curate at St. John's Church, this city, is pastor. The Rev. James A. Coyle, who for several years was at St. Lawrence's Church here, is his assistant. The rectory is shown in the foreground.

Oct. 10, 1926.

Mar. 13, 1921.

JUNIOR HIGH TEACHER—Miss Cora G. Sanford, who recently joined the teaching staff of the South Junior High School, has been teaching in Barre, Vt. Her home is in Newport, R. I. Miss Sanford teaches in the science department.

Wide World Photo

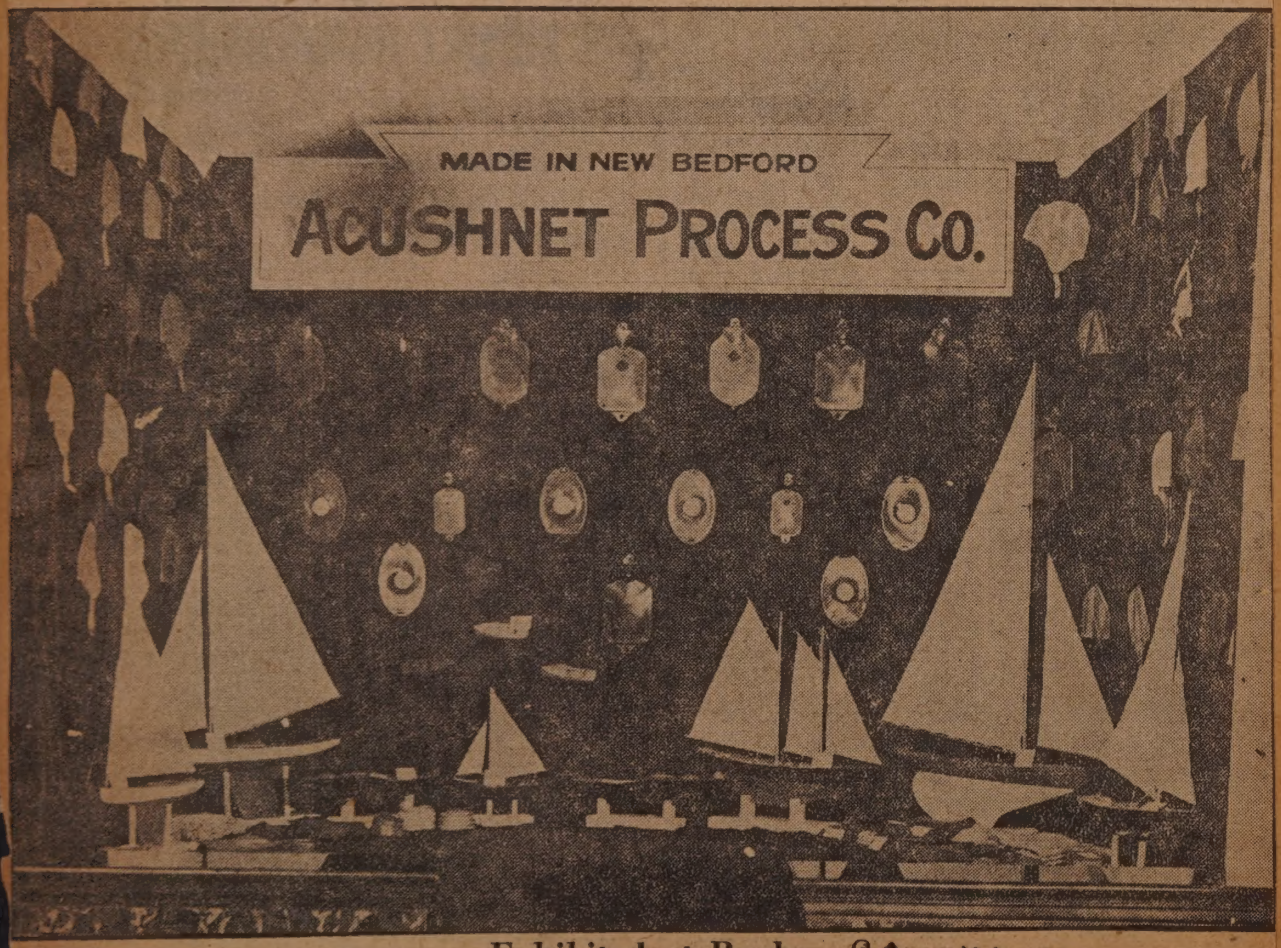
PILGRIM DAYS REVIVED—Pilgrim's Progress was depicted in the annual ceremony when citizens of Plymouth marched up Leyden street, the first street in the colony blazed by the Pilgrim forefathers, to church service in the old fort on the hill. Many of the marchers are descendants of the first settlers

"PILGRIMS" MARCH TO CHURCH—"Myles Standish", "Elder Brewster", and "Governor Bradford" led the "Pilgrims" through the old streets in the annual procession to the old fort on the hill for church service in Plymouth portraying Pilgrim's Progress. Left to right behind the drummer are the Rev. W. H. Osmond as Elder Brewster, Clarence Bradford as Governor Bradford: and Adrian Whiting as Myles Standish. Wide World Photo

AN INFORMAL POSE—Mrs. Green, wife of Colonel E. H. R. Green was snapped recently on the lawn of their Round Hills estate. 1927.

WHERE SUMMER RESIDENTS DWELL—The old North Wharf, Nantucket, is a mecca to summer residents. These summer cottages, unable to get any closer to the inviting water, veritably roll up their boots and wade in.

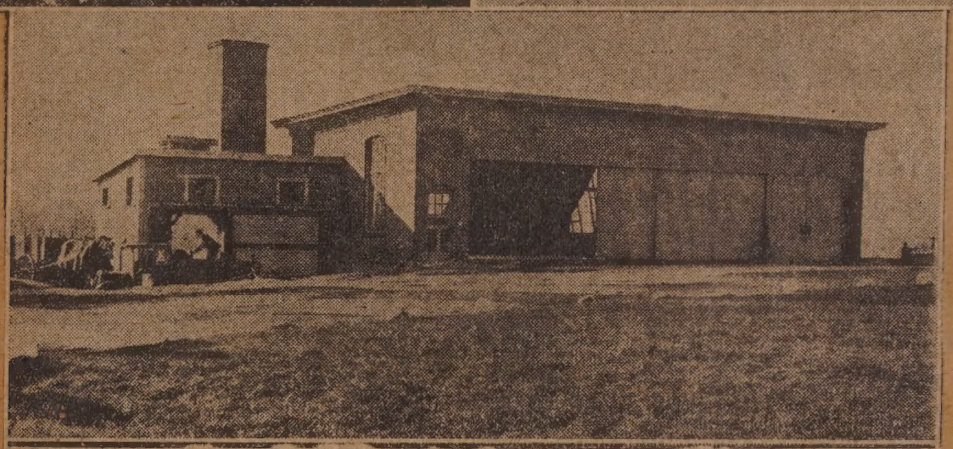
ACUSHNET PROCESS CO. RUBBER PRODUCTS ON DISPLAY



Exhibited at Bank Oct. 24 '26

Picture shows rubber bathing caps, pouches, garters, ice bags, etc., and also a beautiful line of toy sailboats and motorboats made of rubber. These can be seen in the Acushnet Process Company display which will occupy a corner of the lobby of the First National for the next two weeks.

CITY'S MODEL INCINERATION PLANT NEARS COMPLETION



New Building Is Contrast to Old Oct. 24, 1926

Work is progressing rapidly on the new incineration plant which is being erected on Shawmut avenue by the city. The plant will be one of the finest in the east. It is being erected by the Superior Incinerator Company and the company plans to bring officials from other cities to New Bedford to inspect the new plant. The photograph at the upper left shows an exterior view of the plant and that at the upper right shows the interior. The present incineration plant is shown below.

THE ANCHORAGE — The summer home of Herbert J. Blume, Chicago, at Penzance, Woods Hole, is called The Anchorage. The light brackets at the entrance gate are supplemented by sea-worn anchors. 1926.

—Photo by Michael Greenan.

FARM AND FACTORY—This is a panoramic view of Fall River, taken across farming lands near the Somerset shipyard.

PURCHASE STREET—Standing at Mechanics lane and looking south on Purchase street today one gets a different view from that pictured here. The old fire station and the original site of the New Bedford Five Cent Savings Bank are shown.

CITY SOLICITOR — This picture of Benjamin B. Barney was taken when he was graduated from high school

—Wide World Photo.

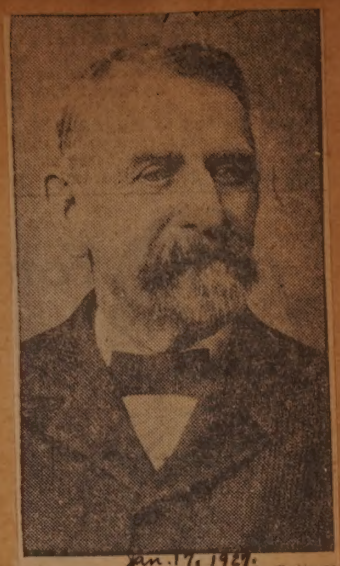
MODERN WHALER—The whale may have swallowed Jonah, as the Bible says, but nowadays this is what swallows the whale. In the prow of the C. A. Larsen, one of the largest modern whalers afloat, is a waterproof door through which the whale, when caught, is drawn to the try-works. 1926

William H. Knowles, 108 Willi

—Photo by Michael Greenan.

INDUSTRIAL FALL RIVER—A skyline of smokestacks, with church steeples and business structures in the background, is seen in this view of Fall River, taken from the government shipyards. Nov. 21, 1926.



Jan. 17, 1927.

AUGUST S. RUSSELL, 16 Cottage street, who died at St. Luke's Hospital Saturday afternoon after suffering with a bronchial affection. He was 87. He was survived by a brother, William H. Russell, Whittier, Cal.; one sister, Mary H. Sherman, North Westport, four nieces and four nephews.

—Photo by Buchrach.

MISS JEAN PRATT—Miss Pratt is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David D. Pratt, 118 Cottage street.

INDIAN CHURCH SELDOM USED

Aug. 22, 1926

Simple Structure Built in Mashpee in Year 1684

Bronze Tablet Eulogizes Early Pilgrim Workers Among Indians

Buried in the woods of Mashpee, reached only by following a narrow sandy road winding a mile off the main highway between Falmouth and Mashpee village, stands the Old Indian Church, one of Cape Cod's most ancient structures, built in the year 1684.

Just a simple boxlike structure, shining white in the sun with a new coat of paint, the Old Indian Church looks as if it were built but yesterday. It stands on the crest of a small hill, and in both its backyard and frontyard are weathered gravestones, some more than a century old.

This ancient temple of Pilgrim faith, where two centuries ago the Mashpee Indians were told of the Christian religion, has for 215 years been aided by a fund left in trust to Harvard College by one Daniel Williams. Even today, when the last full-blooded Mashpee Indian has disappeared, services are held in the Old Indian Church occasionally.

Tablet Tells Story.

A tablet of bronze, fastened to a large boulder before the church, tells its story. It reads: "In memory of friends who labored among the Indians. To the ones who gave more grounded hopes of adoration to the things of God.

"In 1711 Daniel Williams left a trust fund in charge of Harvard College for the perpetuation of preaching to the Indians. Indian preachers, Simon Popmonet, Solomon Briant, William Apes, Joseph Amos, the blind preacher.

"That it may stand in all the future years the undisturbed record of a rugged race, to be governed by the word of the Lord in all things. Now to their gentle memory be naught but kind regards and to their quiet ashes—peace."

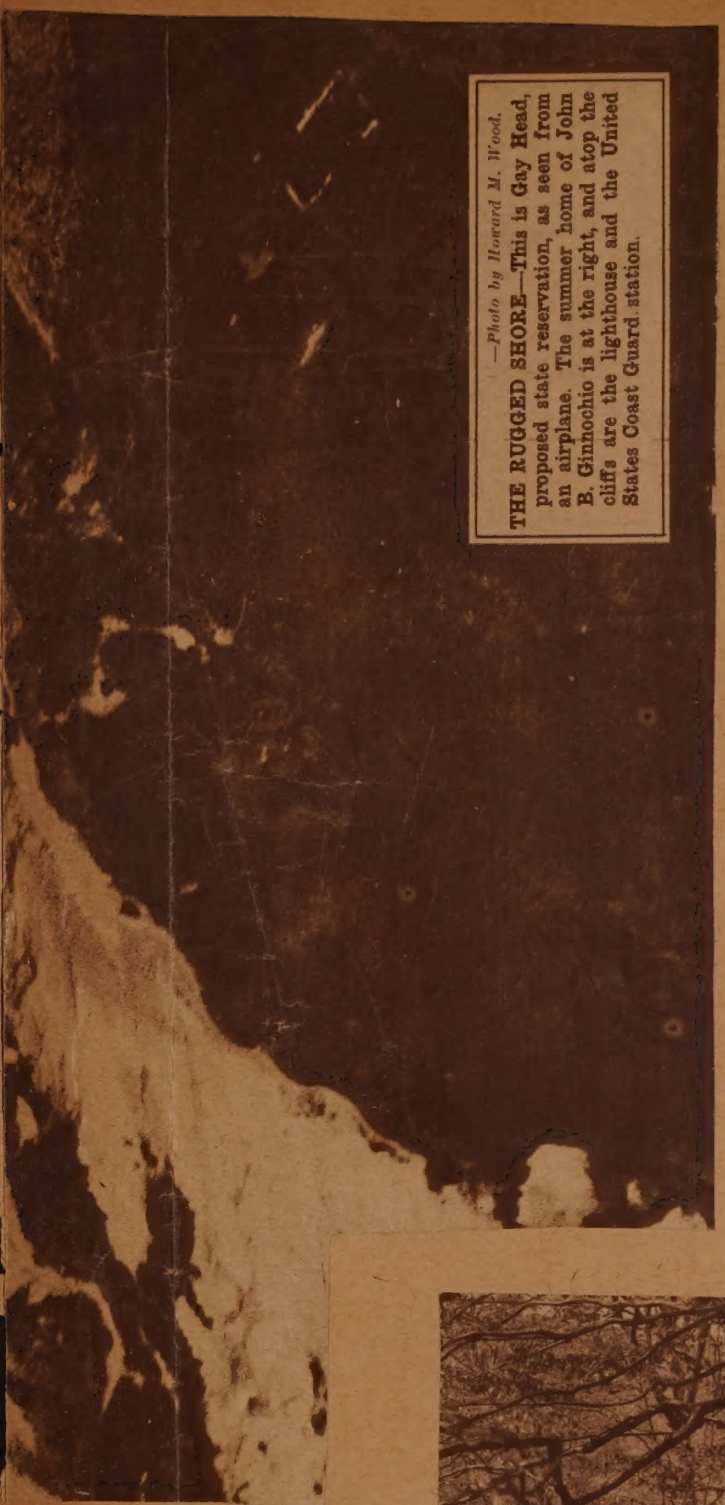
Mashpee has but two churches, and one pastor, the Rev. Lawrence D. Hinckley, Forestdale. Sunday services are usually conducted in the chapel at Mashpee, but occasionally the Old Indian Meeting House serves, as it has for the past two centuries.

STANDS FOUR-SQUARE AND TRUE

Old Indian Church at Mashpee

COUNTY STREET—A goodly number of years have passed since this photograph was taken. It shows County street, looking south from in front of the Superior Court house.

UNION STREET—The tallest building on the left in this view of Union street, east of Purchase, is just now being replaced by a modern structure, and the one below it marks the course of Acushnet avenue today. Masts are seen at the foot of the hill.



—Photo by Howard M. Wood.

THE RUGGED SHORE—This is Gay Head, proposed state reservation, as seen from an airplane. The summer home of John B. Ginnochio is at the right, and atop the cliffs are the lighthouse and the United States Coast Guard station.

Photo by A. F. Packard

THE SNOWPLOW—The faithful horse is pressed into service quite often when the streets become impassable to automobiles. The photograph shows one helping to clear Fairhaven bridge. 1927.

Photo by Lynwood M. Chace

THEIR WORK SURVIVES — This stone wall, built through a woodland swamp in Swansea, is the work of sturdy New Englanders of days long gone by.

—Photo by F. C. Phinney.

ZERO WEATHER—The Islander is seen breasting the cold brine on its way out of the harbor in this photograph, taken from the Fairhaven depot in January, 1925. The old ferry slip is seen on the right.

Jan. 9, 1927. —Photo by Grace LeB. Cole.

IN MATTAPOISETT—This photograph shows the beauty of winter in Mattapoisett, when the road and hedge alike are blanketed with snow.

1927 —Wide World Photo.

MODEL THAT SAILS—Athru Cheney, Provincetown, made this model of the Charles W. Morgan for Mrs. E. R. Brevoort, New York City. It is built to scale, fully equipped, and has sailed a two-mile stretch in Provincetown Harbor, showing its quality of workmanship.

CHATHAM FISHERMEN

234

—Dorothy G. Wayman Photo.

"NO WIND THAT BLEW DISMAYED THE CREW"— Here is the crew of the C. G. 237, Woods Hole, which on the night of Dec. 6 1926 rescued two New Bedford vessels, the Unique and the Hillas, from the rocks near Egg Island. Standing, left to right, are Seamen George E. Norris and C Cannon; seated, Motor Machinist's Mates Alfred Haisch and Alby Hutchison, Boatswain H. E Kambarn, commanding, Motor Machinist's Mate William E. Waterman, Boatswain's Mate Clarence E. Woods and Fred Vandenborg, cook.

THE HOME LANE Taken by Howard Wood.

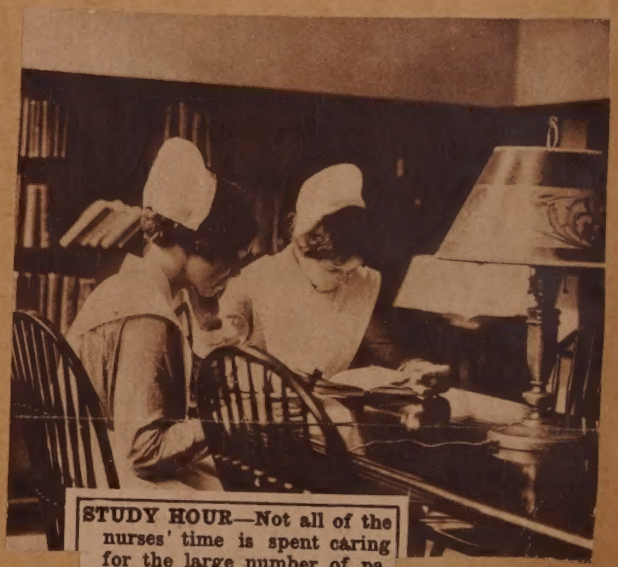
Jan. 9, 1927.

FOUR GENERATIONS—Seventy-seven years lie between the ages of two members of this family group. In the front row, left to right, are: James McAlpine Sr., 85; Edward McAlpine, eight, and John McAlpine, 59. Standing is James McAlpine Jr., 31 Robeson street.

J. L. Sherman Photos.

↑ WINTER IN WESTPORT ⟶

The two views shown here are of Westport highways and byways in the dead of winter. They are nearby scenes that never fail to reward a trip into their calm whiteness.



STUDY HOUR—Not all of the nurses' time is spent caring for the large number of patients housed at St. Luke's. Here are two of them hard at work over their books preparatory for the morrow's classwork. St. Luke's.

2 36

WOODS HOLE OCEANOGRAPHER TO DIRECT BUFFALO MUSEUM

11/21. 1926

Dr. Charles J. Fish, Who Is Only 27, Probably Youngest Man in Country Ever to Be Chosen for Such Position---Wife Will Aid in Scientific Work

(Special to The Standard)

Woods Hole, Nov. 26.—Dr. Charles J. Fish, resident oceanographer at the United States Bureau of Fisheries station at Woods Hole since 1922, has been chosen Director of the new $1,000,000 Buffalo Museum of Science, Buffalo, N. Y. He has sent in his resignation to the government, effective Jan. 15.

Modern Man and Scientist Sought.

Large endowment funds now being donated will make the Buffalo Museum one of the most important in the country. Dr. Fish, coming in at the inception of the new museum, will have an important part in planning the policies and forming the character of the institution. The museum plans to stress oceanography, which is Dr. Fish's special work, and will send out a scientific expedition annually, on most of which Dr. Fish and Mrs. Fish, who is also a scientist, will go as active scientific workers.

It is probable that Dr. Fish is the youngest man in the country ever to be chosen for such a position. He is 27. The museum trustees sought a man who would be modern enough to make the museum a living force and keep it in the forefront of scientific endeavor, who was also a recognized scientist, and who had established personal contacts with the chief persons of the scientific world. These qualities they found combined in the youthful oceanographer. There is only one other biological oceanographer in the United States, Professor H. B. Bigelow, Cambridge, and there are but two physical oceanographers.

Nephew of Andrew J. Fish.

Dr. Fish is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Fish, South Swansea, and a nephew of Andrew J. Fish, New Bedford. He was a member of William Beebe's Arcturus expedition to the Sargasso Sea in 1925, going as plankton expert. He is a graduate of Brown University, 1921, took his Master of Arts degree at Brown in 1922, and his Doctor of Philosophy in 1923.

Dr. Charles J. Fish.

Dr. and Mrs. Fish own their own home on Crow Hill, Woods Hole, and will keep it, hoping to be able to return to Woods Hole for summer vacations after they become residents of Buffalo.

AN OLD VIEW—This picture, the property of William Warr, Onset, shows the old iron and steel mills owned by his father, James C. Warr, Wareham, as they stood 50 years ago. Although the mills have passed 30 years since, the old Warr homestead, fronting the water, remains.

NEW PASTOR COMES HERE

12-17-1926.

The Rev. Charles Clark Smith

The new minister who begins his work at Pleasant street M. E. Church today with Mrs. Smith and their two sons.